

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 30.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1889.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR.

Fashionable Cloaks at Retail.

All the Latest Spring Styles.
Choicest designs and newest fabrics, at the elegant and spacious Retail Establishments of

SPRINGER Bros',

Importers, Wholesale and Retail Manufacturers of
LADIES' CLOAKS.

CHAUNCEY STREET, ESSEX STREET, HARRISON AVENUE. 500 WASHINGTON STREET.
CARRIAGE ENTRANCE TO RETAIL STORES.
50 Essex Street, { BOSTON, } 12 Bedford St.,
Corner of Chauncey. Cor. of Washington.

H. M. GREENOUGH,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

Carpeting, Paper Hangings

Fine Furniture,

Draperies, Window Shades, Ranges and

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS in endless variety.
Special designs for Art Furniture and rich interior decoration furnished on application and careful estimates given when desired.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have been located here over three years and have no other Laundry in Newton. Those who wish to have any laundry work done, please remember the name and place. We will guarantee to give satisfaction and return all work at short notice.
Shirts, each, 10 cts.; collars, 2 cts.; cap collars, 3 for 5 cts.; cuffs, each, 2 cts.
Also very lowest prices will be charged for all kinds of work. Please give us a trial.

FIRST-CLASS CHINESE LAUNDRY,
French's Block, No. 330 Centre St., opp. Savings Bank, Newton.
FANK SHINN, Proprietor.

Thomas White

16 Essex Street,
First Store from Washington Street,
BOSTON.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS,

Low expenses enable us to sell strictly first-class goods at very low prices.
23 yrs. CALL AND SEE US.

BUTTER.

We have taken the agency for the celebrated
Turner Centre Creamery
formerly controlled by W. B. Beal, put up in half pound prints. Delivered to customers day of arrival.

He who tries it, buys it.
Gamaliel P. Atkins,
GROCER.
273 and 275 Washington Street, Newton.
Telephone, No. 1304.

F. M. WHITE & CO.,
Stock Brokers,
16 & 18 Devonshire St., Boston.
BUY AND SELL

STOCKS, GRAIN, OIL,
On 1% Margin.

Commission
No Interest.

CARD.

We are selling more hats than any House in Boston.

Why?

Because OUR HATS are the BEST. Our assortment is the largest carried by any hat store in this country!

We are sole agents for

R. DUNLAP & CO., of New York.

Call and see us, and

SAVE MONEY

By buying the

B-E-S-T H-A-T,

From the largest stock of Fine Goods

In Boston.

JACKSON & Co.,

HATTERS,

126 Tremont Street,

Opposite Park Street Church, Boston. 27

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The First Exclusive Retail Bedding Store in New England.

BRASS BEDSTEADS!

Iron Bedsteads,
Hair Mattresses,

Live Geese Feathers,
Imperial Spring Couches,

Putnam Spring Beds and Cots.

—Specialties in—
Infant's and Invalid's Beds,
Luxuriously Upholstered Springs,
Siesta Mattresses and Pillows,
Down Quilts and Pillows.

—AND—
Fine bedding of every description
our facilities for renovating and remaking are greatly improved, and we can give you better
work than ever.

PUTNAM & CO.,

8 & 10 Beach Street,

BOSTON.

ESTABLISHED 1849.

342 UP STAIRS. 342

GRAND OPENING

—OF THE—

One Price

Ten Per Cent.

Clothing Rooms

Our assortment of suits and overcoats is complete. We sell a fine all-wool suit for $6.40, sold at other houses from $10 to $15.

Our black Wide Wale suits for $11.40 are well worth $20. Our black Whipcord suits at $9.30, cannot be duplicated for less than $15.00.

Our $1.25 all wool pants are worth $3.00.

" 1.00 " " " 3.25

" 1.80 " " " 4.00

" 2.10 " " " 4.50

" 3.00 " " " 5.00

We invite one and all to inspect this fine line of clothing before making your purchases.

Save money at the

One price, Ten per cent.

Clothing Rooms

342 Washington Street.

BOSTON.

One Flight—Up Stairs.

Remember, One Flight, Up Stairs.

342 Washington Street, 342

PURE, RICH, HEAVY CREAM

FROM

Worcester - County

CREAMERY,

60 Cents per Quart.

Good Quality Cream at 40 cents per Quart.

Families supplied by

J. PAXTON,

CONFECTIONER,

Eliot Block, - Newton.

LADIES'

Stock Exchange.

NEWTON.

—The residence of Mrs. C. H. Coffin, Bellevue street, is undergoing extensive repairs.

—Mr. George Linder, Jr., left on Thursday for the far West, where he will engage in business.

—A large number of Newton citizens were in New York at the Centennial celebration on Tuesday.

—Mr. E. P. Burnham has been appointed official handicapper for the New England States, in bicycle contests.

—Rev. Dr. Shinn expects to be at home in time to attend the hospital dedication exercises, to-morrow afternoon.

—Counsellman Hamblen left on Monday for a business trip to St. Louis, taking in the New York celebration on the way.

—A very desirable house on the southwestern slope of Mt. Ida is advertised today as for sale or to let, in another column.

—Mr. Charles F. Rand has leased half of one of Mr. Fuller's double houses on Pearl street to Mr. Goodwin of Cambridge-port.

—The final meeting of this season of the
C. E. Union will be held at the Baptist church at Newton Upper Falls, next Monday evening.

—Mrs. Daley of Maple street fell downstairs, Thursday evening, and sustained serious injuries. She was attended by Dr.
Frisbie.

—Dr. and Mrs. Field left on Wednesday for New York, where they will attend to a visit of several weeks, but Dr. Field will return to Newton on Tuesday.

—The Public Library was kept open all day Tuesday, which seemed to be a popular proceeding, as there was an unusually large number of visitors.

—Mr. L. B. Gay has one of the finest displays of the city on his lawn, in the Franklin street. The bed is laid out in the form of a star and the flowers are very brilliant in color.

—Miss Laura Coffin of Auburndale will sing at the Channing church next Sunday, and she has a very fine soprano voice.
Mr. Clouston has been reengaged for another year as organist.

—Rev. A. B. Muzzey of Boston, a classmate of Judge Park at Harvard, was present at the funeral services last Friday.
The only other surviving member of the class is Mr. George Wheatland.

—The Misses Jones have sold their house on Centre street to Mr. H. A. Ball of Church street, and have purchased the Marshall place on Bellevue street, which they will occupy as their residence.

—Mr. J. N. Bacon, president of the Newton National bank, attended the funeral of Life Baldwin which took place from the late residence of the deceased, Sparhawk street, Brighton, Tuesday afternoon.

—The Boston Globe had an excellent account on Tuesday of the veteran firemen of Newton, the main facts of which have been given in the GRAPHIC by the same writer, who is one of our occasional correspondents.

—The officers are determined to break up the annoyances caused by the "gang" that tramps persistently up Washington street to the Catholic church and return Sunday evenings. Two of the noisy ones were in court this week and paid a fine.

—The Clafin Guard returned from New York yesterday and dined at the United States hotel upon its arrival in Boston.
The company is a creditable one, and went to New York with 28 men and 3 officers, only 1 man being absent.

—Frank E. Daley fell off a stone cart on Richardson street yesterday afternoon, fracturing three ribs and receiving painful bruises about the head. He was attended by Dr. Welber and was subsequently taken to the Cottage hospital where he is reported as being in a comfortable condition.

—Allen & Kenway, architects, are to remodel Horticultural Hall, Boston. The building will be made practically fireproof;
a solid brick wall is to be put in the rear, and the walls of the stages are also to be of brick or terra cotta. Iron stairways and shafts are to be added to the present means of egress and ventilation.

—Mr. Lewis E. Coffin's name is being suggested as the successor of the late Rev.
Dr. Pierce on the school board. Mr. Coffin has had experience on the board, while president of the common council, and is a valuable member. It is thought he could be induced to accept the office.
According to the revised charter, the school board have the power to fill all vacancies.

—There was a meeting of the Sons of Veterans at the residence of Dr. J. F. Frisbie, Centre street, last Monday evening, to take the preliminary step toward the formation of "A Camp of the Sons of Veterans."
There will be another meeting at the same place next Monday evening, May 6, at 7.30. All sons of the soldiers and sailors who served during the late war are earnestly invited to be present.

—The oratorio of "Emmanuel" is to be given in Taunton, Mass., May 10, by the "Beethoven Society," (150 voices) orchestra and soloists. The same quartet who sang in Newton when the composition was first introduced will sing on this occasion, viz:
Mrs. Allen, Miss Edmunds, Messrs. Parker and May. Director, Mr. L. Soule. This oratorio will also be rendered in Cohasset,
Mass., first week in June, by full chorus, soloists and large orchestra. Mr. E. E.
Tower, conductor.

—The meeting of the Y. M. C. A., last Sunday was held under the charge of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Baptist church. Mr. Wallace Moore, president of the society, having the leadership. He chose "Elijah" as the subject for consideration. Many members of the society were present and spoke, making the meeting one of unusual interest.
One arose for prayers. Next Sabbath the meeting will be in charge of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church. There will be some special singing. All are invited.

—Bessie Henry, the four-year-old daughter of Richard Henry of School street, Brookline, in crossing Harvard street, Tuesday afternoon, was knocked down by the pole of Pearson's express. The horses and wagon passed over her body. She was taken to her home and attended by Dr.
Woods. No bones were broken, nor were there any marks on the body. She died about an hour later, evidently from the shock. No blame is attached to the driver, as he did everything possible to avoid the accident.

—Harry Wray, 40 years of age, employed by Jonsberg & Son, 107 Revere street, Boston, while at work clearing out the gutter of a cottage house situated on Newton street, Faneuil, Tuesday morning, fell from the roof of the building to the street walk, a distance of 25 feet, striking upon his head, and was killed instantly. The medical examiner was summoned and the body was taken to station 14, Brighton, and subsequently taken by the brother of the deceased to his home, No. 43 Emerald street, Boston.

—In connection with the coming anniversary celebration of the Great Peace Jubilee of 1814 it is desired that upon the afternoons of Thursday and Friday, June 8th and 9th, the chorus shall be made up from the ranks of those societies which took part in the Jubilee of 1819. Upon these afternoons many of the old familiar choruses will be sung. All who took part in the former Jubilee and who would like to again sing upon the above afternoons are requested to send their names and addresses before Monday, May 6, to John B. Goodrich, 488 Centre street, Newton, who will forward all names received to the chorus director, Arthur W. Thayer. The Jubilee will be, as before, under the direction of Mr. P. S. Gilmore, and nine concerts will be given, in Mechanics' Building, from June 5 to June 9, inclusive.

—The Peak sisters gave a very pleasant entertainment, Tuesday evening, for the benefit of the Eliot Sunday school library, in Eliot lower hall. A large audience was present and about $50 was realized. The Peel sisters were led by Miss Carrie
Eddy, and were represented by Misses
Marion Franklin, Carrie Buzwell, Mabel
Gifford, Florence and Jessie Ball, Ethel Gilman, Rebecca Anderson, Bessie Loveland, Leslie Field, Mary Pope and Mamie Childs. The entertainment was very quaint and pretty, and consisted mainly of singing.
A quartet consisting of Mrs. Howell, Miss Dyer, Mesdames C. L. and E. L. Bacon sang several selections. Carl Ellison sang a solo and Paul Brackett gave a violin solo, both very nicely done, and Miss Whitton sang, accompanied by her sister on the violin.
The audience was very liberal in applause and several encores were demanded.

—The Dickens Carnival at the Channing church parlors, Wednesday evening, was one of the most successful affairs of the season. Some one hundred of Dickens' most noted characters were present in costume and made a very attractive assemblage. The parlors were crowded all the evening, and the affair reflected great credit on the committee of ladies who had it in charge. It would seem almost impossible that so many of the characters who were incorporated in Dickens stories should still be living, but there they were, natural as life and evidently in the enjoyment of their usual health and spirits. The spectacle was a very attractive one and well worth seeing. The entertainment began with the immortal Pickwick, (Mr. C. Bowditch Coffin) upon the stage, and then the characters filed across, and were introduced, some of them stopping to make a characteristic remark. A banjo club furnished accompaniment and many of them with laughter.
Tableaux followed representing scenes from eight of the novels, which were very carefully and artistically arranged. Excellent music and a minuet was danced to the great entertainment of the spectators.

Lafayette's Visit to Boston.
(Written for the GRAPHIC.)

The anniversary of the inauguration of Washington, in New York, as our first President, which was celebrated on April 30, is a matter of interest to us all, old or young, or should be if it is not, and although it is not altogether pleasant to be old, yet those of us who have attained to that unenviable and undesirable majority enjoy a kind of revenge and get a kind of compensation and assert our superiority by reminding the younger generation that many things occurred in our young days, which it was our privilege to see and remember, and now to talk about and if you please, brag of, to those who had not the good fortune to come to the front in the early days of this century.

I am an old woman, but yet not quite old enough to report Gen. Washington as he looked on the day of his inauguration.
It would be a pleasant memory to have,
but I haven't it. But not being a centen-arian and so not having seen the Father of his Country, the next best thing I can do is to plume myself on having been one, though rather a little one, among the throng who crowded to see and welcome Gen. Lafayette on his visit to Boston in 1824. I probably knew nothing then but the name of the distinguished man whose coming made such a stir in quiet little Boston town, but I remember that for days previous I was excited with the talk of the grand parade which was to come, and that I could eat no breakfast when the morning came, and was only content, when, with my two sisters, older than myself and all dressed in sky blue pelisses, puffed and slashed at the shoulders, we wended our way to School street, where the private house, seated in a wide recessed window, we awaited the coming of the conquering hero.

We sat there for hours. Meantime, the crowd increased; every doorway and window were filled with eager expectant men; men were on the tops of the houses who were in the gutters; the streets were also alive with people. I don't remember how long we waited, but it must have been hours, and when the procession at last came I recall nothing but a vague memory of horses, people and carriages, until the one barouche appeared drawn by white horses, and in it I saw a distinguished looking man with a pleasant smile and a bare head, cockade hat in hand, bowing to the multitude who cheered, shouted and waved their handkerchiefs as he passed. He could not pass for a time the throng was so great and the enthusiasm so intense, and while he paused a stir was made in the crowd, and the crowd parted to allow a veteran who had served under Lafayette in the army the opportunity of standing on the step of the barouche and shaking hands with his general. Then the shouts were renewed and I remember my excitement over it all without understanding very well what it was all about. But it was a vivid picture and an interesting memory, and now as I recall it I do feel about a hundred years old and realize that the School street of today, crowded with carts and carriages, is about as much like the School street of 1824 as the Common of today is like the green field of that time with its low wooden fence, where cows were peacefully nibbling grass all undisturbed by pedestrians.

The Union Electric Car Company has added Mr. Frank H. Bascom of Montpelier, Vt., to their board of Directors.
The price of the stock has been advanced to $15 per share, and the Company has this week given out contracts for building cars supplied with their system, and it is expected that within a short time such cars will be in operation on a number of Electric Street Railways near Boston.

Electric Stocks
Furnished by F. W. Prescott, 54 Devonshire St.,
Boston, for the week ending May 21.

Thompson-Houston—$82.50 to $85 to $2.50 to $6.75.
Thomson Electric Welding—$350, to $375, to $385, to $390.
Westinghouse, 59, to 58, to $7.50.
Edison (N. Y.)—175 to 185.
Robinson-Foster Electric Motor—2.50 to 2.75 to 2.90.
Union Electric Car—12.50 to 15.00.

—New Penobscot salmon is selling well at Dupee's market.

—Hot boiled lobsters are having a great sale at Dupee's market.

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.

THE LAST INDOOR MEETING OF THE SEASON.

The Newton Natural History Society held its last indoor meeting for the season last Wednesday evening. Dr. J. F.
Frisbie exhibited a beautiful specimen of crystallized quartz from Crystal Mountain, Arkansas, and described the manner of the formation of the crystals from hot water rising towards the surface through fissures in the earth's crust extending down miles below.

Mr. George L. Chandler, the president, exhibited specimens of fossil wood and a fossil turtle, which he collected in the "Bad Lands" of Nebraska, 4500 feet above the ocean.

The fossil turtle is a large, valuable specimen, and very perfect. He also showed specimens of the chambered nautilus, and described the animals that lived in and built them. Prof. C. J. Maynard further explained animals and shells of this class, and showed their relation to the squid, octopus and devil fish. The discussion was continued by W. C. Bates and others.

Dr. J. F. Frisbie paid a loving tribute to the memory of Judge John C. Park, who has been a member and regular attendant at the meetings for many years,
as follows:

Since our last meeting we, individually, and as a society, have met with a great and irreparable loss.

Judge John C. Park has passed from earth. Sunday evening, April 21st, he closed a long life of usefulness, of good deeds, of well won honors.

He was a rare man with wonderful powers—with a cosmopolitan brain, searching through philosophy, literature,
science and art for all that would help him most and enable him, in the fullest degree, in building up his own manhood and exciting others to a higher and nobler life. He had a kind and loving heart and exemplified in his life the beautiful thought of the great teacher,
"That ye love one another." For three score years his eloquence has stirred the hearts and souls of multitudes.

Wendell Phillips was called the silver-tongued orator of New England. Those who have listened to Judge Park for the last half century will readily admit that the same encomium would well apply to him. As a conversationalist I have seldom known his equal—never his superior. He had the wonderful power that enabled him to interest young and old alike. In fact in this as well as in other directions he was a genius. His natural and acquired abilities were of the highest order; his extensive readings and broad generalizations won for him positions where his influence could be felt widely and for the good of all. His social qualities endeared him to every one,
and to the day of his death he was interested in every social and political reform and in the affairs of every day life.

He was strong in his convictions of right, but his kindly heart compelled him to judge leniently the errors of others.

He took a great interest in this society from its formation and continued this interest to the last. Only a few weeks ago he promised me that he would write a paper advocating the erection of a building for the use of this society, and the Young Men's Christian Association.

Although making no claim as a scientist, his mind was well stored with scientific knowledge and his words were always listened to with pleasure and profit whenever he spoke at our meetings.

As a prose writer he showed the finished scholar, and in the finishedness of his scholarship, and in the beauty of his poems, were gems that should live always.

Those who knew him best, loved him
most and now that he has gone from us, we shall sadly miss his ever welcome companionship. Looking with thankful eyes towards the quiet sheltering haven of rest we feel a voice floating back to us, "Resurgam."

The list of field days for the coming summer was read and described by the secretary, Prof. S. E. Warren. The number is larger and more varied than usual and it is hoped they will be fully attended and enjoyed. A cordial invitation is extended to all who wish to accompany the society in these summer outings.

NEWTON NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.
FIELD DAYS.

May 18. Echo Bridge and the romantic ravine near by. Dr. J. F. Frisbie, leader.
June 1. Lincoln Pond, Lincoln. Prof.
S. E. Warren, leader.

June 22. Marblehead Neck. Dr. J. F.
Frisbie, leader.

July 9. Walden Pond, Concord.
George L. Chandler, leader.

July 15. Newport, R. I. Dr. J. F.
Frisbie, leader.

July 22 to 27. Sandwich, N. H. and Mt. Chocoma. George L. Chandler, leader.

Aug. 6. Lincoln Pond, Lincoln. Prof.
S. E. Warren, leader.

Aug. 15. Ipswich and the neighboring shore and Plum Island, if desired.

Sept. 10. Stony Brook, Weston. Prof.
S. E. Warren, leader.

For further information, apply to
George L. Chandler, W. C. Bates, Prof.
S. E. Warren, H. J. Woods, Jessie
Fewkes and Dr. J. F. Frisbie.

Full directions will appear in the Newton papers the week preceding each
"Field Day."

By application to the announced leaders of these excursions, all additional information required will be given.

Fine Furniture
of every description can be found at H.
M. Greenough's, 182 to 188 Tremont street, Boston, corner of Boylston. Their stock includes a large assortment of foreign and domestic goods, and the prices are so reasonable as to make it an object to deal with them. They have also a fine assortment of carpets, hangings, draperies and paper hangings, and careful estimates are always given when desired.

Hats, Hats.
If you want the latest thing in hats,
call at Jackson & Co's, 126 Tremont street, where you can buy the best article for the least money. Jackson & Co.
have made a high reputation as the leading hatters of Boston, and they are sole Boston agents for the celebrated Dunlap hat.

If you anticipate carpeting your rooms this season, you could not do better than purchase one of the celebrated Childs &
Lane $1.00 Brussels. They are undoubtedly the greatest bargain in carpeting offered this season.

Rock Island Route Excursions to all points West offer nice

CITY GOVERNMENT.

BOTH BRANCHES MEET TO CONSIDER A MUNICIPAL GIFT TO THE CITY.

Both branches of the city government met at City Hall, Monday evening. The reason for the special meeting was the following communication:

Office of Merideth & Nelson,
4 Exchange Place.

Boston, April 29, 1889.

To the Water Board of the City of Newton, Mass.

Gentlemen:—I would respectfully call your attention to the fact that as you come out from Boston, first are the Chestnut Hill Reservoir, then the Lawrence Farm, then South street, then Waban Hill, of which the easterly slope forms Mr. Bacon's land, (the old Tucker farm) corner of Ward and South streets, and the Lawrence's land to the north of it, of which I enclose a plan. Then back or west of Mr. Bacon's land and this Lawrence land, comes the Newton Reservoir on Ward street, and the Sargent ten-acre lot, of which about six acres is as handsome a plateau of land as is often found, and as high, practically, as any land in Newton, and commanding a superb view; such a piece of land as few cities have the good fortune to own.

Now with the high water service a necessity for the city, it would seem a great pity that the top of this hill with its remarkable views should be lost forever to the public by being built over. I therefore say that with your approval and with the understanding that the city government will be agreeable to the plan if successfully carried out, I will endeavor within the next 30 days to get the owners of land in the immediate vicinity of this hill to buy this Sargent land and convey it to the city as a free gift, six acres of it to be kept open forever as a public park, the high water service a suitable water tower, for the high service and to continue the road now built on the Lawrence land around or through said park to or near the present driveway around the Newton Reservoir. From this point a new street would undoubtedly be built at private or public expense across to Morse street. Then I have reason to believe that an arrangement could be made with the City of Boston by which the new road could be extended across the Lawrence farm out on to the Chestnut Hill Reservoir; the result being that one could start from Boston, drive over the new road, through the proposed Park, and then down directly into the Newtons; affording a continuous drive which every citizen of the world should be proud. With the assurance that your city government approves it, I think I shall be able to carry out this plan.

I remain, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

J. Morris Meredith.

Alderman Harbach presented the following, which was passed by both branches:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the city council that the six acres of land on Waban Hill shall be accepted by the city upon reasonable conditions, and forever kept open for public use.

This communication caused the question of High Service, and the orders referring thereto, to be referred back to the Water Board, and they were requested to report as soon as possible to the city council.

The Proclamation of Governor Ames in regard to the new Prohibition Amendment was read in both branches and filed.

OTHER MATTERS.

In the board of aldermen, on recommendation of Chief Bixby, an honorable discharge was granted to J. Q. A. Hawes, from No. 2 Hose company.

A communication was received from Messrs. Alexander H. Rice and Wm. Claffin, stating that some forty citizens had purchased the fine portrait of the late Seth Davis, painted by Nathan Onthank, and offering the same as a gift to the city, to be placed in City Hall.

On motion of Alderman Tolman, an order was passed that the gift be received, and the thanks of the city council be conveyed to the gentlemen named, and that the portrait be hung in City Hall.

Another order was passed that a committee from both branches be appointed to arrange for the reception and the hanging of the portrait. Mayor Barr appointed Aldermen Tolman and Childs, and Foreman Board added Councilmen Fiskell, Lake and Ranlett.

On motion of Alderman Johnson an order was passed closing City Hall on April 30th.

A petition was received from Messrs. Atkins & Tuttle asking that the sidewalks adjoining their land on Harvard and Cabot streets be graded, constructed and covered with gravel; referred to highway committee.

Notice of intentions to build dwelling houses were received from H. C. Churchill, Auburn street; John Lowell, Hammond street; Chas. Everett, Kimball street, and H. L. Ayers.

An application for license to build stable on Lexington street, and on office on Monmouth street, was received from B. C. Baker.

Janey licenses were granted to John Collins, Frank Timney and James Armstrong.

Licenses to keep intelligence offices were granted to Mrs. J. C. Jones, Lydia E. Trephoy and Mrs. Martha Johnson.

Geo. F. Elliot asked to have his sidewalk on Bowers street graded and concreted.

On motion of Alderman Pettie the usual two weeks' vacation was granted to permanent members of the fire department.

J. F. Horrigan was granted leave to withdraw on his petition for license to build shed on Washington street.

In the common council the business from the other branch was disposed of in concurrence.

FUNERAL OF JUDGE PARK.

IMPRESSIVE SERVICES IN THE CHANNING CHURCH.

The funeral of Hon. John C. Park, late justice of the Newton police court, took place from the Channing church last Friday afternoon. Many citizens from various parts of the city attended the services and delegations were present, representing the Suffolk bar, the Tuesday Club, the Channing Sunday school, the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company, the Boston Light Infantry, the Newton city government and Lasell Seminary. The delegation representing the Boston Light Infantry was in full uniform, and was under the command of Lieut. Tenney. It included a detachment of the Veteran corps of the Boston Light Infantry, commanded by Quartermaster Charles A. Hinckley. The exercises were initiated by a rendition by the Temple quartet, the selection, "Be Ye Also Ready," being very finely given. Rev. Francis B. Hornbrooke, pastor of Channing church, then read from the scriptures, and the quartet sang "Nearer, My God to Thee." The address was delivered by Rev. Mr. Hornbrooke, who paid a loving tribute to the life, labors and character of the deceased.

The life of Judge Park, said the speaker, so far as his early career was concerned, covered a long and eventful period, beginning at a time when this country was but an experiment, and culminating when we are about to celebrate its 100th anniversary, an occasion that will be memorable for conscious accomplishment, coming at a time when the nation is welded from sea to sea, from the north to the tropics, a Union united by common interests and purposes. Many changes and events of historical interest have occurred during this long life which was allotted to our revered and honored friend. And he was no passive spectator, but an important factor in the development of the country's progress and development. It was his lot to stand side by side with Daniel Webster on the public platform, and with Charles Francis Adams in the halls of the Legislature. His associations were the best, his aims in life high and honorable, and we may feel grateful that during his career he saw so much of the culmination of his noblest aspirations. Judge Park became identified with the varied interests of the community in which he lived, and was always responsive to the appeals of those who desired to bring about improvement and progress. It was only yesterday that he was in our midst. Up to the close of his long and varied life he was active; he did God's work to the end. There were no idle moments, no wasted years, no indifference to work. He would not offer an excuse for a few years of feebleness; he lived a full life, and lived to the end.

You find men who are not responsive to the appeals of the world all about them; they who respond with less sympathy as the years advance. It was not so with him. The world was always a new world to him; he never ceased to be an impressive being, hence he never ceased to live. The outward man was perishing, but the inward man was renewing every day through these long years. I see only hopeful memories in such a life. It seems almost prophetic that he should have been carried away by a day such high and holy hopes; he heard the glad tidings which rang from the bells last Easter day, and in the evening he was permitted to enter into the presence of the Eternal. Let us hope that we may possess something of the inspiration of the life of our honored friend; that when we pass away we may feel in four hearts that our cherished hopes have not been vain, but that we shall surely enter into the joy of the heavenly home, into the fulfillment of the blessings that God's promise has assured.

After the address, prayer was offered by Rev. E. H. Hall of the First Church, Cambridge, and the quartet sang the beautiful hymn, "Gathering Homeward One by One." The floral tributes were very beautiful. The city of Newton sent a sheaf of wheat, tied with ribbon. The Boston Light Infantry sent its banner, beautifully lighted. The groundwork was of ivy, and the badge was formed of white pinks, Marechal Neil roses and maiden ferns, with the lettering in immortal. The Irish Charitable Society sent a beautiful floral lyre grounded on ivy and made of lilies and Marechal Neil roses. In the corners were arranged bunches of wheat and Marechal Neil roses tied with white ribbon. The pupils and faculty of Lasell Seminary sent a floral piece composed of exquisite white roses. Other floral tributes from the family and friends were upon the casket, which was placed at the entrance of the broad aisle directly in front of the pulpit.

Among prominent gentlemen present at the services were Judge Pitman, Associate Justice Mather of the Newton court, ex-Gov. Claffin, Mayor Heman M. Burr, ex-Mayor J. West Kimball, William P. Ellison, Alden Speare and James F. C. Hyde, Dr. J. F. Frisbie, Prof. Charles C. Bragdon, Hon. Julius L. Clarke, Messrs. N. T. Allen, S. K. Harwood, Edward W. Cate, clerk of the Newton police court, John C. Kennedy, S. S. Whitney, John A. Coffey, Edward Sawyer, Henry Fuller, Rev. Dr. Wolcott Calkins and others.

The pallbearers were Dr. James W. Bartlett, representing the Roxbury Reserve Guard; Col. I. F. Kingsbury, representing the city of Newton; Col. Edward Wyman and Capt. Samuel Hitchcock, representing the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company; Col. Francis C. Boyd and Capt. John D. Lilley, representing the Boston Light Infantry. The remains were interred in the family lot in the Forest Hills cemetery.

THE NEWTON CEMETERY.

ONE OF THE MOST ATTRACTIVE SPOTS IN NEWTON.

The approach of spring is more noticeable at the Newton Cemetery than in any other part of Newton, and visitors to that attractive spot find that many improvements have been made since last summer. As soon as the visitor passes the entrance gate, he is struck with the beauty of the green turf, which spreads out before him, and the pretty little islands in the ponds are now covered with grass, while the sloping bank from the entrance to the Chapel is as handsome a lawn as can be found in Newton. The improvements which have been making here for the past few years are now completed, and the result is worth a visit to the cemetery to see. The beautiful Bigelow memorial chapel is a favorite place for visitors, who wander about the conservatory that opens off from the chapel, with its multitude of flourishing plants, many of them rare and costly varieties, which have been gathered with great care.

Below the chapel are the ponds, several in number, with tiny islands dotting their smooth surface, and beyond these is the new avenue, which has been recently completed, and gives another exit from the cemetery.

THE SOLDIERS' LOT has been selected beyond this avenue, in one of the most attractive spots in the cemetery, and it is now being filled in and improved, preparatory to the dedication on Memorial Day. A larger number of lots have been sold this spring than ever before during the same length of time, and the money thus realized will be used in laying out and grading some of the new land recently purchased, on the westerly side of the cemetery. A new avenue is now laid out through a portion of the land, and during the summer it will be graded and constructed. The good results of the

PERPETUAL CARE FUND

are seen on every hand, in the neat and attractive appearance of the different lots, and the well-cared-for look of the whole cemetery. Superintendent Ross and his assistant are always to be found about the grounds, and the evidences of their skillful oversight are found on every hand. The natural beauties of the land have been taken advantage of whenever practicable, in the laying out of avenues, the arrangement of flower beds, or the making of artificial ponds, by means of the brook that runs through the cemetery. Another pond is to be dug out the coming summer, and the rich soil there obtained is used about the conservatories, nurseries, and flower-beds, and it is found to go a great ways towards paying for the work involved.

A number of new monuments have been put up since last summer, and others are contemplated the coming season.

THE NURSERIES

on the southerly side of the cemetery are filled with choice trees and shrubs, and the reputation of the nurseries are such that orders are now being received from nearly every State in New England. A large number of choice shrubs and trees have been selected out for transplanting in the cemetery grounds this season, and will add to the attractiveness of the grounds in the future. A special advantage of the cemetery nursery stock is that the plants are acclimated and will do well in any part of the city, and Newton people will appreciate this fact and they can also secure the choicest varieties there.

THE CONSERVATORIES

and hot beds are also well stocked with bedding plants, to be used in the adornment of the grounds, and as usual, there will be a large surplus left for sale. The plants are very thrifty and the greenhouses show the same intelligent care as other portions of the cemetery.

No city in this vicinity has a more beautiful home of the dead, and the trustees have wisely obtained land enough to allow of the extensions and additions that will be required in the future. Visitors are always welcome to the cemetery, provided they leave their dogs at home, as these animals can do more damage in an hour among the flowers and shrubs than a man could repair in a week.

CHILDREN'S GARDENS.

NEWTON HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.

In order to promote among children a taste for the cultivation of flowers, and at the same time to stimulate our citizens to take pride in a society in their midst which has done much and hopes to do more in the future for their benefit, the president of the Newton Horticultural Society offers a series of prizes for the best kept gardens by children in this city during the ensuing year, upon the following terms:

1. The size of the garden offered for a prize must not be less than an area of 50 square feet.
 2. After having been properly prepared the exclusive care must be maintained by the individual who competes.
 3. The age of the competitor must not exceed 14 years.
 4. Due notice must be given to the secretary of the society of intention of competing for the prizes, by the first of July.
 5. There is no restriction as to the kind of flowers to be produced, but the health, vigor and cleanliness of the plants as well as the special neatness of the garden plot and the borders, are requisite points of superiority.
 6. The prizes will be awarded by a committee chosen at a meeting of the society.
 7. Prize for the best kept garden, $4.
 8. Prize for the second best kept garden, $3.
 9. Prize for the third best kept garden, $2.
 10. Prize for the fourth best kept garden, $1.
- Four prizes, same as above, will be offered for vegetable gardens upon the same terms as for flower gardens.
- L. H. FARLOW Sec'y.
Address P. O. Box 168, Newton.
May 1, 1889.

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE EXCURSIONS

To Kansas, Colorado, California, and all points WEST. Through Cars leaving Boston every two weeks, with sleeping accommodations. Lowest Rates to all ports. Express Trains to destination. Call on your nearest Ticket Agent for circulars and information, or address W. E. CHATTEKTON, Manager, 226 Washington street, Boston, Mass.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:
From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.
JOSEPH N. BACON, President
B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

WALTHAM WATCHES -AT-

Lowest Prices.
Rings, Jewelry and Chains.

L. D. Whittemore, Jr.,
411 Centre St.

Fine Watch Repairing.
French, English and American clocks put in first-class order.
All work guaranteed.
Spectacles & Eye Glasses.

H. W. MARTIN,

TELEPHONE 7087.

Practical Upholsterer

AND DEALER IN

FURNITURE.

Upholstery work and repairs of all kinds neatly done. Hair Mattresses made over, Picture Frames to order, Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid.
Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

H. W. MARTIN,

GARFIELD BLOCK, GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS. 691

Mrs. ABBIE C. THAYER,
CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,
19 CHANNING STREET, NEWTON.

Practices Christian Science Mind Healing as Taught by Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy. 10

Daniels' Nonantum Stables
HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Livery and Hacking.
Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landau and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.
Telephone 7874. 30

THEODORE L. MASON,
Agent for the celebrated

Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock.
Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty.
All work warranted to give satisfaction.
Elliot Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

LLOYD BROTHERS,

Improved Carpet Cleaning Machine
They remove all Dust, Brighten Colors and Destroy Moths.
Office, 605 Main Street, 3d door East of Church Street, Works on Benefit St., Waltham, Mass.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.
TELEPHONE No. 7692, P. O. Box No. 567

L. H. CRANITCH
HOUSE, SIGN, AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.
Graining and Paper Hanging a Specialty.
WALNUT STREET,
2d Door from Central Block,
NEWTONVILLE.

DO YOU KNOW
That you can save money by buying your GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, WOODENWARE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES at WHITTIER'S?
I am adding every day to my stock, and making Lower Prices than ever. Come here and pay cash for a month and you will never run a bill again.
W. B. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,
Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT
placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies
Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

S. K. MacLEOD

Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.
Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty.
Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library
Residence, Boyd street, near Jewett.
P. O. Box 650, NEWTON, MASS.

HOWARD BROS.,

ICE DEALERS.
We are now prepared to furnish the citizens of Newton and Watertown with PURE POND ICE.

AT LOWEST MARKET RATES
To Families, Hotels, Markets, &c., at Wholesale and Retail.
ORDER BOX—At W. Henry Brackett's provision store, City Market and Post Office, Newton and Hall's Grocery Store, Watertown.
Post Office Address, Watertown, where orders may be left.

F. H. HOWARD. W. O. HOWARD.
PROPRIETORS.

J. J. JOHNSON,

FLORIST.
CONSERVATORIES,
School Street, Newton.
Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.
Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.
Office in the Newton National Bank.
GEORGE HYDE, President.
JOHN WARD, Vice President.
MISS SUSANNA M. DUNCKLEE, Treas.
COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT:
George Hyde, Willard Marcy, J. C. Hyde,
J. F. C. HYD Clerk.

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH,
ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR.

5 Tremont Street, Boston.
Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands. 471

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE,
ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

(Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)
55 Bedford st., Boston.
Residence, Central st., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY,
COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass
Residence, Newton. 38-ly

GEORGE W. MORSE,
Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law,

28 State St., Room 45, Boston.
Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.
WILLIAM F. SLOCUM, WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.
Residence, Newtonville.
Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST.,
NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection. 5

MILLINERY.

Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and general assortment of French and American Millinery
Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.
Crape always in stock and especial attention given to orders for Mourning Goods.
"Old Crape made New by Shriver's patent process. Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS
Elliot Block, Elmwood St.,
Newton.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.
Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET.

TELEPHONE CONNECTION: 3

W. B. YOUNG,
REAL ESTATE and INSURANCE AGENT.

NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES.
Land furnished and houses built to suit on easy terms.
Office, 25 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

F. G. BARNES & SON.

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.
AUCTIONEERS for REAL and PERSONAL PROPERTY.

FOR SALE and FOR RENT
a large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: No. 27 State Street, Boston, and Brackett's Block, Newton.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER,

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes.

And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS.

BOSTON OFFICES: 91 Kilby st., 105 Arch st., 35 Court sq. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.
NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's. Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.
Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m.
Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

M.C. HIGGINS

PRACTICAL PLUMBER

Sanitary Engineer.
(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Sumner's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction guaranteed.

BAY STATE GUITARS

THE BEST IN THE WORLD.
MADE BY J. CHAYNES & CO. BOSTON, MASS.
SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

City of Newton.

Assessors' Notice

The inhabitants of the City of Newton, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein, are hereby required to bring in to the Assessors of said Newton, on any day from
May First to the fifteenth day of June next,

true lists of all their Polls (males, 20 years old and upward), and schedules and estimates of their personal estates, not exempted from taxation.

ASSESSMENT OF WOMEN.
CHAP. 196, ACTS OF 1889.

The Assessors or Assistant Assessors shall, in the month of May or June in each year, visit each dwelling-house or building and make true lists of all persons twenty years of age and upwards, who shall in writing over their own signatures, request the Assessors to assess them for a "poll tax" and it shall be the duty of the Assessors to inquire at each such dwelling-house or building for such written requests for assessment, which must give the name in full—age, occupation and residence May 1st 1889. All women desiring to be assessed for a poll tax should have their written request for such assessment in the form required by the Act of 1889, ready for delivery to the Assessors when they shall visit the house where they dwell. Each request should be upon a separate sheet signed by the applicant with her name in full. No application for the assessment of a woman for poll tax will be received by mail or in any other than the manner provided by said Chapter 196, except by filing in the office of the Assessors the list provided by Section 12, of Chapter 298, of Acts of 1884, amended by Chapter 200 of Acts of 1888.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to establish their status with statements in relation to such estates. When estates of persons deceased have been divided during the past year, or have changed hands from other causes, the Executors, Administrators, Trustees, or other persons interested, are required and warned to give notice of such change; and in default of such notice will be held to pay the tax assessed on such estate, which has been wholly distributed and paid over. Returns of Property Held for Literary, Benevolent, Charitable or Scientific Purposes.

In accordance with the requirements of Chapter 217, Acts of 1882—All persons and corporations are hereby required to bring in to the Assessors of Newton on any day from May first to the fifteenth day of June next, true lists of all real and personal estate held by such persons and corporations respectively for literary, benevolent, charitable or scientific purposes on the first day of May, together with statements of the amount of all receipts and expenditures by such person or corporation for said purpose during the year next preceding said first day of May; such lists and statements to be in such detail as may be required by the tax commissioner.

MORTGAGED REAL ESTATE.
CHAP. 175, ACTS OF 1882, SEC. 1.

Any mortgagor or mortgagee of Real Estate may bring in to the Assessors of the town or city where such Real Estate lies, at the time specified for bringing in the list as provided in Section 8 and 9 of Chapter eleven of the Public Statutes, a statement, under oath, of the amount due on each separate lot or parcel of such Real Estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagor. When such property is situated in two or more places, or when a recorded mortgage includes for one sum two or more estates or parts of an estate, an estimate of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The Assessors shall, from such statements, or otherwise, ascertain the proportionate parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors, respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of mortgage, such statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax for the then current year on such Real Estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.

NEWTON TARIFF REFORM CLUB.

A TARIFF IS A TAX.

Organized, Jan. 24, 1889.
Membership on May 1, '90.
Address all communications to the Secretary of the Newton Tariff Reform Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

THE WONDERFUL TARIFF.

NOT BY O. W. H.

(Supposed to have been composed about the year 1900.)

Have you heard of the Tariff Protective, say, That was built in such a logical way, That it suited everyone? No? Well, stay, And I'll tell you about it without delay.

Eighteen hundred and eighty-nine, Blaine and Clarkson and Quay did shine; Then held went to France to learn "parlez vous," Then Porter was Senator, and Halstead was blue; And Civil S. R. was done up so brown, That everyone could crack his crown. It was in December of that very year That Allison made this Tariff so queer.

Now in building of Tariff, I tell you what, There's always somewhere a Free Trade spot; In coffee or cotton, in fish or in flax, In tea or in tin, in wood or in wax. In silk, eggs, horsehair—looking still, Find it somewhere you must and will, And that's the reason without a doubt A tariff means mending and does not last out.

But the Senator swore, (as Senators do), He'd build a tariff that would last through. It should be made so it couldn't break down; He'd suit the country and suit the town. "For," said the Senator, "I'm not plain The Free Trade spot must stand the strain, And the way to reform it, is to maintain, And you all have guessed, Is to tax that spot as high as the rest."

So the Senator summoned from every section, Everybody that wanted protection; Protection for spools, protection for soap, Protection for rubber, protection for rope, A duty on bread, a duty on meat, A duty on light, a duty on heat. On all that we wear, and on all that we eat, On all that we know, and on all that we see, On all that we are, or are likely to be. That was the way he put it through. "There," said the Senator, "Now it will do."

Do! I tell you, I rather guess; It was a wonder, and nothing less. The wise men could hear him look all day, From A to Z, and from Z to A. To find something not in the Tariff, they say, And they might look on till their eyes were gray. There was nothing in Heaven, or Hell, or Earth, But in this Tariff it found a snug berth.

The days rolled on and Ninety came; There stood the Tariff just the same. Ninety-one passed into Ninety-two; November the Eight election was due.

Election day in Ninety-two, The Tariff looks equal and strong, 'tis true. No LOCAL decay can attack that bill. For it came from a High Protectionist Mill, And the Senator's broad and generous heart Had made it take in every part, Protecting every occupation.

And everything else in creation. The farm was protected as much as the mill, The mine was protected the same as the still. The North and the South, the East and the West, Were all well protected by none of them best. The statesman sagacious with cunning acumen Taxed wool, wheat and whisky, the same as abumen. The items just numbered ten thousand and four, And now were taxed less, though some were TAXED MORE.

But yet on the whole we scarcely can doubt The Senator's game was almost played out. For each man who thought, began to feel sore, Protected in one thing, and taxed on four score.

Eight of November—Ninety-two! What are the Mugwumps going to do? The Iowa Senator doesn't care, if The people protected protect the Tariff.

Awakening returns from the election, He reads his Tariff, section by section: Chemicals, earthenware, metals, and woods, Sugar, tobacco, provisions, cloth-goods, Liquors and sundries—he stopped perplexed At what in thunder was coming next. "Extra, Extra," the newboys call, "A full account of the Tariff's fall."

What do you think the Senator saw When he looked at the Tariff law? An awful mixture of taxes specific, With taxes ad val., and taxes terribile. With houses of representatives, collectors, Condemners, and confounded by angry electors? Not at all! You see if you are not a dunce, How it went to pieces all at once—All at once, and nothing first—Just as bubbles do when they burst. End of my High Protection Lay: TAXES IS TAXES. That's all I say.

Who Pays the Tax.

THE PROTECTIONIST REPLY.

During the decade just past the United States government has collected annually at its Custom House about two hundred millions of dollars, ($200,000,000)—that is the visible part of the Tariff Tax. Who pays it?

"A Republican."—Nobody pays it because there is no tax. It is a mere assertion unsupported by facts.

Senator Edmunds.—At the least a very heavy proportion of the amount is borne by the foreign producer or manufacturer. Some years ago we received annually fifteen millions of dollars from the duties on coffee and tea. Congress removed the duty, and yet American consumers continued to pay the same price, showing that the foreign merchants kept the millions, the people gained nothing, and the government lost its revenue. The same is true of fish, and indeed of every commodity whether produced here or abroad. One hundred millions of our customs revenue, perhaps more, is paid by foreigners!

The American Protective Tariff League.—In the case of articles not produced in our own country, (tinplates, sugar, and previous to 1872, coffee and tea), we ourselves pay the tax. But in the case of woolens, cottons, hardware, lumber, metals, and other products of our own industry, the duties are largely paid by foreigners. We ought therefore to abandon the duties on all articles not produced by ourselves.

Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, Joint Author of the Senate Bill.—I am quite willing to say that the average effect of a protective tariff is to increase the price of protected goods to the American purchaser. If it were not so, a protective tariff would not be protective.

Importer of Woolens, Member of a large Boston Firm, A Republican and a Protectionist.—We always add the duty to the cost of our goods. Of course we make a profit on the duty. Woolens of good quality are much cheaper in England than here.

We have tried to present fairly the somewhat discordant views of protectionists on the question of "Who Pays the Tax," and shall be glad to give any doubter full reference to our authorities. The Reformer's reply to the question we must postpone until next week.

(Written for the Graphic.)

A Little Talk over the Horse Show.

A. had just stepped into his carriage and pulled the door with a sudden violence—not with anger, but with a determination that it should not fly open again—when, looking up, he saw his friend B. approaching. Having ample room for a passenger, he pounded the door open and called his friend to him. "B, won't you ride?" said he. B. pretended not to care to ride, as most everybody does when first asked, but after continued entreaties he finally consented, entered the carriage, and the two rode away.

B. "Been to the Horse Show?"
A. "Yes, was there to-day; in fact, have just returned. Have you been?"

B. "No."
A. "Well, sir, it was really a fine thing. One could spend a day and evening there and not see it all."

B. "Spend a day and evening! Does it require all day to look over a few horses? I should think one might get all the good points in an hour, certainly." B. was thinking of the Dog, and other kindred shows, when he made this remark.

A. "Well, no, not exactly. I suppose the extent and equipage of this show makes it an extremely difficult one to manage. A spectator must sit twelve hours before all its possibilities can be realized. Who ever heard of an entertainment lasting so long?"

B. "I should imagine a show on such a scale very monotonous. Did you not find it so?"

B. "Monotonous? Oh, no. That was very skillfully prevented. There was nothing really to hold your attention if you didn't want to look on. The ring was never crowded. You were not cloyed and surfeited at once with dazzling feats and endless processions of animals and carriages with a gorgeous retinue. The courses were retarded to a degree which made any excitement impossible; and one could refresh one's mind with little reveries and naps between the performances, and the waking in such a vast hall, before the eyes of many people, produced a pleasing surprise which always inspired a repetition."

"The horses made no noise travelling over the soft tan-bark, the audience was very quiet and respectful, the mighty sparrows among the rafters, the day itself was sombre and I gave myself up wholly to enjoyment."
"A tranquil moment stole upon me occasionally when I reflected how isolated one could be amidst a throng of living humanity. My reveries penetrated a realm somehow removed from this world; and looking into the past, I was touched by the remembrance of a face which I had once looked upon with the sweetest satisfaction. But these moments were very fleeting, and I admit the monotony and stiffness of such a feeling of incongruity at the appearance of horses, riders and stable men. No doubt, you have enjoyed similar experiences; but you know such experiences are rare."

"When I entered the hall, I had just your ideas. I expected to go through the performance in an hour and join a lunch party by 11 o'clock; but when I observed with what majestic order the program was to be given, I quickly dismissed the idea of eating any lunch at all, and telegraphed my friends to that effect."
"In the first hall, I saw nothing but carriages—carriages built with all the improvements and disadvantages that modern inventive talent can supply. It seemed to me there was nothing left for an inventor to do. I don't know what our people are coming to. Really, our eccentricities in this direction are becoming alarming. We are already super-saturated with the English."

"I looked through this exhibition of carriages, but my mind was in a state of confusion all the time. I remember there were scores of two-wheeled vehicles and some three, four and five-wheeled vehicles; some were all style and no comfort, others all comfort and no style; there were carriages built to soar among the clouds, others made to catch all the mud; some had ladders attached to them, and others with seats arranged for people to sit side-wise and backwards and some upside down—there was every imaginable variety."

"These carriages were all strung along as if joined in a procession. There were various colors and styles of finish, many of them being very expensive. And interspersed along the line, to break the monotony and stiffness of such a collection of inanimate objects, were a few wooden horses, with false hair and bright glass eyes. These would have appeared well in a deer park. If there were any wax coachmen, I have forgotten them."

B. "That's not strange. Live ones, you know, are seldom noticed, they are so slow and sleepy. But go on. How did you enjoy the performances?"
A. "Well! I finally worked my way into the next hall where I saw a great deal of open space in which there were two or three men and a horse."

"I concluded the performance had already begun; but I was not sure, so I stood with the crowd which had collected around the fence enclosing the ring, and looked on. I stood here over an hour (though it seemed longer) and in that time the horse made a circuit of the ring and drew a prize. I saw how things were going and decided to buy a seat in the balcony where those who had come to spend the day eventually went."

"The ticket-man had frightened away several ladies with his unbefittingly abrupt remarks, and as I approached with the question: 'Have you any good seats in the balcony,' he looked at me a minute, and then with the suddenness of an electric automaton said, 'Yes, I have.' I very quietly laid a silver dollar on the window sill and asked in what part of the hall I would find my seat. As the man answered me, another man shouted the number and position of a ticket belonging to some one else, and between the two men I received rather a confused idea and was obliged to repeat the question, upon which the ticket-man, with an accumulated force sufficient to remove the wall if mechanically applied, hammered the silver dollar upon the desk and shouted: 'Did I not just now tell you that your seat was in the fourth row on the right hand side?'"

"I walked away wondering at this man. He might have been an excellent, magnanimous man, though much misunderstood and persecuted."

B. "You don't mean to say they allowed such a ruffian to sell tickets?"

A. "Oh, yes. He belonged to the show." "I spent a greater part of the day upstairs. The performances moved on with considerable dignity. The judging of the fancy riding occupied most of the time. But for the weighty judgements, which were delivered with much ceremony, this part of the exercises would have required much less time."

"The riding horses did not appear to me remarkable for their beauty. Some how they lacked symmetrical proportions. They were nimble and skittish, and threw their riders occasionally with much skill, and never without a loud applause from the children. I think the children would have kept the poor creatures at it all day if the managers had not interposed."

B. "You didn't see the trick horses?"
A. "Oh yes, I saw the trick horses. They performed with much ease and deliberation. Many tricks were even delicately done. I enjoyed them all very much, but only I thought the preparations were often disproportioned to the length and importance of the tricks."

"All through the day a boy circulated through the rows of empty seats in front of me crying, 'Catalogues of each and every horse. Programs: they are five cents.' Seeing upward I beheld nothing at this business, and was losing his voice, I reached out and tapped him with my cane as he passed, and asked him if he would show me 'each and every horse' in the exhibition. I agreed to pay him liberally for his time, and at last he accepted my offer, and we went at once into the basement where the animals were kept. I had not gone far when I heard a slight disturbance behind me, and looking around I found my boy was absent. Where he had gone I could not say, but I knew it was not far. Happening to glance upward I beheld the boy standing by the electric lighting apparatus. The truth is, he had walked too close to one of the Shetlands."

"I carried the matter at once to the superintendent, and he, disbelieving my story, appointed a committee of three men to go below and report to him the exact situation and—"
Here A. and B. found themselves at the door of A's house, and the story was by necessity interrupted. B. was sent home in the carriage and has not yet heard any more from his friend A.

MILF BENEDICT.
April 26th.

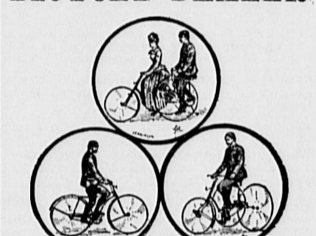

The Fire-Proof Safes of E. C. Morris & Co., Boston, Mass., are beyond question the best in the market. Over 100,000 of them are now in use, and they can be relied upon in case of a fire.

These safes contain more improvements than any safe made. Those wishing perfect protection for their valuables should correspond with Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co., and get a first class safe at reasonable rates.

Be Your Own Doctor.
It won't cost you one half as much. Do not delay. Send three 2-cent stamps for postage, and we will send you Dr. Kaufman's great work, fine colored plates from life, on diseases, its causes, and home cure. Address A. P. Ordway & Co., Boston, Mass.

Forced to Leave Home.
Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Dr. Kaufman's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headaches and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist to day for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large-size package, 50 cents.

EDWARD P. BURNHAM,
BICYCLE DEALER

Bicycles and Tricycles of all descriptions sold for cash, or on installment. Special rates for Second-hand Machines taken in exchange. Repairing done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

I will guarantee to cure the worst case of corns and bunions on any Lady's feet who will wear my

CUSTOM MADE
Kangaroo Skin Boots.

They are soft, fine, and look handsome. They will wear longer than anything else known; they will keep their shape and turn water. I do not send the measure to the factory to be made up, but make them myself. I will guarantee a perfect fitting and comfortable boot no matter what shape the feet may be.

Best Kangaroo, Flexible Bottom, no quack, $6.50. Dongola, Flexible bottom, no quack, $6.00.

A. L. RHYND,

Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Rubbers Custom work a specialty.

Hyde's Block, Centre and Washington Sts., NEWTON.

WEST END STREET

RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.55 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9.25 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.05 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 6.35 P. M., then 7 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 11 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 12.50 P. M., then every fifteen minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M., and every thirty minutes until 11.30 A. M., then every fifteen minutes until 11 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.25 A. M., and every fifteen minutes until 9.50 P. M.

General Manager.

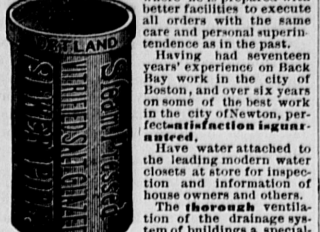

ALL PERSONS troubled with their door or house bells not working, are invited to examine the Zimard Patent Bell. No cranks No wires. No batteries to get out of order.

BARBER BROS.

PEERLESS DYES ARE THE BEST. Sold by DRUGGISTS.

PLUMBING.
Timothy J. Hartnett

BRACKETT'S NEW BLOCK,
Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton.

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past. Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others. The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.

Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping. Agent for Portland Stone Ware Co's Drain Pipes, Vases, Etc.

MURRAY & FARRELL,

CARRIAGE BUILDERS & HORSE SHOERS,

Special attention given to

REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS.

Also to shoeing, Over-reaching, Interfering and Tender-footed Horses. All kinds of blacksmith and wheelwright work done with neatness and dispatch. Washington, cor. Park St. Ward 7, Newton. Prices very reasonable. All our work guaranteed.

Newton City Market.

All kinds of Fresh and Salt

MEATS,

POULTRY AND GAME,

FISH & OYSTERS,

Butter, Cheese and Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit and Vegetables.

No. 413 Centre Street, Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor.

YES, WE HAVE

Just Received 10 Tons of

FRESH PINO;

The Best Bedding in the World. Dry, Sweet and Aromatic.

Cures Asthma, Bronchitis, Tracheitis and Rheumatism. We have thousands of testimonials. Far superior to all others for health and comfort.

You will say so when you see the PINO PALMINE BROS.

PINO PALMINE CO.,

130 Commercial St., BOSTON, MASS.

Champagne Cider

Manufactured at the Glen Farm, a quality of Sweet, Sparkling Cider, made from sound fruit, and just the thing for family use, which will be delivered in quart, pint and half pint bottles, in any part of Newton. Best article in the market and sure to give satisfaction. Quality guaranteed. P. O. Address:

GLEN FARM,

Box 129, Newton Lower Falls, Mass.

The Atkinson House-

Furnishing Co.

OF MAINE,

PAYS ITS STOCKHOLDERS

10 Per Cent. Annually in January and July.

$50,000 worth of the stock will be sold at Par ($10 per share) until April 1, 1889. Subscribe now and get a full 5 per cent. Dividend in July. Full particulars from the Company, Portland, Me., or

DAVID W. SEARS,

233 17 Milk Street, Room 5, Boston.

If any dealer says he has the W. L. Douglas Shoe without name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Best in the world. Examine his $5.00 GENT'S NEW PATENT SHOE. $4.00 HAND-SEWED WELT SHOE. $3.50 PATENT AND FARMER'S SHOE. $3.50 EXTRA VALUE Calf SHOE. $3.50 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE. $2.00 and $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES. All made in Congress, Button and Lace.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3 SHOE FOR LADIES.

Best Material. Best Style. Best Fitting. It is not sold by your dealer, while

W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

FOR SALE BY

M. J. O'SHEA, 350 Centre St., Newton.

GEO. E. BARROWS, Newton Centre

T. F. CLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming & Harness

MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c.

Washington Street, Newton.

Behning

Pianos

"THE FINEST IN THE WORLD."

HUNT BROS., 34 Essex St., Boston

ORNAMENTAL TREES.

SHRUBS & HERBACEOUS PLANTS.

FOR SALE.

A large and valuable assortment at the

NEWTON

Cemetery Nurseries.

Also a large assortment of Greenhouse and Bedding plants. A few extra large size elms and maples.

HENRY ROSS, Supt.

Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

THE—

ESSEX BOOT & SHOE CO.

28 Essex St., Boston.

F. LESLIE KEENE, Manager,

Have a large assortment of Seasonable Goods, including

Base Ball, Bicycle, Tennis, and

Yachting Shoes.

A liberal discount to clubs and yachts. Prices always the lowest. Don't fail to give us a call, we will make it pay you to do so.

EDDY'S

REFRIGERATORS!

I have sold them for the past twenty-one years which is sufficient guarantee that they are the best. Refrigerators of all kinds repaired. Leave your orders and have them attended to at once, as warm weather will soon be here. Stoves, ranges, and furnaces cleaned and repaired. Tin plate, sheet iron and copper work done in a thorough manner.

JOHN S. SUMNER,

MIDDLESEX BLOCK,

352 Centre St., NEWTON.

INSOMNIA - SLEEPLESSNESS.

Dr. B. F. Howard's Hypnotic and Mind's Balm is an infallible remedy for Insomnia. It is purely vegetable, and aids much in the cure of other diseases. Dr. Howard was for at suffer from this terrible malady. He cured himself—he can cure others.

Address, enclosing stamp for particulars, Dr. B. F. HOWARD, 37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., OR SEEN AT OFFICE DAILY.

22 19

Richard Rowe,

INSURANCE.

No. 2 Mason Building,

Water Street, Boston.

P. O. Box 304, Newtonville.

The six American and English companies represented by this agency, are among the largest, strongest and oldest doing business in the United States, the Sun Fire Office being the oldest purely fire insurance company in the world. The million of dollars paid by these companies to the sufferers of the three great conflagrations of Portland, Chicago and Boston, fully attest to their strength, integrity and fair dealing. Seventy per cent. dividend paid on five year mutual policies.

Meat, Poultry and Game.

"THE CHOICEST" OUR MOTTO.

The Newton Market

Established in 1851 and located pleasantly at

NOS. 7 AND 8 COLE'S BLOCK,

has constantly on hand a LARGE and CHOICE SUPPLY of Meats, Poultry and Game.

W. H. BRACKETT,

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 80.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

THE JUDGESHIP.

The question of Judge Park's successor is exciting a good deal of interest among Newton people, and several petitions are in circulation. Four gentlemen have been prominently mentioned, Mr. Edward W. Cate, who has been clerk of the police court for several years, and who seems to be in the direct line of promotion, if the appointment is made on civil service reform principles. Alderman John C. Kennedy, Associate Justice Mather, and Councilman Ranlett, both of the latter from Auburndale.

Numerous signed petitions are in circulation by the friends of the gentlemen mentioned, and they are being numerously signed, and Governor Ames has been seen by a large number of prominent citizens.

Governor Ames's appointments in the past have been so uniformly excellent that he can be safely trusted to do the right thing in this case, especially as he seems in a way to be thoroughly posted in regard to the facts. None of our governors have made a more excellent class of appointments, and it is for this reason that he has been so cordially supported by the citizens of Newton, at the several elections.

The lawyers who practice before the court seem to favor Mr. Cate, and we think there is no doubt that he is the most thoroughly equipped lawyer, and the one of the candidates who is the best fitted by experience for the duties. This is no reflection against any of the other candidates, as they have not been in a position to gain the experience Mr. Cate has had. Mr. Cate is also a native of Newton, a graduate of its schools, the President of the Newton Water Board, the secretary of the Newton Club, a prominent member of other Newton clubs, and has resided here ever since he graduated from Harvard. His friends think so well of him that he has been often mentioned by them in connection with important city offices, a number of which he has held with credit to himself and to the satisfaction of his constituents. Governor Ames would certainly make no mistake if he should give the appointment to Mr. Cate, and it would be generally satisfactory to the people of Newton. Even the friends of the other candidates, while they would prefer the success of their own man, have no serious objection to raise against Mr. Cate. For this reason we think Mr. Cate is an exceptionally strong candidate, and there is no doubt but that he would discharge the duties of the office with fidelity and intelligence.

THE STREET RAILWAY.

Next Monday evening the street railway question will have a hearing before the board of aldermen, together with the protest of the Telephone company against overhead wires.

The question ought to be a very simple one, as far as these two companies are concerned. On the one hand is the Telephone company, which does not bring a dollar's worth of taxable property to Newton, and which takes many dollars out in the form of telephone rentals from the various city offices. It pays nothing for disfiguring the streets with its poles and wires, which are more dangerous in the case of fire than the overhead railway wire would be. The telephone is a convenience, certainly, but even if telephones were abolished in this city, it would have no effect on the population.

On the other hand is the Newton Street Railway company, which already owns the railroad from West Newton to Waltham, and has received permission from both Waltham and Watertown to use the overhead wire in their streets. It needs the permission of Newton to establish its circuit, and it is ready to give bonds to have the road in operation within a reasonable time. Such a road would increase the city's list of taxable property, and there is every reason to believe that it would give a boom to building all along its line, such as Newton has never known before. It would accommodate all classes and be a great benefit to the poorer classes, while the telephone benefits merely business firms and a few wealthy people. It does not seem that any board of aldermen ought to hesitate long over the matter, or find much difficulty in deciding, even if a multitude of experts are brought forward to befog the question.

As for the new Newton Electric Street Railway, which proposes to use the storage battery system, that need not interfere with the granting of the petition of the Newton Street railway, as far as the completion of its proposed circuit between Waltham, Watertown and Newton is concerned, and then we should have a road in operation this summer.

The storage battery system is the ideal system, no doubt, and when once it is shown that it can be successfully and economically operated, all the doubts that have been expressed will be set at rest, and all the street railway systems will adopt it. The men behind it say they mean business, and the fact that they are willing to put their money into it shows that they are confident of success. There would seem to be nothing improper in the board of aldermen requiring either company to give bonds to have their roads in operation within a reasonable time.

THE WABAN HILL PARK.

The offer of six acres of land on Waban Hill, to be used for the high service water tower and as a public park, put a new complexion on the high service problem, and accordingly both branches of the city government met Monday evening in special session, and after duly resolving to accept the gift, all the high service orders were referred back to the Water Board, with a request to make another report as soon as possible.

It was proposed by the board to put the tower on Institution Hill, where land would have had to be purchased, and a good sum must have been paid, as the property owners there did not look upon the project with favor. This was one of the reasons why the Water Board did not go into details, as no reliable estimate could be given of the cost of the land. It would have been a great thing for Institution Hill to have had a park and water tower there, as the adjoining land owners would have been benefited by an immediate rise in the value of their property, but they seem to have missed their opportunity. Land owners on Waban Hill evidently look on the matter in a different light, judging from Mr. Meredith's generous offer, and to realize that a public park in that locality will be of immediate and lasting benefit. The proposed extension of streets would make the drive a favorite one, and it would probably be a popular resort on pleasant days.

The question arises, however, as to what kind of a park shall be laid out; situated as Newton is, there is no need of an elaborately laid out garden, with signs of "Keep off the grass" posted all about, for every street in the vicinity is something of the nature of a public park, with shade trees and flowers, and other results of landscape gardening, but there is a pressing need of a play ground, and it would not seem to be a bad idea to devote the six acres to a play-ground for the boys of Newton. Shade trees and shrubs would only obstruct the magnificent view which is the great attraction of the place, while a play ground would leave the view unobstructed. It is rather remote from any centre of population, at present, and getting to be rather difficult, but the West End Railway company or the Newton Storage Battery Street Car company could run a line of cars to the place from Newton, and they would be very liberally patronized during the season for out door sports. The players would be sure of good air, and if the games proved uninteresting, spectators could turn round and look at the scenery.

The report of the Water Board in regard to the matter will be an interesting one, no doubt, and will probably include a full estimate of the expenses involved, as the change in the location of the water tower will make a material alteration in their plans.

The Legislature is discussing a bill, compelling all candidates, clubs, committees, or other organizations, to give a detailed statement of all election expenses, when such expenses exceed $100, and also all members of Congress or State officials, to file within ten days a statement of all moneys contributed or disbursed to secure their nomination or election, and also defining illegal expenses. It is safe to predict that such a law will not pass this legislature, although there is the greatest necessity for it, as the last election proved. If the government is to remain in the hands of the people instead of the hands of a plutocracy, even more stringent legislation than the proposed law will not only have to be passed but be enforced. The illegal use of money in elections is perhaps the greatest danger that threatens our government at present.

In regard to the lack of sewerage in Newton, which some consider a disadvantage, a high sanitary authority says that properly constructed cess-pools, frequently cleaned out, are much safer and less dangerous to health than a trunk line system of sewerage. There is less danger of the spread of an epidemic, and of the invasion of houses by sewer gas. As Newton is one of the healthiest cities in the state, as our low death rate proves, there would seem to be something in this statement. Certainly with a death rate of twelve to a thousand, there is no need of any immediate apprehension from our lack of sewerage.

The Newton Highlands Improvement Association is another organization that is full of energy and is actively working for the good of the city. A report of its annual meeting shows that it has done much work the past year, and it is also contemplating a playground for boys. This is timely, as the Highlands is growing rapidly, and the vacant land now available may be taken up if something is not done soon.

The excellent likeness of the late Judge Park, which appeared in the GRAPHIC last week, was kindly loaned us by the Boston Herald. It was made from a photograph taken some ten years ago, and is said to be a very accurate portrait of him as he appeared at that time.

The Boston board of aldermen has granted the West End company the right to use the single trolley system in that city, and the company is not required to use iron poles either. This disposes of a long and exciting contest, and the Boston aldermen evidently found the arguments of the West End company satisfactory, as the order was passed unanimously.

"A Constant Reader of the GRAPHIC" should know that anonymous communications are never printed. He has our sympathy, but it is active, personal work that tells, either for or against the object he has in view. Work on one side can be counterbalanced by work on the other.

A CORRESPONDENT asks if the old Williams school building in Auburndale, where it is proposed to hold the vacation Industrial School, is in a safe condition. The question is referred to the City Inspector of buildings.

The House passed to its 3rd meeting Thursday, the bill relating to the drainage of the Charles river and Mystic river valley by such a large vote that the measure will doubtless become a law.

Springer Brothers' New Addition.

It seems but a few years ago that the great manufacturing house of Springer Brothers emerged from the wholesale business, and erecting a large and handsome stone building on Essex street, Boston, opened a retail department that in a short time became one of the most popular stores in Boston. So successful was the retail department that notwithstanding the fact that the store on Essex street was one of the largest devoted to that business in this country, it was found necessary a year ago to open a branch house at the corner of Washington and Bedford streets. This store, with its pretty appointments, was fully described when the place was opened. Some idea of the tremendous business done by this firm may be computed when it is announced that they have once more been obliged to enlarge their accommodations. They have secured the three upper stories of the building north of them on Washington street, and four stories in the building adjoining them on Bedford street, and have fitted them up tastefully and conveniently. This latest addition gives them over a dozen rooms, and makes one of the handsomest as well as convenient stores on Washington street, and cart in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food. It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country. Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS AND IMPORTERS,

Invite an inspection of their carefully selected

Spring Cloths

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester

City of Newton.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester

Milk Inspection

CITY HALL, West Newton, Mass.
In accordance with Chapter 57, Section 1 of the Public Statutes, I hereby give notice that I have been appointed Milk Inspector for the City of Newton. All licenses must be renewed before the 1st day of June. All persons selling milk not licensed or registered must be registered at this office before that date. Blank forms of applications can be obtained by applying to me at City Hall, West Newton, Mass. Office hours, 8:15 to 10:15 a.m. W. S. FRENCH, Milk Inspector.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That M. W. Sherman has applied to the Mayor and Aldermen for permit to erect a stable 70x40 feet, on land of Station street in rear of Knapp's store, leased Horace Conner, ISAAC KINGSBURY, May 3, 1889. 30 1/2 City Clerk.

The Massachusetts Title Insurance Company,

23 MILK ST., BOSTON.
EXAMINES AND GUARANTEES TITLES TO REAL ESTATE.
ARNOLD A. RAND, Vice Pres., Manager
LOANS MONEY ON REAL ESTATE. HALE W. SUTLER, President.

MARRIED.

HATCH-EMERSON - At Church of the Holy Spirit, Mattapan, April 14, 1889, by the rector, Rev. John T. McGrath, Miss Jennie E. Emerson of Milton, to Edward Palmer Hatch of West Newton.

McARTY-HENNESSEY - At West Newton, April 25, by Rev. J. A. Barrett, John A. McCarty and Mary E. Hennessey, both of Newton.

McLAUGHLIN-WELCH - At Boston, April 30, by Rev. M. Dolan, John McLaughlin and Emma Welch, both of Newton.

SAWYER-LEONARD - At Boston, April 25, by Rev. F. L. Hayes, Frederick A. Sawyer of Boston and Ella A. Leonard of Newton.

McGRATH-QUILTY - At West Newton, April 30, by Rev. J. A. Barrett, Michael McGrath of Watertown and Mary Quilty of Newton.

DIED.

PLUTA - At Auburndale, April 25, Ferdinand Pluta, aged 45 yrs. 8 mos. 25 dys.

PARKER - At Newton Upper Falls, April 26, Mary M., widow of Lowell Parker, aged 77 yrs. 1 mo. 10 dys.

IRVING - At Newton, April 26, George H., son of John Irving, aged 15 yrs. 8 mos.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO LET - In Newton, near station, south side, in a private house, pleasant room or rooms. Inquire at GRAPHIC office. 30 2/2

WANTED - A Protestant cook desires situation in Newton. Good references. Apply to corner Fayette and Gardner streets, Newton. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - A good covered buggy, Hall's make. Apply to W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - An English Tricycle, in perfect order, will be sold for one third its original cost. Apply to 103 Franklin street. 30 3/4

TO LET - Houses in Newtonville; 8 rooms 44 Clarendon, $15 per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 55-3. 22 1/2

WANTED - By a thoroughly capable girl, a situation to do domestic work. Can furnish best of reference. Address K. B., Box 123, West Newton. 30 1/2

TO RENT - One half double house on Cross street, nine rooms, all modern improvements. Rent, $22 per month, including water rates. Apply to E. T. Wiswall, 40 Cross street. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - The prettiest and fastest pony and cart in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - A second-hand, fifty-two inch Expert Columbia Bicycle, formerly the property of Walter G. Osgood, may be seen at the house of Mr. A. P. C. Griffin, Highland avenue, Newtonville. 30

FOR SALE - In West Newton, the Capen estate on Elm street; house 14 rooms and bath, hot and cold water and gas, conservatory, barn and land about 15,000 feet of land, all in good order. Neighborhood first class. Will be sold very low and on easy terms if taken at once. Apply to George A. Mead, Otis St., Newtonville, or 5-ylston Building, Boston. 29

TO LET - Two medium sized houses, in good locality near depot, nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, on reasonable terms. Address "Letter Carrier," Newton, Mass. 30 1/2

TO RENT - TO SELL - About 4 acres of mowing land to rent as a pasture, near the village. Also a carriage for sale. Address P. O. Box 123, Newton Centre. 30

WANTED - A capable and reliable Protestant girl for general housework. Must be a good cook, and have excellent references. Apply at No. 25 Channing st. 30 1/2

FOR SALE OR TO LET - New house, 10 rooms and bath, finished in natural wood all through. All modern conveniences; 10,000 feet of land; fine location on Gibbs St., Newton Centre. Apply to Frank Edwards, Newton Centre. 30

TO LET - Furnished or unfurnished rooms in a pleasant locality and near the depot. Address H. Letter carrier No. 2, Newton. 30 1/2

TO LET - On Washington street, a convenient house of six rooms. Apply to H. C. Daniels. 29

TO LET - Four nice rooms for a small American family. Apply to George Lane, 298 Washington street, Cole's Block. 29 1/2

TO LET - House of 10 rooms, bathroom and furnace. Good situation, convenient to cars and bus. The windows and all are supplied with wire screens and there is a good range with hot water connection in the kitchen. Apply to 371 Washington street, Newton. 28

FOR SALE - A second hand, No. 8 Wheeler & Wilson sewing machine, price $10. Apply at this office. 28 1/2

WANTED - From July 1st for two or three months board for party of three adults, in the vicinity of West Newton Hill preferred. Address with full particulars, Geo. C. Whittemore, 26 School St., Boston. 28 1/2

TO RENT - New house, 6 rooms, bath and furnace. All modern conveniences. Apply to T. J. Hartnett. 28

TO LET - Handsomely furnished rooms with bath and all modern conveniences. Apply to J. W. Cotton, Newtonville. 26 1/2

FOR SALE - One good family cow. Address Box 95, Newtonville. 24 1/2

TO LET - House of 8 rooms, Webster Park. Nice, sunny house, cemented cellar and furnace. Apply to Robert Bennett, Station Agent, West Newton. 21 1/2

FOR SALE - Retail Provision route of one 22 hundred and fifty to two hundred customers. Apply to A. D. Hall, Newton Highlands, Mass. 12

HOUSES and rooms to rent at Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 18

TO LET - On Thornton, (formerly School) St., corner of Avon Place, Ward One, half of double French roof dwelling, 10 rooms besides bath room. All the modern conveniences. Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to G. W. Crosby, 8 Eldridge Street. 26 1/2

A New Photographer in Newton!

ODIN FRITZ,
Formerly the artist with H. F. Holland and Partridge of Boston, where he was eminently successful, particularly so with the "Little Folks" wishes to inform the public that he has taken Mr. Glines' studio, remodeled and fitted it for first-class work, and hopes for confidence and generous patronage.
Special rates to schools and classes. Open for appointments and sittings, April 6th. Respectfully,
ODIN FRITZ,
STUDIO
358 Centre St., Newton, Mass.

Real Estate. Mortgages. Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.
OFFICES
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

Eliot Hall, Newton, Saturday, May 25th, 1889,
A Rollicking, Jolly, Happy Go Lucky Concert
— BY THE —

Amherst Glee and Banjo Clubs.

16 Voices in the Chorus.
8 Students in the Banjo Club.
Making a grand total of 24 skilled Musicians.
New Songs, Rollicking music,
Banjo Solos, Mandolin Solos, Guitar Quartet,
Warbling, Yodling and Whistling
Tickets, All Seats RESERVED. 75 & 50 cts

Tickets now on sale at Hubbard & Procter's, Newton; Gaudet's, Newtonville, and Wright's, West Newton.

WILL IT PAY? Number Your Houses

Here are the facts!
Judge for yourselves!

Colchis Mining Co.
OF NEW MEXICO,
HON. ROBERT G. INGERSOLL,
PRESIDENT.

C. D. Jenkins, M. D., Vice-Prest.
Frank N. Wedge, Treasurer.

DIRECTORS.
Hon. ROBERT G. INGERSOLL.
Hon. NATHAN CLEAVES.
Hon. CHARLES E. COON, Ex-Asst. U.S. Treas.
GEORGE L. SHOKEY.
C. D. JENKINS, M. D.
FRANK N. WEDGE, of the firm of Griffith & Wedge Co., Zanesville, O.

The amount of ore is unlimited, there is nearly 30,000 tons on the dumps.

A full force of men are working on the mill. It will be finished about July. Capacity of mill will be 150 to 200 tons per day.
The net profits will be upwards of ten dollars per ton, taking it at the lowest estimate made by Experts, showing about $1500 per day, or over 75 per cent. on the Capital Stock. Price, $5.00 per share.

No certificate will be issued for less than twenty-five shares.
This Stock is Listed on the Stock Exchange and Registered at the Atlantic Trust Co., New York.

MAKE CHECKS OR DRAFTS payable to
R. H. WHITNEY & CO.,
48 Congress St., Boston.

1882 ESTABLISHED 1887
HUBBARD & PROCTER,
PHARMACISTS,

Successors to
Chas. F. Rogers,
BRACKETT'S BLOCK
NEWTON, MASS.

FISH OYSTERS,
Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

— AT —
Bunting's Fish Market,
COLE'S BLOCK.
Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Centre Street, opposite Vernon, Newton.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

HOT-BED
SASHES,

the best quality sold at very low prices by Levi Boles & Son,
Dealers in
Doors, Windows, Blinds, Frames,
Etc., Etc.

Mrs. F. A. THOMSON,
MILLINERY.

Mourning orders will receive prompt attention.
Hats dyed and pressed.
CENTRE STREET, : NEWTON, MASS.
OPPOSITE BANK.

Still Shining.

THE HOLLINGS' PATENT
SAFETY EXTENSION LAMP.
Absolutely safe. An unequalled illuminator. The only reliable lamp in the market.
NEW DESIGNS. LOW PRICES.
NOVELTIES IN SHADES.

R. HOLLINGS & CO.,
Manufacturers and Importers.

647 Washington St., next Adams House.
Haymarket Sq., Boston. 182m

Charles S. Holbrook.
Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.

No. 44 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.
POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies at low rates.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Dr. W. O. Hunt has gone to the Rangely Lakes for a 10 days fishing trip.

—Mr. Henry S. Calley is very seriously ill at his residence on Austin street.

—Miss Helen S. Lincoln of Hingham is the guest of Mrs. E. M. Thayer, Central place.

—Mr. J. W. Stover has returned to New York, after a short business trip in Boston and vicinity.

—Oriental Ointment positively produces soft, white skin. For sale at Mrs. Williams' pharmacy.

—Mr. Charles Dole was in New York this week with the 1st Corps of Cadets of which he is a member.

—Messrs. J. C. Fuller & French have sold 30,000 feet of land on Edinboro street to Mr. Green of Boston.

—Rev. I. P. Coddington delivered an impressive discourse in the Universalist church last Sunday morning.

—H. J. Preston, the architect, has prepared plans for a $18,000 house for Mr. Soden, on Washington Park.

—The new brick building erected by Mr. Ross on the Pulisier land is about completed and ready for occupancy.

—Mr. H. B. Parker was elected secretary of the Boston Boat and Shoe club, at its annual meeting, Wednesday night.

—Leon Royal has resigned his position as assistant engineer at the works of the Newton Electric Light company.

—Messrs. Higgins & Nickerson have leased one of the shops in the new brick building erected by Mr. H. F. Ross.

—Rev. R. A. White will speak on "Lessons from the Life of Washington" in the Universalist church, next Sunday morning.

—Nineteen houses have been erected in this ward since Jan. 1, and several cellars have also been staked out during the time mentioned.

—Mrs. Barton lost her pocket book in Boston recently containing $70 in money and a new 100 ride ticket between Newtonville and Boston.

—Herbert Hunting has resumed his position in connection with his father's business, having fully recovered from his recent illness.

—A meeting of the Newton Outing club was held in the rooms of the club, Tuesday evening. The occasion was largely of a social character.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Bridges were in New York this week during the centennial observances. They are expected home Saturday evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Hatch have leased Mr. J. Sidney Stone's house on Walnut Place and are at home to their friends on Tuesdays in May.

—Mr. Lake Ashley has severed his connection with Mr. H. P. Dearborn, and has accepted a position in Wellington Hove's market at Newton.

—Mr. O. B. Leavitt is the Newton agent for the "New Perfection" refrigerator, which has more merits than any other make, and is sold at a moderate price.

—At the regular meeting of the Newton Co-operative bank, which will be held in the office of Mr. J. C. Fuller, Tuesday evening next, the sum of $450.00 will be disposed of.

—A reunion of church members past and present was held in the Universalist vestry Tuesday evening. Music, remarks, social interchanges and a collation were features of the occasion.

—A successful sale and sociable was held in the Central Congregationalist church last evening. Quite a number of articles were disposed of and the usual pleasant social features enjoyed.

—The last meeting of the season of the "Goddard" will be held next Tuesday evening, May 7. The annual "social" will follow the usual literary exercises, and all members who wish to have a good time should attend.

—Owing to the rules of the school board, the class picture for the pupils of the high school will not be completed. The fact that it is not desirable to use the schools as an advertising medium and that the time occupied in the process of photography interfered with the school studies were among objections urged.

—Mr. J. G. Kilburn, the popular clerk at Williams' pharmacy, has declined a position as manager of Mr. S. A. D. Sheppard's branch store in Boston. It was a high compliment to Mr. Kilburn to be selected by so eminent a pharmacist for the position and Mrs. Williams is to be congratulated upon being able to retain his services.

—The contest between the crack bowlers of the Newton club which was alluded to in a previous issue will probably come off Saturday evening. The prize offered by Mr. S. L. Powers, known as "The Prohibitory Amendment Cup" will also be presented to the winner on the same evening.

—Mr. Johnathan Morrison was agreeably surprised by numerous friends from Boston last Thursday evening, who unexpectedly gathered at his residence on Walnut street and congratulated him upon his possession of a delightful and beautiful home in this city. It was a pleasant occasion of a social character. A special car brought out the guests from Boston.

—Open house at the club-house of the Newton Club, Tuesday, and many members availed themselves of the time secured by the holiday to indulge in the social pastimes and home amusements. During the day many gentlemen visited the pleasant rooms, and the several wards of the city were well represented. The bowling alley was in pretty general use, although no match games were played. Refreshments were served by the club steward.

—The annual meeting of the Newton Associates was held in the parlors of the club house of the Newton club, Monday evening, and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: Edwin W. Gay, president; Lewis E. Coffin, secretary and treasurer; James W. French, John T. Wells, Jr., Frank R. Ware, Edwin W. Gay, George W. Morse, L. C. Coffin, Austin R. Mitchell, executive committee; E. W. Gay, George A. Valentine, Austin R. Mitchell, trustees. After the business session a dinner was served by Mr. Welch, the club steward.

—A sociable under the auspices of the Methodist society was held at the residence of Mr. Lodge, Mr. Vernon street, last evening. The ladies' sewing circle met in the afternoon and the usual supper and social features were enjoyed in the evening. A literary and musical program was also added source of pleasure to the company and the exercises included a piano solo by Miss Cogswell; song, Mrs. Lodge; reading, George Bridges; harmonium solo, piano accompaniment; song, Mrs. Lodge; reading, Mr. Bridges.

WEST NEWTON.

—Chief Bixby has issued new fire-alarm cards, giving the number and location of the signal boxes in the various sections of the city.

—Fuller & French have sold a house and 10,000 feet of land on Sharon avenue to Thomas Elliot; also 200 feet of land on Watertown street to S. F. Cate.

—The court record this week comprises 13 cases as follows: insanity, 1; larceny, 3; drunkenness, 6; disturbance of the peace, 1; violation of city ordinances, 2.

—The grounds about the West Newton station are already rendered very attractive and are kept as neat and well-trimmed as at any station along the line of the road.

—Mr. Arthur R. Coe arrived home from Europe last Friday.

—Mr. A. L. Harbour has returned from his Southern trip and is much improved in health.

—Mr. C. M. Whittlesey is grading and laying out the grounds of his estate on Cherry street.

—Mrs. Seth Davis has disposed of two house lots in Everett containing about 5,000 square feet.

—Maj. W. F. Lawrence and family left Tuesday for Europe and will be absent on a tour of several months.

—The memorial fountain, a gift to the city from Mr. S. B. Urbino, has been placed in position on Lincoln park.

—Out of respect to the late Hon. John C. Park, no session of the police court was held last Friday, upon the occasion of his funeral.

—Sergt. Huestis of police head-quarters has been ordered to designate a lot in the Auburndale and contemplate putting up a modern house.

—Mr. Staples of the firm of J. H. Pray Sons & Co., of Boston, has rented the estate of Mr. James T. Allen and will occupy it during the summer months.

—It is said that the executors of the George A. Allen estate are considering an offer for all the land aside from the lot on which the dwelling house is situated.

—The Allen school nine defeated the class of '92, Newton High school, in a game of football on the common at the corner of Elm and Webster streets, Wednesday afternoon, by a score of 18 to 6.

—Welcome Beals is running a parcel express between West Newton and Boston. He has contracted to do the work for Messrs. Jordan & Marsh, Hovey & Co., H. W. White, Houghton & Putnam and other well-known Boston firms.

—This annual May festival connected with the Unitarian church has been unavoidably postponed until the 18th inst, when an unusually attractive program under the direction of Mr. Eustace Barker for the diversion of the children will be presented.

—By invitation of the society of Arts, connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Rev. N. P. Gilman of West Newton will give an address on "The Sharing of the Technology building, Boston, Thursday evening, May 9th, at eight o'clock.

—The First Parish Unitarian Sunday school will celebrate their annual May Festival in the City Hall, Saturday, May 19, 1889, from 2 to 6 p. m. The school will furnish music. As usual, this entertainment promises to be a gala one for the children. The May dances and other attractions are in preparation. Due to repairs and alterations. The party left City Hall in carriages and made a tour of the city, having at least a charming day for its investigations.

—A centennial praise service in commemoration of the inauguration of Gen. Washington as president of the United States was held in the Second Congregational church, Sunday evening and was largely attended. Appropriate selections were rendered by the choir, Keller's American Hymn being among the numbers given, and selections were also rendered by a male quartet. The musical features were interspersed with remarks by the pastor, Rev. H. J. Patrick, who gave an address relative to the character of Washington, tracing the events of history during the century life of the American republic, and picturing the growth and development of the nation. The moral lessons were also pointed out and the services were very interesting and instructive.

—The Lend a Hand Society, connected with the Newtonville Universalist church, gave a May party in the City Hall, Tuesday evening. Music was furnished by the Newtonville orchestra, and nearly one hundred couples participated in the grand ball. The matrons were Mrs. C. B. White, Mrs. R. A. White, Miss Metcalf and Miss Calley acted as floor managers, and the following young ladies acted as aids: Misses Bigelow, Barker, Clifford, Cunningham, Davis, Denison, Park, M. E. Lewis, Ross, A. Sibley, E. Sibley, Troffitt, Wadsworth, Wellington, C. Smith, and E. Smith. The order comprised 15 numbers, the party broke up at about 12 o'clock. It was one of the most enjoyable social events of the season and some pretty dresses were worn by the fair sex.

—The subject of "Poverty" was discussed by the women of the Educational club at their last meeting. Papers were read by Mrs. H. R. Burdison, Mrs. Bassett, and Mrs. Warren Davis. The subject was then thrown open to general discussion and the tariff, pension-bills and other statutes were discussed from the point of view of the subject closed by the practical question being raised, "Could the club do anything for the alleviation of poverty about us?" It was suggested that a day nursery might be formed for the children of working women, and a committee was appointed to ascertain how many there were among us, and the feasibility of starting such an institution. Wednesday, May 15th, is the day appointed for the annual business meeting and supper. The evening will be devoted to a musical entertainment, under the direction of Mrs. John Carter, subject, "Schubert."

—The old time members of the police department are now wearing the service stripe, indicating the number of years duty since the organization of the city police force. C. O. Davis has been on the force the longest period of time, nearly 15 years, but cannot wear the three stripes indicating 15 years of service until February, 1890. Those who have been in the department two years wear two stripes and the men entitled to wear the same are: City Marshal Richardson, Capt. C. E. Davis, Sergt. C. P. Huestis, Patrolmen C. O. Davis, James D. Hetherington, John Ryan, Robert H. Emerson, W. C. Emerson and E. Bosworth. The men who have a record of five years and over in the department include Patrolmen Percival Moulton, Holmes, Fletcher, and W. G. Bosworth. The officers wear a gold stripe and the patrolmen a cadet blue stripe, similar to those worn by members of the Boston police department.

—The 100th anniversary of the inauguration of Gen. Washington as president of the United States was observed with appropriate exercises in the English and Classical school Tuesday evening. The program was an unusually interesting one, the selections being largely taken from the history of the country for the celebration of Illinois by Mr. Richard Edwards, superintendent of public instruction in that state and the former principal of the Salem Normal school. The following gives the order of exercises: Devotional exercises and brief remarks by the principal, Mr. N. T. Allen; address, "The Events of this Day One Hundred Years Ago," by Mr. James T. Allen; declamation, "Love of Country," written by Sir Walter Scott, William R. Knight of Hyannis; Washington's first speech in Congress, Harry Ward of Newton Centre; violin solo with piano accompaniment, Nathan P. Cutler of Newton and Robert Walker of Kansas City; "The Stars in our Country's Sky," by Lydia Huntley Sigourney, Miss Annie B. Holway of Sandwich; "The Federal Constitution," (Benjamin Franklin), Percy Booth, Joseph Rodman Drake, Milton Brown, Fort Worth, Texas; piano solo with flute obbligato, Robert Walker and Lyman Bowker of Waltham; "The Glory of Washington," (Lord Brougham), Carl Hayes of West Newton; "Washington," (Byron), Miss Malabel Seaverns of Weston; "The Star Spangled Banner," (Key), Niel Christensen.

—The parish party of the Church of the Messiah given last evening, (May 2), at the residence of Hon. J. Willard Allen, was a notable social event. Mr. and Mrs. Rice and their daughter, Mrs. White, welcomed their guests at half past seven. The program was a very successful one, the strains of a brilliant march played by Mrs. White, to the spacious dining hall where supper was served by the women's guild, and the gentlemen, after the discussion of the choice viands, the company returned to the drawing rooms, where a musical entertainment was given by the members of the Dorcas Club and their friends.

—The program being arranged by Mrs. White, the opening number was a fine concert solo by Master Harry Vinal of Wellesey with piano accompaniment by Miss Minnie Jones; an encore "Marching through Georgia," highly applauded. Mr. Fuller of Boston sang "O, Happy Day, O, Day so dear," very acceptably, although the richness of his voice was more apparent in his line rendering of "Marguerite." Mrs. Turner gave some fine piano solos; Master Joseph Chase of West Newton, a brilliant Fantasia of several airs, of "The Barber of Seville," with excellent expression, the piano accompaniment by Miss Caroline L. Phillips. Miss Phillips also accompanied Mr. William L. Rice of West Newton, who sang "The Violet Leaves," and in response to an enthusiastic recall gave "My Heart's Home." Mr. George W. Shepard, Miss Mary Noble and Madeline Ruth Courvoisier sang solos, Miss Noble's sweet soprano being heard to good advantage in "Dear Angel sleep thou well." A very entertaining variation from the musical program was a recitation by Miss Adelle V. Wells, "Huldah's Lover." Miss Wells was dressed in appropriate costume of some very remote date, and personated the coy and aged maiden with great grace. Upon recall Miss Wells recited "You'd scarce expect one of my Age." A social dance and conversation followed, and the guests were most cordially and thanks of the guests are due to Mrs. White and the other members of the Dorcas Club.

—A temperance meeting was held on Sunday afternoon. Miss Inez Sanford, a graduate of the school, has been at Lasell during the holidays.

—Mrs. Tilton, wife of Rev. Mr. Tilton of Waltham, was formerly Miss Cora Shafford, a pupil of Lasell.

—Miss Luella Clark, a teacher and writer of some fame in former years, has been a recent guest of Prof. Bragdon.

—A large body of teachers and pupils attended the funeral of Judge Park, at Newton, Friday afternoon, April 26th.

—Three old pupils have been at the school during the week, the Misses Bertha Gray, Cora Daves and Nellie Osgood. Mr. Miller from Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. Thresher, parents of Miss Helen, have been here also.

—On Friday evening Mr. E. B. Homer, lecturer on Architecture at the Mass. Institute of Technology, Boston, began a course of lectures upon architecture, illustrated by the stereopticon. The first lecture treated of Egyptian art.

—The Easter holiday at the school ended Wednesday, the 24th, and the pupils who had been at their homes or elsewhere enjoying the vacation, returned to their places, and the school reopened Thursday morning, April 25. The pupils who remained at the school declared that they also had enjoyed much in little trips to the city and pleasures of various sorts.

—Sunday morning, April 28, the hour usually given to Bible lessons, for some months conducted by Rev. B. K. Pierce, was devoted to memorial services for him and Judge C. Park, who was a warm friend of the school and frequently lectured before it. Besides general exercises of Scripture reading, music and prayer, Miss Edith Gale of Newton Highlands gave "Reminiscences of Dr. Pierce," and Miss May Packard of South Boston spoke of him as connected with the school. Miss Carrie B. Whitwell, considered "Judge Park as a citizen," Miss Flora Gardner of Chicago read a poem written by him, and Miss Leah Coats of Texas spoke of him as "our friend at Lasell." The Ampleton quartet rendered efficient aid in singing. They gave the chorus also of a solo by Miss Hollingsworth.

—School exercises were mainly omitted on Tuesday, April 30, and the school in a body attended the morning union services at the Central Congregationalist church. At 3.15 in the afternoon the pupils held a commemorative service of their own in the chapel, which was adorned for the occasion with flags and pictures of Washington in various historical scenes. Miss West of Whitwellville, Mass., Miss Gilbert of Chicago and Miss Roberts of Decatur, Ill., furnished the literary entertainment. The quartet of the school directed by Prof. Day sang, "Was he Geo. Washington?" and "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," also "The Star Spangled Banner," and "America," the school joining in. As soon as these exercises closed, a brass band concealed in the Crown's Nest, burst into music, and the young women tripped through the Virginia Reel and other dances on the lawn.

—The party that visited Washington, under the conduct of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd, returned on the 24th highly elated with the success and enjoyment of the trip. They had chafed long weather from first to last, no delays and no accidents or disagreeable incidents of any kind. At Mrs. Hart's they gave them a special reception in the library of the White House, and then they visited the whole of that building. This was through the courtesy of Secretary Halford and Capt. Lumsden. They visited the Vernon, rode to the Soldiers' Home and saw the opening of the Supreme Court in all its majesty; they saw, in fact, all that it was possible to see in the time, and the delightful rides everywhere or special cars put at their disposal. One very charming evening was afforded by Capt. J. J. Brooks, for 20 years chief of the secret service department. His experiences were full of thrilling adventure, which was of interest not to be forgotten. The secretary of war, Judge Proctor of Vermont, gave the party a reception which left a very pleasant impression, because Mr. Proctor was very agreeable and put himself to some effort to make the girls happy.

—Dr. and Mrs. Barnum, their daughter and son, who were in the city, are to return to Turkey the last of August. The other son is to remain at the Missionary home.

—Mr. Fred Harvey, while riding down Central street Thursday morning, was thrown from his bicycle in trying to avoid a dog, and severely injured. Dr. Bellows, who attended him, found him delirious, and one wrist fractured. Serious internal injuries are feared.

—A few nights since, one of our citizens was awakened by a noise which he attributed to his bedside to warn him of danger. A window had been forced open, and but for the dog, the usual losses would have been undergone. If we only had a few police dogs, sagacious and alert as that noble canine!

—The entertainment at Auburn hall last Saturday evening was a very successful one. The drama "Above the Clouds" was presented in excellent style, and it was followed by the laughable farce of "A Most Terrible Disappearance." The Newtonville orchestra furnished music. The parts were well taken and the audience manifested their approval in an enthusiastic manner.

—A large congregation attended the union service at the Congregational church on Tuesday morning. Rev. Mr. Metcalf referred to the democratic way in which President Harrison had been inaugurated. Paul's church on foot, after his inauguration. The same service was being held in the same old church, and Washington's own prayer book would be put into the hands of President Harrison to-day. The prayers were read and a psalm and the Apostles' Creed was said. The choir sang Keller's American Hymn and the Star-Spangled Banner. Devotional exercises and brief remarks by the principal, Mr. N. T. Allen; address, "The Events of this Day One Hundred Years Ago," by Mr. James T. Allen; declamation, "Love of Country," written by Sir Walter Scott, William R. Knight of Hyannis; Washington's first speech in Congress, Harry Ward of Newton Centre; violin solo with piano accompaniment, Nathan P. Cutler of Newton and Robert Walker of Kansas City; "The Stars in our Country's Sky," by Lydia Huntley Sigourney, Miss Annie B. Holway of Sandwich; "The Federal Constitution," (Benjamin Franklin), Percy Booth, Joseph Rodman Drake, Milton Brown, Fort Worth, Texas; piano solo with flute obbligato, Robert Walker and Lyman Bowker of Waltham; "The Glory of Washington," (Lord Brougham), Carl Hayes of West Newton; "Washington," (Byron), Miss Malabel Seaverns of Weston; "The Star Spangled Banner," (Key), Niel Christensen.

—The parish party of the Church of the Messiah given last evening, (May 2), at the residence of Hon. J. Willard Allen, was a notable social event. Mr. and Mrs. Rice and their daughter, Mrs. White, welcomed their guests at half past seven. The program was a very successful one, the strains of a brilliant march played by Mrs. White, to the spacious dining hall where supper was served by the women's guild, and the gentlemen, after the discussion of the choice viands, the company returned to the drawing rooms, where a musical entertainment was given by the members of the Dorcas Club and their friends.

—The program being arranged by Mrs. White, the opening number was a fine concert solo by Master Harry Vinal of Wellesey with piano accompaniment by Miss Minnie Jones; an encore "Marching through Georgia," highly applauded. Mr. Fuller of Boston sang "O, Happy Day, O, Day so dear," very acceptably, although the richness of his voice was more apparent in his line rendering of "Marguerite." Mrs. Turner gave some fine piano solos; Master Joseph Chase of West Newton, a brilliant Fantasia of several airs, of "The Barber of Seville," with excellent expression, the piano accompaniment by Miss Caroline L. Phillips. Miss Phillips also accompanied Mr. William L. Rice of West Newton, who sang "The Violet Leaves," and in response to an enthusiastic recall gave "My Heart's Home." Mr. George W. Shepard, Miss Mary Noble and Madeline Ruth Courvoisier sang solos, Miss Noble's sweet soprano being heard to good advantage in "Dear Angel sleep thou well." A very entertaining variation from the musical program was a recitation by Miss Adelle V. Wells, "Huldah's Lover." Miss Wells was dressed in appropriate costume of some very remote date, and personated the coy and aged maiden with great grace. Upon recall Miss Wells recited "You'd scarce expect one of my Age." A social dance and conversation followed, and the guests were most cordially and thanks of the guests are due to Mrs. White and the other members of the Dorcas Club.

W. H. FRENCH & CO., PRACTICAL PLUMBERS, GAS FITTERS, —AND— Sanitary - Engineers.

Washington Street, Newtonville.
(Near Newtonville Square.)

Desire to call the attention of the residents of Ward Two to the following facts, viz: Having had over thirty years of practical experience in this line of business, and keeping ourselves thoroughly posted in all the latest sanitary improvements, we feel confident that we can give our customers stock and work which will give entire satisfaction in every respect. As to quality of work, we can refer you to a large number of gentlemen, in this city and Boston, for whom we have done work for the past thirty years. We are bound to suit our customers in the best quality of stock and work, and make our price according to and to the entire satisfaction of all. Our office is connected with telephone. Please remember the location. 29cm

NEWTON.

FOR SALE OR TO LET, FURNISHED.

On the Southwestern Slope of Mount Ida,

A very desirable house, built by the owner for his own use, has 12 rooms, besides laundry and bathroom; city water and gas; stable accommodation if desired, and such land as is required; the house is on high dry land, and commands a most extensive view to the south and west. Further particulars can be obtained and plans sent by applying to ROBERT W. LORD, 16 Federal street, Boston, Room 15, 304

Deerfoot Farm CREAM.

C. O. Tucker & Co., AGENTS,

—DEALERS IN—

Fine Groceries, Opposite Depot, Newton.

FOR SALE

—IN—

NEWTONVILLE.

Three New Houses.

To be completed this month, all thoroughly built, with modern improvements, and grounds to be graded and put in first-class shape.

These houses are located on Court street, near the railroad station, and along the route of the Newton Street Railway. One house contains nine rooms; the other two have eight, besides both rooms.

They can be inspected at any time and those desiring a pleasant home or to make a sure paying investment, should see them at once.

For terms, etc., apply to

A. R. MITCHELL,

37 Broad Street, Boston.

Or at residence, Newtonville.

MILLINERY.

Ladies are invited to examine the largest and most complete stock of Choice Millinery ever exhibited in Boston, at

Henry M. Burr & Co.'s

490 Washington Street.

BOSTON.

Completing our attractions in Austrian

China, French China, Royal Worcester,

Boottes Tournay, and other stock decorated patterns designed for us and imported solely by us.

Stock patterns are readily matched, an advantage appreciated by good housekeepers.

We have also new designs in American

Decorated Dinner Sets.

The new designs in China Bedroom Sets with colors adapted to modern draperies, wall papers and carpets.

All grades, from the low cost to the finest specimens.

INSPECTION INVITED.

Jones, McDuffee & Stratton,

(SEVEN FLOORS.)

120 FRANKLIN ST. 30

GEO. H. TALBOT, M. D.

306 Walnut Street.

NEWTONVILLE.

Office Hours: Until 9 A. M., 3 to 5 P. M.

Refers to Dr. H. C. Ahlborn, 228 Marlboro St.

Boston.

3022

Sealer of Weights and Measures.

OFFICE OF SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES. CITY HALL, MAY 2, 1889.

NOTICE is hereby given, in accordance with the provisions of the Public Statutes, to all persons within the limits of the City of Newton, using weights and measures for the purpose of buying and selling, to bring in the same to the subscriber at the City Hall, that they may be adjusted and sealed according to law.

J. D. WELLINGTON, Sealer of Weights and Measures.

MINER ROBINSON, ELECTRICIAN,

209 Washington St., Boston. Residence, West Newton

Private Residences fitted for the

Incandescent LIGHT.

Licensed by the New England Electric

Exchange to do Electric Light and Power wiring of every description, also to install and operate Electric Motors,

Storage Batteries, etc. Estimates Furnished. 17

A. L. JEWELL,

Real Estate and Mortgages

ROGER'S BUILDING,

209 Washington St., Boston. 1117

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

BARBOUR & HATCH, Insurance Agents,

FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT.

Represent the Worcester, Traders & Mechanics,

Quincy, Dorchester, Merchants & Farmers, Cam-

SAFES
ALWAYS PRESERVE THEIR CONTENTS.
Read from the Great Marblehead, Mass. fire.
Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 23, 1888.
Messrs. E. C. MORRIS, & Co.,
Boston, Mass.

This is to certify that I have been using a No. 6 E. C. Morris & Co.'s safe in my store, and that it has been subjected to fire and has ever known on the night of the 25th inst. the safe was subjected to very intense heat for 36 hours, and upon its being opened, to my surprise, I found it to be in perfect order, with the exception of the leather on one book which was against the wall of the safe, while the writing on the papers was as clear and legible as when it was put in. I also found Machinery, Sewing Machine, Papers, etc., in good, clear condition. In case I rebuild I shall feel that I can do no better than to have a safe as clear and legible as this one. In our fire of 1887 I had a safe of another make, the contents of which came out in very good order, and I have since used one, although that fire was not as bad as this one.

You are liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit, and should take pleasure in showing the folks, etc., to any one who would like to see them.

RESPECTFULLY,
[Sgn.] HENRY C. O. STYMONS

I, J. P. Dec. 28, 1891, this day purchased and used of same size, having been satisfied with the other.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2, 1889.
 Messrs. E. C. Morris, & Co.,
 Boston, Mass.
 Gentleman,
 On Aug. 9th, 1887, we had one of your large make of safes in our Wolfboro, N. H. factory, which went through a very hot fire and stood the test. A. A. L. and Co. D. 95, 1888

Maribhead conflagration another of our make stood the test and all its contents found in good condition, even a gross of matches.
 Under the circumstances we can safely recommend your make to all.
 Yours truly,
 (Sgn.) F. W. & I. M. Monroe.
 Maribhead, Mass., Dec. 28, 1889.
 Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & Co.,
 Boston, Mass.
 Gentlemen,
 On opening our safe which we purchased from you some two years ago, we found everything in perfect condition. The situation of our safe caused it to be exposed to intense heat for a number of hours.
 As soon as we are ready to purchase we will call and select another of your make.
 Yours very truly,
 J. M. Cropley & Bros.

[illegible]

CHICAGO ST. PAUL MINN. ROUË.

GRAND ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

(C. R. I. & P. and C. K. & N. R'y's.)

West, Northwest and Southwest. It includes
CHICAGO, JOLIET, ROCK ISLAND, LAWRENCE, PORT DES MONTEUX, COUNCIL BLUFFS, WA-TERTOWN, SIOUX FALLS, MINNEAPOLIS,
 ST. PAUL, ST. JOSEPH, ATCHISON, LEAVEN-
 WORTH, KANSAS CITY, TOPEKA, COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER, PUEBLO, and hundreds of prosperous cities and towns—traversing vast areas of the richest farming lands in the west.

SOLID VESTIBULE EXPRESS TRAINS

Leaving 11:00 a.m. daily.

[illegible]

TWENTY-FIVE CENTS
 sumpson is also the best Cough Medicine.
 If you have a Cough without disease of the Lungs, a few doses are all you need. But if you neglect this easy means of safety, the slight Cough may become a serious matter, and several bottles will be required.
 CONSUMPTION
 CENTY-FIVE CENTS

ough, Group and Common Colds.
Recommended by Physicians and sold by Drug gists throughout the world. Send for Free Sample.
HIMROD MANUF'G CO.,
SOLE PROPRIETORS,
191 FULTON ST., NEW YORK.

AN OLD YOUNG MAN.

A Centenarian who is as Young as a Boy—The Secret of his Vigor Explained.

Colonel Nathaniel Warren, residing on Beacon Street, Boston, is 97 years old, and apparently in perfect health and vigor. He has a clear memory of the early times of the commonwealth, when the states were struggling for existence. He was a soldier in the war of 1812, in which he was severely wounded, and he takes as active an interest in political and public affairs to-day as ever in his life before. The writer had an interesting conversation with him the other day, in the course of which the following facts were brought out:

"Do you not feel your age weighing heavily upon you, Colonel?" asked the writer.

"Not in the least, I feel almost as young as I did at 20, although, of course, I am not so active."

"Have you always been active and healthy?"

"No, indeed; when I was in middle life I was almost a physical wreck. I was thin, pale, weak, and I labored about on a sick."

"That seems remarkable. How did you secure your present vigor?"

"My old friend Colonel Hunt, who we all thought was going to die, cured me."

"How?"

"It seems he secured a preparation in New York, which was then a farm, but which is now the seat of New York City. He cured himself, and through his advice I tried the same means and was restored to perfect health. The doctor, Colonel Hunt afterwards put it up for the use of the public, and it is the most powerful medicine to-day, being nothing less than the celebrated Hunt's Remedy."

"Do you still take it, Colonel?"

"Yes, I use it quite regularly. If I have the slightest symptoms of cold or an ever out of sorts in any way, I take a dose, and in a few hours I feel all right again. I am satisfied there are thousands of aged men and women who are suffering from the while, but who might be in just the same good health and spirits as I am, for they certainly have better conditions than I have. I have lived to be 97."

"The facts above stated are given just as they occurred, and they furnish a very good suggestion to all people of advanced years, who may be suffering, but who have the means of health within their reach."

DOES WHAT YOU EAT HURT YOU?

If what you eat hurts you, or if you are troubled with Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Headache, Low Spirits, Kidney Complaints, Etc., etc., etc.

Try a Bottle of

DR. HAM'S Aromatic Invigorator!

It has stood the tests of the public for over a quarter of a century, and thousands have testified to its value. Send for circular and testimonials. For sale at all Druggists at 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

HEATH & MURRAY,
General Agents for New England, 277 Washington Street, Boston.

TO THE PUBLIC!

I would respectfully call the attention of my friends and the public to the following letter from the E. Howard Watch and Clock Co., and they are confident that they will find it to the advantage of their watches their business has been transferred to me.

Having relinquished the retail portion of our business, The E. Howard Watch and Clock Co. take pleasure in endorsing Mr. Lockwood as a most competent and reliable agent, and a worthy man and entitled to the confidence heretofore bestowed upon him by our customers and the public.

The E. Howard Watch and Clock Co.

By Samuel Little, President.

I have in stock a full assortment of Howard and other watch movements and cases, also solid gold and seamless filled chains, watch charms, etc., all of which I am selling very low. A large and carefully selected stock of French clocks which will be offered at moderate prices. Sole agent for the new watch miniatures; samples cheerfully shown. All watches and clock repairs under my personal supervision and strictly first-class.

H. N. LOCKWOOD,
27 Bromfield Street, Boston, 29 St.

OMNIPATHY

Dr. C. A. GREENE

Has for 41 years been curing all the (so-called) incurable diseases of the body, such as

Diabetes, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles and all the multitudinous afflictions of men and women.

By applications of non-poisonous remedies on the outside of the body (on the skin).

He wishes to erect a college to teach his system and to dispose of his properties to raise the money. Will philanthropist aid him? He has an equipped granite quarry near Haverhill, Pa., 40 acres of land adjoining Haverhill, Pa., and 75 acres of land adjoining Harrisburg, Pa. Also for sale a lot of land in Scotland and other places in his stables at Arlington, Mass. Read his pamphlet of 44 pages containing most marvelous cures, sent to you free. Call and get it or send your name and it will be forwarded to you.

His consultations are FREE.

He treats the Eye, Ear, Lungs, Heart and all of the organs of the body. No drugs are put in the stomach. Investigate his statements.

Office,

No. 178 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

IN SKOWHEGAN, MAINE.

May be found the grandest humane invention of the nineteenth century. The compound Vapor Bath for disinfecting the diseased body, is working its way into the homes of the people as no other method has yet done. The fact of its simplicity and protective influence over the family, and in public practice its efficacy offers a grand reward for services. Agents with

DR. CONANT, Inventor.

CANCERS CURED

By the only (rational) mode of treatment which is SAFE and SURE and used by no other doctor. No knife, caustic or other harsh means are resorted to. Autograph letters of living witnesses can be examined and patients interviewed.

M. A. ANDREWS, M. D.

Hotel Wagon, 251 Columbus Ave., Boston, 26

DEAR NEBS CURED by Peck's Pat. Remedy. TUBERCULAR GLEET cured. Remedy where all remedies fail. Free address or call on PECK'S PAT. REMEDY, 95 Broadway, N. Y.

BONANZA TO AGENTS SAMPLES FREE. Geo. A. Scott, New York City

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST, Sold by Druggists.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

HARPER'S MONTHLY

In the May Harper's M. de Blowitz describes how he secured what Bismarck had refused him—an advance copy of the Berlin Treaty for the London Times on the day that the document was signed and before it appeared in any other European journal. The same Number of the Magazine presents the first paper on "Social Life in Russia" by one of the Forty Immortals, the Vicomte Eugene Melchior de Vogue. T. de Thulstrup, who visited Russia last year for the express purpose, furnishes numerous illustrations. Dr. Chas. C. Abbott tells of the Egyptian lotus in "A Meadow Mud-hole." Three writers report outlooks in different directions—Franklin Satterthwaite in "The Western Outlook for Sportsmen," Brander Matthews in "The Dramatic Outlook in America," James K. Reeve in "Agriculture as a Profession," which shows what a nation of good farmers might accomplish in the United States with applied science and exact methods. Amelie Rives, Dr. T. W. Parsons, Wm. Winter, and the old English wit, Andrew Marvell, are the poets of the Number. The poem by the last named is illustrated by Alfred Parsons. Richard Malcolm Johnston contributes a Georgia novelette, "Orechee Crossfingers," with drawings by A. B. Frost. Installments of "Jupiter Lights," by Constance Fenimore Woolson, and "A Little Journey in the World," by Charles Dudley Warner, complete the fiction. Comments upon fiction are indulged in by Geo. Wm. Curtis and Wm. Dean Howells in their respective departments. Charles Dudley Warner, in the Editor's Drawer, points with humorous wit to the time when fashionable culture may be in extremis.

SCHIBNER'S.

Scribner's for May has many finely illustrated articles, and the text includes "The Land of the Winiashis," by Leroy Milton Yale and J. G. Aylwin Creighton; "The Greater World," by Rose Hawthorne Lathrop; "Count Leo Tolstoy Twenty Years Ago," by Eugene Schuyler, (to be concluded in the June number); Jeanne—VII.—XII. (Conclusion), by John Elliott Curran; "The Freight-car Service," by Theodore Voorhees; "Under the Leaves," by Wm. Herbert Carruth; "The Dilemma of Sir Guy the Neuter," by Octave Thanet; "A Lyric of the Dawn," by Charles Edwin Markham; "Photography," by John Trowbridge. Illustrations from negatives by the authors and others; "A Fragment from Plato," by Kate Stephens; "Fiction as a Literary Form," by Hamilton Wright Mabie; "The Master of Ballantrae," by Robert Louis Stevenson, (begun in November to be continued); "Not Strand but Sea," by M. P. James T. Fields; "The Lack of Old Homes in America," by Charles Eliot Norton.

The Wide Awake.

The May Wide Awake has two contributions that make this issue of special interest. One is a long and thrilling tale by Jessie Benton Fremont, of a personal California adventure in the wild mining days of 1840. As a foil to this dramatic narrative is "The Household of Andrew Jackson" (Children of the White House Series). It is enriched with twenty illustrations. Every one who enjoys a good anecdote, well told turns first each month to the new department, "Men and Things." Trowbridge's popular serial, "The Adventures of David Vane and David Crane," reaches its last and best chapter. A new serial, "Sylvia Fair's Fairness," by Charles Talbot, author of "Romulus and Remus," "Royal Lewis," "Honor Bright," etc., will open with the new volume in June. "Five Little Peppers Midway," Margaret Sidney's charming serial, comes to a pause in this number. But "Five Little Peppers Further On" will delight all readers through the second half of the year. Many other articles, stories, and poems fill the number. D. Lothrop Company, Boston, publishers.

The Atlantic.

A new Serial Story, by Edwin Lasseter Byrner, opens the Atlantic Monthly for May. It is called "The Begum's Daughter," the scene of the novel is laid in old New York about 1880, and some of the familiar Knickerbocker names appear in it. This is followed by a paper on "Temperance Legislation, its Uses and Limits," by Charles Worcester Clark. Mr. Fiske contributes one of his valuable historical papers on "Brandywine, Germantown, and Saratoga." Mr. W. H. Bishop writes a graphic sketch of "The Paris Exposition in Dishabille." He also describes the Eiffel Tower, the great landmark of the Exhibition. An amusing article on "The Philosophy and Poetry of Tears" is contributed by J. T. L. Preston; Mr. Frank Gaylord Cook writes about "The Lawyer in National Politics," and reminiscences of famous "Trotting Horses" are given by H. C. Merwin. Josiah Royce contributes the first of two papers on "Reflections after a Wandering Life in Australasia," another paper of a lighter kind, also having to do with travel, is "At Seseheim," by Bliss Perry; Seseheim is the place not far from Strasburg where Goethe wooed, won, and ran away from Frederike. The short story of the number is contributed by Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, and is called "The Bell of St. Basil's"—a pathetic episode in the history of a deserted Southern college; while Mr. James continues his novel "The Tragic Muse" with his usual art.

Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont has a stirring story of early California life in the May Wide Awake, full of romance and adventure.—D. Lothrop Co., Boston.

The May Forum will contain an article by Mr. E. L. Godkin, editor of the New York Evening Post, on "The Republican Party and the Negro," in which he points out the impracticability of any special "Southern policy," and reaches the conclusion that the Southern States are doing more to elevate the negro, and consequently "to make the corruption and intimidation of voters difficult or impossible" than the Northern States.

The Centennial number of Harper's Weekly, clad in a special cover designed by E. H. Blashfield, was issued on Monday, April 29th, instead of on Wednesday, the regular publication day of this periodical. It contains an engraving of Charles Wilson Peale's portrait of Washington, which was painted after the battle of Yorktown; a drawing by T. de Thulstrup, giving an idea of New York life a hundred years ago, and an eight-page supplement, comprising historical portraits, drawings from old prints, sketches, and a paper entitled "The Inauguration of Our Government," by Paul Leicester Ford.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

A committee composed of Mrs. Daniel C. White, Mrs. George Sherman, Miss Flora Sherman, Miss Mrs. Hester Witterson, James Wilde, and Walter Merrill, arranged for a fair which was held in the new I. O. O. F. hall, last week, Monday and Tuesday evening. The purpose of the fair was to raise money to obtain a charter for the Rebekahs of Home Lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 102 and the amount raised, nearly $200, proves it the success it certainly merited. The list of prizes and winners is as follows: Doll, presented by Mrs. Wilde of Newton Upper Falls to Mr. Estelle of Newton Upper Falls, cake, presented by Miss Mary L. Anderson of Newton Centre, to Mr. Ragg of Needham; outline quilt, to Mrs. Ross of Newton Centre; crazy quilt, to Mr. Gates of Newton Upper Falls; chair, 1st prize, present by B. A. Atkinson & Co., Boston, to L. D. Scott of Newton Centre; 2d prize cup and saucer, presented by Mr. Wells of Newton Upper Falls, to Mr. T. G. Woodman of Newton Centre; sofa pillows, given by Mrs. D. W. White of Newton Highlands, 1st prize to Miss Annie Wilde, Newton Upper Falls; 2d prize to Miss Flora Sherman, Newton Centre; Lieut. D. C. Scott carried off 1st prize at the shooting gallery; and the Household sewing machine on exhibition at the fair was purchased by Mr. D. W. White. Music for the two evenings was furnished by Miss Hattie Sturtevant, and Mr. J. H. Hall; readings, Monday evening by Mrs. Eben C. Clark and son, and Miss Jennie Parsons; banjo playing, Tuesday evening, by Mr. Scott. Supper was served both evenings, and being under the careful management of Mrs. D. W. White, could not fall of being a complete success.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

List of New Books.

Adams, W. H. D. Good Queen Anne; or Men or Manners. Life and Letters in England's Augustan Age. 2 vols. 74.213

Alcott, L. M. A Modern Mephistopheles; and a Whisper in the Dark. 61.692

Alden, J. Studies in Bryant; a Text Book with an Introduction by W. C. Bryant. 51.442

Barr, A. B. The Last of the MacAlisters. 63.714

Beaumont, R. Woollen and Worsted Cloth Manufacture; being a Practical Treatise for the Use of All persons employed in the Manipulation of Textile Fabrics. 101.326

Bottone, S. R. Electric Belts and all about them; a Practical Book for Practical Men. 101.325

Burnett, F. H. The Pretty Sister of Jose. 65.646

Ducoudray, G. The History of Ancient Civilization, a Handbook based upon Ducoudray's "Histoire Sommaire de la Civilisation," ed. by Verriore. 73.208

The editor thinks that the civilizations of Greece and Rome are more fully understood in the more famous and developed of mankind when viewed side by side with the earlier civilizations of the East. This handbook is intended to facilitate such comprehensive view.

Edgar, J. G. The Crusades and the Crusaders; Great Men and Gallant Deeds. 71.263

Gilliat, E. John Standish; or the Harrowing of London. 65.607

Hazlitt, W. Gleanings in Old Garret. 62.412

Selections from many old works on gardening, with a bibliography of gardening literature, 1658-1850.

Klein, H. J. Star Atlas, containing Maps of Stars, Nebulae and Star Clusters, with Explanatory Text; translated and adapted by E. McClure. 107.117

Lofie, W. J. Kensington, Picturesque and Historical Ref. The history of this suburban parish from the earliest appearance of its name to the present day, with numerous illustrations, some in colors.

Magnus, K. Lady. Jewish Portraits. 91.545

Contents. Jehudah Halevi. Story of a Street. H. Heine. Daniel Deronda and his Jewish Critics. Mannassah Ben Israel. Charity in Talmudic Times. Moses Mendelssohn. Meriwether, L. The Trump at Home. Some of the incidents that befell the author in his intercourse with the working classes of America; also some statistics as to wages, living, etc.

Plumtree, C. E. Natural Cosmology. Contents. Doctrine of Design, from the Standpoint of Evolution. Philosophical Necessity, a Defence. Natural Growth in Civilization.

Preyer, W. The Mind of the Child. Part II. Vol. 2 of Vol. I was devoted to the development of the senses and of the will; this volume treats of the development of the intellect.

Ritchie, D. G. Darwinism and Politics. 83.153

Sweetser, M. F. King's Handbook of Newton. 34.311

The book opens with two or three chapters of a general nature about the town and city, and continues with chapters describing each village or neighborhood.

Thornton, P. M. Foreign Secretaries of the XIX. Century. 3 vols. 95.409

Biographical notices of England's public men and the foreign policy, from Lord Grenville to Lord Beaconsfield, 1880. E. P. THURSTON, Librarian. May 1, 1889.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Salt, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Belleville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 30 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Blood. Only a half dollar a bottle at Arthur Hudson's druggstore.

Softy—Weally, Miss Travis, I wish you would tell me which is the moah becoming to me style of beauty, a stiff or a soft hat? Miss Travis—Since you ask me, Mr. Softy, I must say that I think a soft hat is the proper thing for you.—Burlington Free Press.

Don't Give Up
because you feel blue and are troubled with that tired and all-gone feeling. Do as I did, use a bottle of Sulphur Bitters, it will make you feel like a new man. It did me. Jennie Holmes, 354 Tremont street, Boston.

All persons having a Cough or any Pulmonary disease may be relieved by Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. 50 cents per bottle at all Druggists.

C. E. OSGOOD & CO.,

CASH House Furnishers

Old Continental Clothing House BUILDING
748 to 756 Washington St., BOSTON.

The only first-class house in the City that buys and sells

FOR CASH ONLY

No concern in the world can undersell us.

Every special bargain advertised by our competitors, "For One Day only" we agree to duplicate

At Any Time.

Be Wise and buy for CASH

and save at least 25 % from any instalment house prices in America.

P. S.—Any customer presenting this advertisement at our office will receive a beautiful rug free.

Don't forget the place.

748 to 756 Washington Street, BOSTON.

HIRES

25¢ HIRES' IMPROVED 25¢
ROOT BEER!
IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS
MAKES FIVE GALLONS
DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

ROOT BEER

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.
Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

$4.99 HAND SEWED.
$3.99 FRENCH WELT.
SOLD ONLY TO THE CONSUMER

OUR CELEBRATED

Crawford Shoes

Can be obtained only at our following

Crawford Shoe Stores

No. 611 Washington Street, Boston.

Under United States Hotel, "

No. 38 Park Square, "

No. 45 Green Street, "

No. 2164 Washington St., Roxbury.

No. 56 Main Street, Charlestown.

Also in

Providence, Hartford,

New Haven, New York,

Brooklyn, Philadelphia,

Baltimore & Washington, D.C.

BOUYE, CRAWFORD & CO.,

Makers of

The Crawford Shoe.

Get Your Lunch at

Fred M. Phillips'

DINING ROOMS,

16 North Market St.,

And 16 Clinton Street, Boston.

UNION INVESTMENT CO.

CAPITAL PAID UP $1,000,000.

KANSAS CITY, MO., (Incorporated.)

Offers 6 Per Cent. Debenture Bonds—its own obligation—secured by first liens on farms in Kansas, representing a value of two and one-half times the amount of Debentures, and held in trust by the American Loan and Trust Company, of Boston, Mass., for the protection of the holders of the Debentures. Interest payable semi-annually at the office of the American Loan and Trust Company in Boston, Mass.

Also 7 Per Cent. Guaranteed Farm Mortgage Bonds, representing not over 40 per cent. of the property; interest semi-annually, and remitted direct to the holder. Every loan is inspected by an agent of the company who is also a stockholder. Also, agents for the purchase and sale of Bonds, Stocks, Commercial Paper and Real Estate. Send for pamphlet descriptive of the securities we offer.

Eastern Office, Room A, 31 State Street Boston. W. M. RICKS, Manager.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,
LEADERS IN HOUSE FURNISHINGS.

It is acknowledged by all that we are the LEADERS in House Furnishing Goods in this country. After years of untiring zeal, and almost superhuman efforts, we have succeeded in building up a business which, in point of magnitude and satisfaction to our customers, is second to none on the continent; and with the good will of the public we shall continue to present such extra inducements as shall characterize us.

"FIRST IN SIZE, FIRST IN STYLES, AND FIRST IN THE HEARTS OF THE PURCHASING PUBLIC."

WHY? HOW?

We have been FIRST to establish a platform of Popular prices. FIRST to adopt a "Free Delivery" plan. FIRST to facilitate comparison by paying Rail-road fares, and FIRST to present proofs of our ability to accomplish all that we advertise.

WHEN OTHER stores fail to keep what you want, you are sure to meet with no disappointment here.

For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with us, we will say that every department in our store is replete with the CHOICEST SELECTION of goods to be found in America.

PARLOR SETS. RANGES.

Over 200 different designs, covering half an acre of floor room, and embracing everything, from the cheapest to the most expensive.

NO LACK OF STYLES, NO LACK OF PRICES, NO LACK OF LIGHT

OUR WAREHOUSES.

Mark the gradual variety of the prices: $40, $45, $50, $55, $60, $65, $70, $75, $80, $85, $90, $95, $100, and so on up to $450. We have the goods to show for every price quoted.

CHAMBER SETS.

The same amount of space devoted to 250 styles all set up complete, and the same easy grading from the lowest to the best. Prices: $18, $20, $25, $27.50, $30, $35, $38, $40, $45, $50, $55, $60, $65, $70, $75, $80, $85, $90, $95, $100, $110, $125, $150, and up to $600.

Plenty of Light, Plenty of Variety. All the Different Woods Manufactured.

CARPETS.

The same unrivalled assortment; the same liberality in selections; the same unequalled facilities to pick out just what you want, and at just the price you figured on. Ingrains, Cotton, 25c. to 45c. Cotton and wool, 40c. to 60c. All wool, 50c. to 80c. Tapestry, 50c. to $1.00. Body Brussels, 50c. to $1.50. Velvets, $1.10 to $1.50. Moquette, $1.25 to $2.00.

No stingy qualities in this Department.

SEND FOR OUR CATALOGUE AND PRICES, OUR CARDS.

ARGENT STOCK, FINEST WAREHOUSES, LOWEST PRICES, IDEAL TENDS.

Free car fare to Boston. Free car fare to Boston and return.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,

Liberal House Furnishers,

827-Washington St., One Block South of Hollis Street, BOSTON, MASS.

Corner Common Street,

Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Botanical Medical Institute

75 Court St. (Scollay Sq.), Boston, Mass.

INDIAN BOTANICAL REMEDIES

Roots, Herbs, Gums and Barks chiefly used. Dr. Solomon treats all CHRONIC DISEASES, makes a specialty of LUNG TROUBLES, CANCERS, TUMORS, EPILEPTIC FITS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, ST. VITUS DANCE, SPINAL COMPLAINTS, HEMORRHOIDS OF LUNGS, ECTECIA and all SKIN DISEASES, KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD. PILLS and PASTILS cured without the use of the knife and cure guaranteed. Consultation free.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the

NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turb. Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work, all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.

Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; bottle for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factor and Residence, Clinton Street.

DR. JAMES M. SOLOMON, JR.'S

GREAT INDIAN WINE BITTERS!

Greatest Kidney and Liver Cure and Blood Purifier Known to Man.

The greatest Liver and Kidney Cure known to man, is recommended to dyspeptics and sufferers from Indigestion; to victims of Kidney and Liver Complaints; to all who have impure blood or Scrofula; to the bilious and constipated; to those who have poor appetites; to nervous and debilitated persons; and all who find that a strong and healthy body is the beginning of the best results. Successfully used for Torpid Liver and Bilious Diseases, indicated by loss of appetite, sick headache, drowsiness and constipation. Dyspepsia and Indigestion, indicated by acidity, distress after eating, gnawing pain in the stomach, burning and choking sensations, vomiting, bad breath, coated tongue, costiveness, distressing dreams, melancholy and dread of society. Diseases of the Blood, indicated by wasting of strength, blanched complexion, cold extremities, eruptions, boils, carbuncles, salt rheum, erysipelas, scrofula and general debility.

WHY THEY ARE CALLED WINE BITTERS.

Because all Bitters are prepared with either Alcohol or Whiskey to prevent them from fermenting, where we have added the sufficient quantity of Grape Wine making them instead of a beverage a pure Herbal medicine.

WINE BITTERS.

Opinions, Extracts and Condensations from the Medical Profession.

I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. SALEM, MASS. JOSEPH TABER, M. D.

I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. BALTIMORE, MD. BALTIMORE, MD. I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. BALTIMORE, MD. BALTIM

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 31.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 10, 1889.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR

Fashionable Cloaks at Retail.

All the Latest Spring Styles.

Choicest designs and newest fabrics, at the elegant and spacious Retail Establishments of

SPRINGER Bros',

Importers, Wholesale and Retail Manufacturers of

LADIES' CLOAKS.

CHAUNCEY STREET, ESSEX STREET, HARRISON AVENUE. 500 WASHINGTON STREET.

CARRIAGE ENTRANCE TO RETAIL STORES. 50 Essex Street, Corner of Chauncey. BOSTON, 12 Bedford St., Cor. of Washington.

182 to 188 TREMONT ST., and 37 BOYLSTON, Masonic Temple. Boston, Spring, 1889.

H. M. GREENOUGH,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

Carpeting, Paper Hangings

Fine Furniture,

Draperies, Window Shades, Ranges and

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS in endless variety.

Special designs for Art Furniture and rich interior decoration furnished on application and careful estimates given when desired.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have been located here over three years and have no other Laundry in Newton. Those who wish to have any laundry work done, please remember the name and place. We will guarantee to give satisfaction and return all work at short notice.

Shirts, each, 10 cts.; collars, 2 cts.; cuffs, each, 2 cts. Also very lowest prices will be charged for all kinds of work. Please give a trial.

FIRST-CLASS CHINESE LAUNDRY,

French's Block, No. 330 Centre St., opp. Savings Bank, Newton.

FANK SHINN, Proprietor.

Thomas White

16 Essex Street, First Store from Washington Street, BOSTON.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS,

Low expenses enable us to sell strictly first-class Goods at very low prices. 23 yrs CALL AND SEE US.

BUTTER.

We have taken the agency for the celebrated Turner Centre Creamery formerly controlled by W. B. Beal,—put up in half pound prints. Delivered to customers day of arrival.

He who tries it, Buys it.

Gamaliel P. Atkins,

GROCER. 273 and 275 Washington Street, Newton. Telephone, No. 1304.

F. M. WHITE & CO.,

Stock Brokers, 16 & 18 Devonshire St., Boston. BUY AND SELL

STOCKS, GRAIN, OIL, On 1% Margin.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The First Exclusive Retail Bedding Store in New England.

BRASS BEDSTEADS!

Iron Bedsteads, Hair Mattresses, Live Geese Feathers, Imperial Spring Couches, Putnam Spring Beds and Cots.

—Specialties in—

Infants' and Invalids' Beds, Luxuriously Upholstered Springs, Sine Mattresses and Pillows, Down Quilts and Pillows.

—AND—

Fine bedding of every description

Our facilities for renovating and remaking are greatly improved, and we can give you better work than ever.

PUTNAM & CO.,

8 & 10 Beach Street, BOSTON. ESTABLISHED 1849. 293m

U. G. MCQUEEN,

Carpenter and Builder,

Washington St., near B. & A. R. R. Crossing, Orders received through P. O. Box 716. All orders promptly executed in a first-class style.

Cabinet Work of all kinds a Specialty.

TO DEPOSITORS

IN

Newton Savings Bank.

An Act Requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings, to call in their Books of Deposit, at Stated Intervals.

(Chapter 40 Acts of 1888.)

"During the year eighteen hundred eighty nine and every third year thereafter, Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors, for verification, in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."

In accordance with the above law, all depositors in Newton Savings Bank are requested to bring in their books of deposit, to the bank, at their earliest convenience, for verification. By vote of the Trustees of Newton Savings Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, Committee of Inspectors.

WILLARD M. GARDNER, Secretary.

JAMES E. C. HYDE, Treasurer.

NEWTON, May 7, 1889.

ROBERT MILLER & CO.

Manufacturers of

AWNINGS,

CANOPES, Horse Wagon Covers

AND FLAGS.

Tents for sale or to let.

230 STATE STREET BOSTON. 31H

Special Notice!

THE LONDON

FURNISHING

PALACE

Having occupied the store cor. Washington and Kneeland Streets for the last 15 years

Have Removed to

727, 729 & 731 Washington St.

Opposite Cobb, Aldrich & Co.

We now have a larger store and keep the largest stock of Gent's Furnishings in Boston.

Our stock consists of a complete line of

Gent's Dress Shirts, Flannel Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckwear, Hats and Caps, Overalls, Jumpers, Coats, Workmen's Hats, etc.

Large stock of VALISES, BAGS and TRUNKS.

The London Furnishing Palace, 727, 729 and 731 Washington St., BOSTON. 31-4

PURE, RICH, HEAVY CREAM

FROM

Worcester - County

CREAMERY,

60 Cents per Quart.

Good Quality Cream at 40 cents per Quart.

Families supplied by

J. PAXTON,

CONFECTIONER,

Eliot Block, - Newton.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.

RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,

Centre Street, opposite Vernon, Newton.

Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

LADIES'

Stock Exchange.

All our customers being on the long side for the last two weeks have made handsome profits, especially in Amherst, C. B. & Q. I. N. and M. The key was not a doubt, to make a big haul, inasmuch as the boxes that contained boots and shoes were piled up on the floor ready to take away. The intruders were probably interrupted from carrying out their intentions, being either frightened away or else unwilling to take the risk of detection in removing so large a quantity. Entrance was effected by removing a pane of glass from a door in the rear of the store. The key was then easily reached and the bolt slipped back.

BONNER, MANES & CO.,

43 Winter Street, Boston. Room 3. 171v

NEWTON.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whitman are spending the week at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, N. Y.

—Price reduced on Turner Centre Creamery Butter. Quality improved. Sold by G. P. Atkins.

—The Newton Co-operative bank sold $1200 at a premium of 10 cents, and $2400 at 5 cents, Tuesday evening.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook will preach at Whitman, Sunday evening, but will occupy his own pulpit Sunday morning.

—Mr. Rand's new houses on Maple court are approaching completion, and the foundation has been laid for a third house.

—A very pleasant beach cottage near Plymouth, is advertised to-day, on the 4th page. Address Mrs. Sheild, Newtonville.

—Mr. Edwin P. Seaver, and Rev. S. D. Smith of this city were elected members of the Boston Horticultural Society at its meeting last Saturday.

—Past Regent's Aston and Gregg attended the exemplification of the new ritual of the Royal Arcanum by Dorchester council, in Knights of Honor Hall, Boston, last evening.

—The Army & Navy Journal mentions the Clavin Guards as one of the excellent companies at the Centennial parade in New York. Praise from this journal means a good deal.

—Another meeting of the Sons of Veterans in this city was held at the residence of Dr. Frisbie, Monday evening, and it was decided to form a camp, which will start with a good list of members.

—Miss Laura Coffin made a very favorable impression at Channing church on Sunday, and will be a valuable member of the choir. The choir of the church of the quartet are not yet permanently engaged.

—Gardner Nichols, son of Mr. J. Howard Nichols, was quite badly bitten Wednesday morning, while trying to stop a fight between his own dog and Mr. Fitch's. The wounds were not serious, fortunately.

—Mrs. Safford of this city was elected twice president for Eastern Massachusetts at the annual meeting of the Woman's American Baptist Home missionary society, at East Somerville, Wednesday. A number of Newton ladies attended.

—Invitations have been extended to Charles Ward Post, the Clavin Guards and other military organizations to attend service in Grace church on Sunday night, May 26, at 7.30 o'clock. The address will be made by the Rev. Dr. Shinn.

—The Newton Street Railway Company has appeared before the railroad commissioners through John C. Lane, treasurer, clerk and counsel of the company, and asked to have the capital increased from $240,000 to $1,000,000. There was no opposition so that the petition will be granted.

—There was a good attendance at the sociable at the Baptist church parlors, Thursday evening. A musical entertainment was given, consisting of violin solo by Mr. Cutler, cornet solo by Mr. Holman, songs by Miss Bowyer and reading by Mrs. Sheppard. Mr. Ayres was present and gave some fine piano solos.

—The assessors have been making their annual rounds this week, and find that the new law in regard to the assessment of women is greatly to their liking. At the same time the new law has been published in all the papers, the assessors say that not one woman in ten knows anything about it, and the great majority do not care to vote.

—The problem just now in Grace church seems to be how to crowd in two thousand people who want to attend the choir festival on the 21st. Applications for tickets are likely to be far beyond the seating capacity of the building. No one the members of the vestry who have any tickets to distribute to applicants.

—Centre street from Nonantum Square to the Watertown line has received a top dressing of crushed stone and the steam roller and a large force of men have been at work there most of the week. This improvement has long been needed. The roller on Thursday morning began on Richardson street, which is to be put in good condition.

—The second grand levee of Local Union 275, of the B. of C. and J. of A. was held at the last evening. The grand parade began at 8 o'clock. There was a good attendance and fine music. Mr. R. J. Deady was floor director, and the aids were Messrs. Chas. Pike, A. W. Moffatt, George B. Conners, James Randall and Wm. Boucher.

—The next Field Day of the Newton Natural History Society will be to Echo Bridge and the Ravine on the south side of the river, Saturday afternoon, May 18th. The party will take the 1 p. m. train, main line, Circuit from Boston; leave the train at Eliot and walk to the bridge, have a mile walk. Returning leave Eliot at 5.15, 5.44 or 6.07. Any lady wishing to accompany the party is cordially invited. For further information apply to Dr. J. F. Frisbie.

—Rev. Mr. Hornbrook was surprised early Tuesday morning to see a long procession of the tiny scholars from the Infant department of the Channing Sunday school in front of his house. They had come to celebrate his birthday, and each little hand grasped a pink, the flowers being equal in number to the years. It was a very pretty sight, and the children seemed to enjoy it as much as the pastor.

—The Episcopal Sunday schools of Newton, Waltham and Watertown will unite in celebrating the festival of the Ascension by a service in Grace church, Newton, at 4 p. m., Thursday, May 24. The procession will be headed by the vested choir of St. Paul's. The speakers are the Rev. E. A. Rand and the Rev. T. F. Fales. The exercises will close in time to witness the dress parade of the military on Farlow park.

—A good deal of complaint is made in regard to the loads of compost that have been recently dumped on the Bigelow school grounds. The smell is quite overpowering, and the school house windows have to be kept closed on that side of the building. It does seem to be a curious time of the year to fertilize the schools house grounds, when by waiting six weeks the schools would be closed and the comfort of teachers and scholars would not be interfered with.

—The boot and shoe store of A. L. Rhind, on Washington street, was broken into at an early hour, Tuesday morning, and a quantity of boots and shoes stolen. The money drawer was wrung from the case over the safe, broken open and its contents secured amounting to about $10 in silver. All that remained to tell the story of its former possession was a check and two 10 cent pieces which were picked up from the floor. The value of the goods stolen is in the neighborhood of $40. The thieves intended, there is no doubt, to make a big haul, inasmuch as the boxes that contained boots and shoes were piled up on the floor ready to take away. The intruders were probably interrupted from carrying out their intentions, being either frightened away or else unwilling to take the risk of detection in removing so large a quantity. Entrance was effected by removing a pane of glass from a door in the rear of the store. The key was then easily reached and the bolt slipped back.

—Ice Cream Soda at G. Wilkins Shaw's.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Merrill of Exeter, N. H., have taken rooms at Hotel Hunnewell for the summer.

—Mr. Frank A. Nichols has returned to Hotel Hunnewell from a visit of several weeks to the West Indies.

—Mrs. S. A. Whittemore of Brighton Hill has returned from a visit of several weeks at the Clarendon, New York City.

—The Rev. Dr. Shinn has been elected president of the Massachusetts Clerical Union holding monthly meetings in Boston.

—J. T. Burns has added a waiting room for ladies, who wish to have their hair dressed and is making his barber shop in Cole's block a very attractive place.

—A fine oil portrait of Mr. John S. Farlow has been placed in the Farlow reference room in the Free Library this week. It is an excellent likeness and was painted by John Paul Selinger, one of the best of the Boston artists.

—The names received for membership in the Jubilee Union Chorus have been forwarded to the chorus director, as not enough were received to warrant the formation of a separate chorus from Newton. Circulars containing information as to rehearsals, etc., will be forwarded to all whose names have been received.

—The festival of the parish choir is to be held in Grace church, on the 21st of May. Admission will be by tickets which will be distributed by the members of the vestry. The Rev. Mr. Frisbie of the Church of the Advent is to deliver the address in the morning. There will be a large number of choristers and clergymen of the diocese present.

—A recent meeting of the Vestry of Grace church, the following standing committees for the year were appointed: 1. On the care of the property, Messrs. Bullens, Elms and Wentworth; 2. On hospitality, Messrs. Elms, Sprague, Emerson and Hollis; 3. On finance, Messrs. Sprague, Elms and Hollis; 4. On parish societies, Messrs. Hamblen, Bell and Wheelock; 5. On music, Messrs. Hamblen, Baldwin and Emerson.

—Two little children of David Hill, a boy of 4 years and a girl of 2, were playing on a vacant lot in the Watertown district, Wednesday, on Morse street, and in a pile of rubbish they found several boxes of a sweet white powder. Naturally, they ate a little and shortly after were taken seriously ill. An analysis of the powder by Druggist Russell of Nonantum showed that it was white arsenic and sugar, used to kill bugs on potato vines. Dr. Stearns was called and the children were taken to his house and it is now thought that they will come out all right.

—Wednesday evening, at the residence of Rev. Mr. McCullough, Miss Alice Endora, daughter of Mrs. Jane C. Ladd of Waltham, was united in marriage to James P. Airth of Newton. The bride and groom were attended by William Shaughnessy as groomsmen, and Miss Addie May Ladd, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid. The wedding dress was of steel grey. Henrietta cloth, ornamented with steel trimmings, hat, wrap and gloves to match. The bridesmaid was dressed in white muslin, trimmed with white satin ribbons, and brown hat, trimmed with a wreath of roses. Both bride and maid wore corsage flowers of tea and white roses. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Airth repaired to the home of the groom, on Park street, Newton, where they will pass several weeks, after which they will take possession of their new home on Brook street.

—The Newton Young Men's Catholic Lyceum presented the drama, "Robert Macaire," in the evening, Wednesday, May 9. There was a large audience present and the acting was generally commended. Mr. Mulligan as Germaine, Mr. Sullivan as Du-maine, Mr. W. A. Macaire, Mr. Frank Shea as Bertrand and Misses Mamie Bougan and Nora E. Donovan were successful in their roles. The cast follows: Germaine, a wealthy farmer, Mr. J. F. Mulligan; Du-maine, an inn keeper, Mr. D. A. Sullivan; Robert Macaire, under the assumed name of of Redmund, Mr. Louis Watson; Jacques Strop, under the assumed name of Bertrand, Mr. Frank Shea; Charles, the adoptive son of Du-maine, Mr. C. O. Higby; J. Pierre, head waiter, Mr. T. P. Joyce; Sergt. Loupy, Mr. T. D. Casey; Louis, a waiter, Mr. John Byson; Francois, Mr. John Rufferty; Maria, Miss Mamie Bougan; Clementine, Miss Nora E. Donovan.

—Faith Robbin, the patient little sufferer so well known to numbers of sympathizing friends, has at last passed on to her reward. Her friends will be glad to know that her last days were spent in our benevolent Cottage Hospital, where the tenderest care was shown her by physicians, nurses and friends. Her presence there, as everywhere, brought benediction, so sweet and unselfish, to the spirit that dwelt in that frail body. She never was known to regret her invalid condition except to say, "I have never been able to help anyone," and her chief happiness in looking forward to an exchange of worlds was that there she should be able to do some good. Her funeral was attended by Rev. Dr. Brewster of Newtonville at the "Country Home," where she was an inmate nine years of her beautiful life. The children sang and recited some appropriate selections, and all received a great blessing from the attractive and rational picture of Heaven, drawn by Mr. Worcester, and the blissful realities of the world where she has gone to be an inmate. We trust it will be given her there to see that her life was not a useless one, but a blessed lesson of patience and unselfish love to all who were privileged to know her.

—Mr. Dupee has a good variety of fancy fish and fresh salmon this week in his new window show case.

—Mr. Dupee says his business is increasing and Newton trade appreciate his general market.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting last Sunday was in charge of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist church, and led by Mr. Seymour Eaton, secretary of the society. A good audience listened to the opening remarks of Mr. Eaton, upon the "Holy Spirit and its office in our hearts," with much interest. A quartet, consisting of Miss Mabel Lawrence, Mrs. H. Leonard and Messrs. Wesley and George Barber rendered some pleasing music. Many testified to the working of the Holy Spirit in their hearts and at the same time well titled. Next Sunday the Rev. H. J. Patrick of West Newton will address the meeting.

Electric Stocks

Furnished by F. W. Prescott, 54 Devonshire St., Boston, for the week ending May 9.

Thompson-Houston—$82.50 to $85.00 to $87.75.

Thompson Electric Welding—$350 to $375.

Westinghouse, $59.00 to $58.00 to $57.75 to $59.00.

Edison, N. Y.—$100 to $105.

Robinson-Foster Electric Motor—2.50 to 2.00 to 2.25.

Union Electric Car—12.50 to 13.00.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of the Mountain View Hotel, Gilmanston, N. H., which will be found in another column.

John L. Stoddard, the popular lecturer, is one of the lessees of this hotel, which has been entirely refurbished and enlarged, and is under the management of Mr. O. G. Sanborn.

THE PLAYERS.

THEIR SEVENTH SERIES OF ENTERTAINMENTS AT CITY HALL.

The seventh series of entertainments given by "The Players" at City Hall, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, were as successful as usual, and every seat was filled on both evenings. The Players are doing an excellent work for the entertainment of their friends, and evidently their labors are appreciated.

The program included two one-act plays, J. K. Jerome's "Barbara" and Tom Taylor's "A Nice Firm." In the first the parts were taken by Miss Annie P. Call, Mrs. W. T. Farley, Mr. E. L. Collins and Mr. T. E. Stutson. The stage setting made a charming picture, and the play is very pretty but pathetic. Miss Call gave a clever rendering of the rather tragic role of Barbara, and Mrs. Farley made a charming Lilie, and is evidently the most versatile actress in the club.

She has the rare art of making every character she assumes seem her real one. Mr. Collins and Mr. Stutson, as Cecil and Finnian were both good, although they made a much more decided hit in "A Nice Firm," which followed, where Mr. Stutson was capital as the bustling member of the legal firm of Messier & Moon, succeeding in making a decided mess of the law business, and Mr. Collins as John Ripton, the leading villain, rather eclipsed all his former efforts. Conkey, as Moon, the old and forgetful partner, was wonderful in his make up, and the two members of the firm carried the house by storm with their methods of doing business and the complications they got into and got out of during the evening. It was the most amusing performance yet given by the club, and the various situations were well brought out. Miss Edith Farley was charming as Mary Moon, and Miss Helen Wells made a very successful Susanah Applejohn. The minor parts were well taken, Mr. Edward Dawson appearing as Richard Ripton, Mr. E. C. Burrage as Duncuff Meazle, Mr. Jas. P. Tolman as Mr. Mumps, Mr. Jas. Walker, Jr., as Mr. Ryder, and Mr. Herbert G. Pratt as Tottle. The office scene, with its wonderful safe, was very realistic and the audience was liberal in applause. The ushers were Messrs. Henry C. Churchill and Chas. T. Davis, the stage manager was Mr. Geo. H. Phelps, and the acting managers, Messrs. H. S. Kempton and Pierrepont Wise. A novel feature was the electric lights in colored globes, and electric lights on a warm evening are certainly a great improvement over gas. The next performances will be given in November.

Wants the Storage Battery System.

NEWTONVILLE, May 8, 1889.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC.

It must have been apparent at the hearing on Monday evening last before the Board of Aldermen, that the position taken by the New England Telephone Company was a very strong one. Mr. Farnham must have made it plain to all that the current that they discharge into the earth was one which would not interfere with any other interest, while the car company, using such a current, would and did affect and injure all other parties desiring to use the earth as a return, and his illustration that our streets are open to the free passage of domestic and harmless animals, and that they were not open, and of course should not be, to wild and dangerous ones. A cab man readily obtains a license to drive his horse about the streets, and a citizen, for a good dog, but you would treat as absurd the application of a Bar-num to drive loose a lot of lions, and the same through the streets; the parallel is perfect. Again, undoubtedly the citizens of Newton want very much a street railway and we wish the best and best system. The day of animal power has passed and electricity is demanded as the motive power, both for speed and the ease of operation. Incident to the use of horses, but to have the streets of a beautiful city disfigured and obstructed by poles, wires, etc., is at least a very considered as a serious objection to its use. We, however, can be relieved of this difficulty for there is a company which has a hearing granted it by the board on the 27th of this month, who will put in a system run with storage-batteries, thus saving an outlay of $100,000.

It was objected to at the hearing on Monday evening that this system would not work. A company, however, stands ready to put in the system at their own risk and are only to receive pay for the same from the Newton company, after it has proved that it will work, and to a thinking mind it will be certainly apparent that that company believes in it most fully or they would not run the risk of so much money. They say money talks,—let us see what it will say in this case. If it fails there is nothing to be removed but the cars and then can be added the poles and lines, in either case the same. So neither the Newton Street Railway Company nor our citizens lose or risk anything, and we believe that our board of aldermen, having the best interests of the city as their sole trust and consideration will grant the petition which will come before them on the 27th. CITIZEN.

Remains of the Northmen.

Prof. E. N. Horsford of Cambridge has devoted a great deal of study to an examination of the locality supposed to be occupied in the tenth century by the Northmen.

One of his most recent discoveries is an amphitheatre near the Mount Auburn station, which he believes was constructed for the wrestling and other gymnastic matches of these ancient residents of Massachusetts.

It will repay any one interested in this subject to visit this singular construction. It is on the side of Bird Pond, a short distance from the residence of Mrs. Bird, to the right of the Union Chapel.

There are seven terraces sloping down to a space at the bottom about 100 feet in diameter. The top circle of the seven concentric circles is about 200 feet in diameter.

Any one who could visit the locality can get off the car at the Mount Auburn bridge, and walk there in a few minutes.

Prof. Horsford says that there are some very interesting spots between Newton and Newtonville which bear marks of the old Norsemen's occupation of this district, and that the whole city of Newton is full of antiquarian interest which has never yet been properly developed.

Summer Resorts.

The Hotel Sorrento, at Sorrento, Maine, located at this beautiful summer resort near Bar Harbor, will be open for the season on the first of June. It is attractively located and provides its guests with accommodations which will gratify the most fastidious. The amusements which are most popular here are yachting, fishing, and driving, and the scenery is of the most picturesque character.

The company offer a number of fine cottage lots for sale. It is a particularly good time to make investments in this locality, for the value of land is steadily increasing.

NEWTON TARIFF REFORM CLUB.

A TARIFF IS A TAX.

Organized, Jan. 24, 1889.
Membership on May 1, 89.
Address all communications to the Secretary
of the Newton Tariff Reform Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

WHO PAYS THE TAX?

THE TARIFF REFORMER'S REPLY.

I.

Two hundred millions collected annually at the Custom Houses! Who pays it?

Let us first consider articles the supply of which must come from abroad; and no better examples offer themselves than sugar and tea. Both are articles of general consumption and both have been comparatively free from speculative influences.

The merchant who brought tea to New York City in 1870 had to pay the government 25 cents a pound before he could remove it from the wharf, but in 1871 the duty exacted was reduced to 15 cents. Did the foreign merchant save 10 cents a pound, or did the importers save it, or the consumers? From careful comparison of the prices of twenty standard varieties of tea in 1870 and 1871 in the New York wholesale market we find an average fall of seven cents!

Again, in 1872 Congress removed the remaining duty of 15 cents and made tea free. Did the consumer reap the benefit? The report of the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York for 1872-1873 says in plain English that the consumers demanded a reduction in price amounting to the duty, and that the retailers and wholesalers were compelled to grant it. Senator Edmund's list of the prices of eighteen varieties of tea for six months before and for six months after the passage of the law making tea free shows an average fall in price of 8 1/2 cents. The importers held on to all they could, but by 1875 the people had got the whole 15 cents off the former price and it has never gone back.

But look at England—there tea still pays a duty of twelve cents a pound. She is nearer the market than we are and she purchases a much larger quantity; moreover she carries her own tea in her own ships. If the tea drinkers of England do not pay that duty of 12 cents a pound they ought to get their tea cheaper than we do. Do they? Not at all. According to the report of the Secretary of State in 1885, retail prices of common teas in England ranged from 32 to 80 cents, in the United States from 25 to 70 cents. Is the Tariff on tea a tax to the people of England? Was it a tax on us previous to 1872? We should like Mr. Allen to tell us frankly whether this is one of the cases where "results reached by exact reasoning must be rejected."

Sugar ought to be as cheap here as in England; the supply is at our doors. Does the Protectionist say that England is buying more beet sugar from France and Germany and less cane sugar from Cuba? We reply that every pound England buys on the Continent tends to leave a fuller supply in Cuba, and so to make a lower price for American merchants. But when the American importer takes his sugar from the wharf at Boston or Philadelphia or New York he must pay to the United States government eighty cents for every dollar's worth. Would Senator Edmunds have us believe that the importer pays that eighty cents or any considerable portion of it? Or does he simply add the duty to the cost of the sugar, and when he sells does he not charge the buyer the whole cost? And doesn't the wholesaler "pass it along" to the retailer, who in turn charges it to the consumers? And so it comes about, though our English cousin pays more for his tea he does not pay nearly so much for the sugar with which he sweetens it. Sugar here cost from 14 to 100 per cent higher than in England in 1885. Is the Tariff on sugar a tax? Who pays it?

A Dangerous Admission.

In an article on "Foreign Competition in Iron and Steel," the Boston Advertiser of May 1 says:

It is noteworthy and remarkable that while our own iron and steel industries are suffering from serious reactionary influences, those of Europe are in a most prosperous condition. The general impetus that was given to the European industries in 1887 received no appreciable check in 1888, and without a single exception every foreign iron-making country of any account increased its production of iron and steel last year and also sold its products at increased prices.

In explaining this peculiar fact it says: The ordinary conditions of prosperity for the industries of the two rival continents are not by any means the same, for by reason of their cheapness of production and superior commercial facilities, European countries have access to foreign markets from which this country is debarred.

It seems to me that in the above paragraphs, the Advertiser gives the extreme Protectionists away. In this country one of the most heavily protected industries is unprosperous while it is prosperous elsewhere; and one of the chief reasons is that the cost of protection is increased here so as to cut us off from foreign markets.

What increases the cost of production here and decreases our commercial facilities? It is the high tariff. ALPHA.

"H."

A "Journal" Correspondent, who signs himself "H.," will find by reference to the "Graphic" of April 26, information in regard to prices. Perhaps we would better repeat: Rice, butter, cheese, beef, pork, fish and potatoes are articles on which a protective tariff has been laid, and of which the prices have not fallen after a reasonable period of protection. This is simply a fact; we do not at present draw any inference from it, but have simply put it here as a reply to a direct request for information. We shall always gladly help our protectionist friends whenever their own resources fail them.

Liberty and Protection.

Under this comprehensive caption we noticed in the "Journal" of last week a dissertation, or series of dissertations, on the Declaration of Independence, Alexander Hamilton, Sancho Panza, six-pound fish, mathematics, and the tariff. We trust that the various organizations in Newton for the study of history, literature, mathematics and natural science will "read and re-read." The "Reformer" has only two short words to say. First, does not the little paragraph on "exact reasoning" imply that theoretically and logically the Protectionist has the weaker case? Secondly, we fear that our modest little statement, "A Tariff is a Tax," is much misunderstood. It is not meant that all taxes are wrong, and that the tariff is wrong because it is a tax. We keep the proposition at the head of our column as an emphatic protest against the ignorant or dishonest attempt made last Fall to persuade the farmers and the wage earners that the tariff is no tax; that foreigners pay our customs revenue; and that high wages and low prices are the direct results of the protective system. We are glad to note that there is a disposition on Mr. Allen's part to grant that a tariff is a tax.

The Massachusetts League.

The league had its annual meeting on Tuesday evening, April 30, at the Hotel Thorndike. The names of Isaac T. Burr and Wm. R. Dupee, residents of Newton, appear on the list of vice presidents. The report of the secretary, Emerson W. Judd, was full of encouragement. There are nearly seven hundred members, and among them all there is manifested a spirit of earnestness that augurs well for the people's cause. Hon. John M. Forbes, an owner and builder of ships before the war, read an essay on the decline of our foreign commerce and a prediction of its revival when Congress will restore its rights. Hon. John E. Russell spoke of the low tariffs of 1846 and 1857, and ventured the prophecy that 1892 might be the opening of a similar era of prosperity. "The Wonderful Tariff," which appeared in last week's GRAPHIC, was received with much merriment, and a similar "poem" by Mr. William Lloyd Garrison added in the same way to the pleasure of the evening. But amid the applause and the laughter, an acute observer would have noticed a depth of earnestness in the voices, and an expression of sincerity in the faces that never could come to the surface by "the cohesive power of public plunder." These men "mean fight," fight for the eternal principles of freedom and justice.

WHITE VIOLETS.

BY L. B. COCROFT.

"We want to give something handsome, if we give it at all."

"If I thought that we had made our minds as to that part of it, Gratia."

"But how are we to get it?"

"And how much will it cost?"

Four girls were gathered around the open fire in Gratia Ferris's pretty sitting room. If you knew Gratia, it would hardly be necessary to tell you who the three others were—Ella Maynard, Joan na Carey and Bertha Scott. The season was mid-winter, and the time was about four o'clock on a Saturday afternoon.

"About fifty dollars, I think," said Gratia, answering the last question. "Something over twelve dollars from each of us will be enough."

Ella gave a horrified little shriek. "Twelve dollars! My dear girl, do you know what you are talking about? Look at my gloves, look at my muff, and then, tragically, 'look at my pocket-book. I never had twelve spare dollars in my life.'"

"Neither did I; but I might manage to save it between now and Easter," said Joanna, resignedly.

"Hence all ye vain delights," laughed Bertha. "No more flowers, no more carmels, no more concert tickets. Gratia, it's no use; you can't expect it of us. And by the way, how would you get it yourself?"

"I? Oh, I should ask Papa for it."

"Then you'd better ask for the whole fifty at once, if that's all you need to do," said Joanna, derisively. "It isn't every girl, remember, that can have everything she wants."

"Not everything," said Gratia, softly; and as Joanna's glance fell from a picture above the fireplace to Gratia's black dress, she inwardly echoed the words:

"I wouldn't be Gratia for all the money she will have. 'Not everything.' Not anything. No mother, no brothers, no sisters; nothing but a big house with nobody in it, for Mr. Ferris is hardly ever at home." She felt, for a moment, that she loved even the big nursery work basket with its pile of stockings, out at knee and heel and toe. There had been a time when there was a nursery in the Ferris house, and a basket that overflowed in the same way.

The short silence was broken by Ella Maynard. "What we want, as I understand it, is to buy a new banner for Mrs. Osgood's Bible-class. It will cost about fifty dollars, and we want to give it on Easter day."

"Right, with one trifling omission; we want the fifty dollars," said merry Bertha.

"Let's earn it."

"Goodness, Gratia; what will you say next?"

"Well, why not? Why can't we? And then it will really be our own money. I know Doctor Osgood would say that a gift that really costs us nothing is not worth the giving."

"H'm. I hope you don't call it nothing to go without everything for two or three months?"

"But how can we earn it?"

"Oh, almost any way."

"That's hardly definite enough to help me much. Shall we sew, or tend children, or teach school, or take in washing?"

"Bertha, do be serious."

"I am 'serious' and 'serious,' to adopt a quotation from the children's beloved 'Alice in Wonderland.'"

"For instance, we might paint."

"You don't suppose that anybody would buy our work?"

"Yes, I do. Now listen, girls; I have a capital idea. We all paint fairly well."

"That is, we daub neither better nor worse than nineteen girls out of twenty."

"Don't interrupt, Bertha. Go on, Gratia, we are listening."

"Well, you know most of the big stores deal in painted cards and fans and toilet sets, and such things. Now why can't we sell our work at Blank & Co.'s. We always deal there, and I think they would take work from me. We could do it for very little, and it would cost us only our time and the paint. The stores supply the materials."

"Well!" began Joanna.

"Now don't say no, Josie. I'll go to see Mr. Blank, myself, and explain the whole thing to him."

"Would your father like it?"

"He wouldn't mind. Now, then, the question is, shall I go, or not? All in favor of the motion say ay. There, that settles it; I'll go on Monday afternoon."

"You must take some of our work along with you, to show what we can do."

"What we can't do, you mean," amended Bertha.

"Take that lovely little screen you made for my birthday."

"The pale green, with apple blossoms? Yes, Gratia, that's the very thing."

"And you ought to take that lovely little Christmas card that Josie designed."

"And that little glass panel with wild roses and maiden hair fern."

"Enough! enough!" laughed Bertha.

"You don't want to send an entire studio, do you? Girls, if you don't mind, I'd rather make candy. Do you suppose I could sell it?"

"Your delicious home-made candies? I'm sure you could. I'll speak to some ladies who will be glad to have them," said Gratia, warmly.

"You know at the home-made candies sold well, and there were any number of extra orders taken."

"You can have a sample box, if you like. I made some this morning, for Clara. It's her birthday, you know."

"She's probably eaten them all by this time," said Joanna, by way of warning.

"Our Hannah and Lulu were going to spend the afternoon with her, and"

"You needn't say any more," said Bertha, resignedly. "It's gone, every crumb of it. Gratia, when will you go?"

"Monday afternoon. I'll let you know on Tuesday, when you'll all come up here Monday evening."

"I can't. Joanna and I are in the geometry examination, and we are going to try to pass, so we'll need every spare minute on Monday."

"And Bertha isn't interested—that is her work can go on anyway. Oh, don't go! It's early."

"It's nearly five o'clock, and Saturday evening is always a busy time with us," said Joanna.

"And I've promised mamma to be home in time to set the table this evening. Our waitress is sick, and cook is so cross that we never dare to ask her to do anything out of her regular line," said Bertha.

"Well, good-by and good luck to the Amateur Art Union. You and Ella are not going my way, Josie, I suppose?"

"Hardly; but if you'll wait a minute we'll walk to the corner together. We are going to take a car. Good-by, Gratia, don't let your courage fail you at the last minute."

"You might come with me?"

"? Not for—fifty dollars."

Gratia laughed as she went back to her room, but she had no intention of "letting" her courage fail her, it somehow seemed easier to sit in her chair by the fireside, and think about it, than it was to carry the plan into execution.

"Of course I'm not afraid; he can only say 'no' at the worst. It isn't as if my daily bread depended on it," she thought, as she sat waiting for the member of the firm whose business it was to decide upon such matters as the errand that had brought her there. Somebody else was waiting, too, somebody with whom Gratia would willingly have opened a conversation, had the stranger shown herself disposed to be friendly. As it was, Miss Ferris took refuge in silence after one or two remarks to which the only answer was a curt 'yes' or 'no.' Gratia had a seal skin coat, the stranger wore a shawl; Gratia's hands were cased in soft long kid gloves, the stranger's hands, small and delicately formed, were bare. They were red and stiff with cold, and Gratia, who felt chilly even in her warm cloth gown, fell to wondering how anybody could possibly keep warm in such a thin garment as the stranger wore.

"Perhaps they don't," she reflected, and just then a clerk made his tardy appearance apologizing profusely for the absence of the manager, when he found that it was Miss Ferris who had been kept waiting. The manager himself came soon afterward, and listened in silence, rubbing his chin to conceal a smile as Gratia stated the case.

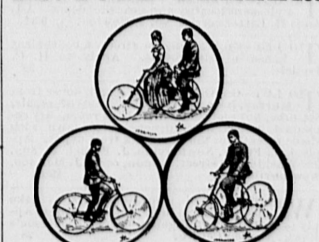

"You want to earn the money? To work for it? I see; I see! We should be delighted to be of service to you, but the fact is that we have any number of similar applications, and—er—May I ask whether you have any specimens of your work with you?"

Gratia opened her dainty little bag, and laid half a dozen trifles on the table.

"I thought that we had hit upon an original idea," she said, somewhat mortified.

(Continued on seventh page.)

EDWARD P. BURNHAM, BICYCLE DEALER.

Bicycles and Tricycles of all descriptions sold for cash, or on instalments. Specialty in letting Second-hand Machines taken in exchange. Re-pairing done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

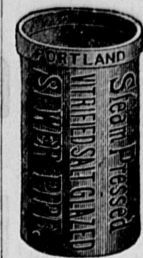

"THE FINEST IN THE WORLD." HUNT BROS., 34 Essex St., Boston

PEERLESS DYES ARE THE BEST. Sold by Druggists.

PLUMBING. Timothy J. Hartnett

BRACKETT'S NEW BLOCK,

Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton.

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Black Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others. The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited. Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping. Agent for Portland Stone Ware Co's Drain Pipes, Vases, Etc. 35 ly

MURRAY & FARRELL, CARRIAGE BUILDERS & HORSE SHOERS.

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS.

Also to shoeing, over-reaching, interfering and Tender-footed Horses. All kinds of blacksmith and wheelwright work done with neatness and dispatch. Washington, cor. Park St. Ward 7, Newton. Prices very reasonable. All our work guaranteed. 38

Newton City Market.

All kinds of Fresh and Salt MEATS,

POULTRY AND GAME, FISH & OYSTERS,

Butter, Cheese and Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit and Vegetables.

No. 413 Centre Street, Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor.

Champagne Cider

Manufactured at the Glen Farm, a quality of Sweet, Sparkling Cider, made from sound fruit, and just the thing for family use. Will be delivered in quart, pint and half pint bottles, in any part of Newton. Best article in the market and sure to give satisfaction. Quality guaranteed. P. O. Address,

GLEN FARM, Box 129, Newton Lower Falls, Mass.

If any dealer says he has the W. L. Douglas Shoes without name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Best in the world. Examine his $5.00 GENUINE HAND-SEWED SHOE. $4.00 OXFORD SHOE. $3.50 POLICE AND FARMER'S SHOE. $2.50 EXTRA VALUE CALF SHOE. $2.25 WORKMAN'S SHOE. $2.00 and $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES. All made in Boston.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR LADIES.

Best Material. Best Style. Best Fitting. Not sold by your dealer, write to W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Examine W. L. Douglas $2.00 Shoes for gentlemen and ladies.

FOR SALE BY M. J. O'SHEA, 356 Centre St., Newton.

GEO. E. BARROWS, Newton Centre

T. F. CLENNAN, Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c. Washington Street, Newton.

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.55 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 9.25 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.05 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 6.35 P. M., then 7 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 11 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 12.50 P. M., then every fifteen minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11.30 A. M., then every fifteen minutes until 11 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.25 A. M. D. F. LONGSTREET, General Manager.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

I will guarantee to cure the worst case of corns and bunions on any Lady's feet who will wear my

CUSTOM MADE Kangaroo Skin Boots.

They are soft, fine, and look handsome. They will wear longer than anything else known; they will keep their shape and turn water.

I do not send the measure to the factory to be made up, but make them myself. I will guarantee a perfect fitting and comfortable boot no matter in what shape the feet may be.

Best Kangaroo, Flexible Bottom, no squeak, $6.50. Dongola, Flexible bottom, no squeak.

A. L. RHYND, Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Rubbers Custom work a specialty.

Hyde's Block, Centre and Washington Sts., NEWTON.

ORNAMENTAL TREES. SHRUBS & HERBACEOUS PLANTS. FOR SALE.

A large and valuable assortment at the

NEWTON

Cemetery Nurseries, Cemetery Nurseries. Also a large assortment of Greenhouse and Bedding plants. A few extra large size elms and maples.

HENRY ROSS, Supt. Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

—THE— ESSEX BOOT & SHOE CO.

28 Essex St., Boston.

F. LESLIE KEENE, Manager. Have a large assortment of Seasonable Goods, including Base Ball, Bicycle, Tennis, and Yachting Shoes.

A liberal discount on clubs and yachts. Prices always the lowest. Don't fail to give us a call, we will make it pay you to do so.

EDDY'S REFRIGERATORS!

I have sold them for the past twenty-one years which is sufficient guarantee that they are the best. Refrigerators of all kinds repaired. Leave your orders and have them attended to at once, as warm weather will soon be here. Stoves, ranges, and furnaces cleaned and repaired. Tin plate, sheet iron and copper work done in a thorough manner.

JOHN S. SUMNER, MIDDLESEX BLOCK,

354 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

INSOMNIA - SLEEPLESSNESS.

Dr. B. F. Howard's Hypnotic and Mind's Balm is an infallible remedy for Insomnia. It is purely vegetable, and aids much in the cure of other diseases. Dr. Howard was a great sufferer from this terrible malady. He cured himself—he can cure others.

Address, including stamp for particulars, Dr. B. F. HOWARD, 37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., OR SEEN AT OFFICE DAILY. 22 ly

Richard Rowe, INSURANCE.

No. 2 Mason Building, Water Street, Boston

P. O. Box 304, Newtonville.

The six American and English companies represented by this agency, are among the largest and strongest and oldest doing business in the United States, the Sun Fire Office being the oldest purely fire insurance company in the world.

The millions of dollars paid by these companies to the sufferers of the three great conflagrations of Portland, Chicago and Boston, fully attest their strength, integrity and fair dealing.

Seventy per cent. dividend paid on five year mutual policies.

Meat, Poultry and Game.

"THE CHOICEST" OUR MOTTO.

The Newton Market

Established in 1851 and located pleasantly at NOS. 7 AND 8 COLE'S BLOCK.

has constantly on hand a LARGE and CHOICE SUPPLY of

Meats, Poultry and Game

W. H. BRACKETT, Proprietor. Telephone 7854.

We have just placed on sale a full line of

Ladies' Gents' & Misses' ROYAL PURE RS DYE

BLACK HOSE TRADE-MARK

STAINLESS

We guarantee every pair perfectly fast black and not to stain or crack, if you use them once you will use no other make.

We are also agents for the Famous LINWOOD Stocking with spliced Linen heel and toe. They will outwear two pairs of the plain cotton goods and cost no more.

Francis Murdock & Co.

ROOFING.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 80.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE STREET RAILWAY HEARING.

The street railway hearing, Monday evening, drew out a number of telephone experts, Storage Battery people, Newton Street Railway men and less than half a dozen citizens. From this it is inferred that the 200 or more telephone subscribers in Newton are not greatly interested in the remonstrance against an overhead wire system of propelling street cars. The hearing developed nothing new and was merely a repetition of those held in other places, and which have proved no obstacle to the granting of a permit for the use of the system in Boston, Brookline, Cambridge, Waltham and Watertown.

If this were the only question to be considered, the permit would probably be granted at once. But another obstacle has arisen in the shape of the Newton electric street railway, which is connected with the storage battery system, which they believe has at last been perfected, so that it will be feasible to run cars by that system. To accommodate them the whole matter has been postponed for three weeks, when the new company will have a hearing.

The situation is evidently becoming somewhat complicated. The Newton Street Railway company was granted a location some time ago, for a street railway, to be operated by electricity. They still have a right to the location, and now ask to be allowed to use the overhead system, the only one in successful use at the time the location was granted.

Now here comes in a new company, just organized, and asks for a location in the same streets, in which the first road have had one granted to them. It is manifestly impossible to have two lines of tracks, owned by different companies, in the same streets, and yet the delay looks as though the aldermen intended to consider the possibility of this. They can not deprive the first company of the location granted to them, and some good judges say that the granting of the location gives the company a right to go ahead with the work of building its tracks, without waiting for further action by the board of aldermen.

The company first in the field stands ready to begin work at once, and will give bonds to have the Newton part of their circuit line in operation within a specified time. They have also a system which is now working successfully in cities and towns in the vicinity. If the Newton board had not delayed action so many times we should have had the circuit line between Newton, Waltham and Watertown in operation this summer.

If a location should be granted to the storage battery people, what would become of the location already granted to the other company, or would both companies have a right to lay tracks? The overhead wire company are ready to give bonds to have their cars running regularly within a specified time. Are the storage battery people willing to do the same to prove their faith in their system?

The great majority of the people of Newton do not care what system is used, provided that we have some system of street cars at an early date, and that the matter is handled in a business-like manner, without useless delays and unnecessary "fiddle faddle," to use a very expressive term.

In another column will be found an editorial from the Waltham Free Press, whose editor attended the street railway hearing at City Hall. It represents the Waltham opinion on the matter, although we think it contains one mistake. It says that "one of the Newton aldermen is said to be interested in a storage battery scheme," and evidently refers to Alderman Childs, who has been the champion of the Storage Battery Company in the board, and seems to have charge of their petitions and their interests. But his name is not down in the list of directors, and although he is possibly interested in the scheme, as the Free Press states, it is probably not a financial interest, but a desire to get the best possible thing for Newton. The Waltham people are evidently impatient at the delay of our board of aldermen. Their board went into the matter and had it all over and settled, but we are afraid that the Waltham aldermen lack the gift or faculty of deliberating, which is so desirable in legislative bodies, who desire to legislate wisely. It is much better to have a hearing and then think it over and digest the testimony presented for a month or two, than to rush a matter through as the Waltham aldermen did. Life is long, and if important matters are to be disposed of so quickly, what are people to do with the rest of their time. A good deal of enjoyment can be got out of the hearings, the tilts between the opposing counsel, and the way eminent experts contradict each other on questions of fact. It is as good as a play, and as it is a free show, we are surprised that citizens do not turn out in larger numbers. Judging from the way matters are progressing, the entertainments can be kept up easily for the rest of the year, and the usual humdrum meetings of the city government be made to have a charm which they would otherwise be deprived of.

PRESIDENT HARRISON has earned the gratitude of all believers in civil service reform, by the appointment on the Civil Service Commission of Hugh S. Thompson of South Carolina and Theodore Roosevelt of New York. The commission is now filled with thorough believers in reform, and the appointment is a defeat for the spoils politicians who prevented the confirmation of Mr. Thompson by the Senate, when he was nominated by President Cleveland. This commission will see that the law is enforced, as far as it comes under their supervision.

The Taunton Evening News, of which Mr. T. B. Eaton of Waltham is the editor, is a young but remarkably vigorous paper, and judging from the liberal supply of advertising it is bound to be a success.

The Milford Journal's ardent defence of the spoils system is now explained; Editor Cook is after the Milford postoffice.

A full account of the dedication of the new wing of the Cottage Hospital will be found on the 6th page.

OUR BOSTON LETTER.

Wrangle between Butler and Porter—Death of Charles Knapp Dillaway—The Elevated Railroad Bill—The Right of Women to Vote on the License Question—The Governorship.

From Our Special Correspondent:

BUTLER AND PORTER.
The public at large are likely to have a rich treat for some time to come, through the bitter controversy between General Butler and Admiral Porter. I agree with General Sherman that such things are in bad taste, and the hatchet should be buried. Both men did as well as they knew during the civil war. But from the start there was a feeling of jealousy between the two. In the New Orleans campaign, Butler evidently wanted the whole glory of capturing and subjugating the city of New Orleans, and Porter, with his characteristic vanity, wanted the same honor. Unfortunately for both, both were engaged in the famous Ft. Fisher scrape, and the bitterness became intensified.

I think, however, Butler has got the better of Porter. Just one year after the capture of New Orleans, Butler was in command of the naval flotilla on the Mississippi above Vicksburg. His headquarters were at Young's landing and the Crescent City, on which I was, was directly opposite his flag-ship. My impressions of Porter were not favorable either to his bravery or manners. He was a martinet and a braggart. His constant exercising of his fleet between the landing and the mouth of the "old river," some distance above, was a source of annoyance to the officers and men on the peninsula and provoked many not very complimentary remarks. Previous to this, and after the battles of Champion Hill, Chickasaw Bluffs and Holly Springs, he had incensed the land forces by going ashore and claiming the captured guns as trophies for the navy, when the navy had nothing to do with the capture. From a personal standpoint I hope Butler will bottle him up.

CHARLES KNAPP DILLAWAY.
The death of Charles Knapp Dillaway closes up the list of the distinguished head masters of the Boston Schools who were in our nearly sixty years ago.

Possibly at the time of his death, no master could recall so many distinguished names among his pupils as Mr. Dillaway. Among those dead were Henry Ward Beecher and his brother Charles, Brigham Daves and Dall, all of whom distinguished themselves in the pulpit. Among the living there are Rev. Everett Hale, D. D., Octavius E. Frothingham, D. D., and James Means, D. D., also distinguished in the pulpit. Francis Stanton Williams and Henry Williams, for years ranking among the most distinguished of the teachers in our public and private schools.

Mr. Dillaway held the office of head master of the Latin school from 1831 to 1836. He was a man of great learning, of genial manners and disposition, but lacking in discipline. The position of pedagogue evidently did not suit his retiring disposition and scholarly tastes. I was under him for three years, and though one of the most trying of his pupils, I revere him with the deepest love and veneration.

Of all the sub-masters under him none are living. Of the ushers there are living. Henry W. Torrey, in Harvard; Edward Appleton, the distinguished civil engineer, late of the State board of railroad engineers, and Francis Phelps. It is a singular coincidence that he was of the same age as the late Judge Park; their deaths were but a week apart and they were schoolmates, Judge Park being of the class of 1816, and Dillaway of the class of 1818.

THE ELEVATED RAILROAD.
There is still a strong pressure being brought upon the legislature for the passage of an act which shall allow of some kind of an elevated railroad to be built, in order to make close connections between the outlying wards of Boston, and the immediate suburbs, with the business centre of Boston.

That this pressure will be ought to have an influence on legislation goes without saying. The Ames-Shepard bill is the only one that has a responsible following. The temper of the popular branch has already been tested in the almost unanimous passage of the bill to a third reading. Subsequent amendments offered will hardly change the vote of the House on the passage of the bill to be engrossed. It might be the policy of the friends of the bill to waive those amendments, as subsequent legislation can correct all evils.

The test of the bill will be in the Senate, and I can hardly see why such senators as Hathorne and Sprague of Suffolk can go contrary to the manifest wishes of the masses of Boston. Capital is all good in its way, but when capital goes persistently against the voice of the people it is sure to lose ground. I don't believe the West End company has any real objection to an elevated railroad. This company has received the most unlimited favors from the legislature of the State and from the city of Boston. They have a peculiar function and in following this they are carrying out the wishes of the people and their efforts to accommodate the people are fully appreciated. But there is room for still further advance in the matter of what it ought to be in this category comes the elevated railroad.

THE RIGHT OF WOMEN TO VOTE ON THE LICENSE QUESTION.
The most interesting debate in the Senate, on Tuesday, was on the bill giving to women qualified to vote for members of the school committee in any city or town, the right to vote on question of the granting of licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors in such city or town. The debate gave the opportunity for every senator to ventilate his opinion. It perhaps was an opportunity for every man around the Senate board to ventilate his opinions for the benefit of his immediate constituents. It is a lamentable fact that Senators and Representatives who have taken the oath of office to support the Constitution, go behind that oath in order to secure a reelection. The bill was finally ordered to a third reading, but as it has to go to the House, its rejection is not a matter of uncertainty. The beauty of the passage of this bill in the Senate is that its supporters knew it would be defeated in the House. When will the time come that our legislators will yield to the ravings of their own consciences instead of pandering to what they think is a popular movement. I think the GRAPHIC asked when will the legislature of 1889 be prorogued. I think I can answer that question in the spirit of the Sphinx—when they reach the actual business of the session. All the important questions have got to be discussed. As a veteran I should say about the middle of June.

THE GOVERNORSHIP.
So far as the Republican party is concerned, the race for the governorship has started with Crope as the first man in the field. By all the courtesies of politics, Brackett should be placed in the line of succession. He deserves it. There will hardly be a third party in the field or a dark horse. The real fight will be upon the name to be placed second on the ticket. For this, Middlesex County, being the largest county numerically in the state next to Suffolk, will claim this. The boom at present is for Hon. Frank J. Lowell, the agricultural college, the state auditor and the attorney general. Again Middlesex county is larger than all four of the western counties.

Probably no man could draw to the ticket so large a support from the disaffected of other parties or from that element which generally takes little interest either way. Mr. Jewett's personality would be a long card for the party. This is what I generally hear talked over among the members of the legislature and in the lobbies.

MARRIED.
MESSENGER-FORRES—At Newton, May 1, by Rev. Geo. S. Butters, Daniel Messenger and Mary Forbes, both of Brookline.
MULVANY-WALSH—At West Newton, May 2, by Rev. L. J. O'Toole, John Mulvany of Boston and Mary Walsh of Newton.

DIED.
HINCKLEY—At West Newton, May 4, Mrs. Rebecca C. Hinckley, aged 51 yrs.
LEVY—At Newton Highlands, May 6, Mary G. Levy, aged 18 yrs. 1 mo., 21 days.
RAY—At Newtonville, May 7, Jane Ray, aged 84 yrs.
ROBBINS—At Newton, May 5, Faith Robbins, aged 18 yrs., 3 mos., 17 days.

Boston and Sandwich GLASS.

The sale of all the cut and pressed glass is now going on at the Company's Warehouse, No. 13 Federal Street, rear of Equitable Building. The prices are exactly ONE THIRD OFF their wholesale prices. New Ware opened out every week until the 140 packages at the Factory are closed.

Jones, McDuffee & Stratton,
CHINA AND GLASS MERCHANTS,
51 to 59 Federal Street.

Beach Cottage To Let
Near Plymouth, Mass.
A very desirable, fully furnished cottage to let for the summer or winter. Terms very reasonable. Inquire of

MRS. C. A. SHEPHERD,
74 Washington Park, Newtonville.

River Bluff Cottage
KENNEBUNKPORT, MAINE.
First-class board; high ground, fine view of river and ocean; tennis court; boats on premises; open June 1st; references exchanged.

Mrs. M. J. NUTTING,
31-4 No. 13 Richardson St., Newton, Mass.

A TIMELY FACT FOR PLANTERS.
The best place to buy your Bedding Plants is at

John Irving's Greenhouses,
161 Pearl Street, Newton. 31-13

CITY OF NEWTON.
BOARD OF HEALTH.
City Hall, West Newton, Mass., May 9, 1889.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Health until 5 o'clock P. M., on Monday, May 20th, for the collection, removal and disposal of all house offal and swill, for one year from May 1st, 1889. Specifications can be seen at the office of the Board of Health. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids. Proposals are to be endorsed "Proposals for the removal of house offal," and addressed to the Board of Health, West Newton.

Per order of the Board,
W. M. S. FRENCH, Clerk.

CITY OF NEWTON.
BOARD OF HEALTH.
City Hall, West Newton, Mass., May 9, 1889.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Health until 5 o'clock P. M., on Monday, May 20th, for the collection, removal and disposal of all house offal and swill, for one year from May 1st, 1889. Specifications can be seen at the office of the Board of Health. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids. Proposals are to be endorsed "Proposals for the removal of house offal," and addressed to the Board of Health, West Newton.

Per order of the Board,
W. M. S. FRENCH, Clerk.

CITY OF NEWTON.
BOARD OF HEALTH.
City Hall, West Newton, Mass., May 9, 1889.

Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Health until 5 o'clock P. M., on Monday, May 20th, for the collection, removal and disposal of all house offal and swill, for one year from May 1st, 1889. Specifications can be seen at the office of the Board of Health. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids. Proposals are to be endorsed "Proposals for the removal of house offal," and addressed to the Board of Health, West Newton.

Per order of the Board,
W. M. S. FRENCH, Clerk.

Awailings.
Those who desire awailings put up in first class shape should apply to Robert Miller & Co., 230 State Street, Boston. See advert semi-t.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST
Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food. It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country. Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

FOR SALE—A fine family new milch cow. Address Box 93, Newtonville. 31tf

TO LET—House ten rooms, furnace, bath, room, large yard, stable, fruit and shade trees, in desirable neighborhood, five minutes' walk from Newton station; moderate rent. Apply 102 Nonantum street. 31

PASTURE TO LET—45 acres of good pasture land situated on Washington St., Newton, near Newton Lower Falls. Rent $90 per year. Address P. O. Box 2112, Boston. 31tf

WANTED—Second hand furniture. Any par, etc., that they would like to dispose of, can find a purchaser by applying to John Flood, Nonantum Block, or at his home, corner of Centre and Pearl streets, Newton. Telephone 62-3. 31tf

FOR SALE—A Phaeton Buggy but little used; also a good second hand horse. Having no use for the above will be sold very low. H. Swallow, Concord St., Newton Lower Falls. 31tf

WANTED—An intelligent young girl would like a position as second girl or nurse girl. Address P. O. Box 521, Watertown, Mass. 31tf

WANTED—A place in a private family as coachman. Understands care of horses, carriages and lawns. Reference from last place of employment. Address "R. H.," Newton Centre, Mass., Box 101. 31tf

LOST—On Sunday, May 5, between the Baptist Church and Lake Avenue, a pair of gold watch spectacles. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning them to Mrs. Shannon, Newton Centre. 31

TO LET—The very pleasant cottage, 123 Nonantum St., Newton, seven rooms, besides bath-room, laundry and all modern improvements. Fine location, fruit trees, etc., six minutes from station. Apply on premises. 31tf

FOR SALE—Garden seeds of various sizes, also several hives of bees and patent hives. Apply to Mr. James W. Bartlett, 99 Washington street, Newton. 30tf

FOR SALE—A large quantity of clear cow manure. Apply to James Claffey, Green St. Newton. 31tf

TO LET—In Newton, near station, south side, in a private house, pleasant room or rooms. Inquire at GRAPHIC office. 30 2t

FOR SALE—An English Tricycle, in perfect order, will be sold for one third its original cost. Apply to 103 Franklin street. 30 3t

TO LET—Houses in Newtonville; 8 rooms 44 Clarendon, $15 per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 53-3. 22tf

FOR SALE—A good second hand covered buggy, Hall's make. Apply to W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 30tf

TO RENT—One half double house on Cross street, nine rooms all modern improvements. Rent, $22 per month, including water rates. Apply to E. T. Wiswall, 40 Cross street. 30tf

FOR SALE—The prettiest and fastest pony in the State, in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office. 30tf

FOR SALE—A second-hand, fifty-two inch Expert Columbia Bicycle, formerly the property of Walter G. Osgood may be seen at the house of Mr. A. F. Griffin, Highland avenue, Newtonville. 30

FOR SALE—In West Newton, the Capen estate on Elm street; house 14 rooms and bath, hot and cold water and gas, conservatory, barn lot and about 15,000 feet of land all in good order. Neighborhood first class. Will be sold very low and on easy terms if taken at once. Apply to G. G. McGowan, 101 St., Newtonville, or 15-1501 Building, Boston. 30

TO LET—Two medium sized houses, in good locality, near depot, nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, on reasonable terms. Address "Letter Carrier," Newton, Mass. 30tf

TO RENT—To sell—About 4 acres of moving land to rent as a pasture, near the village. Also a cartway for sale. Address P. O. Box 124, Newton Centre. 30

FOR SALE OR TO LET—New house, 10 room and bath, finished in natural wood all through. All modern conveniences; 10,000 feet of land; fine location on Gibbs St., Newton Centre. Apply to Frank Edmunds, Newton Centre. 30

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished rooms in a pleasant locality and near the depot. Address H. Letter carrier No. 2, Newton. 30tf

TO LET—On Washington street, a convenient house of six rooms. Apply to H. Daniels. 29

TO LET—On Old street, second house from Murray, house of 12 rooms, best of repair, hot and cold water, bath room, dry cemented cellar, new furnace, nice lawn with shade trees; four minutes walk from depot. Apply J. C. Fuller, Newtonville, J. French & Son, 101 Washington street, Boston, or R. J. McDade, Newtonville. 29 3t

WANTED—Good competent girls to take nice situations in first class families. Apply to McWain, Intelligence Office, Nickerson's Block, Newton Centre. 28

TO LET—House of 10 rooms, bathroom and furnace. Good situation, convenient to steam and horse cars. The windows and doors are all supplied with wire screens and there is a good hot water connection in the kitchen. Apply to 371 Washington street, Newton. 28

TO RENT—New house, 6 rooms, bath and furnace. All modern conveniences. Apply to T. J. Hartnett. 28

TO LET—Handsomely furnished rooms with board at 28 Newtonville Avenue. Apply to J. W. Cotton, Newtonville. 26tf

TO LET—House of 8 rooms, Webster Park, corner of Ayon Place, West One, half of double French roof dwelling, 10 rooms, best of repair. All modern conveniences. Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to G. W. Crosby, 8 Edridge Street. 26tf

FOR SALE—Retail Provision store of one hundred and fifty to two hundred customers. Apply to A. D. Hall, Newton Highlands, Mass. 12

TO LET—On Thornton, (formerly School) St., corner of Ayon Place, West One, half of double French roof dwelling, 10 rooms, best of repair. All modern conveniences. Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to G. W. Crosby, 8 Edridge Street. 26tf

Real Estate. Mortgages. Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.
OFFICES—
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

Eliot Hall, Newton, Saturday, May 25th, 1889,

A Rollicking, Jolly, Happy Go Lucky Concert

—BY THE—

Amherst Glee and Banjo Clubs.

16 Voices in the Chorus.
8 Students in the Banjo Club.

Making a grand total of 24 skilled Musicians.
New Songs, Rollicking music.

Banjo Solos. Mandolin Solos. Guitar Quartet.
Warbling, Yodling and Whistling.

Tickets, All Seats RESERVED. 75 & 50 cts

Tickets now on sale at Hubbard & Procter's, Newton; Gaudet's, Newtonville, and Wright's, West Newton.

NEWTON.

FOR SALE OR TO LET, FURNISHED.

On the Southwestern Slope of Mount Ida,
A very desirable house, built by the owner for his own use; has 12 rooms, besides laundry and bathroom, city water and gas; stable accommodation if desired, and such land as is required; the house is on high, dry land, and commands a most extensive view to the south and west. Further particulars can be obtained and plans seen by applying to ROBERT W. LORD, 10 Federal street, Boston, Room 19-34

FISH OYSTERS,
Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds
—AT—
Bunting's Fish Market.
COLE'S BLOCK.
Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Mrs. F. A. THOMSON,
MILLINERY.
Mourning orders will receive prompt attention. Hated and pressed.

CENTRE STREET, : NEWTON, MASS.
OPPOSITE BANK.

CHURCHILL & BEAN
TAILORS AND IMPORTERS,
Invite an inspection of their carefully selected

Spring Cloths

503 Washington St.
BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.
J. H. BEAN, Dorchester

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
MIDDLESEX, ss.

PROBATE COURT.
To Winfield S. Shocum, administrator of the estate of Mary L. Chickering, late of Newton, in said County, deceased, and to all persons interested in said estate:

Whereas, George J. Thomas, Thomas S. Pingree and Charles B. Lentell, all of said Newton, have presented to said court their petition representing that said Mary L. Chickering made a contract with them whereby she agreed to convey to said petitioners, in consideration of the payment of fifty dollars in hand in part payment of $97.50 the full consideration thereof, a certain parcel of land in said Newton, on the corner of Ayon Place and Thornton Street; that said Mary L. deceased before fulfilling her part of said agreement and that said petitioners ready to perform their part of said agreement and pray that said administrator be ordered to make to them a conveyance of said land according to the terms and tenor of said agreement.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be holden at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of June next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to said administrator fourteen days, at least, before said Court, and by publishing the same once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton GRAPHIC, a newspaper printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

J. H. TYLER, Register.

HAIR CUTTING
J. T. BURN'S,
Cole's Block.

With Latest Improved Hair Clippers.
We can cut hair any length or style to suit our patrons. Ladies' Misses' and Children's Hair Cutting a specialty. Ladies waiting room next door to barber shop. Razors carefully honed and concealed. Children's Sea Foam only 10 cents, one of the best in Boston for cleansing the scalp. Don't forget our Root Black for the general accommodation of the public at

JOHN T. BURN'S
Hair Dressing Rooms,
Cole's Block, over H. B. Coffin's.
Open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m., 12 Saturdays.

Charles S. Holbrook.
Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.
No. 4 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.
POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies allow est rates.

1852 ESTABLISHED 1887
HUBBARD & PROCTER,
PHARMACISTS,
Successors to

Chas. F. Rogers,
BRACKETT'S BLOCK
NEWTON, MASS.

A New Photographer in Newton!

ODIN FRITZ,
Formerly the artist with H. F. Holland and Farridge of Boston, where he was eminently successful, particularly so with the "Little Folks" wishes to inform the public that he has taken Mr. Glaze's studio, remodeled and fitted it for first-class work, and hopes for confidence and generous patronage.

Special rates to schools and classes. Open for appointments and sittings, April 6th. Respectfully,
ODIN FRITZ,
STUDIO
358 Centre St., Newton, Mass.

Eggs will settle coffee but not contravaries.—[Burlington Free Press.

May 10th, 1889.
Under the provisions of Section 7 Chapter 113 of the Public Statutes, notice is hereby given that the Board of Aldermen will, on Monday evening, May 27th, 1889, at 7:30 o'clock, at City Hall, consider the location for the tracks of the Street Railway as set forth in the petition of a majority of the Directors of the Newton Electric Street Railway Company, duly received on the 6th of May, 1889.

By order of the Board of Aldermen.
ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Clerk.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miss Mary Byers is at home again from her stay in New York.

—Mr. M. N. Boyden has returned from an outing in Vermont.

—The M. G. R. met with Miss Blanche Peirce last Friday evening.

—The removal of Captain Elliot's fence improves his attractive grounds.

—Roughness and redness of the hands prevented by using Oriental Ointment.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Bridges have returned from their trip to New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harold D. Corey entertained the whist club on Monday evening.

—Flower lovers will delight in the beautiful varieties of pansies shown at Dyer's this week.

—Miss Annie Payson Call will sail for Europe in June and spend the summer in England.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Sladen of Lowell street have recently welcomed a new stranger to their household.

—Mrs. Gertrude Harris Dickinson, who has been travelling with her husband, has returned to Newtonville.

—Mr. A. J. Wandless has rented a house which has been recently refitted and repaired, on Allston street.

—Miss Helen S. Lincoln has returned to her home in Hingham. She has been the guest of Mrs. E. M. Thayer.

—The grounds about the station are looking very beautiful and are receiving good care from the employees of the road.

—Mr. T. D. Adams of New Haven called on his old neighbors last week. Young Tom is an ardent student at Yale.

—Miss Upton and her sister, Miss Myra Upton, have returned from the South, where they have been spending the winter.

—John Payne has an added attraction in his store, an engraving, "The Village Wedding," finely executed and handsomely framed.

—Mal. G. H. Benyon, military instructor in the High school, will accompany the Massachusetts rifle team on its trip to England.

—Mrs. I. H. Houghton's house has been newly painted and is very inviting as a furnished summer home. Mrs. Houghton is residing in Cambridge.

—Mr. Wm. Vose has all the lawn-mowers in the vicinity of Edinboro street, under process of sharpening, and it is expected excellent results will follow.

—Many devotees of the national game attended the opening contest between the Boston and New York giants on the South End grounds, Wednesday afternoon.

—The third degree was conferred upon several candidates at a meeting of Dalhousie lodge, F. and M. held in Masonic hall, last evening. Numerous visitors from other lodges were entertained. A collation was served.

—The regular meeting of the Q. N. C. was held at the residence of Walter Peck, last Saturday evening. The usual social features were enjoyed and an excellent collation partaken of.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Carter, saild from New York for Falmouth last Saturday morning for Europe. They intend spending much of the summer in picturesque sections of Scotland, and in England, returning in the autumn.

—An interesting meeting of the Newton High school lyceum was held in the High school building last Saturday evening. A debate in which members of the school participated was interspersed with a very enjoyable musical program.

—The five military band playing at the Hollis street theatre in "Esmeralda," is under the direction of Mr. A. G. G. and includes members of three famous bands, namely: Gilmore's, Reeves' American and Boston Cadet bands.

—Rev. Pleasant Hunter gave an illustrated lecture Wednesday evening at the North avenue Congregational church, Cambridge, on "Pilgrim's Progress." The lecture was given for the benefit of the Monday class and was well attended.

—Rev. R. A. White spoke on "Lessons from the Life of Washington" in the Universalist church last Sunday morning. It was a very interesting and instructive resume of the scenes and events connected with Gen. Washington's military and civil career.

—The Newton Outing club is considering the project of securing proper grounds for tennis courts, and a series of games are contemplated during the summer months. The matter will be considered at a special meeting to be held in the club rooms next Tuesday evening.

—At the residence of Mrs. Ellis W. Redpath, on last week Thursday evening, the Woman's Guild met to listen to a lecture on "The Life and Character of Phidias," by Rev. Bernard Carpenter. Those familiar with his correct, eloquent and finished style anticipated a delightful hour, which was fully realized.

—The Newtonville Woman's Guild will give a concert with the children of the Adams and Clifton schools, under the direction of Mr. Walton, teacher, singing in the Newton schools, on Thursday evening, May 30th (Memorial day). There will be illustrations of the method of teaching, and singing of patriotic songs. Admission 25 cents.

—A few of the young men interested in baseball are considering the feasibility of securing enclosed grounds, although it is doubtful whether the plan will be consummated the present season. Newton ought to support a game, but the scattered population is a drawback to any plan which contemplates the equipment of a professional nine with suitable grounds for the club and its patrons.

—Albert B. Allison, formerly the organist at the Central Congregational church and one of the Newton young men who have acquired a reputation in musical circles, graduated with honors from the New England Conservatory of Music, Monday evening. He gave a recital in Sleeper hall and played some very original compositions in an artistic manner. Many Newton people were present by invitation and speak enthusiastically of Mr. Allison's playing, predicting for him a brilliant future.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Pope, Jr., celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding, last week, at their residence on Otis street. A large company of friends from Boston and the Newtons offered their congratulations upon the happy event. They were the recipients of some choice china, Royal Worcester ware and silver from the L. S. N. club and family friends, and other testimonials of appreciation and esteem. A fine collation was served and the company dispersed at a late hour with cordial wishes for their continued health and happiness.

—The amendment cup offered as a prize in the bowling contest under the auspices of the Newton club, by Mr. Samuel L. Powers was presented to the winner, Mr. C. S. Dennison, at the club-house last Saturday evening, the presentation speech being made by Mr. S. L. Powers. The cup is made of silver and the design is very pretty and appropriate. It is suitably engraved, and there was a large number of members present. The trophy to be contested for by all members will inaugurate a series of exciting contests.

—The last meeting of the Goddard Literary Union for the present season was held in the Universalist church parlors, Tuesday evening. The attendance was quite large, about 70 ladies and gentlemen being present. The social features were unusually interesting, a very enjoyable musical program being rendered. The selections by the Orpheus male quartet were finely given. The program follows: Piano solo, Miss Holt; reading of an interesting paper, Mrs. A. Wellington; song, Orpheus quartet; recitation, Mr. Lewis Hall; song, Mrs. J. B. Phipps; reading, Miss Butler; vocal duet, Messrs. Tuttle and Johnson; reading, Mr. N. B. Duxton; song, Mrs. J. B. Phipps; song, Orpheus quartet. After the musical features the evening was given up to social enjoyments. Ice cream and cake was served and the closing meeting may certainly be termed a success.

WEST NEWTON.

—Mr. J. L. Stone of Temple street has returned from his trip to Florida.

—Miss Maria Welch has returned this week from a month in Washington and New York.

—Rev. Dr. Quint of Allston will preach next Sunday morning at the Congregational church.

—Mr. Fred Barker, who is here from London, England, will return this month. He sails May 29.

—Rev. Mr. Patrick will speak next Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Newton Y. M. C. A.

—Read Mrs. J. Willard Carter's essay on "The Hospital and Women's Work." It will be found in another column.

—"Don't forget the First Parish May party which occurs in the City Hall, Saturday, May 18. It will be an interesting social event."

—Eleven were received into the membership of the Congregational church last Sabbath afternoon at the Congregational church.

—Be sure and go to the art exhibition at the Congregational church, May 22nd. Of course you are going and will take all your friends.

—The Allen school nine is unusually strong this year, and some good games with other school clubs may be expected during the present season.

—A novel sight here yesterday afternoon was a bull hitched up in an ordinary wagon driven apparently with as little trouble as a good natured horse.

—Rev. N. P. Gilman lectured before the Society of Arts in the Institute of Technology building, Boston, last evening. His subject was "Profit Sharing."

—It is rumored that four new houses are to be erected upon that portion of the estate of the late Geo. E. Allen, situated on the corner of Cherry and River streets.

—Mr. Pond, who purchased the Bolton place on Lenox street, is making alterations upon the mansion house, which he expects to occupy with his family in about 10 days.

—In court since our last issue, 20 cases have been disposed of as follows: drunks, 15; concealing leased property, 1; violation of law, 1; disturbance of the peace, 2; evading carfare, 1.

—The City Hall was lighted with electricity upon the occasion of the performance by "The Players" Wednesday and Thursday evening. The lights were installed by Mr. Miner Robinson, electrician for "The Players."

—The 70th anniversary of the Congregational Sunday School will be observed a week from next Sunday. The pastor will give an historical sermon in the morning, and the anniversary exercises will take place in the evening.

—The old Valentine house, which was recently located in nearly its original site, has undergone many alterations, and has been transformed from a substantial old mansion into a very handsome modern residence.

—The parallel rod of a freight engine gave way while the train was some little distance below the West Newton station, causing a delay to the 4.30 fast express of about 30 minutes. Station Agent Bennett stopped a spare engine on its return trip and had the disabled engine with the cars pushed up on the side track.

—Samuel Barnard reports an active inquiry as to houses to let in ward 3, and he recently made the following leases: Mrs. Atkinson's estate to Charles F. Dowse; the Atkinson cottage to John Codman, 2d; Mrs. O. C. Child's place to Theo. E. Kitchen; the Charles E. Parker's house to A. Sydney; Martial Wood's house to Albert Rhodes; Mrs. Hastings's place to F. G. Whedder; all of Boston.

—In our next issue we shall give full details of the program of the annual May festival of the First Unitarian parish of West Newton which occurs Saturday, May 18, in the City hall, from 2 to 6 p. m. This festival is always looked forward to by both children and adults with glowing anticipations which are never disappointed. Good music, games, singing and fancy dances are on the list and a general good time to all is promised. Do not fail to come.

—Mrs. Rebecca C. Hineckley died at her residence on Webster park last Saturday. The funeral was held at the residence of the widow of Edward D. Hineckley, a prominent and much respected resident of Newton. Mrs. Hineckley was a beautiful woman, possessing an excellent character and a lovely disposition, esteemed by all who knew her. The funeral took place from the late residence of the deceased, Monday. Many relatives and numerous friends attended the services. The remains were interred in the Newton cemetery.

—The annual meeting of the West Newton Women's Boarding Club will be held in the parlors of the Unitarian church, Washington street, on Wednesday, May 15. Business meeting at 4 p. m., to be followed by a supper at 5.30, at which only members are invited. At 4.45 a musical and literary entertainment will be given, under the direction of Mrs. John W. Carter, at which each member is cordially invited to bring one friend. Mrs. Kate Mead is Chairman of the committee of arrangements.

—The Baptist church have just received a letter from their pastor-elect, Rev. W. T. Burns, who has been in Texas for several months, saying that his recovery of health has been so slow that he sees no ground of hope as to his being able to take up his pastoral work before next autumn, and requesting the church to release him from his acceptance of their call. With the deepest sorrow and the greatest disappointment, the church has considered it to be the wisest course to comply with his request, and so they have reluctantly released him from the engagement. Much sympathy will be called forth for both the church and their chosen pastor by this announcement.

—The board of health met in the aldermen's room Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Frisbie submitted a report in relation to the proposed ambulance. It was voted to include Newton Lower Falls in the new contract for the removal of house offal. Mr. Petter for the committee on the house offal contract, reported recommending that a contract be made for one year instead of three years. The report was accepted and the clerk of the board was instructed to advertise for proposals. It was voted not to change the hour of meeting of the board. Voted, that the next meeting, May 21, be a field-day meeting. The agent of the board referred to the necessity of establishing a contagious ward at the Cottage Hospital and it was voted that the board suggest to the city council the advisability of erecting a suitable building on the cottage hospital grounds.

—At the residence of the groom, 559 Main street, Waltham, occurred the wedding, last Thursday evening, of Mr. Wm. H.

Young, of the well-known firm of Hammond & Young, and Miss Lucy A. Hammond, daughter of Mr. D. M. Hammond, the senior member of the firm. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. P. Blackford in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends of the contracting parties who came from the Newtons, Boston, Everett, South Boston, Roxbury, Milton and Charlestown. The bride was attired in a pretty dress of blue surah silk. There were no bridesmaids. Following the ceremony was a reception and wedding feast. No wedding trip will be taken but the young couple will receive friends at 34 School street where they have taken rooms. Thursday evenings, June 20 and 27, they will hold receptions at the home of the bride's father, on Fountain street, West Newton. Mr. and Mrs. Young were the recipients of many beautiful presents from their relatives and friends.

AUBURDALE.

—Mrs. Worcester is visiting at Mrs. Dutton's.

—Capt. B. C. Baker removed to his new office building on Wednesday.

—Mr. F. E. Whiting is having a new house built on his lot on Ash street.

—Mr. H. R. Merrill of Boston is at Woodland Park Hotel, for the summer months.

—Mr. Vincent A. Pluta has purchased a house lot opposite his residence on Kowe street.

—Mr. George Hutchinson has sold his house to Mr. Hale of Melrose street, who is to take possession of it soon.

—Mr. Fred Harvey's friends were glad to see him at Riverside hotel, N. O. P. and to know that he was not seriously injured.

—Ten young people united with the Congregational church last Sunday by profession, seven of them being the children of missionaries.

—The New England Order of Protection, a new order started here recently, enters the ranks with twenty members. It is an insurance and social order, admitting both sexes.

—Mr. Atkinson and family will leave their house next week. Mr. Dowse who has been at Woodland Park hotel has leased it for the summer. Mr. Codman has taken the new house on the Atkinson estate.

—Church of the Messiah: The little misses connected with St. Agnes Guild have been preparing to hold a series of fancy work, etc., which will take place at the residence of Mrs. Edwin R. Frost, Auburn street, corner Maple, on the 24th and 26th inst. Notice with further particulars will be given next week.

—At the adjourned parish meeting of the Church of the Messiah, held Monday, May 6, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year, viz: Charles Edward Parker, senior warden; N. F. Nye, junior warden; W. S. Himmelfarb, clerk; Markham, clerk; Vestrymen, C. Willard Carter, V. D. Baldwin, Joseph Foster, H. R. Turner, Edward Anderson, Maurice Beardsley, John W. Bird, Wm. T. Farley.

—A grand strawberry festival under the auspices of the Boston Club, N. O. P. will be given in Auburn Hall, Monday evening, May 20. Many attractions will be presented, including a lemonade stand, Rebecca at the Well, ice cream and refreshments, music and many other entertaining and enjoyable features. The proceeds will go towards the fund for the new Ivers and Pond piano.

—At the invitation of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Davidson, about sixty members of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Methodist society, gathered for their residence on Maple street, last Wednesday evening. For the entertainment of the assembled guests a number had consented to appear in costume. Mr. Davidson represented Geo. Washington; Mrs. Davidson, the Goddess of Liberty; Miss M. F. Dyer as Marguerite; Mr. A. F. Winslow as Rip Van Winkle; Mrs. A. F. Winslow as Parlia; and Miss Hattie Conway as Dolly Varden, were especially pleasing, and all were attractive and interesting. After the social entertainment, chocolate, tea and cake were served.

—The arrangements for the carnival on the Charles river June 17, under the auspices of the Boston Club, are being perfected, and it will be the most elaborate affair of the kind ever undertaken by the club. The program for the day will include a tennis tournament on the club's grounds in the forenoon, and the match promises to be one of unusual interest, as the contestants will be selected from among the strongest amateur players in this vicinity. There are three good clubs in this city and among the events to take place on the river will be a canoe race for Rob Roy boats a race for cedar rowing boats, a club race and a swimming match. In the evening the clubhouse and grounds will be brilliantly illuminated, and there will be a promenade concert, followed by dancing and social features.

LASEL NOTES.

Miss Sade Hollingsworth of Lasel Seminary, a pupil of Prof. J. W. Davis, and known as a singer at the Congregational church in Auburndale, will give a musical recital in that place on the middle of this month. She will be aided by some of the best artists of this vicinity.

Mrs. Milbank (Jennie Johnson) of Yonkers, N. Y., with her sister, has been visiting at Prof. Bagdon's.

Miss Annie Brown, Miss Sarah Pew, Miss Child and Miss Merriam have been at the school this week.

The lecture on Architecture, Friday evening, May 3, treated of the Achaean and Chaldean types, also entering upon the Grecian. The lecturer being ill, the next lecture is postponed till next week.

The members of the senior and junior classes, with the faculty, accepted the invitation of the student of the University of Boston University, and were entertained by them on Thursday evening, May 2. The evening was much enjoyed.

The large Sunday school which has been conducted by the late Rev. Dr. B. K. K. is now divided among several teachers of the school.

The dressmaking class held a very satisfactory exhibition on Friday afternoon, May 3. A dress lining was cut and fitted upon the spot, by measurements taken by the pupils.

The military drill was held upon the lawn on Saturday afternoon, making a very creditable appearance.

Dr. Kent has finished her course of physiological lectures.

Miss Talbot invited the senior class to Boston to examine certain sanitary arrangements of her house. They accepted and received an instructive object lesson.

Mrs. Aten (born Lizzie Mills of Brooklyn, N. Y., one of the pupils who entered Lasel on the very day when it was opened by Prof. Lasel in 1851, has been at the school this week. She was a pupil for four years though not a graduate. Her reminiscences of the school, its teachers and pupils in those days, are very interesting.

Mrs. Wm. T. Shepherd, who has been with a sick relative in Pennsylvania since her trip to Washington, is expected home this week.

Removed.

The London Furnishing Palace has removed from the corner of Kneeland and Washington street to 727, 729 and 731 Washington street, Boston, where they offer the largest stock of Gent's furnishing goods to be found in Boston, together with a large assortment of trunks, bags and valises. See advertisement.

HOTEL SORRENTO, SORRENTO, ME.

NEAR BAR HARBOR.

Frenchman's Bay and Mount Desert Land and Water Company.

Proprietors of this

BEAUTIFUL SUMMER RESORT.

Yachting, fishing, beautiful drives, and picturesque scenery. Extensive and fine hotel accommodations. The Cafe is unrivalled for the excellence of its cuisine. Open from June 1st to Oct. 1st.

MAGNIFICENT COTTAGE LOTS FOR SALE.

COMPANY'S OFFICES: 17 Milk street, Boston; Main Wharf, Sorrento; Main street, Bar Harbor.

Direct route to Sorrento by Boston & Maine Railroad, Eastern Division, and Boston & Bangor Steamers. The Company's Steamer "Sorrento" runs hourly during the season between Sorrento and Bar Harbor, only about 20 minutes' sail.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOTEL, GILMANTON, N. H.

Leased and controlled by Summer Residents, one of whom is JOHN L. STODDARD, the Lecturer.

Remarkably healthy location; lovely scenery; hotel entirely refurnished and enlarged; everything new, clean and comfortable; hair mattresses throughout; generous table; spring water; plenty of tennis; Pool Table and Bowling Alley; new and experienced landlord. Moderate terms. Send for circulars.

O. G. SANBORN, Manager.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

BASE BALL NOTES, AND OUTDOOR SPORTS.

The interest in base ball in this city is apparently rather tame this year and as a matter of fact the enthusiasm outside of the few devotees of the great national game has never been very thoroughly aroused. There has always been plenty of material for a strong nine and clubs have been organized that have successfully competed with the strongest amateur nines in the state. Many years ago the city boasted of the champion cricket eleven of the country, a team that repeatedly defeated the St. George eleven, the crack English team fresh from well earned laurels acquired in a country where cricket is undoubtedly the most popular outdoor sport. Many will remember the old Newtons, a crack base ball nine in which John Kent played first base, a position in which he had few if any equals in the country that at time. Many will remember also the attempt made by gentlemen to put forth a strong nine to compete for honors in the Massachusetts' league. The club was organized and was undoubtedly the strongest nine in the association, but received little support and encouragement, and was practically carried through the season by the generosity of the men who were interested in its formation. The public would go and watch the games outside of the ropes, but few persons being willing to contribute 25 cents for the privilege of seats on the grounds. The nine financially was a dismal failure, but a success in its ability to cope with the best nines in the Massachusetts' league. It could have easily won the pennant had it received the bare semblance of support. Its players have joined professional nines and many have acquired a reputation in base ball circles.

The old Newtons are catching for the Worcester's Hackets of Cambridge have played in Boston, and Walter Hackett is now with the Lowells. A. Irving Paine of Newton joined the Philadelphia this season, but was released and has returned to Newton, where he may play a local team.

There are three good clubs in this city this season of which the following gives the personnel:

Glees—J. E. Sullivan, catcher; J. F. Quiner, pitcher; J. E. Leary, 1st base; W. Probert, 2d base; J. F. Daly, 3d base; J. P. Keefe, shortstop; T. G. Goodman, left field; W. P. Fitzer, right field; J. D. Johnson, centre field. Substitutes, John Daniels, W. Hill and W. S. Fitzgerald.

West Newtons: Mallon, 2d; Kiley, c. f.; O'Donnell, rf.; Pettigrew, rf.; Duane, 3b.; Gaw, Robert, lb.; Nichols, ss.; Ryan, c.; Gaw, Richard, p.

Athletics: Dunn, c.; Cook, p.; Morehouse, lb.; Burrage, 2b.; Farrell, 3b.; Whitmore, ss.; Hobart, rf.; Lang, cf.; Sanborn, lf.; substitutes, Nally and Barker.

Besides these there are a number of amateur teams, the Hawthornes being one of the strongest. The good city fathers, aided by the village improvement societies, have arranged play grounds in one or two villages.

A meeting of the managers of the clubs will be called to consider the question of playing a series for the local championship, the winner to take the name of Newton. It is stated that the Athletics are quite well satisfied with their present name, so the contest may narrow down to the Glees and West Newtons.

F. H. Morehouse is captain for the Athletics and B. W. Hobart is manager. The club has got new suits and will play their home games on the Magnolia grounds at Newtonville. Richard Gaw will be manager of the West Newtons and J. F. Daley will continue as manager of the Glees. J. E. Sullivan will captain the Glees.

The Athletic Base Ball Club will play the Marions at Brookline, on Saturday, May 18.

A barge has been chartered, and will leave Farlow Park at 2 p. m. Any wishing to accompany the team can do so by notifying members of the club. The fare for the round trip will be thirty-five cents.

Our Tariff Reform Column.

(Boston Globe.)

Until recently, however, there has been little or no attempt to bring to the aid of the tariff agitation in this country the inspiration of verse. We notice, however, in the "tariff column" of our valued contemporary, the Newton Graphic an excellent parody on Oliver Wendell Holmes' "One Horse Shay," a parody which puts the tariff reform cause in clever if not always accurate shape.

When you get people to writing verses on any political question their cause is as good as won. We commend the Newton Tariff Reform Club for contributing to the current discussion some very good verses and much good sense.

(Boston Herald.)

The parody in the Newton Graphic on Dr. Holmes' "One Horse Shay" is exceedingly clever. As a tract on the tariff it can hardly be excelled. The Tariff Reform League should print it and send it broadcast among the voters. It bristles with truth pungently put, and there is wit enough in it to carry it alone.

MINER ROBINSON, ELECTRICIAN,

209 Washington St., Boston. Residence, West Newton

Private Residences fitted for the

Incandescent LIGHT.

Licensed by the New England Electric Exchange to do Electric Light and Power wiring of every description, also to install and operate Electric Motors, Storage Batteries, etc. Estimates furnished.

A. L. JEWELL,

Real Estate and Mortgages

ROGER'S BUILDING,

209 Washington St., Boston. 1117

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

BARBOUR & HATCH,

Insurance Agents,

FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT.

Represent the Worcester, Traders & Mechanics, Quincy, Dorchester, Merchants & Farmers, Cambridge, and other good Mutual companies, paying 70 per cent. dividend. The German-American, Providence, Washington and other first-class stock companies. They are prepared to place large or small lines upon all classes of property at lowest rates.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR. E. P. HATCH.

Office at the First National Bank, West Newton.

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton."

Boat Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

S. F. CATE,

Furnishing Undertaker,

WASHINGTON STREET,

WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 5119.

HENRY L. WHITTLESEY,

COUNSELLOR-at-LAW

39 COURT STREET, BOSTON,

Residence, 371 Cherry Street, West Newton

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1887.

West Newton, Mass.

AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.

JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate, Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, Lyman K. Putney, Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett.

Open for business daily, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., and 2 to 4 p. m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

DENTISTRY,

H. E. Johnson, D.D.S.

Ten years Practical Experience.

Office, over Ingraham's Drug Store, WEST NEWTON.

First class operating in all branches at reasonable rates.

Office Hours: 8.30 a. m. to 5.00 p. m.

NEWTONVILLE DIRECTORY

GEORGIA A. LEESON MEMORIAL.

THE NEW WOMAN'S WARD OF THE NEWTON COTTAGE HOSPITAL.

The Georgia A. Leeson memorial ward of the Newton Cottage Hospital was dedicated last Saturday afternoon with interesting ceremonies. There was quite a large and representative gathering present from various parts of the city. Mr. J. R. Leeson, vice president of the corporation, presided, and after alluding to the large number present, which he said was an indication of the interest taken by the citizens of the city generally in the hospital and its work, he pleasantly introduced Dr. E. A. Whiston, secretary of the board of trustees, who made a statement concerning the memorial and the hospital.

Three years ago, he said, the main building was dedicated, and since it had been established 281 patients had been treated. Of that number, 207 had been discharged well or relieved, 15 had been discharged as incurable, 21 had died, and 15 still remained in the hospital. When the hospital was first built, it was intended to build a woman's ward, but the trustees were careful not to run in debt. A liberal-hearted citizen, Mr. J. R. Leeson, a gentleman who had already contributed a sum toward the children's ward, communicated with the trustees, and stated that he desired to build the woman's ward in memory of his departed wife, Georgia A. Leeson, offering to give $5000 for the proposed building, and $1000 for the necessary furnishings, provided his wife's name could be associated with the ward in some suitable way. The gift was gratefully accepted, and a committee appointed to convey the thanks of the trustees to Mr. Leeson. The hospital has received generous aid from citizens, from the Ladies' Aid Society, the Newtonville Woman's Guild and other benevolent societies and individuals. Many things are needed still to make the hospital complete. We have a large tract of land (about 10 acres), and it is hoped that this beautiful hill where the present hospital buildings are now located will eventually be covered with the necessary buildings to render it a complete institution of its character.

After Dr. Whiston's remarks, prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. George W. Shaw, and the following very interesting and instructive paper on "Hospitals and Women's Work" was delivered by Mrs. C. Willard Carter.

HOSPITALS AND WOMEN'S WORK.
The hospital is the outgrowth of Christianity, both in its name and in the character of its work suggestive of its great source. Hospes—a guest; Hotel Dieu—God's guest house.
Cambyses and Solon cared for their wounded soldiers and the parents and children of such as fell in battle for their country—Rome provided at public expense by its Laes frumentarii (or grain laws) for its indigent citizens; Argos, Corinth, Athens, built halls for travellers to lodge, and through Greece and Italy the Jus hospitii (or rights of guests) and Xenia (of the Greeks (of synonymous derivation) were strictly maintained, many citizens adding to their dwellings buildings to accommodate such as needed shelter. These buildings were made sacred by dedication to Jupiter Hospitalis or his Greek counterpart, Zeus Xenodochus, Jupiter, the Caravansary of the Orient, was, in a measure, a place of refuge as well as a traveller's resting place, yet before the Christian era little corresponding to our idea of the hospital was known in any nation of the world.

Save by the Theocracy of the Jews, Man was looked upon as a creature of the state, rather than as a brother. The element of Mercy entered little into laws, government or public institutions.

The Temples of Esculapius were built near water courses and thither resorted the sick, the priest prescribing diet, fasting, baths, etc. Those who were cured sacrificed to the god, and hung tablets upon the walls of his temple, relating the story of their sicknesses and naming the remedies which had proved efficacious. Such was the custom until the fourth century.
About the year 380, Basil, Bishop of Caserea established, just outside that city's limits, a retreat for the cure or alleviation of all species of human misery; it was alluded to in the writings of Gregory of Nazianzus as "A City in miniature."
Good examples failed not of following the "work of Love [was] mighty at the last," until sweet and holy Charity made the world a different place.

From these early days Women's Work has been associated with Philanthropy. As early as the year 380, Fabiola, a wealthy Roman widow, established a hospital at Rome. The Empress Flaccilla endowed a like institution at Constantinople; both these noble ladies cared for the sick by their own personal labors.
Queen Ulragothie was instrumental in the work of founding the grand Hotel Dieu at Lyons in the year 542.

The marshalled hosts of a king were once led to victory by a simple peasant maiden, who had heard "voices" calling her to her duty: blessed are they who like Jeanne d'Arc followed the voices in their hearts and have made the world better by their word or work. Women, born to a heritage of wealth and honor, reared in luxury, surrounded by all that makes life a joy, have given all, to the life, even; and the poor and sad-hearted have forgotten their own sorrow in ministering to the needs of others—both alike have brought precious ointment and poured it forth at the Master's feet.

In speaking of women's work, particularly in this and similar lines of progress, it is interesting to note that in the year 1810, Katherine Kappe published at London, a pamphlet of considerable length, bearing date from York, England, entitled "Thoughts on the Desirableness and Utility of Ladies Visiting the female wards of Hospitals and Lunatic Asylums," in which she made, if not an eloquent at least an earnest plea, that "the debate still at issue" might result in the appointment of women upon the local visiting boards, as they had already been in the Infirmary at Leeds since the first publication of her paper in "The Pamphleteer."

Could the well-disposed and hopeful writer have lived to see this day, how gratifying to her would be the appreciation which is shown of woman's work in this special field!

Were we to choose a few out of the list of names of women who are immortalized by their care for the sick, that of Florence Nightingale stands pre-eminent from the moment that her association in the Crimean hospitals gave to them a position superior to any others.

One eminent physician says of her, "Wherever English is spoken, her book, 'Notes on Nursing' and the reforms advocated by her, have made her name like a household word; and the plan of the barrack hospital, and many other reforms have been its least result; the training schools for nurses and the 'pavilion plan' (so called) are systems which owe their best methods and results to her wise and prudent teachings and her zealous labors."

"Lo! in that house of misery
A lady with a lamp, I see
Pass through the glimmering gloom
And flit from room to room,
And slow as in a dream of bliss
The speechless sufferer turns to kiss
Her shadow as it falls
Upon the darkening walls."

On England's annals through the long
Herodotus of her speech and song
That light its rays shall cast
From portals of the past
A lady with a lamp shall stand
In the great history of the land
A noble type of good Heroic Womanhood!"

Farther and farther with each succeeding year the rays from this little lamp have shone—how can we tell to what distant lands they yet may give light?

One of the little lives is that of Dorothy Wyndlow Pattison, better known to the world by the name of Sister Dora. Margaret Lonsdale who has written a charming sketch of her life comes from Spenser these words most aptly:

"A sweet attractive kind of grace
A full assurance given by looks;
Contentment in a face
The tokens of Gospel beauty."

Sister Dora was the child of the rector of a small country parish in England. She was born in the year 1832. A very great desire to join Florence Nightingale's corps of nurses in the Crimea possessed her, but her father was so rigidly opposed to her so doing that she felt obliged to yield a reluctant acquiescence to his wishes, though her disappointment was extreme. In 1861, she connected herself with the Society of the Good Samaritan, being for three following years schoolmistress at Little Wootton. The Cottage Hospital at Walsall was put under her charge in 1867, and so wide was the influence and so pure the example of her labors that, on her death, we thank God and take courage in reading what her biographers relate. Where there is a sweeter tribute in poets' verse than the words of the poor little dying child, "When you come to Heaven, Sister, I'll meet you at the gates with a bunch of flowers."
One who knew her says: "Should we be tempted some day to despond of humanity, we will think of her: should we be shaken in some dark hour concerning the possibilities of Christianity, her image will reassure us; we can point to her as one who possessed at least a fulness of joyous life beyond all we have ever known."

Mary Lovell Pickard (afterward Mrs. Ware) was American by birth, English by descent. We are familiar with her story of her heroic care of the sick in the fever-stricken town of Osmotherly, so gratefully related by Miss Yonge in her "Treasury of Golden Deeds" and by Miss Martineau in "The sickness and health of the people of Bleaburn."

Side by side with these lines of work come the labors of Mary Wortley Montagu, beauty, heiress, and general, bravely advancing her theories, and offering her own child as the subject of experiment in inoculation for the prevention of the dreadful scourge, small pox; the great charities and beneficent gifts of the Lady Burdett-Goutts; and the generous practical work of Miss Octavia Hill among the wretched poor in the city of London. We have surely no example of a more faithful steward of God's bounties than she has proven herself. Said a wise man, "Set thyself to do good, and thou shalt have sweet moments and long hours; nevertheless thou must do good to thy neighbor, or thou art not worthy God's gifts."

Her modest writings tell the story succinctly, and prove that she has wrought out a problem far reaching in its results and its applications. One writer in managing upon her pamphlet, "The management of a London Court," remarks: "Another laborer, in this field of new and enlightened philanthropy, is worthy to stand by the side of the lamented Edward Denison. If he has shown what man can do in such a cause, Octavia Hill has vindicated the power of the woman."

But a few years ago and in time of the Rebellion, our fathers were called into the service of their country; a few years to come, and the last "camp fire" will have been held, for the ranks are thinning fast and one by one the grand veterans of the late war are passing away. With the record of their dearly purchased victories, and their weary years of service, is that Roll of Honor, our patriotic women, who counted no privation too great and no toil too hard, in that service. Need I speak the names of Rebecca Pomroy, Mary A. Livermore, of Dorothea Dix, Louisa M. Alcott, Clara Barton, or others less known to the world but as faithful soldiers as any faced the fire of the enemy?

A very interesting little volume picturing those stirring times is "Hospital Days," by Miss Jane Sewall Woolsey. This was not a published book, but by request of Miss Woolsey's friends, a few extra copies were printed for gifts to some of our public libraries.
Miss Jane and her sister Georgiana returned from a visit in Europe purposely to devote themselves to the needs of the Army Hospitals. Their work was at Fairfax Seminary, Virginia, under Major David Paige Smith—their care for a number varying from twelve to seventeen hundred patients. Their head assistant and counsellor, Theresa Bragg, died in service in one of the hospitals in Boston, 1867. Miss Woolsey says:

"Was the system of women-nurses in the hospitals a failure? There never was any system. That the presence of hundreds of individual women as nurses in hospitals was neither an intrusion nor a blunder let the multitude of their unparalyzed labors and achievements testify."
Hospital nurses were of all sorts and came from various sources of supply. Volunteers paid or unpaid; wives and sisters who had come to see their friends and remained with out any clear commission or duties; women assigned by the general superintendent of nurses, etc. Yet a great and harmonious cooperation was brought about and our women's work was a work of which we shall not be ashamed to tell our children's children."

In the Night's silence go forth and gaze into the depths of the illuminated heavens; wherever the eye can follow, the firmament is

"all glimmering and panting with stars," they glimmer faintly; they shine with calm radiance; they blaze with splendor indescribable. Behind and beyond the fields of star dust which science teaches us are made not of the infinitesimal sparks, but each is a star! So are the many pure and unselfish lives that we shall never know as they are until the last day when the jewels are "made up." We are frequently reminded—perhaps we too often allow our feelings to be embittered by the thought that this is but a work-a-day world in which we abide, that no one is missed and good deeds too soon forgotten. Yet it is good when the brave are remembered and grateful hearts do honor to those they love in fitting memorials to "Keep [their] memory green."

Beautiful it is to enter "God's Acre" where the dead are at rest from their labors and mark the tributes that love and gratitude have chosen, "to deck the turf that wraps their clay." Yet far better is it when by the grace of God, it enters into the grief-stricken heart to make the memorial a blessing, and create a resting-place for the wayside for weary travelers. All the splendors of

"Storied urn or painted bust" cannot speak to the heart as shall the walls of such a home as this when, in years to come, many shall have brought their offerings and here engraven their memorial inscriptions. Many a weary sufferer sojourning here, shall bless the sainted lady in whose name and in memory of whose gentle life we opened today these sheltering halls, and children shall be told of the dear little girl at rest with her in Paradise, whose memorial has helped to give them a place of refreshment and healing.

More eloquent words than any I could command have been spoken of one who is named here but in loving memory of his kindly acts; in all the relations of life an upright man, always most tenderly recalled in connection with this institution. Whatever names are hereafter associated with it, it is always a memorial of Royal M. Purcell, whose benevolence has helped to establish the Beautiful Gate at which the sick may receive blessing, Elizabeth Trull Eldridge; may she "late to Heaven return!"

May the time come that may see these saddened halls become a place of stiller shelter for all who need their protection, and may they be a type of that "Large upper chamber whose name was PEACE!"

After the paper had been read by Mrs. Carter, the chairman introduced Dr. Henry M. Field of this city, who delivered a paper on "The Hospital in Ancient and Modern Times." The following abstract of his valuable paper will be read with interest:

THE HOSPITAL AND CHRISTIANITY.

The Hospital an essential product of Christianity as indicated by brief survey of the history of the institution.

Such was the proposition which Dr. Field endeavored to illustrate in the address prepared for, (but of which only a portion was delivered before) the audience gathered at the dedication of the Leeson Memorial Hospital, on Saturday last.

The address is so timely and so pertinent to the advantage of any one, whether present at the dedication or not, who may wish to read the paper in its entirety, that, after publication, a copy may be obtained either from Mr. Leeson, the Hospital, or the Author. The address is soon to be published, and we may say for the advantage of any one, whether present at the dedication or not, who may wish to read the paper in its entirety, that, after publication, a copy may be obtained either from Mr. Leeson, the Hospital, or the Author.

Meantime Dr. Field, upon request, has furnished us with the following brief digest of his paper.
The Hospital, or anything answering to it, seems to have been wholly unknown among the Egyptians, and probably also among the Babylonians, in respect of the people first mentioned, and in consideration of their extraordinary advance both in the science and the art of medicine, along certain lines, such negative assertion must be regarded as remarkable. Among the Israelites, too, no mention is made of the Hospital, and in their continuance as a distinct and independent nation, there does not appear to have existed any institution devoted to the public benevolence of the sick. But with the Buddhists, full 200 years before our era, hospitals were established by the state, and to an extent by private provision, and their administration directed. In one particular, the latter people anticipated by quite 2000 years the most advanced beneficence of Christianity, for in their asylums, not alone the sicknesses of man but of animals received medical care.

The prototype of the modern hospital was more nearly realized among the ancient Greeks than elsewhere—and also by the Romans who, later, adopted the Greek idea. Galen speaks of an Aesculapian temple (hospital), which was selected as the sites for the institutions which we recognize as hospitals are many and striking. 1st. The situation for the Greek hospital was sought out with especial reference to salubrity of air and favorable sanitary conditions. 2nd. Both mineral and thermal springs were selected as sites for the institutions devoted to the care of the sick. 3rd. The hospital temple had its associated outbuildings devoted to the care of more chronic cases, and also fitted up for the application of baths, the use of gymnastic exercises, etc. 4th. It also had its medical service; its records were preserved upon tables of metal; such facilities, afforded by the temple at Cos, were a prominent element in the education of Hippocrates who, even to this day, is regarded "the Father of Medicine."

But such and other points of resemblance as might be multiplied, are after all, chiefly of an extrinsic and external character. The author showed by various quotations, chiefly from the works of Plato, that the spirit of this early age was hostile to the evolution and support of any such institution as that which would to-day be recognized as a hospital. The Greek philosopher argues, in many places, that it was a crime against the gods for the physician to attempt to prolong a life once regarded as unprofitable to the state, and a refutation of the common belief that Aesculapian was struck by lightning for such professional interference in behalf of a rich man, sick of a grave disease, simply because, in Plato's view, it was impossible that the "divine physician" should be guilty of such impiety.

It was only after the coming of Christ and the dissemination of the principles of His religion that the true hospital became possible. The development of the institution was rapidly sketched from the time of St. Jerome (circa 390 A. D., in whose writings the word hospital in its present sense first appears) up to the present day. Such progressive growth has been slow and difficult; it was only 100 years ago that the sanitary condition of the Paris hospitals was so bad that one third of all the deaths in that city were located in hospitals. Indeed it was but 20 years ago that Sir James Simpson inaugurated the great reform, which was a revolution as well, and which, almost for the first time throughout its history, enabled the hospital to accomplish the purpose of its foundation,—viz., to save life and not destroy.

The essay closed with an emphatic recognition of the two prominent blessings secured by Mr. Leeson's bounty; the blessing which must continually be brought into the life of the benevolent giver being hardly less real and obvious than that which must accrue to the sick and unfortunate poor for whose help the foundation was established. A significant lesson also is taught by charity so wisely directed; and it was believed that others who had enjoyed an equal prosperity and upon whom is laid a like responsibility, must heed the example and emulate the munificence displayed in Mr. Leeson's noble gift.

Among those present at the exercises were many ladies and gentlemen interested in charitable and benevolent work. The clergy and both schools of medicine were well represented. Mr. William B. Rice of Quincy, who has deeded a tract of land to this city upon which a cottage hospital, similar to the Newton institution, will be built, was among those present.

The new ward is termed the west wing of the hospital, and it cost, with the furnishings, over $6000. It contains 10 beds and three private rooms, and the women's ward is an airy apartment, well lighted and ventilated. Over the mantel in a handsome frame is a crayon portrait of Mrs. Leeson and her child. A broad veranda may be entered from this room, affording a pleasant place for convalescing patients. The building itself is in three parts, the central portion containing the parlor, office, dining room, children's ward and nurse's room, and the east and west wings, used respectively as the men's and women's wards. The expense per annum of running the hospital is about $8000, and about 100 patients have been treated each year since its establishment.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Arthur Hudson's drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Nobody Knows

What I suffered for years with those terrible headaches. I was told by a friend to try Sulphur Bitters, for they cured me.—Clara Belle.

Miss Sinsere—You say you are at work on a book? Mr. Careful—Yes. Miss Sinsere—How delightful literary work must be. What is the name of the book? Mr. Careful—The City Directory.—[Chicago Journal.]

100 Ladies Wanted.
and 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane, in the Rocky Mountains. For all cases of the blood; liver, and kidneys; it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Large-size package, 50 cents. At all druggists'. 30 ly

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Arthur Hudson.

For All Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s, Cough Cure. It cures thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

SULPHUR BITTERS
THE GREAT
German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spelled, BILIOUS BITTERS will cure you.
Do you suffer with indigestion, flatulence, or a feeling of fullness? If so, use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you.
Operatives who are closely confined in the mills and workshops, and who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are afflicted with BILIOUS BITTERS. They will cure Liver Complaint, Biliousness, and all the ailments which result from a disordered stomach. If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other ailments, use SULPHUR BITTERS. It never fails to cure.
Do not be without a bottle. Try it, and you will not regret it.
Ladies in delicate health, who are allers to-night, and who should use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will make your blood pure, and your flesh hard.

Cleanse the vitiated blood when you see its impurities burst out through the skin in Pimples, Bores, and Sores. Rely on SULPHUR BITTERS, and health will follow.
SULPHUR BITTERS will cure Liver Complaint, Biliousness, and all the ailments which result from a disordered stomach. If you do not wish to suffer from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, or other ailments, use SULPHUR BITTERS. It never fails to cure.
Do not be without a bottle. Try it, and you will not regret it.
Ladies in delicate health, who are allers to-night, and who should use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will make your blood pure, and your flesh hard.

Do you want the best Malted Food published? Send 2-cent stamps to A. P. ORDWAY & CO., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy, free.

Get Your Lunch at
Fred M. Phillips' DINING ROOMS,
16 North Market St.,
And 16 Clinton Street, Boston.

Western Farm Mortgage Trust COMPANY.
CAPITAL PAID IN OVER $1,000,000.

7% SAFE Investments.
Mortgages from $200 up. Principal and Interest guaranteed.

6 Per Cent. Ten Year Gold Debenture Bonds. 7 Per Cent. Six Year Gold Debenture Bonds.
Over 2000 satisfied investors, composed of Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees, Guardians, and Private Investors.
Over $12,000,000 invested without loss or delay in payments.
F. B. ROGERS, Manager,
33 Congress St., Boston.
Send or call for information. 29 t

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is a peculiar medicine, and is carefully prepared by competent pharmacists. The combination and proportion of Sarsaparilla, Dulceton, Mandrake, Yellow Dock, and other remedial agents is exclusively peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, giving it strength and curative power superior to other preparations. A trial will convince you of its great medicinal value. Hood's Sarsaparilla creates and sharpens the appetite, stimulates the digestion, and gives strength to every organ of the body. It cures the most severe cases of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Boils, Pimples, and all other affections caused by impure blood, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Headache, Kidney and Liver Complaints, Catarrh, Rheumatism, and that extreme tired feeling.

Purifies the Blood

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has helped me more for catarrh and impure blood than anything else I ever used." A. BALL, Syracuse, N. Y.

Creates an Appetite

"I used Hood's Sarsaparilla to cleanse my blood and tone up my system. It gave me a good appetite and seemed to build me over." E. M. HALE, Lima, Ohio.

"I took Hood's Sarsaparilla for cancerous humor, and it began to act unlike anything else. It cured the humor, and seemed to tone up the whole body and give me new life." J. F. NIXON, Cambridgeport, Mass. Send for book giving statements of cures.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Sold by all druggists. $1; six for $5. Prepared only by C. I. HOOD & CO., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

100 Doses One Dollar

KASKINE

THE NEW QUININE.
No Bad Effect
No Headache
No Nausea
No Ringing Bars
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, Nervous Prostration.

THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine. Mr. Lode Hornbeck, of the U. S. Ship Kearsarge, writes that he meets people almost daily who have used or are using Kaskine, and who affirm from experience that it is superior to quinine in tonic and curative properties, and produces no subsequent bad effects.
Mr. John C. Scarborough, Selma, N. C., writes: "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a dozen years suffered from its debilitating effects. I was terribly run down when I heard of Kaskine. I got a bottle, and it helped me once. I gained 35 pounds."
Kaskine can be taken without any special medicinal advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO., 168 Duane St., New York.

ACHING Sides AND Back

Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Rheumatic Pains, Sciatic, Neuralgic and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute.

Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all druggists.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s, Cough Cure. It cures thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

FARMS BEST Soil Climate and Location

WANTED—Agents for our new book "Prominent Men and Women of the Day," containing interesting sketches of the most notable persons now living. Its 350 fine portraits help Agents wonderfully. Park Pub. Co., Hartford, Conn.

BERRY BASKETS AND CRATES

at lowest prices. Address GAGE & Son, Wetherfield, Conn.

WANTED SALESMAN

Men to take orders for Nursery Stock, on Salary or Commission. I can make a successful SALESMAN of any one who will work and follow my instructions. Will furnish handsome outfit free, and pay your salary or commission every week. Write for terms at once.

E. O. GRAHAM, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y.

PILENNium.

Why suffer from PILES when you can get this horrible disease cured by the never failing remedy HAIR'S PILLENium. Price 50 cents. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials. Ask your druggist for it. MAKE him get it for you if he hasn't it in stock. CARTER, CARTER & KILHAM, Wholesale Agents, Boston, Mass.

TAKE NO OTHER.

PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM
Gives color and beauty to the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair. Prevents Dandruff and itching scalp. 50c and $1.00 at Druggists.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.
EPPS'S COCOA
GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

HIMROD'S CURE for ASTHMA
Catarrh, Hay Fever, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Croup and Common Colds.

Recommended by Physicians and sold by Druggists throughout the world. Send Free Sample.

HIMROD MANUF'G CO.,
SOLE PROPRIETORS,
191 FULTON ST., NEW YORK.

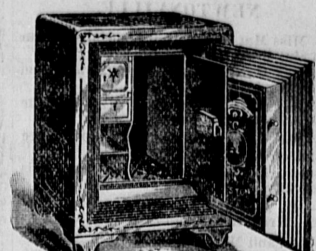

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH PENNYROYAL PILLS
RED CROSS DIAMOND BRAND
Original, best, only genuine and reliable pill for sale. Never Fails to Cure. Diamond Brand, in red seal. Its Waterbury and Boston Falls branch traverses the great "WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT" of Northern Iowa, Southwestern Minnesota and East Central Dakota.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kanabake offers facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office, or address E. ST. JOHN, E. A. HOLBROOK,
Gen'l Manager, Gen'l Ticket & Pass. Agt.
CHICAGO, ILL.

HINDERCORN'S
The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Embraces comfort to the foot. Loc. at Druggists. HINDERCORN & CO., N. Y.

ABE CONSUMPTIVE
PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all life arising from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c and $1.00.

E. C. MORRIS & CO'S SAFES

ALWAYS PRESERVE THEIR CONTENTS.
Read from the Great Marblehead, Mass. fire.

Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & CO.,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, This is to certify that I have been using a No. 6 E. C. Morris & Co's safe in my store, and that in the most terrible fire this town has ever known on the night of the 25th inst. the safe was subjected to very intense heat for 36 hours, and upon its being opened, to my surprise, found its contents in perfect condition, with the exception of the leather on one book which was against the wall of the safe, while the writing on every leaf was as clear as a legible when it was put in. I also found Machine Twist, Needles, Papers, etc., in good, clear condition. In case I rebuild I shall feel that I can do no better than to use again what has served me well in this fire. In our fire of 1887 I had a safe of another make, the contents of which came out in very good shape but not as well as this one, although that fire was not as bad as this one.

You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit, and should take pleasure in showing the books, etc., to any one who would like to see them.

Respectfully Yours,
[Sgn.] HENRY O. SYMONDS.
P. S. Dec. 28,—I have this day purchased another of same size, having been satisfied with the other.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2, 1889.
Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co.,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, On Aug. 9th, 1887, we had one of your large make of safes in our Wolfboro, N. H. factory, which went through a very hot fire and stood the test. Again on Dec. 25, 1888, in the Marblehead conflagration another of your make stood the test and all its contents found in good condition, even a gross of matches.

Under the circumstances we can safely recommend your make to all.

Yours truly,
[Sgn.] F. W. & I. M. Monroe.
Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 28, 1889.
Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co.,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, On opening our safe which we purchased from you some time since, we found everything in perfect condition. The situation of our safe caused it to be exposed to intense heat for a number of hours.

As soon as we are ready to purchase we will call and select another of your make.

Yours,
J. M. Cropley & Bros.
Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 28, 1889.
Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co.,
Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, On opening our safe which we purchased from you some time since, we found everything in perfect condition. The situation of our safe caused it to be exposed to intense heat for a number of hours.

As soon as we are ready to purchase

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 32.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1889.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR

LADIES' FASHIONABLE GARMENTS

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.

JACKETS, SHORT WRAPS, CARRIAGE WRAPS, LONG TRAVELLING WRAPS, BEADED SHOULDER CAPES, JERSEY WAISTS, SILK WAISTS, CHILDREN'S GARMENTS, Etc.

A Large Stock of Garments for Railway and Ocean Travel.

Springer Brothers

EXCLUSIVE CLOAK STORES,

50 Essex Street, cor. Chauncey | 500 Washington, cor. Bedford.

HEADQUARTERS FOR LADIES' OUTSIDE GARMENTS.

182 to 188 TREMONT ST., and 37 BOYLSTON, Masonic Temple, Boston, Spring, 1889.

H. M. GREENOUGH,

IMPORTER AND DEALER IN

Carpeting, Paper Hangings

Fine Furniture,

Draperies, Window Shades, Ranges and

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS in endless variety.

Special designs for Art Furniture and rich interior decoration furnished on application and careful estimates given when desired.

TO THE PUBLIC.

I have been located here over three years and have no other Laundry in Newton. Those who wish to have any laundry work done, please remember the name and place. We will guarantee to give satisfaction and return all work at short notice.

Shirts, each, 10 cts.; collars, 2 cts.; cuffs, each, 2 cts. Also very lowest prices will be charged for all kinds of work. Please give us a trial.

FIRST-CLASS CHINESE LAUNDRY,

French's Block, No. 330 Centre St., opp. Savings Bank, Newton.

FANK SHINN, Proprietor.

Thomas White

16 Essex Street, First Store from Washington Street, BOSTON.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS,

Low expenses enable us to sell strictly first-class Goods at very low prices.

23 yrs CALL AND SEE US.

BUTTER.

We have taken the agency for the celebrated Turner Centre Creamery formerly controlled by W. B. Beal, put up in half pound prints. Delivered to customers day of arrival.

He who tries it, Buys it.

Gamaliel P. Atkins,

GROCER, 273 and 275 Washington Street, Newton. Telephone, No. 1304.

RICHARD ROWE,

Insurance Agency, No. 2 Mason Building, WATER STREET, BOSTON. P. O. Box 304, Newtonville.

BIT OF HISTORY.

A cute young queen, as I've heard tell, Was Mrs. Ferdie Isabelle. She fitted out Columbus well To search for Bradshaw's Caramel. (Postscript by E. B.) Columbus found my Caramel And bought 1 lb. (40 cts.) for Ferdie Belle.

A NEW DEPARTURE.

The First Exclusive Retail Bedding Store in New England.

BRASS BEDSTEADS!

Iron Bedsteads, Hair Mattresses, Live Geese Feathers, Imperial Spring Couches, Putnam Spring Beds and Cots.

Specialties in—Infant's and Invalid's Beds, Luxuriously Upholstered Springs, Sineas Mattresses and Pillows, Down Quilts and Pillows.

Fine bedding of every description Our facilities for renovating and remaking are greatly improved, and we can give you better work than ever.

PUTNAM & CO., 8 & 10 Beach Street, BOSTON. ESTABLISHED 1849.

Grand Concert! Grand Concert! Grand Concert! Grand Concert!

AMHERST CLEE AMHERST CLEE AMHERST CLEE AMHERST CLEE

BANJO CLUBS BANJO CLUBS BANJO CLUBS BANJO CLUBS

ELIOT HALL, May 25 AT 7.45 P. M. ELIOT HALL, May 25 AT 7.45 P. M. ELIOT HALL, May 25 AT 7.45 P. M. ELIOT HALL, May 25 AT 7.45 P. M.

Tickets, 75c. and 50c.

Tickets now on sale at HUBBARD & PROCTOR'S, Newton, GAUDELET'S, Newtonville, WRIGHT'S, West Newton, BRUSH'S, Auburndale, NOBLE'S, Newton Centre.

U. G. McQUEEN,

Carpenter and Builder,

Washington St. near B. & A. R. R. Crossing,

Orders received through P. O. Box 716. All orders promptly executed in a first-class style.

Cabinet Work of all kinds a Specialty.

Special Notice!

THE LONDON FURNISHING PALACE

Having occupied the store cor. Washington and Rueland Streets for the last 15 years

Opposite Cobb, Aldrich & Co.

We now have a larger store and keep the largest stock of Gent's Furnishings in Boston.

Our stock consists of a complete line of

Gent's Dress Shirts, Flannel Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckwear, Hats and Caps, Overalls, Jumpers, Coats, Workmen's Shirts, Etc.

Large stock of TRUNKS, BAGS and VALISES.

The London Furnishing Palace, 727, 729 and 731 Washington St., BOSTON.

CLARA D. REED, M. D. RESIDENCE AND OFFICE, Centre Street, opposite Vernon, Newton. Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

LADIES' Stock Exchange.

FOR TEN DOLLARS you can buy or sell

ten shares of any New York stock on margin, larger amounts in proportion, profits unlimited, losses limited.

BONNER, MANES & CO., 43 Winter Street, Boston. Room 3. 171v

NEWTON.

For cheap shirts or dress shirts, see E. B. Blackwell's advertisement.

Mr. Arthur Page, now of New York City, is visiting his parents this week.

The Newton City band has been engaged by Charles Ward Post for Memorial day.

Miss Hattie Canfield leaves for St. Louis, Monday, May 20th, to be gone a year.

The prize drill of the Newton High School Battalion, will take place Saturday June 2nd.

Miss Duval from Philadelphia is visiting her sister Mrs. Charles C. Allen of Waverley avenue.

Tickets for the Amherst College Glee club concert, May 25, may be obtained at Hubbard & Procter's.

Wellington Howes will put on a new fish and oyster wagon next week, owing to the increase of his business.

Now is the time to have your furnace cleaned, and by leaving an order with J. S. Sumner the work will be done satisfactorily.

Mr. J. J. Johnson has a magnificent display of bedding plants at his Thornton street conservatory, and is prepared to fill all orders.

James Elliot, while working for Mr. Johnson of St. James street, cut off the end of his thumb while cutting wood, Thursday afternoon.

No tickets will be needed for admission to the Sunday school celebration in Grace church at 4 p. m. May 30. The seats are free to all.

E. P. Burnham makes a specialty of boys' safety bicycles and tricycles, and sells them at Boston prices. Give him a call at 25 Park street.

Mr. J. T. Allen has sold two new house lots on Temple street extension for 10 and 12-1/2 cents per foot respectively. The purchasers will build at once.

The Social Science club were entertained at lunch at the residence of Mrs. Sawyer, Chestnut Hill, Wednesday. A paper on political economy was read.

Dr. J. W. Bartlett will soon move from his present residence on Brighton Hill, and he therefore offers for sale a variety of garden seats, bees, and patent bee hives.

Miss Anna R. Celine, the former contralto of the Channing church quartet, has been engaged by the First Universalist church of Roxbury, at a very liberal salary.

Rev. T. S. Samson of Buffalo, formerly pastor of the Baptist church, was among ministers present at the exercises of the Newton Theological Institution, Tuesday afternoon.

The Channing Sunday school will have their May festival at Armory hall, Saturday afternoon and evening. A minuet and a tambourine dance will be some of the special features.

Many in Newton have had pleasant fare while boarding with Mrs. Nutting. She is to open a house for the season at Kneeland street, No. 10. Those who go there will be well treated.

The Amherst Glee and Banjo clubs will give one of their popular concerts at Eliot Hall, Saturday evening, May 25th. The tickets are now on sale, and the concert is sure to be a very enjoyable one.

It is arranged that persons who do not have tickets for the choir festival, can be admitted at 10.50 a. m. and 3.30 p. m. so far as the capacity of the building will allow.

The Episcopal convention, composed of all the parishes and missions in this state, holds its annual session next Wednesday morning, in Trinity church, Boston. Rev. Dr. Arcey will be the preacher. The service begins at 9.30.

Mr. Burnett has been re-engaged as the tenor of the Channing church quartet. He is such an excellent singer that it would be very difficult to fill his place satisfactorily and his many friends in Newton will be glad to hear that he is to remain here.

The 13th annual Festival of the parish choir will be held at Grace church, next Tuesday from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. As the attendance will be so large, admission will be by tickets, which can be obtained from members of the vestry.

The first society of the Eliot Sewing Society and June festival of the Eliot Sunday school will be held in the new meeting-house chapel, Thursday evening, June 13. A bountiful collation will be served and a musical entertainment will be provided for the children.

Rev. Mr. McKeown will preach at the Methodist church on Sunday morning, at 10.45, on the subject, "Christ's Poverty to make us rich." Rev. Dr. Gould will address the Christian Endeavor society at 6.45 p. m. and the pastor will preach at 7.30 on "Differences of character not clearly seen in this life."

The merchants about the corner are troubled by some one stealing the porcelain letters which have been cemented on their windows. Tuesday afternoon, a dozen letters have been taken from a shop, and other stores have lost from one to a half dozen. The police are on the look-out for the thieves.

The Newton City band has presented its band leader, Mr. L. C. Gardner, with a very handsome and valuable cornet, made by the Boston Musical company. The presentation took place at the band's rooms recently, Mr. Charles A. Stuart making the speech, and Mr. Gardner responding in well-chosen words.

In the police court, since our last issue, 32 cases have been disposed of as follows: Drunks, 6; violation city ordinances, 4; destroying public property, 3; violation of the Lord's day, 2; disturbance of the peace, 11; assault and battery, 4; stubborn child, 1; dipomania, 1.

Mrs. J. B. Hills has given up her house on Eldridge street and is visiting her daughter at Ashmont for the present. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Conkey are visiting friends in Newtonville for two weeks, and will then go to Clifton Heights, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

Mrs. E. C. Fitch gave an afternoon tea, Tuesday, from 4 to 7, at her residence on Sargent street. About 500 were present and music was furnished by the Boston Ideal Mandolin and Guitar Club, whose concert at the Newton Club house, some weeks ago, was such a brilliant musical affair.

A peculiar and serious accident occurred Monday by which John Rotchford, a carpenter who lives on Adams street, lost the sight of one eye. A nail which had been struck with a glancing blow from a hammer flew up and punctured the eye ball and the sight was destroyed. Rotchford was taken to the Massachusetts General hospital.

The estate of the late George E. Allen will be sold at public auction, Monday, June 3, at 4.30 p. m. The estate consists of three desirable building lots and the dwelling house and stable with 11,355 feet of land. It is a good opportunity to secure a home at a moderate cost, or a desirable lot on which to build.

The Methodist church gave Dr. McKeown and his family a royal welcome last Thursday evening in a numerous attended reception, that filled the large parsonage. The young people were present in force, and the refreshments and cordial greetings filled a most enjoyable evening. Dr. McKeown's appointment to this charge gives great satisfaction.

The Chataqua Circle met at Mr. Frank Bacon's house last week, the program being under the direction of the ladies of the association. A humorous essay upon men was read and the dramatic sketch, "Seven Times Seven" was enacted. Musical features and a shadow pantomime were among the numerous attractions of the evening. There was a large number of members present.

The Watertown Enterprise says: "The Board of Aldermen of Newton will probably give the decision next Monday on the petition of the Newton Street Railway, and it is hoped that it will be in their favor, even if the Boston Albany R. R. Co. and a number of wealthy citizens, some of whom are interested in the storage battery system, are opposed to granting the company a location."

The anniversary exercises of the Young Ladies' Goodwill Association, occur next Monday evening, May 20, at a quarter to 8 o'clock. Those who have attended the annual meeting of the association have all been greatly interested, and highly pleased with the entertainment, which consists of music, recitations, and reports of their work. The entertainment is free, held in Goodwill Hall, up one flight, in Bacon's Block.

The arrangements for Memorial Day are about completed. There will be no oration at the cemetery this year, but the most will attend memorial services in the Grace church, Sunday, May 26th, at 7.30 p. m., and in the Baptist church, Newton Centre, Sunday, June 2nd, at 7 p. m. The route of procession for Memorial Day has been changed from last year and it is now proposed to break ranks after the march at West Newton. Full particulars will be announced in our next issue.

Mr. L. D. Whittemore, jr., the jeweller in Brackett's block, fell from his bicycle on Church street and received quite severe scalp and face wounds, Wednesday. He was carried into Mr. Howes' house, where his wounds were dressed and then taken home. Mr. Whittemore is such a skillful rider that the accident must have been caused by a sudden faintness, and he was unconscious after the fall. His injuries are, fortunately, not considered serious and he expects to be at his store as usual in a day or two.

The next "Field Day" of the Newton Natural History Society will take place Saturday afternoon, May 18th. Should that day prove stormy the excursion will be postponed to the next Saturday, May 19th. The party will take the 1 p. m. train from Boston and leave the cars at Eliot station and walk to the ravine on the south side of the Charles river, a half mile. Those from the north side of Newton will meet the other party there about two o'clock. The society extends a cordial invitation to all who wish to join in this outing.

The board of health has sent a communication to the city council relative to the proposed securing a building for the care of contagious diseases, and suggesting the erection of a suitable structure on the grounds of the Cottage Hospital. The trustees of the hospital are willing that a building should be located on the hospital grounds if the city will provide for the expense of its construction. The communication was referred to the finance committee, and it is probable that it will report favorably. The building is a necessity, as there is no place in the city where patients afflicted with contagious diseases can be properly cared for.

Eliot Church Dedication.

The program for the dedication of Eliot church has been arranged. On Monday evening, May 27th, the building will be opened for the first time with an organ concert. It is hoped to have the organ completed by that time, and from present indications there is but little doubt of it. Tuesday afternoon there will be an organ recital with organ music at intervals of half an hour. This will give the members an opportunity to sit in different parts of the building and decide upon the best place for themselves. It will also judge of the acoustic properties of the audience room. Tuesday evening there will be the sale of pews, and the sale will be adjourned to Wednesday evening, if necessary. Thursday evening the dedicatory exercises will be held, and will consist of an address by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Calkins; the report of the chairman of the building committee, Mr. Chas. E. Billings; and brief addresses from former pastors. It is expected that all of the latter who are living will be present. The program in detail will be announced later.

Instantly Killed.

John Burns, a son of John Burns, 14 years of age, residing at Nonantum, was riding on a freight train on the Boston & Albany railroad near Brackett's coal yard in Newton, Tuesday afternoon, and jumped off the cars in front of the 6 o'clock inward express train, and was killed instantly. His head was crushed, one leg cut badly and the other limb somewhat mutilated. Medical Examiner Meade was notified, and viewed the remains, which were subsequently taken to the home of the deceased. Burns and another boy had been riding on the cars, and, it is said, were in the habit of doing so. The sad termination of a young life should be a warning to boys who foolishly jump on or off moving trains.

Letter from Col. Bancroft.

Captain Applin has received the following complimentary letter from Col. Bancroft: Headquarters 5th Regt. Infantry, Second Brigade, M. V. M., Boston, May 6, 1889. Captain George C. Applin, Co. C.—Convey to your company my sincere appreciation of their behavior in the New York detail. I congratulate the company and yourself—each upon the possession of the other. While we have now good officers in the regiment, it does not occur to me that any company has two better lieutenants. Very respectfully, WILLIAM A. BANCROFT, Colonel.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting last Sunday was led by the Rev. H. J. Patrick of West Newton, who took for his subject "The Young Ruler." He thought, a very appropriate theme for a Y. M. C. A. meeting. He spoke at length on the attainments of the young man; he had riches, honor, position, influence, everything seemingly that a young man could desire, but he lacked one thing. He then earnestly besought all present to examine their lives and see what was lacking. Time was then given for testimony and was improved. The meeting next Sunday will be led by Mr. Arthur Leonard of the Maiden Y. M. C. A.

SPECIAL SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

MR. C. A. DREW ELECTED TO SUCCEED THE LATE DR. PEIRCE.

A special meeting of the school board was held in the high school building, Newtonville, Wednesday evening, for the purpose of electing a member from Ward 1 to succeed the late Bradford K. Peirce, D. D. Mayor Byrr presided and nine members were present. The chair announced the purpose of the meeting and it was voted to proceed with the election.

Mr. J. E. Hollis presented the name of Mr. C. A. Drew and spoke of his fitness for the position, of his interest in the schools and of his excellent qualities as a citizen. Mr. Drew is a well-known lawyer and the Superintendent of the Channing Sunday school. He is a man eminently qualified to fulfill the duties of the position.

A formal ballot was then proceeded with and Mr. Drew was unanimously elected.

After the election of the member from Ward 1 had been disposed of, the representatives of the Social Science Club were heard in reference to establishing a vacation school at Nonantum. Mrs. Sawyer of Chestnut Hill, the president of the club, stated that the location decided upon in Auburndale would fail to accommodate a large number of pupils in Nonantum who would be unable to pay fares in order to get to the school and return. A canvas had been made and it was found that at least 250 children would avail themselves of the privileges of the vacation school at Nonantum, provided the age for admission to the school was reduced to 12 years instead of 14. We believe that Nonantum is a more suitable place for the school, as it would provide for the class of people who are most in need of such education and care during the vacation period. The pupils from Nonantum and Thompsonville are further removed from the school in Auburndale and would be practically shut out from its advantages. The Auburndale location, it is thought, poorly provides for the class in the community who need such a school the most. If two vacation schools could be established, the expense at Nonantum would be light, as the Atheneum building could be secured through the kindness of its owner, Mr. H. D. Wellington.

Mrs. H. D. Wellington, also a member of the Social Science Club, endorsed the remarks of President Sawyer and stated that her husband was ready to grant the free use of the Atheneum building at Nonantum for the purposes of a vacation school. Miss Calkins also spoke of the need of such a school at Nonantum. The hearing was then brought to a close, and the subject matter was referred to the committee on industrial education, to whom has been referred a petition from the Social Science Club addressed to the city council, and suggesting a conference with the school board concerning the proposed vacation school and a change in the pupil age for admission.

Associated Charities.

An executive meeting of this society was held in Masonic Hall, Newtonville, on Thursday afternoon. The last executive session of the season will be held in the same place the first Thursday in June, at 2 o'clock p. m. A conference of visitors will be held monthly during the summer, in Newton and Newton Centre. Any application for aid should be directed to the president, who will immediately appoint a visitor.

The following letter is received from Mr. Wm. Peters, manager of the Newton Centre Amateur Theatrical Company:

NEWTON CENTRE, May 8, 1884.

Mrs. Mary E. Bates, President of Associated Charities of Newton:

My Dear Dr. Bates—It gives me great pleasure to be able to hand you the enclosed check for one hundred and thirty dollars as the net proceeds of the amateur theatrical entertainment given for the benefit of the Newton Associated Charities, at N. C., on the evening of April 25.

Will you kindly place this sum in the treasury of the association at the disposal of the president. Respy's yours, WILLIAM B. PETERS.

NEWTON CENTRE, May 6, 1889.

Mr. William B. Peters, Manager Newton Centre Theatrical Company:

My Dear Mr. Peters—Your letter of May 3, containing a check for one hundred and thirty dollars, is received. In behalf of the "Associated Charities," I thank you for the money so generously given, and so ably earned by the excellent company which you represent.

Very truly yours,

MARY E. BATES, Pres't Ass. Charities.

The Flower Mission.

The Flower Mission will begin its work for the season on Tuesday May 21. All contributions to be left at the ladies' room of the depot every Tuesday and Friday morning from quarter of eight until 9 o'clock. Flowers, fruit and books earnestly solicited.

32 2t LOUISE Y. SMALLWOOD.

Newton Horticultural Society.

There will be a special meeting of the Newton Horticultural Society at the office of J. F. C. Hyde, Esq., 31 Milk street, Boston, Saturday, May 18, 9.15 a. m., to act upon the report of the special committee in relation to the coming rose and strawberry exhibition and to appropriate money for the prize schedule, to vote upon persons applying for admission to the society and any other business.

L. H. FARLOW, Sec'y.

Garden Hose

can be found at the Walworth Construction and Supply Co's, 134 Congress street, Boston. Parties who contemplate building or wish to change their heating apparatus, should consult this company's plans and estimates of steam and hot water heating, or ventilating apparatus.

Illumination.

The greatest illuminators in Boston are R. Hollings & Co., 547 Washington street. They have the greatest variety and the best goods, at the lowest prices.

Mr. S. R. Niles sails on the steamship Pavonia to-morrow. Mr. Niles goes to personally superintend some American advertising in connection with the Paris exhibition.—Boston Herald, April 26.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE COMMON COUNCIL AND THE VACATION SCHOOL.

The Common Council met Monday evening with President Bond in the chair. Other members present were Messrs. Luke, Wiswall, Fennel, Randlett, Roffe, Hale, Richardson, Forknall and Hall. Business from the upper branch was disposed of in concurrence.

No one appeared at the hearings on the acceptance of Middlesex road and Ballard street, and orders for the acceptance of both streets were passed.

Councilman Hale read a petition for gravel sidewalks on Beacon street, Waban, from Mrs. Gould's to Samuel Hano's property; referred.

Councilman Richardson presented a petition from Richard M. Wilson for concrete sidewalks on Summer street, opposite Rice street.

Councilman Roffe presented a petition from S. M. Jackson and others for six street lamps on Cypress street, which is five-eighths of a mile long and has no lamps upon it.

In regard to the communication from the school board in regard to an appropriation of $15,000 for a vacation school in Auburndale, Councilman Forknall read a petition from the Social Science Club, in favor of having the school in Nonantum instead of Auburndale. Their petition to the school board assumed that of course such a school would be located in Nonantum, where the greatest benefit would follow the kind of instruction given; if the school was an experiment, it should be located where the experiment would be most useful, and where it was most needed. They asked that a committee be appointed to confer with the school board, about reducing the age of pupils below 12 and 14 years, as is proposed, as the children of the poor over that age have to work, and such children are fitted to receive instruction at an earlier age than others. The Club had made a canvas of Nonantum and had found that there were 253 pupils who would be glad to attend such a school, and many parents had promised to have their children attend when out of work. Mr. Henry W. Wellington had a suitable building there, the Nonantum Athenaeum, which he would give free of expense for such a school.

Councilman Forknall moved that the petition be referred to the finance committee, as the Social Science Club are to have a hearing before the school board on Wednesday evening. The Club also sent in a tabulated list of the children between the ages of 7 and 18 who would attend such a school in Nonantum, and attention was called to the excellent work done by the club last summer by their school in Thompsonville, when they made a success of the experiment.

Councilman Wiswall presented a communication from the Board of Health, asking the city to put up a building for contagious diseases on the Cottage Hospital grounds, as the trustees would give the use of the fund; referred to finance committee.

Councilman Wiswall presented orders authorizing the Water Board to lay 905 feet of 6 inch pipe on Railroad avenue, Ward 3, at an expense of $674, and also authorizing the board to make contracts for $12,000 worth of water and water pipes. Both orders were passed.

Councilman Luke presented an order appropriating $150 for the expenses of the city government on Memorial Day.

An invitation from Charles Ward Post, to take part in the Memorial Day exercises was accepted.

RESOLUTIONS.

Councilman Hale presented the following resolutions on the death of Rev. Dr. Pierce, which were adopted by a rising vote.

Resolved, That in the death of Rev. Bradford K. Pierce, D. D., the city has sustained the loss of an able and faithful public servant and the community an eminent citizen.

Resolved, That the city council hereby places on record its appreciation of the services rendered by him for a number of years, the deceased rendered to the city as a member of the school committee.

Resolved, That the life now closed forever from earthly associations possessed those traits of character and was adorned by those mental attainments which are an example and inspiration to all who may seek success in a private or a public career.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions with expressions of the sympathy of the city council be transmitted to the bereaved family.

N. H. CRAWFORD,
WM. F. HARRACK,
FRANK J. HALE,
REUBEN FORKNALL,
LOUIS HALL, Committee.

IS IT CHILDISHNESS?

HOW WALTHAM PEOPLE REGARD OUR BOARD OF ALDERMEN.

[Waltham Free Press.]

The Newton Graphic criticizes our editorial in regard to the desirability of action by the Newton aldermen in the matter of the electric road. It thinks we made a mistake in saying one of that board was "said to be interested in a storage battery scheme." Possibly we did; we learned of the rumor while in Newton and know nothing of it personally nor did we know the alderman referred to even by name. But we repeat what we then stated—if he is interested in such a scheme he has no right to sit in judgment nor vote on the question of a trolley system. Let us quote the further remarks of our Newton contemporary: "The Waltham people are evidently impatient at the delay of our board of aldermen. Their board went into the matter and had it all over and settled, but we are afraid that the Waltham aldermen lack the gift or faculty of deliberating, which is so desirable in legislative bodies, who desire to legislate wisely. It is much better to have a hearing and then think it over and digest the testimony presented for a month or two, than to rush a matter through the Waltham aldermen did." Now let us consider the statements here made. The first is correct; Waltham people are a trifle impatient over the delay the Newton aldermen are making. If the editor of the Graphic is possessed by the idea that the "Waltham aldermen lack the gift or faculty of deliberating" we would be pleased to have him visit the Waltham board as we did that of Newton. If he does not admit that Waltham aldermen can easily discount their Newton brethren in attention to the business in hand and a participation in all its details, we will pay for an oyster supper for him, providing the meeting we attended is a sample of the way in which our Newton neighbors transact their business.

Now as to haste. Early in February the Thomson-Houston Co. purchased the Waltham and Newton street railway property. It was well known to the people of Newton as well as to citizens of Waltham that the company proposed to use electricity as a motive force. On Feb 18th the petition for location and for the right to use electricity was presented to our aldermen. A hearing was appointed for April 1st. About the 20th of February a portion of our city government and a majority of the Newton aldermen went to Lynn to inspect the electric road there, so to be qualified to form a judgment. The matter was brought before the aldermen of our city very nearly the same time it was presented in Waltham and Water-town. April 1st and 3rd our aldermen had two hearings and in about a week from that time, after a careful discussion, the order granting the prayer of the petition was passed. Water-town and Lowell immediately after, by passing an order almost identical with that of Waltham. There had been an opportunity to consider the matter two months before final action was taken. Newton appears to require two months more. Now the editor of the Graphic knows as well as we that such delay is not deliberation; it is childishness. If the Newton aldermen are of average capacity and we see no reason to doubt their ability, the matter should have been settled a month ago, and a company which will render good service to the people should improve the valuation of the real estate of two cities and a town, have been allowed to forward its work.

Mrs. Mary A. Livermore's Famous Book, "My Story of the War."

In this new and superbly illustrated work, the world-famous Mary A. Livermore narrates her personal work and experiences as a hospital and field nurse during the war of the rebellion. We do not know when 700 pages have given us more genuine pleasure. Mrs. Livermore spent four years as nurse in hospitals, camps, at the front, and on the battlefield, and these four years were packed with pathos, glory, and sacrifice probably never paralleled in the life of any other woman. Her narrative presents a vivid inner picture of the womanly side of the war, more especially of her own work and thrilling experiences, with many pathetic and humorous incidents, and portraying the lights and shadows of hospital life. These are described as only an eye-witness and tender-hearted woman could describe them.

What a wonderful work she did. How heroic her labors, how thrilling her experiences in those dark years. It is a story never to be forgotten. When she first entered upon her hospital career a deathly faintness came over her, but she nerved herself for the work that had to be done, and soon became accustomed to it. Never again were her nerves disturbed by hospital sights and scenes. For four years she held herself in iron control, and gave herself up to motherly ministrations to the sick and wounded of the rank and file.

We regard this splendid book as a wholly unique work, for it presents the life of a woman who may very appropriately be termed the heavenly side of the war, and this has never hitherto been written. It lifts the curtain, and shows how heroic and devoted and blessed her work was. It is full of the deepest pathos, the richest humor, the most touching tales, the most stirring anecdotes and incidents, and through the whole runs the story of her adventures and striking experiences of its illustrious author. Stranger stories are here told than romance ever dreamed of, every one of them drawn from real life by a woman's hand. In every chapter she weaves in anecdote after anecdote, incident after incident, story after story, and the reader's attention is held breathless to the end of the volume. Should every other book on the war be blotted out of existence, this one would completely reflect the spirit and work of the women of the north. In reading it our eyes were often filled with tears; at other times we were convulsed with laughter and its rich humor. Such a work, by so eminent an author, at whose feet hundreds of thousands have sat and listened in admiration and wonder, whose power, wisdom, influence, and fame are now world wide, is the literary event of our times.

But the illustrations! But the illustrations! An able critic recently said, "This is the most richly embellished work ever published in America." We venture this opinion. There are splendid steel-plate portraits of famous men of Union soldiers, and many plates illustrating his special scenes and thrilling incidents in a woman's army life. No newspaper description can do these costly plates justice. They must be seen to be appreciated. There are also fine plates of famous old battle-flags, from photographs and paintings, and the original flags printed in sixteen colors from one hundred and twenty-eight engraved stones. They show all the colors, tints, blue-stains, rents, shot-holes, and splintered staves, exactly as they appear in the original flags. As we look at them it is hard to believe that the flags are not before us. Even the lettering and inscriptions are perfectly reproduced in gold. The story of each flag is told, with pathetic incidents attending the death of color-bearers who died under their folds.

This grand volume has no competitor, and we do not believe it can have a rival. If we speak warmly of the book, it is because it richly deserves it. It is sold only by agents, and is "meeting with an enormous sale. Agents who introduce a work of such sterling merit ought to be cordially welcomed. We believe that the best way to keep out poor books is by introducing good ones, and a better and more absorbingly interesting and thrilling work than this has certainly never been brought to our notice. It is rarely that one can speak in terms of such unqualified praise of any book.

A Scrap of Paper Saves her Life.

It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Druggist, Fort Smith. Trial bottles of this wonderful discovery free, at Arthur Hudson's drugstore.

MORITZ BLANC'S QUEER LIFE.

RUMORS CONCERNING HIS CAREER IN THIS CITY.

Moritz J. Blanc, who shot and killed his little daughter and the then committed suicide in Cincinnati as reported in the Boston papers, Monday, came to Newton Upper Falls in July, 1886, to take charge of the United States Firearms Company's works. He had 40 to 50 men under his direction, and remained about a year and a half. He brought with him his wife, coming from Boston, and his little child, a remarkably pretty little girl of four years. The three boarded at two different places at the Upper Falls, near the works, and then at Newton Highlands, where afterwards they kept house. His wife died August 2, and many rumors have since been current concerning her death, it being insinuated that she did not die from natural causes. The husband was apparently grief-stricken at his great loss.

To his associates he extolled the virtues of Mrs. Blanc; none could have been nobler, kinder, and more devoted. When death came, quite suddenly, after, as the paper stated, she had been considered on the road to recovery. He became attentive to a lady in Boston soon after his wife's death. She had been the wife of a rich husband and was supposed to have a large property. She was led to believe that the professor was also wealthy. He made frequent trips to Boston, dressed in the most luxurious habits, taking with him the most lovely bouquets which the Newton florist could furnish. Professor Blanc won the widow, and they were married (the October following, less than three months after the funeral) under false pretences, so she claimed, and a few days later they separated forever. He went to the wide West; she went for Lawyer A. A. Ranney, and commenced suit for a divorce, alleging that he took advantage of her illness to bring in a man who proved to be a clergyman and having the ceremony of marriage performed in a most unseemly haste, she scarcely knowing what she was doing.

He went West in January, 1888, and early in the fall of that year was married in good shape to an Ohio lady. A Cincinnati paper of the time gave a glowing description of the wedding ceremony. He had a good salary as the head of the fireworks factory, but he represented the salary to be three times what it really was. He dressed in the best style, drove teams, which perhaps spared, the lively and capable keeper of the Highlands, would like the pay for; contracted for other bills of the Highlands which it is said were not fully liquidated, and made himself conspicuous in many fine ways. He represented to the Boston lady that he was a man of great wealth, and brought her out to Newton Upper Falls, and showed her with pride the works he superintended, which he said he owned.

His little daughter did not go West with him at first. After her mother's death she was put with Mrs. Moore at Newton Highlands, a good lady, who made a pleasant home for the child, although it is questioned whether she was paid for the care according to the agreement made. Last fall the professor sent for his daughter, and she went to his home in Ohio, to meet her early death at the hands of an infuriated father. Her sad fate is deeply lamented in Newton.

Guests at the Woodland Park.

The following are among those who have engaged rooms at the Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale, for the summer: Mr. J. W. Belcher and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Richardson, Mr. Charles H. Richardson, Mrs. G. E. Tuxbury, Miss Tuxbury, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Pittman, N. J. Rust and family, Samuel W. Carr and family, Mr. H. Saltonstall and family, Mr. A. G. Briggs and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Mills, Mrs. E. A. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. H. Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Merrill, Miss M. A. Bigelow, the Misses Sohier, Mrs. R. G. Gooding, Mr. F. M. Gooding, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Duff, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark, C. H. Phelps, Mr. I. O. Whitney and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Steadman, Mr. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wood and son, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Chick, Mr. A. G. Webster and family, Mr. and Mrs. Channing Clapp, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Kennard, Mr. and Mrs. N. D. Whitney, Mrs. George Myrick, W. T. Phipps and family, F. W. Train, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Barnes, C. F. Crosby, J. W. Hill, Mr. A. H. Alden and family, B. Watson, Mr. William Binder, Mr. E. W. Adams, Mr. J. M. Brigham, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Dwyer, George H. Quincy, Mrs. James Burton-shall, Detroit; Miss C. L. W. French and Miss Todd.

Is It Safe

To neglect yourself if troubled with any disease of the kidneys? No, it is dangerous; and if you are so afflicted, attend to yourself now. Do not wait, but use Sulphur Livers at once. They cured me when I was given up to die by several physicians.—Jonathan Ham, Boston.

All persons having a Cough or any Pulmonary disease may be relieved by Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. 50 cents per bottle at all Druggists.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

H. W. MARTIN,

TELEPHONE 1957.

Practical Upholsterer

AND DEALER IN

FURNITURE.

Upholstery work and repairs of all kinds neatly done. Hair Mattresses made over, Picture Frames to order, Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

H. W. MARTIN,

GARFIELD BLOCK, GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS. 671

Mrs. ABBIE C. THAYER, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST,

19 CHANNING STREET, NEWTON.

Practices Christian Science Mind Healing as Taught by Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy. 10

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Houses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 784. 30

THEODORE L. MASON,

Agent for the celebrated

Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock.

Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Ellet Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

LLOYD BROTHERS,

Improved Carpet Cleaning Machine. They remove all Dust, Brighten Colors and Destroy Moths.

Office, 605 Main Street, 3d door East of Church Street, Works on Benefit St., Waltham, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly attended to. Telephone No. 7822. P. O. Box No. 567

L. H. CRANITCH, HOUSE, SIGN, AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER,

Graining and Paper Hanging a Specialty.

WALNUT STREET, 2d Door from Central Block, NEWTONVILLE.

DO YOU KNOW

That you can save money by buying your CHOICES, PROVISIONS, WOODENWARE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES, at WHITTIER'S? I am adding every day to my stock, and making Lower Prices than ever. Come here and pay cash for a month and you will never run a bill again.

W. B. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK,

INSURANCE AGENT, Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies. Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

S. K. MacLEOD

Carpenter and Builder. Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and Cellar Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty.

Shop, Centre Place, opp. Public Library. Residence, Box street, near Jewett. P. O. Box 650, NEWTON, MASS.

HOWARD BROS.,

ICE DEALERS.

We are now prepared to furnish the citizens of Newton and Waltham with

PURE POND ICE.

AT LOWEST MARKET RATES To Families, Hotels, Markets, &c., at Wholesale and Retail.

ORDER BOX.—At W. Henry Brackett's provision store, City Market and Post Office, Newton and Hall's Grocery Store, Waltham.

Post Office Address, Waltham, where orders may be left.

F. H. HOWARD. W. O. HOWARD. PROPRIETORS.

J. J. JOHNSON,

FLORIST. CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Office in the Newton National Bank. GEORGE HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President. MISS SUSANNA M. DUNCKLEE, Treas., COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT: George Hyde, Willard Marey, J. C. Hyde, J. F. C. Hyde, Clerk.

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR, 5 Tremont Street, Boston.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands. 471

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE,

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW (Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.) 56 Bedford St., Boston.

Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY,

COUNSELLOR AT LAW, 113 Devonshire Street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.

Residence, Newton. 38-17

GEORGE W. MORSE,

Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law, 28 State St., Room 45, Boston.

Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM. Residences, WINTHROP.

Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S.

Veterinary Surgeon. BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON, MASS.

Telephonic connection. 5

MILLINERY.

Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and general assortment of

French and American Millinery Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.

Crape always in stock and especial attention given to orders for Mourning Goods.

"Old Crape made New by Shirer's patent process. Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS

Ellet Block, Elmwood St., Newton.

Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack and Boarding Stable. Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET. TELEPHONE CONNECTION. 3

W. B. YOUNG,

REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENT. NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES.

Land furnished and houses built to suit on easy terms.

Office, 25 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON. Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

F. G. BARNES & SON.

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.

AUCTIONEERS FOR REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY. FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

a large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: No. 27 State Street, Boston, and Brackett's Block, Newton.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER, ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes. And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS

Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS.

BOSTON OFFICES: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court sq. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market. NEWTON OFFICE at H. B. Coffin's. Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.

Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m. Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

M. C. HIGGINS

PRACTICAL PLUMBER AND — AND — Sanitary Engineer.

(Formerly with S. F. Carrier.) Sumner's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES. Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction is guaranteed. 25-17

BAY STATE GUITARS. THE BEST IN THE WORLD. LOWEST PRICES. MADE BY J. CHAYNE & CO. BOSTON, MASS.

SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE.

NEWTON TARIFF REFORM CLUB.

A TARIFF IS A TAX.

Organized, Jan. 24, 1889.
Membership on May 1, 95.
Address all communications to the Secretary
of the Newton Tariff Reform Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

WHO PAYS THE TAX?

THE TARIFF REFORMER'S REPLY.

Two hundred millions collected annually at the Custom House! Who pays it?

Last week we gave some space to tea and sugar. It was shown that the duty of 25 cents on tea was reduced on Jan. 1, 1871 to 15 cents, and that this 15 cents was also removed on July 1, 1872, making tea free. Comparison of a large number of prices before and after each reduction proved that the consumers of tea gained nearly if not quite the full reduction each time. It was also shown that the English people, by paying less than they did for tea at less cost than we, do as a fact pay considerably higher. It is fair to attribute the increased price to England's import duty. And on the other hand, we who ought to obtain sugar at less cost than the English are paying, great sums more for it than they do. We paid more even when there was no trust—the trust has simply made a bad matter worse.

Let us consider copper a few minutes. We produce little sugar and less tea, but our supply of copper is so abundant that our exports exceed our imports by $8,000,000. Add to this fact that our total production is one third of the world's supply; that our Lake copper is the finest in the world; that the profits on Michigan mines have been anywhere from 25 per cent. up to 100 per cent; we see at once that the United States gets more for the money from this duty, less than half a million in 1887. But the duty was put on to enable our producers to increase the price, and they did increase it. Besides the half million we pay to the government, we unquestionably pay at least one million more to the mine owners. We pay this in the enhanced price of the myriad useful articles of which copper is a component. The manufacturer gets out of the purchaser of his goods the toll he had to pay to the mine owner, but when he tries to send his wares to foreign markets he finds them with rival wares made of cheap copper and pays "O," says the Protectionist, "just think how much cheaper copper is now than in 1880, when the High Tariff was put on it; this fall in price is due to the increased American output." And every word of that is true. Copper is cheaper on account of the increased production, and the High Tariff was put on in 1880. But what you meant to say was that the High Tariff caused the increased production, which is not true. Would the mines of Lake Superior have remained unworked except for the tariff? You do not believe yourself, and you dare not ask another to believe, that American enterprise would have left the richest copper mine in the world undeveloped! Would the prairies of Kansas never have been upturned by the plough except for that lie on the nation's statute book: "Indian corn or maize, ten cents per bushel?" What right have these millionaires whining in the lobbies of Congress for permission to charge the people a million and more beyond the just price of their wares? They talk about reducing the wages of laborers but we hear very little about reducing the enormous dividends. Do not tell us these mines cannot be profitably worked without this governmental aid! How many fortunes have been made in Calumet and Hecla? And why do they sell Lake Copper in London to the ENGLISH MANUFACTURER at a LESS PRICE THAN THEY WILL SELL IT IN NEW YORK TO THE AMERICAN MANUFACTURER. They are doing so today, and have long done so. Is this Protection to American Industries? Is the Tariff on Copper a Tax? Is it not rather robbery, shameful and shameless?

Tariff Fables.—No. 1.

THE FOX AND THE GRAPES.

"The Home Market—infinitely greater, more valuable, more productive than the foreign market."—Senator Sherman.

A High Tariff Fox, who thought sleek and well-fed was withal very hungry, started off one morning in search of a meal. As he went he saw a fox with a heavy collar thickly studded with spikes for Protection. He arrived shortly at a vineyard where he found an abundance of luscious grapes. After eating a few of the smaller bunches within easy reach, he looked longingly upward where the vines were purple with magnificent clusters. Again and again he essayed to reach them, but the weight of his collar, and the catching of the spikes among the branches, hindered him so much that he got scarcely a taste. Vexed and sweaty he turned sadly away, but noticing that an old Fox-Without-Any-Collar, who had feasted at will on the very best of the grapes, sat grinning at his failure, he said: "These lower bunches are infinitely larger, sweeter, and finer-flavored than those that hang so high."

The old Fox-Without-Any-Collar licked his chops quietly and grinned more than ever.

Ad Val.

Standing upon one of the wharves in Jersey City some days ago the "Reformer" saw a pair of fine horses landed from an English steamer. A broad-shouldered, sunburnt farmer at the head of the pack uttered a ejaculation of surprise and admiration, and then added in an undertone, "I wonder how much tax the owner has to pay on them horses." The Reformer was pleased to find that the Tariff was still in people's minds, and said to the inquirer: "Twenty per centum ad valorem." "There, now, that's just what I want to know. What does twenty per centum ad valorem mean? And what are these specific taxes they talk so much about in the Tribune?"

"Well, friend, it's like this. If those horses cost $2,000 apiece in England, the owner will have to pay the United States $400 for each one, which is just twenty one-hundredths, or one-fifth of their value." "Oh, yes, that's it," said the farmer, "I remember now, the old lame gray that I got in '79 from Canada, and paid $20 for and turned out such a good horse after all. I had to pay $4 on that one-fifth." But what would the man who bought these horses have to pay if it was a specific tax, as they call it? "If the Republicans in Congress," said the Reformer, "pass the Senate Bill next winter you will have a chance to find out what specific taxes are. Our unknown and wealthy friend who buys such horses as these will have to pay only $20 apiece to Uncle Sam instead of $400. But every body else must pay the same; and if you buy another lame gray from the other side of the St. Lawrence, you must pay a tax of $20 also." "That doesn't seem fair," said the farmer. "I'll bet you write to the Tribune and ask them. They know all about it."

A SONG OF DAYS.

BY T. W. HIGGINSON.

O radiant summer day,
Whose air, sweet air, steals on from flower to flower!
Condidst thou not yield one hour
Whence the glad heart says "This alone is May?"

O passionate earthly love,
Whose tremulous pulse beats on to life's best boon!
Condidst thou not give one noon,
One noon of noons, all other bliss above?

O solemn human life,
Whose nobler longings bid all conflict cease!
Grant us one day's deep peace
Beyond the utmost rumor of all strife.

For if no joy can stay,
Let it at least yield one consummate bloom,
Or else there is no room
To find delight in love, or life, or May.

MUSICAL MATTERS.

THE GILMORE JUBILEE.

The coming Jubilee to be held at Mechanic's Building in June promises to form a fitting celebration of the musical event of the greatest magnitude ever seen in America, the World's Peace Jubilee of 1889. Nine concerts are to be given, commencing Wednesday evening, June 5, and ending Sunday, June 9. A great chorus of over six hundred voices has been chosen from the ranks of the Handel and Haydn and the Boston Oratorio Societies, and the Apollo, Cecilia and Boylston Clubs. This chorus will sing at the evening performances, while on the afternoons of June 6 and 7, the chorus will include only those who sang in the chorus of 1889.

The choruses are under the direction of Mr. Arthur W. Thayer, while the instrumental portion will again be conducted by Mr. P. S. Gilmore. Tickets will be sold at the prices of $1 and 50 cents for each concert, and the concert will begin Wednesday evening, June 5, continuing on the afternoons and evenings of June 6, 7, 8 and 9.

NOTES.

Herr Nikisch, it is stated, will sail for America early in September.

It is stated on good authority that M. Gounod will visit America next season, conducting some of his cantatas, masses, etc., in the principal cities.

The popular Promenade concerts will begin at Music Hall, June 1st. These, together with the projected season of opera at the Boston, will make a delightful season for stay-at-homes.

It is rumored that Sarasate, the violin virtuoso, and Otto Hegner, the rival of young Hofman in the prodigy business, will visit the States together next winter. Welcome to Sarasate, but the home supply of musical infants is not yet exhausted.

"The opening concert of the ninth season by the Boston Symphony Orchestra will be given Saturday evening, October 12, 1889. Mr. Arthur Nikisch, Conductor." (Official Announcement.) The program and soloist will be announced later.

A magnificent audience will greet Mr. Wilhelm Gericke upon his return from Western triumphs at the farewell concert tendered to him next Tuesday evening. The program will include Beethoven's C minor Symphony and the introduction and Good Friday's Spell from "Parsifal."

Miscellaneous.

The wild rumor is borne across the seas that Queen Victoria is excessively fond of tapioca pudding. Now let some cable to London that Baby McKee likes sugar.—[Pittsburg Chronicle.]

He—Can't I have just one kiss before I go? Only one. She—And if I let you have one you will take two, won't you? He—No, I won't; indeed I won't. She—Then you shan't have any.—[Terre Haute Express.]

Beggar—Please give me a dime. Don't judge me by present appearances, but remember that I once did business for Jay Gould. Citizens—I believe you, my man, I believe you. Here's a dollar.—[Epoch.]

Affidavit Editor—Dearest Mathilde, can you doubt the strength and sincerity of my love? Mathilde—Swear it, Alonzo, swear it! Affidavit Editor (absent-mindedly)—I swear—we have the largest circulation in the West, and it is rapidly increasing.—[America.]

Mrs. Littlewit (proudly)—Just think, Charles has gone to address a public gathering. Friend—I didn't know he was a speech-maker. Mrs. Littlewit—Nor I; but he's been called upon to make a statement before a meeting of his creditors; truly he has.—[Boston Herald.]

Young Man (looking over hotel register)—I see that Joshua Crawfish of Crawfishville is stopping here. Where can I find him? He's an uncle of mine. Clerk—I think you will find him in the elevator; he's been riding up and down all the forenoon.—[Harper's Bazar.]

Uncle Mose—I want to look at a pair of yo' number 'lebenssometin' easy an' comfy. Shoe Clerk—Yes, sir; just let me show you a pair of our Walkinphast, Uncle Mose—Hol' on; hol' on dar, sah; jes' show me some ob yo' walkin' slows; I see no sprinthin, sah.—[Puck.]

Mrs. Blobson—John, there are two hats on the front rack, one a 7-4 and the other an 8-1-2. Somebody must have exchanged with you. Mr. Blobson—No, my dear. One of them is my evening hat and the other my morning hat. You see, we men are rather following the women this year in the matter of fashion.—[Burlington Free Press.]

"Well, Ned, I proposed to Miss Jenkins last night, and she has accepted me." "Did you though?—why I never for a moment thought you had the slightest idea of marrying." "I didn't, but Miss Jenkins won me so completely by her beautiful face and delicate features." "In what respect?" "Why, when I called, she walked up to the mantle piece and stopped the clock."—[Merchant Traveler.]

A Pontiac little boy was told at Sunday school that when he died he would leave his body here. After returning home he was much troubled in regard to it, and he questioned his parents. His mother explained by saying: "You will take all the good with you, but leave all that is naughty here behind." He thought a moment, and looking up, said: "Well, I guess I'll be awfully thin when I get there."—[Peoria Democrat.]

Store proprietor (to possible customer looking at the window)—Coom in, coom in, and I show you dose things minself. Possible customer (shyly)—I don't know about going in. I generally deal in stores that have their prices plainly marked. Store proprietor—Dot was all right, mine friend; but it nod do vor us to mark our prices on dose things. Our prices is so low dot peoples would dink dey vas second-hand.—[New York Weekly.]

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Arnold, M. Reports on Elementary Schools, 1882-1889; by Sir F. Sandford. 82.148
- Contains nineteen General Reports to the Education Department on Elementary Schools and twelve reports on the Wesleyan and denominational Training Colleges for teachers.
- Blennerhasset, Lady. Madame De-Stael; her friends and her influence in Politics and Literature. 3 vols. 95.421
- Chevalier, M. Mexico, Ancient and Modern; trans. by T. Alpass. 2 vols. 74.223
- Davies, T. T. Prolegomena to a Memorial; with an Index to the Poem. 54.503
- The author's wish has been to bring out into clearness the religious soul problem which forms the unity of Tennyson's in Memoriam.
- Doyle, A. C. Micah Clarke; his Statement to his three Grandchildren. 66.619
- A story of the Roundheads and Covenanters, full of adventure and historical detail.
- Drake, S. A. Burgoyne's Invasion of 1777; with an Outline Sketch of the American Invasion of Canada, 1775-76. 71.271
- Dudevant, A. L. (George Sand.) Lettres d'un Voyageur. 43.95
- Frith, W. P. My Autobiography and Reminiscences vol. 2. 94.429
- Gilroy, C. T. Types Madeline; or, Narrative of an Excursion to the Mountains of Piemont. 1823; and Researches among the Vauds or Waldensians. 44.80
- Howells, W. D. The Mouse-Trap and Other Fables. 54.505
- Contents: The Garroter; Five O'Clock; The Mouse-Trap; A Likely Story.
- Humphrey, F. A. Favorite Authors for Children. 91.548
- Lossing, B. J. Hours with the Living and the Dead of the Revolution; a Pilgrimage. 73.209
- Labbe, Sir J. The Pleasures of Life. Vol. 2. 92.373
- Meldola, R. The Chemistry of Photography. Nature Series. 101.423
- Lectures dealing with the chemical principles underlying the subject, in which the author hopes to convince photographers how essential is some knowledge of Chemistry for the success of their operations.
- Mitchell, S. W. Far in the Forest. 65.650
- Poole, R. L. Wycliffe and Movements for Reform. 91.539
- Pougin, A. Verdi, an Anecdotal History of his Life and Works; translated by J. E. Matthew. 94.466
- Reynier, E. The Other Accumulator; an Elementary Treatise; translated by J. B. Berly. 105.339
- Richards, J. On the Arrangement, Care and Operation of Wood-Working Factories and machinery; forming a Complete Operator's Handbook. 101.323
- Ritchie, D. G. Darwinism and Politics. 83.153
- Shapcott, R. ed. The Autobiography of Mark Rutherford; and Mark Rutherford's Deliverance. 65.630
- Smith, Mrs. L. T. Meade. Deb and the Duchess; a Story for Boys and Girls. 66.620
- Theuriet, A. Song Birds and Sea-sons. 57.317
- Thurston, R. H. A Manual of Steam-Boilers, their Design, Construction and Operation; for Technical Schools and Engineers. 106.218
- Turner, C. E. Count Tolstoi, as Novelist and Thinker; Lectures delivered at the Royal Institution. 52.428
- Uttiet, Miss [Maxwell Grey.] The Reproach of Ancestry. 62.716
- Young, C. A. A Text-Book of General Astronomy and for Colleges and Scientific Schools. 105.269
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.

New Music.

The following has been received from Arthur P. Schmidt & Co., 13 and 15 West street, Boston: For piano, Russian Dance, Chas. F. Dennee. Vocal, "It passeth knowledge, Herman P. Chelings." "My Lady Jacqueminot," "Ojala," "Nameless Pain," Margaret Ruthven Lang. For mixed voices, "I'm a Pilgrim," G. W. Marston.

Fair shopper (in great store)—There, this novel will do. Don't wrap it up. Clerk—Don't wrap it up? "No, indeed. I'll sit down here and read it to kill time while waiting for my change."—[New York Weekly.]

EDWARD P. BURNHAM, BICYCLE DEALER.

Bicycles and Tricycles of all descriptions sold for cash, or on instalments. Specialty in 1st and 2nd-hand Machines taken in exchange. Repairing done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

T. F. CLENNAN, Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c. Washington Street, Newton.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

I will guarantee to cure the worst case of corns and bunions on any Lady's feet who will wear my

CUSTOM MADE Kangaroo Skin Boots.

They are soft, fine, and look handsome. They will wear longer than anything else known; they will keep their shape and turn water.

I do not send the measure to the factory to be made up, but make them myself. I will guarantee a perfect fitting and comfortable boot no matter in what shape the feet may be.

Best Kangaroo, Flexible Bottom, no squeak, $6.50. Dongola, Flexible bottom, no squeak.

A. L. RHYND, Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Rubbers Custom work a specialty.

Hyde's Block, Centre and Washington Sts., NEWTON.

The Choicest Tea Ever Offered.

PERFECTLY PURE.

A MOST DELICIOUS BEVERAGE. TRY IT. You will never say any other. Quality never varies.

It is the HIGHEST GRADE TEA, picked from the best plantations and guaranteed absolutely pure and free from all adulterations or coloring matter. The cans bear the trade mark of the O & O and are hermetically sealed and warranted full weight. It is more economical in use than the lower grades.

Oriental & Occidental Tea Co., Ltd., Head Office, 31, 33 and 35 Baring St., New York.

For sale by the best Grocers.

H. B. Coffin, C. O. Tucker & Co., G. P. Atkins Newton; E. Moulton, Newton Highlands; A. R. Pitts, Newton Upper Falls; W. O. Knap & Co. Newton Centre; Boston Branch Grocery, A. A. Savage, C. Strout & Sons, Newtonville; Alonzo Whitney, West Newton; Frank A. Childs, Auburndale.

PLUMBING. Timothy J. Hartnett

BRACKETT'S NEW BLOCK,

Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton,

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Hot water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of some owners and others.

The thorough ventilation of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited.

Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping. Agent for Portland Stone Ware Co's Drain Pipes, Vases, Etc.

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

35 ly

ORNAMENTAL TREES.

SHRUBS & HERBACEOUS PLANTS.

FOR SALE.

A large and valuable assortment at the

NEWTON

Cemetery Nurseries,

Cemetery Nurseries. Also a large assortment of Greenhouse and Bedding plants. A few extra large size elms and maples.

HENRY ROSS, Supt.

Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

—THE—

ESSEX BOOT & SHOE CO.

28 Essex St., Boston.

F. LESLIE KEENE, Manager.

Having a large assortment of Seasonable Goods, including

Base Ball, Bicycle, Tennis, and

Yachting Shoes.

A liberal discount to clubs and yachts. Prices always the lowest. Don't fail to give us a call, we will make it pay you to do so.

—THE—

EDDY'S

REFRIGERATORS!

I have sold them for the past twenty years which is sufficient guarantee that they are the best. Refrigerators of all kinds repaired. Leave your orders and have them attended to at once, as warm weather will soon be here. Stoves, ranges, and furnaces cleaned and repaired. Tinplate, sheet iron and copper work done in a thorough manner.

JOHN S. SUMNER,

MIDDLESEX BLOCK,

352 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

INSOMNIA - SLEEPLESSNESS.

Dr. B. F. Howard's Hypnotic and Mind's Balm is an infallible remedy for Insomnia. It is purely vegetable, and aids much in the cure of other diseases. Dr. Howard was a great sufferer from this terrible malady. He cured himself—he can cure others.

Address, enclosing stamp for particulars,

Dr. B. F. HOWARD,

37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.,

OR SEEN AT OFFICE DAILY. 22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

22 ly

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 80.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

THE REASONS FOR DELAY.

The Waltham Free Press returns again to a consideration of the Newton aldermen and the street railway question, and refuses to accept our praise of the board for its great deliberation. It calls it childishness, which looks as though the Free Press had adopted the bad habit of punning. It offers the GRAPHIC an oyster supper, if we do not confess, after a visit, that the Waltham board is a more business like body than the one in Newton. It is rather late in the season for oysters, but we are willing to admit that in the early part of the evening the Waltham editor visited us; the attention of the members did seem to wander once or twice, and the fact that the clerk was not in his chair all the time, did seem to strike our Watch Factory contemporary unfavorably. However, with the Mayor and the reporters looking after things closely, the public interests could not suffer, and besides that is one of the advantages of the two-board system, neither branch has to pay such strict attention as in Waltham, when one board takes final action on all matters.

The Free Press thinks the whole matter should have been settled a month ago, as it has been before the Newton city government since early in February. It is mistaken in this, however, as the street railway question has been before the Newton board for the last two years, in one form or another. He says also that it was the Thompson-Houston company which purchased the Waltham and West Newton road, when it was the Newton Street Railway company, which was also granted a location on certain Newton streets, some two years ago. The company failed to agree to certain conditions required by the board. It also failed to get permission to cross the railroad tracks, and accordingly the matter rested until the present year, when their purchase of the West Newton and Waltham road gave them a chance to start a circuit line through Waltham, Watertown and Newton.

The matter would probably have been settled long ago had not the Newton Electric Street Railway company appeared on the scene, and joined forces with the telephone company to fight the older company. The new company proposed to use the storage battery system of propelling street cars, and are so confident that storage batteries will be a success, that they are willing to pay for the opportunity to try them in Newton. They are to have a hearing on the 27th, and a very entertaining meeting is expected, as talented counsel and experts will appear on both sides.

The Newton board could hardly refuse to give a hearing to the new company, and hence they had to postpone action to allow the storage battery company time to organize, elect directors, and secure a corporate existence. When the first application from the storage battery people was received, the company unfortunately did not exist, and so the board could not legally grant a hearing; courtesy alone demanded that they should wait until the company should be organized, incorporated, and had chosen directors and officers. It takes time for these things, and this is the reason of the delay of which the Waltham papers are complaining. Rome was not built in a day and the Waltham people should not be so impatient. They will get the street railway in the course of a few years unless something unforeseen should happen to prevent, and if it is not built in time for the present generation it will be all the better for the next. It is hardly fair to take from the men of the future every chance of making improvements and money.

The Social Science Club have very cogent reasons, in their petition to the city government, why the vacation school should be started at Nonantum, instead of at Auburndale. They have canvassed the village of Nonantum, and have found out the number who would attend such a school; they have also, through the public spirit of Mr. Wellington, secured a hall for the school, in the Athenaeum building, which is fully as well adapted to such a school as the old Williams school building. As their petition stated, if the city is to go to the expense of maintaining such a school, it should be in a place where the kind of instruction given is most needed, and where it will do the most good, and that place is certainly Nonantum. The Social Science club is enabled to speak from experience, as it had a very successful school last summer at Thompsonville, and the ladies who are members of the club have been able to give much more attention to the matter than the members of the school board, who are most of them very busy men, and, consequently, were forced to look at the matter more from a theoretical than from a practical standpoint. It is probable that they will be glad to welcome suggestions from those who have had experience with vacation schools, and that the suggestions will be heeded. Where so large an appropriation is to be made, it is important that the money should be expended wisely. A vacation school in such a wealthy village as Auburndale can safely be left to private enterprise, and that plan has been followed with great success in other cities, where the schools have proved a paying investment.

The defeat of the Elevated railroad bill in the Senate was emphatic enough to leave no doubt of the convictions of the senators. The bill had some very bad provisions, and had it passed would have inflicted great damage to property on streets through which the road was built, without providing for damages. As far as Newton is concerned, an elevated railroad on any of our streets would be objectionable in every way. The bill was drawn up too much in favor of the elevated railroad companies and too little in favor of the public. The West End Company is providing Boston with rapid transit as fast as possible; it is showing a very commendable amount of public spirit, and has made a great improvement in the street car service of Boston and vicinity. In fact, Newton people would be glad to have the West End Company extend their lines to this city, both for the sake of the convenience of having street car service, as well as for the increase in the value of property and in population, which always follow the company's street car lines. The Elevated Road bill would have been an act of great injustice to the West End Company.

The Gamewell police signal system, which is now in use in some two hundred and more cities in the United States and Canada, has certainly stood the test of use, and its continued adoption by cities that are looking for the best and most reliable system, is an indication that it is just what Newton needs. It is a home institution also; its factory at Newton Highlands has brought to Newton a very superior class of skilled workmen, and a large part of the stock is held by Newton men. For these reasons, the city council is inclined to look with great favor on the Gamewell system, and it will probably be adopted here. The other system that has been examined is only in use in Boston and Somerville, the latter city being the home of the system, and many feel that it is much better to try a system that has been in use a long time in a great number of cities, than to take up with something whose merits have not been so thoroughly demonstrated. Probably some action will be taken by the city council in the course of the year, although it would be an admirable thing to have such a system on the Fourth of July, the day when it would be most needed.

A BILL has been reported to the legislature, authorizing towns to employ counsel to represent them before legislative committees on matters specially affecting them. This bill will be of special interest to Watertown, for instance, as it will make legal the hiring of counsel to oppose division. Senator Kingsley has proposed an amendment forbidding towns to use any money appropriated for the hiring of counsel, for the purpose of promoting or aiding the division of any town. If this amendment should prevail, there would seem to be very little use in passing the bill. It does seem unjust to tax all the people of a town to raise money to defeat something which a large number of them are striving to obtain. The Watertown divisionists have long felt this, and they will be interested both in the bill itself and in Senator Kingsley's amendment.

The graduating exercises at the Newton Theological Institution had especial interest this year, on account of the presentation of the portrait of Rev Dr Hovey, who has been for forty years connected with the Institution as teacher and president. The people of Newton share the honor and regard felt for this successful teacher by all of his pupils. They feel an especial pride in him as a citizen, and endorse with great heartiness all of the compliments paid him by the speakers at the presentation exercises. A full report of the proceedings will be found on another page.

WATERBORN is feeling quite puffed up over the fact that President Harrison's stenographer, Miss Alice B. Sawyer, was born in that town some twenty-three years ago, however, when her parents moved to Indiana, and this proves what a great advantage it is to move away from Watertown at as early an age as possible. Had Miss Sanger remained there she would never have been called to live in the White House.

The appointment of Miss Bourne to be postmaster at Auburndale will make President Harrison popular in that section. She now has the honor of having been appointed by two presidents, and there is no doubt but that the Senate will confirm the appointment this time. If all the other Newton post offices are treated in the same way Newton people will be satisfied.

The attempt to amend the Australian ballot bill failed in the Senate on Tuesday, fortunately, as the amendments were calculated to defeat the very purpose for which the bill was passed. The bill certainly ought to have a fair trial before any of its provisions are changed, to suit the party leaders or the legislative tinkers.

The special legislative committee of investigation have agreed on a report, completely exonerating Commissioner Goodell. This result was expected by all who knew the gentleman, but it places certain members of the legislature, and one high official of the House in a very bad light before the public.

AN ECONOMICAL COOKER.

A NEW PROCESS TO REVOLUTIONIZE THE KITCHEN.

The kitchen seems to have been neglected by inventors, although in no other place would improvements be more welcome to every household. There is so much waste in cooking, and the means used are so wasteful of heat and food, that any man who could invent a more economical method would be hailed as a public benefactor. Something of the kind has been done by Mr. R. M. Wanzler, who has invented a simple contrivance by which a dinner for a large family can be cooked for about one cent's worth of fuel; no odors are given out, and the apparatus needs no attention from the time the food is put in until the dinner is ready to be served. Thursday evening a party of about twenty Newton people, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Whitmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, Miss A. M. Newhall, Mrs. Geo. H. Mandell, Mr. and Mrs. James Macomber, Mrs. W. C. Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Bailey, Mrs. H. C. Hardon, and Mr. Harry Whitmore, enjoyed a dinner at the Tremont House, Boston, cooked entirely by this process, and pronounced it an unqualified success. There is no waste in the cooking, and the roast beef, the salmon, the chickens, potatoes, onions, bread and pudding, although cooked in the same place, had their special flavors perfectly preserved, and no taste of the onions, for instance, could be detected in the salmon or the pudding. The dinner was put on all at once, two and a half hours before the dinner, and was all taken out at the same time, everything being perfectly cooked.

The apparatus is a simple contrivance. An important feature is the lamp which provides the heat. In the standard is a clock-work which operates a small fan, forcing the air around the oil reservoir and into the burner. The combustion is so perfect that all the products are entirely consumed, and a paper held over the flame collects no soot. No chimney is used, and the lamp can be rolled around the room without danger of explosion. The cooker is supported a few inches above the lamp on a tripod. The cooker consists of two tin drums, one within the other, and the necessary dishes to hold the food to be cooked. Either steam or dry heat may be used. The dinner was not touched from the time it was put in until served. The cost for oil consumed was less than one cent.

The possibilities of such a contrivance are sufficient to work a much needed revolution in the kitchen, and a manufacturing plant has been started in England, by a large joint-stock company, and it is found to be impossible to keep up with the orders. Mr. Wanzler is negotiating with Boston capitalists for the formation of a joint stock company to manufacture the cookers in this country, and all who have examined it are enthusiastic over its success. The price at which the cookers are sold brings them within the reach of every family, as they will cost no more than an oil stove. By the same means iron can be heated, any kind of baking can be done, and now all that is needed to banish the range from the kitchen is to invest some means of heating the hot water boiler. Mr. Wanzler claims that a piece of meat, which shrinks about 20 per cent by the ordinary process of cooking, will not shrink at all by this process, and that the same is true of all other food.

MARRIED.

SWENSON - ANDERSON - At West Newton, May 4, by Rev. H. J. Patrick, Bennett J. Swenson and Mina A. Anderson, both of Newton.
GILDEA - MULHERR - At Newton, May 12, by Rev. J. F. Gillette, Anthony Gildea and Annie Mulhern, both of Newton.
CANFIELD - NALLY - At Newton, May 12, by Rev. J. F. Gillette, James H. Canfield and Mary E. Nally, both of Newton.
MURPHY - WHITE - At Newton, May 12, by Rev. Michael Dolan, Thomas H. Murphy and Jennie A. White, both of Newton.

DIED.

MARSHALL - At Nonantum, May 9, Edward, son of Edward Marshall, aged 1 yr, 1 mo.
OAKLEY - At Nonantum, May 14, Timothy, son of Patrick Oakley, aged 3 yrs, 2 mos.
BURNS - At Newton, May 14, John, son of John Burns, aged 13 yrs, 11 mos.
GARLINER - At Chestnut Hill, May 15, Sylvester, son of Robert H. Gardiner, aged 1 yr, 4 mos, 4 days.

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthy in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made of strictly pure grain cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country.
CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

A Connecticut man, of rather limited educational advantages, is hopping mad because he sent a long letter of protest to the editor of a weekly paper and the editor printed it as a dialect story. Mistakes will occur in the best conducted offices. - [Burlington Free Press.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

LOST - In the 3:25 train from Boston to Newton Centre, on Tuesday, a pocket book containing money and railroad tickets. The finder will be rewarded by addressing P. O. Box 404, Newton Centre. 32

MONEY WANTED - About $4000, at less than 5 per cent, first class security, on productive property, renting for $800 per year. Address P. O. Box 362, Newton Centre, Mass. 32

FOR RENT - South side of the railroad, five minutes from Newton station, a duplex of six rooms and bath room, hot and cold water, furnace and all modern conveniences. New and clean, nice, convenient and cozy home for a small family. Inquire of H. J. Wood, Elliot Block, 32 3/4

FOR SALE - Three fine bred milch cows, Jersey and Holstein breed, prices reasonable. D. A. White, Glen Avenue, Newton Centre, Mass. 32

FOR SALE - Chickering piano. Fine tone and good order. A great bargain. Address Box 174, Newton. 32 1/2

BOYS' BICYCLES a specialty at E. P. Burnham's, 25 Park street, Boston prices. 32 2

WANTED - A few experienced Crocheters. Apply at 25 Park street. 32 2

CANOE FOR SALE - Twelve feet long, canvas, with wooden deck; for particulars Address "Canoe," care of this office. 32 1/2

PASTURE TO LET - 45 acres of good pasture land situated on Washington St., Newton, near Newton Lower Falls. Rent $30 per year. Address P. O. Box 2112, Boston. 31 1/2

WANTED - Second hand furniture. Any party having second hand furniture, carpets, etc., that they would like to dispose of, can find a purchaser by applying to John Flood, Nottam Block, or at his house, cor. of Centre and Pearl streets, Newton. Telephone 62-3. 31 1/2

FOR SALE - Garden seats of various sizes, also several hives of bees and patent hives. Apply to Dr. James W. Bartlett, 99 Washington street, Newton. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - A large quantity of clear cow manure. Apply to James Claffey, Green St., Newton. 31 1/2

TO LET - In Newton, near station, south side, in a private house, pleasant room or rooms. Inquire at GRAPHIC office. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - An English Tricycle, in perfect order, will be sold for one third its original cost. Apply to 103 Franklin street. 30 3/4

TO LET - Houses in Newtonville; 8 rooms 44 Clarendon, $15 per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 55-3. 32 1/2

FOR SALE - A good second hand covered buggy, Hall's make. Apply to W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 30 1/2

TO RENT - One half double house on Cross street, small modern improvements. Rent, $22 per month, including water rates. Apply to E. T. Wiswall, 40 Cross street. 30 1/2

FOR SALE - The prettiest and fastest pony and cart in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office. 30 1/2

TO LET - Two medium sized houses, in good locality near depot, nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, on reasonable terms. Address "Letter Carrier," Newton, Mass. 30 1/2

TO RENT - TO SELL - About 4 acres of moving land to rent as a pasture, near the village. Also a cart for sale. Address P. O. Box 194, Newton Centre. 30

TO LET - Furnished or unfurnished rooms in a pleasant locality and near the depot. Address H. Letter carrier No. 2, Newton. 30 1/2

TO LET - On Washington street, a convenient house of six rooms. Apply to H. C. Daniels. 30 1/2

WANTED - Good competent girls to take new situations in first class hotels. Apply to McWain, Intelligence Office, Nickerson's Block, Newton Centre. 28

TO LET - House of 10 rooms, bathroom and furnace. Good situation, convenient to street cars. The windows and doors are supplied with wire screens and there is a good range with hot water connection in the kitchen. Apply to 371 Washington street, Newton. 28

TO RENT - New house, 6 rooms, bath and furnace. All modern conveniences. Apply to T. J. Hartnett. 28

TO LET - Handsomely furnished rooms with board at 28 Newtonville Avenue. Apply to J. W. Cotton, Newtonville. 26 1/2

TO LET - House of 8 rooms, Webster Park. Nice, sunny house, cemented cellar and furnace. Apply to Robert Bennett, Station Agent, West Newton. 21 1/2

FOR SALE - Retail Provision route of one hundred and fifty to two hundred customers. Apply to A. D. Hall, Newton Highlands, Mass. 12

TO LET - On Thornton, (formerly School), St., corner of Avon Place, Ward One, half of double French roof dwelling, 10 rooms besides bathroom. All the modern conveniences, Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to T. Crosby, 8 Eldridge street. 26 1/2

Beach Cottage To Let
Near Plymouth, Mass.

A very desirable, fully furnished cottage to rent for the season or for July and August. Terms very reasonable. Inquire of

Mrs. C. A. SHEDD,
31-1 74 Washington Park, Newtonville.

BRICE S. EVANS & SON, Auctioneers

AUCTION SALE.

The executors under the last will of George E. Allen formerly of West Newton, deceased, under a license from the Probate Court, will sell by public auction, to close the estate,

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1889.

AT 4:30 O'CLOCK P. M.

on the premises, corner of Cherry and River Sts., West Newton.

Three vacant lots of land on River and Cherry streets, containing respectively 7,902, 6,471 and 9,281 sq. ft. of land. These are in every respect desirable building lots and are located in a first class neighborhood.

Also the dwelling house formerly occupied by said George E. Allen, and 11,355 square feet of land; the house contains 12 good rooms and a good stable attached. This property is within five minutes walk of depot, post office, stores and schools and all the lots are well stocked with a variety of grape vines and apple and pear trees.

Terms of Sale, $100 to be paid down in cash to bind sale on each vacant lot, $200 in cash to be paid down to bind sale on dwelling house and lot, balance in cash in ten days.

For further particulars and plans enquire of the executors or auctioneers.

JAMES T. ALLEN, } Executors.
CHARLES D. DAVIS, }

West Newton, May 16, 1889.

NEWTON.

FOR SALE OR TO LET, FURNISHED.

On the Southwestern Slope of Mount Ida,

A very desirable house, built by the owner for his own use; has 12 rooms, besides laundry and bathroom; city water and gas; stable accommodation; if desired, and such land as is required; the house is on high, dry land, and commands a most extensive view to the south and west. Further particulars can be obtained and plans seen by applying to ROBERT W. LORD, 16 Federal street, Boston, Room 13, 394

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.
SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.
Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.
OFFICES -
J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

WANTED!
FIRST MORTGAGES

-ON-

NEWTON ESTATES

-FOR-

INVESTMENT OF TRUST FUNDS

SAMUEL BARNARD,
1-12 Rowe's Wharf, Boston.

REMOVAL.

ALVAH SKINNER & SON

DEALERS IN

Diamonds, Other Gems

AND WATCHES.

6 WINTER STREET,

BOSTON.

Corner Washington, Room 2.

The large increase in our business, and the many additions we are constantly making to the variety of our goods, compels our removal to a larger store, the spacious room No. 3, at corner of Winter and Washington Streets, over B. F. Brabury's Drug Store, where we hope to renew the kind consideration of our trade.

ALVAH SKINNER & SON.

TO DEPOSITORS

IN

Newton Savings Bank.

An Act Requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings, to call in their Books of Deposit, at Stated Intervals.

(Chapter 40 Acts of 1888.)

"During the year eighteen hundred eighty nine and every third year thereafter, Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors, for verification, in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."

In accordance with the above law, all depositors in Newton Savings Bank are requested to bring in their books of deposit, to the bank, at their earliest convenience for verification. By vote of the Trustees of Newton Savings Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, } Committee of In-
WILLARD MARCY, } vestment for New-
JAMES F. C. HYDE, } ton Savings Bank
NEWTON, May 7, 1889.

FOR SALE

-IN-

NEWTONVILLE.

Three New Houses,

To be completed this month, all thoroughly built, with modern improvements, and grounds to be graded and put in first-class shape.

These houses are located on Court street, near the railroad station, and along the route of the Newton Street Railway. One house contains nine rooms, the other two have eight, besides bath rooms.

They can be inspected at any time and those desiring a pleasant home or to make a sure paying investment, should see them at once.

For terms, etc., apply to

A. R. MITCHELL,

37 Broad Street, Boston.

Or at residence, Newtonville.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS AND IMPORTERS,

Invite an inspection of their carefully selected

Spring Cloths

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

WALTHAM

WATCHES

-AT-

Lowest Prices.

Rings, Jewelry and Chains.

L. D. Whittemore, Jr.,

411 Centre St.,

Fine Watch Repairing.

French, English and American

Clocks put in first-class order.

All work guaranteed.

Number Your Houses

And so obtain the FREE POSTAL DELIVERY. If you do not know your number enclose a postal card, addressed with your name and street to the City Engineer, West Newton, who will return it with your correct number. You can get the best

Bronze Metal Nickled Plated
2 inch numbers at

BARBER BROS,
HARDWARE STORE,
No 415 Centre Street.

MILK & CREAM.

WARRANTED PURE.

Having one of the largest dairies in the state with all modern improvements for cooling and keeping of milk, I am better prepared to serve the trade than ever before, having everything in the best possible condition in all its details. Also Fresh Eggs, Poultry and Choice Bottled Champagne Cider. In their season, Strawberries, Raspberries and Currants, delivered fresh every day. Address

E. JENNINGS, Box 129, Newton Lower Falls.

HAIR CUTTING

J. T. BURNS,

Cole's Block.

With Latest Improved Hair Clippers.

We can cut hair any length or style to suit our patrons. Ladies' Misses' and Children's Hair Cutting a specialty. Ladies waiting room next door to barber shop. Razors carefully honed and concaved. Children's Sea Foam only 10 cents, one of the best in Boston for cleansing the scalp. Don't forget our Boot Black for the general accommodation of the public at

JOHN T. BURNS'

Hair Dressing Rooms,

Cole's Block, over H. B. Coffin's.

Open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m., 12 Saturdays.

Charles S. Holbrook.

Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.

No. 41 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.

POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies allow est rates.

FISH OYSTERS,

Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

-AT-

Bunting's Fish Market

NEWTONVILLE.

A gypsy camp has been located on Mills street.

The Misses Upton have returned from Florida where they spent the winter.

Rev. W. I. Haven of Boston will preach in the Methodist church, Sunday evening.

Mr. O. B. Leavitt is laying a new floor and making other improvements in his store.

Gaudet has on hand some good tickets for the Amherst concert at Newton, May 25.

Dr. W. O. Hunt returned from Rangely Lakes last Friday, very much rested by his short vacation.

The officers of the Newton High school battalion were photographed in a group yesterday afternoon.

Mr. George W. Morse and family who have been in Europe for two years are expected home this month.

A pleasant cottage at the shore near Plymouth is advertised to-day. Particulars can be learned of Mrs. Shedd.

Mr. Henry Calley, who has been quite seriously ill, is improved in health.

Mr. Snow of Palmer, Mass., is occupying the Page house, at the corner of Newtonville avenue and Walnut street.

Mrs. J. W. Fenn and daughter have returned from their southern trip, and Miss Fenn's health is much improved.

J. J. Johnson, the Thornton street florist, has a magnificent display of bedding plants at his conservatory.

Mr. William Jones and family have returned to their home on Crafts street, which has been rented during the winter.

Ex-Governor and Mrs. Claflin will spend the summer here, and will close their Boston home about the first of June.

Work is progressing on the new street which runs from Watertown street just above Cheesecake brook into Crafts street.

Messrs. Fuller & French have rented R. J. McAdams' house on Otis street, to Mr. W. L. Garrison and Dr. Newton's house on Howard street to Mr. E. B. Goodsell of Boston.

The Women's Guild has decided to postpone for a few days the concert to be given by the school children on account of other appointments on the evening of Memorial Day.

The Elmont male quartet sang at the banquet of the Gentlemen's Association, connected with the Union church, Boston, upon the occasion of its Ladies' Day reception.

Mr. F. M. McHugh, the originator of the great "Razle-Dazle" puzzle, is a resident of this ward, and is to be congratulated upon the success of his amusing invention.

Hastings, the watchmaker, in his little shop around the corner, still continues repairing watches, clocks, optical goods and jewelry. French clocks a specialty. Give him a call.

Dalhousie lodge conferred the second degree on three candidates in Masonic Hall, Wednesday evening. The usual banquet and social features followed the Masonic ceremonies.

Officer Bosworth arrested 3 drunken men who were engaged in a fight on Grove Hill park yesterday afternoon, and locked them up at the central station. They will be arraigned in court this afternoon.

The Newton Literary and Social club are to hold their annual picnic at Lily Point, across on the Charles River, Monday, June 17th. Preparations are now in progress and a very pleasant time is anticipated.

Miss Grace Pinkham has been in town for a short visit. She left for Charleston, S. C., on Tuesday morning, on the New York and Washington, en route, and will spend the season with Gen. Taft's family at their summer home on an island in Charleston harbor.

Newton Royal Arch Chapter, F. & A. M., held a regular convention in Masonic Hall, Monday evening, and degrees were conferred upon several candidates. After the ceremonies a collation was served in the banquet hall. Numerous guests, including some of the grand officers were entertained.

The Flower Mission under auspices of the Woman's Guild, has its work arranged for the summer. The ladies from the Methodist church have the care in June, from the Universalist in July, and the Swedenborgian in August, and it is hoped the Congregationalist ladies may kindly take August.

There was quite a large gathering of members at the rooms of the Newton Club last Saturday evening and as usual, bowling formed the chief feature. Monday, H. Pierce broke the record, making the remarkable score of 263 points while numerous players ran up 200 and over. Refreshments were served by Mr. Welch, the club steward, in the dining-hall. Several whist parties were on hand and a very enjoyable social evening resulted.

Two fire alarms were rung in shortly after 7 o'clock Saturday evening, for a fire in Fitzpatrick's planing mill, situated on Crafts street. It caught in the boiler room from a pile of shavings and resulted in considerable damage in that portion of the building. Owing to Chief Bixby's demand that a brick wall be constructed between the boiler house and the main building may be attributed the saving of the entire property, and the flames were prevented from spreading through the main structure. The damage is estimated at about $400, well covered by insurance. The planing mill has only been recently completed, the owner having been burned out when occupying the old Whipple mill on Church street, only a few months ago. The firemen are entitled to no small amount of credit for their good work and prompt arrival at the fire.

Mrs. J. N. Allen received the Woman's Guild at her residence on Central avenue, Tuesday afternoon, when Miss Adelaide Pond gave a most entertaining paper on Parisian Galleries. Miss Pond's voice and manner were charming, and lent additional pleasure to her unique article, which was fully and finely illustrated, and treated mainly of the Louvre, the Luxembourg and the Musee de Cluny, and their treasures of painting and sculpture, with many a touch of history, romance and modern art life, delicately blended therein. The spontaneous applause as she closed the reading showed the cordial pleasure of the audience. The last meeting of the season will be held at Mrs. W. J. Towne's, California street, May 28th, a large company at the depot to take members wishing to ride.

Rev. R. A. White spoke on Sunday morning on "The Needs and Duties of the Sunday School." He said, there is something wrong somewhere, if after ten years of Sunday school attendance a boy or girl leaves the school, not for the church to be a worker there, but for the world with indifference toward spiritual things. It was his belief that three vital things were to be dwelt upon. The study of the Bible, the deepening of the religious sensibilities, the conception of God and His laws, and if a pupil went out into the world with the leaves, the laughing of the sunlight and the beauty of the flowers, and did not see and hear God or get some inspiration of Him, through them, the work of the teacher had in that point failed. He spoke of the need of furnishing helps in the study of the lesson, not only have in the home library Scotts and Elliott's novels, though they be highly prized, but the best Bible commentary obtainable; Smith's Bible Dictionary, Illustrated Palestine and Bible histories. Don't be afraid to spend a little money for these things, but have a library well supplied, and then with the children spend an hour in studying the lesson and so inspire them because they find it something worthy your attention and interest. Pay the same care to their regular attendance as you would to the punctuality and regularity of attendance at public school. Lend the moral influence of the home to the work, and then when the children enter the Sunday school for the short time devoted to study they will not sit in cold apathy or indifference for the library book, but will be full of earnest wide awake interest to get directly to the lesson, and to tell what they have learned of the glorious life and character of that divine Teacher, who sends his little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven. A foundation of knowledge, respect and reverence will have been laid that will uphold them when they assume the duties and responsibilities and are subjected to the temptations of the world as they stand upon its threshold as young men and women. For upright, downy, practical advice and help, Mr. White's talk on the work in Sunday schools should be printed in pamphlet form and distributed widely.

WEST NEWTON.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Young will receive Thursday afternoon, June 20 and 27.

Amherst concert tickets are on sale in this village at Wright's apothecary store.

Rev. Dr. Quint of Allston preached at the Second Congregational church last Sunday morning.

J. J. Johnson, the florist of Thornton street, Newton, has a magnificent display of bedding plants.

Rev. H. J. Patrick spoke last Sunday afternoon at the meeting of the Newton Young Men's Christian Association.

There will be a memorial praise service with appropriate music by the choir a week from next Sunday evening in the Congregational church.

Mrs. C. P. Huestis, wife of Sergt. Huestis, is suffering from peritonitis and has been very seriously ill. She is reported as slightly improved.

Messrs. Fuller and French have sold the Frogley estate, consisting of a large house and 96,000 feet of land, corner of Washington and Washington streets, to Mr. M. E. Clark.

An art exhibition under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, will be held in the Congregational church parlors, on Wednesday and Thursday, from 10 to 10 p. m.

Rev. Dr. Quint of Allston preached last Sunday morning in the Congregational church, on exchange, and gave a helpful, thoughtful sermon which was listened to with special interest.

Mr. W. H. French, of the firm of W. H. French & Co., has been elected a delegate to the convention of the Master Plumbers' Association, which will be held in Pittsburgh, June 25, 26 and 27.

Mr. Albert Metcalf has been chosen one of the directors of the "Bethany Home for Young Women," a charitable institution to be opened in the Congregational church of the Universalist church.

Miss May Lovell made a score of 172 in a friendly bowling match played on the lawns of the Newton club, at the club house, last Friday evening. She accompanied the regular Friday evening party from West Newton.

The 70th anniversary of the Sunday school of the Second Congregational church will be observed with appropriate exercises Sunday evening. The pastor, Rev. H. J. Patrick, will preach an historical sermon in the morning.

The art exhibition in the Congregational church, Wednesday, May 22, has attracted numerous visitors as the collection will be well worth inspection and will include many beautiful studies in oil and water colors, fine line engravings and a variety of quaint and unique specimens.

Next Sunday will be Sunday school day at the Congregational church, it being the 70th anniversary of the Sunday school. There will be a historical sermon in the morning by the pastor and anniversary exercises at 6 p. m., at which Rev. Mr. Shaw from Nebraska will make the address. He is connected with Gates college, and at the meeting last Friday evening very much interested those present in the story of western life.

We invite attention to the advertised program in to-day's issue of the annual May festival of the First Unitarian Sunday school of West Newton, which will be celebrated in the City hall on the afternoon of Saturday, May 18, 1889. The graceful May dance will be presented and a unique feature added in the Housekeeping dance. These were the program of singing and dancing and joyous games and the music from Cole's orchestra. All should go, both young and old.

Edwin Avery Elder, son of W. E. Elder of West Newton, has been selected by Hon. John W. Candler as the candidate for the Ninth District for the office of Assessor at Annapolis. There were seven young men from different parts of the district who entered into the competition. The committee who examined them said that the candidates were exceptionally well qualified in their studies and their personal appearance. Prof. Runkle, formerly of the Institute of Technology, Dr. George Francis, John J. Henry and Mr. Candler composed the committee.

Business boomed at the session of the police court, Monday afternoon, when 12 cases were disposed of. Edward Miles, for a disturbance of the peace, was fined $10 and costs. John Driscoll, for the same offense, was fined $3 and costs. Patrick Coffey and Thomas Connors were arraigned for a disturbance, and both were discharged. Robert Wells, for third offense of drunkenness, was fined $5 and costs. Bernard and Benedict Benson and John King of Wellesley were found guilty of a violation of a city ordinance in riding bicycles upon the sidewalk, and each paid a fine of $1 and costs. William Thompson and Charles Clark, for playing ball on Sunday, were each fined $1 and costs. Thomas Delaney and Thomas Collins for drunkenness, first offense, each fined $1 and costs. E. C. Sangler, third offense of drunkenness, had his case continued.

The regular monthly social assembly of the Baptist church at West Newton occurred on Wednesday evening, May 8th, when about one hundred persons sat down to an excellent supper. This was followed by music and speaking, Dea. H. A. Inman presiding and calling upon those who participated in the exercises. Dea. N. C. Pike spoke in behalf of the church; Rev. Dr. C. Foster of the Watchman, expressed good cheer; Mr. Samuel P. Putnam represented the Sunday School; Prof. J. M. English testified to his growing interest in behalf of that people; Mr. A. L. Barbour gave reminiscences of his late journey in the South, and Mr. E. E. Burden of his visit to the centennial celebration in New York. Edmund O. Brandon drew lessons from the defeat of the constitutional amendment; Edmund Christolm gave a declamation. Solos were sung by Mrs. Fisher and Miss Jessie Guthrie Stickell, and Mr. E. E. Burden presided at the piano.

The musical under the auspices of the Women's Educational club in the Unitarian church parlors, Wednesday evening, was most successful and enjoyable. The program was arranged under the direction of Mrs. J. W. Carter and the selections were compositions of Franz Peter Schubert, a biographical sketch of the distinguished composer being given by Mrs. Gould. Miss pianoforte number, "Overture to Rosamunde," by Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. P. W. Carter, was very finely rendered, and the first three movements of Sonata No. 1, in A minor, Op. 42, was excellently by Miss Marsh. Miss Nellie Warren sang "My Sweet Josephine" and "Impatience," and Miss Alice C. Ward gave a fine rendering of "Mignon's Song" and "Hark, Hark, the Lark." A serenade sung by Miss Warren with violin obligato by Miss May Norton was one of the most successful of the evening. The Adagio from the great symphony in C major, arranged for violin and pianoforte, by Miss Norton and Miss Marsh was rendered with artistic taste and the song "Midst the Bright Shores of the Mirror-Like Waters" demonstrated the clear and sweet tones in Miss Ward's fine voice. The closing number for pianoforte, selections from the Entr'actes and ballet music from Rosamunde, (four hands), by Mrs. J. W. and Mrs. P. W. Carter was very finely given, the rendition being notable for brilliant execution and fine musical expression.

The annual meeting of the Women's Educational club was held in the Unitarian church parlors, Wednesday afternoon, and these officers were elected, for the ensuing year: Mrs. E. L. Walton, president; Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. L. G. Pratt, Mrs. Luke Davis, Mrs. Kate Meade, vice-presidents; Mrs. B. L. White, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Hastings, secretary; Miss Alice M. Sewell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. E. Adams, Mrs. Wm. Elder, Mrs. C. E. Fiske, Mrs. Emily Webster, Mrs. J. E. Barker, Mrs. H. L. Putnam, Mrs. J. F. Mier, Mrs. G. D. Collins, directors. The reports of the officers were read, and showed the club to be in good financial condition with full membership and many applications on hand. The following facts gleaned from the report of the secretary, Mrs. Jane M. Hastings, will be read with interest: "In beginning this report, it is natural to look back further than the current year as we pause at this milestone which marks our progress onward. Again we have opened our doors wider to the pressure without and extended our privileges to those anxious to avail themselves of a means of wider information and intelligence; the interest in our meetings is of value in awakening thought, stimulating our intellectual growth, taking us from the routine of ordinary every day life, into something fresh outside. It is one of the signs of the times, the awakening of women, to a sense of the value of combination, and so we see, through the whole country, a new and beautiful union of sisterhoods, drawn together by an aspiration for a higher life, by a desire to make the most of those talents never designed by their Creator to be wasted or forlorn, but to be used to make the environment of each, better and nobler. This is brought to our notice by the number of clubs represented at the convention called by the Women's Educational Union, to be represented so well and ably. After alluding to the work of the year the various interesting and instructive lectures, the annual outing of the club and the study of the history of the club, the secretary says in conclusion: At our last meeting we grappled with one of the knotty problems of the day, 'Poverty, its Causes and Cures.' Because we were given by Mrs. Borrowson and Mrs. Bassett, temperance and unthriftiness. The cure by Mrs. S. Warren Davis, in removing present conditions, and in the growth of an unselfishness in education and social life, fraternity would govern mankind. The exercise of thought and the endeavor to express ourselves makes topics like the last of value to us. As one means of improvement it enlarges our boundaries, makes us look beyond our own way of life; and if we too act our belief in equality and fraternity, the work has begun. Early in the season a tragic accident deprived us of one of our members, Mrs. Julia Pike, a lovely young woman to whom life in its opening gave promise of a full future, beloved of husband and friends, yet by some strange Providence we cannot understand, she has passed from earth to some other sphere of ministering. I cannot close this report without mentioning another who has passed away—Judge Park of Newton, husband of our members, Mrs. Julia Pike, who greatly interested in our club and frequently would be seen an earnest listener. Last year, when Mrs. Wyman read a paper on 'Life in an anti-slavery family,' Judge Park gave a thrilling picture of Boston on the day of the Anthony Burns execution, and his own part in the events which since have become historic. This closes the record of the last year of our organization. The mild weather of the winter, giving us good days for our meetings, has been favorable for our attendance, and no record has been made of stormy days or postponement.

AUBURNDALE.

Mr. Henry A. Thorndyke of Ash street has returned from his business trip.

Mr. C. G. Tinkham disposed of a fine driving horse to S. F. Cate this week.

A barn belonging to Thomas Hart is being removed from Melrose to Freeman street.

The New England Order of Protection are to have a strawberry festival next Monday evening.

Mr. Shreve of Boston has taken Mr. Julius Luquien's house on Central street, for the summer.

Miss Hattie Pixley returns soon to her home at Natal, Africa. Two younger sisters are to be the missionary home.

Tickets for the concert to be given May 25 at the Eliot Hall by the Amherst Glee and Banjo Clubs are on sale at Brush's.

Mr. Dean Walker has engaged to teach in the college at Beirut for three years. The college is an endowed institution and not under the care of the American board.

Considerable disturbance was caused in the vicinity of the Woodcliff and Park Hotel, Sunday, by ball playing and bicycle riding. The participants were arrested.

Mr. W. E. Haskell, editor of the Minneapolis Tribune, and formerly of Auburndale, is mentioned as the probable successor of Mr. Enander as minister to Denmark.

Miss Carrie L. Bourne has been appointed postmaster here, in response to a very general request from citizens of all parties. She was appointed by President Cleveland, but the Senate failed to confirm the appointment, and President Harrison has now made the same appointment. Miss Bourne has had entire charge of the office since the death of her father, and the office is one of the best conducted ones in Newton.

Church of the Messiah—The sale by the St. Agnes Guild, under the superintendence of Mrs. Charles R. Brown and Mrs. Edwin R. Frost, will be held at Mrs. Frost's residence, 40 Auburn street, on Friday and Saturday of next week, (24th and 25th inst.) Quite an attractive display of fancy work, which the little misses have been preparing during the winter. The sale is offered, the real value and under Mrs. J. J. Davis's expert to be present and exhibit the world renowned "wax figures," and art gallery, refreshment room and entertainment of music, drama, recitals, etc., among the attractions promised. An admission fee of ten cents will be charged. The sale is open during both afternoon and evening of each day, and the patronage of the public is cordially invited.

Lasell Notes.

The usual temperance meeting was held on Sunday, the 12th.

Misses Cole and Rose made calls at the school during the past week.

Miss Lillie Eddy spent Sunday with Miss Sue Day, her roommate last year.

Two parties on different evenings have visited Echo bridge by moonlight, having also a charming drive to the spot.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Prof. Win North Rice, D. D., of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn.

The commencement address at Lasell Seminary on June 19th will be given by Rev. Dr. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge.

HOTEL SORRENTO, MINER ROBINSON, SORRENTO, ME.

NEAR BAR HARBOR.

Frenchman's Bay and Mount Desert Land and Water Company.

Proprietors of this

BEAUTIFUL SUMMER RESORT.

Yachting, fishing, beautiful drives, and picturesque scenery. Extensive and fine hotel accommodations. The Cafe is unrivaled for the excellence of its cuisine. Open from June 1st to Oct. 1st.

MAGNIFICENT COTTAGE LOTS FOR SALE.

COMPANY'S OFFICES: 17 Milk street, Boston; Main Wharf, Sorrento; Main street, Bar Harbor. Direct route to Sorrento by Boston & Maine Railroad, Eastern Division, and Boston & Bangor Steamers. The Company's Steamer "Sorrento" runs hourly during the season between Sorrento and Bar Harbor, only about 20 minutes' sail.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOTEL, GILMANTON, N. H.

Leased and controlled by Summer Residents, one of whom is JOHN L.

STODDARD, the Lecturer.

Remarkably healthy location; lovely scenery; hotel entirely refurbished and enlarged; everything new, clean and comfortable; hair mattresses throughout; generous table; spring water; plenty of teams; Pool Table and Bowling Alley; new and experienced landlord. Moderate terms. Send for circulars.

O. G. SANBORN, Manager.

Langwood Hotel, LANGWOOD PARK, WYOMING, MONT.

Sixty daily trains. Mineral Springs. Purest air. No malaria; with an altitude of 300 feet above Boston, and only 6 miles from Statest, yet a real mountain home. Lawns lighted with electric lights. A Fairy Land, a Fairy Home. A Garden fit for Queens. The house will open April 1. The 4-horse barge will meet the 2:25 train out each day at Wyoming Station, B. & M. R.R., also the 4:00, 4:45, 5:30 and 6:15. Address 28 State street, Room 51. 32 st.

River Bluff Cottage KENNEBUNKPORT, MAINE.

First-class board; high ground, fine view of river and ocean; tennis court; boats on premises; open June 1; references exchanged.

Address Mrs. M. J. NUTTING, 31-4 No. 13 Richardson St., Newton, Mass.

IF YOUR HOUSE NEEDS PAINTING, USE BAY STATE PAINTS.

MANUFACTURED BY WADSWORTH, HOWLAND & CO., 82 and 84 Washington street, Boston. Send for sample card in 45 different shades. 32 st.

The Woodcliff Hotel, FORT POINT, STOCKTON SPRINGS, ME.

Situated on Penobscot Bay, with beautiful grounds, pine grove, lawn tennis, bowling, etc. Delightful walks and drives. For pamphlets and all information, address 31 Milk street, Boston. DUSTIN LANCEY, Pres't, or N. H. PEAKES, Manager. 32 st.

Chicago Weather Predictions.

Go put away your ulster and bring out your new spring coat, for the air's as fine as a poem as a poet ever wrote; its balmy breath and soft caress creates the casual wish that you knew some quiet place to go and sit and smoke and fish; or loll up on a grassy bank and read a bonny book; or "peel" and "go in swimming," with no person near to look; or wander in the timberland and pluck the fragrant flowers and fill the happy, happy days with happy, happier hours; or climb a sun-kissed hay stack in the bottom-land and dream of that wondrous land of vision, of that blossom-bordered streams which poets like to picture; or wander in the haunted lines, as purring through those legend-locked and halcyon confines; or clamber up an apple tree and perch upon a limb and breathe the blossoms' fragrance as you sing a silent hymn; or with a loved one stroll at eve and inspiration drink from the beauty of the landscape and the banjo's pleasant pink. Your mind insists on rioting on such a day as this—a day as full of ecstasy as love's initial kiss.

At noon the wind was from the southeast at six miles an hour.—[Chicago Mail]

Annual May Festival First Unitarian Sunday School

WEST NEWTON, City Hall, Saturday, May 18, '89

Doors open 2 P. M.

Music. Cole's Orchestra.

May Dance. House keepers' Dance.

Solo—Welcome Pretty Primrose.

Trio—Lullaby from Ernine.

Games. Refreshments for Sale.

ADMISSION: Tickets to be obtained of the committee and at the door.

Adults, 25c. Children, 15c.

W. EUSTIS BARKER, Comm. Ittee.

THOS. A. FLEU, Mrs. E. P. OTIS.

GYMNASTICS

Having closed for the season, Miss RANSOM has time for some

SWIMMING LESSONS

to persons outside the school. Cost $1.00 each.

Apply to Miss Ransom, teacher, or 32 2 C. C. BRAGDON, Principal, Lasell Seminary.

F. M. Whipple & Co.,

—Artists in—

STAINED GLASS

—AND—

METALLO - MOSAIC - GLASS,

—FOR—

Churches & Dwellings.

86 Federal St., Boston, Mass., or at residence 88 Harvard Street, Newtonville. 24ly

MINER ROBINSON, ELECTRICIAN,

209 Washington St., Boston. Residence, West Newton

Private Residences fitted for the

Incandescent LIGHT.

Licensed by the New England Electric Exchange to do Electric Light and Power wiring of every description, also to install and operate Electric Motors, Storage Batteries, etc. Estimates furnished. 17

W. H. FRENCH & CO., PRACTICAL PLUMBERS, GAS FITTERS, Sanitary - Engineers.

Washington Street, Newtonville. (Near Newtonville Square.)

Desire to call the attention of the residents of Ward Two to the following facts, viz: Having had over thirty years of practical experience in this line of business, and keeping ourselves thoroughly posted in all the latest sanitary improvements, we feel confident that we can give our customers stock and work which will give entire satisfaction in every respect. As to quality of work, we can refer you to a large number of gentlemen in this city and Boston, for whom we have done work for the past thirty years. We are bound to suit our customers in the best quality of stock and work, and make our price according to the entire satisfaction of all. Our office is connected with telephone. Please remember the location. 296m

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

BARBOUR & HATCH, Insurance Agents,

FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT. Represent the Worcester, Traders & Mechanics, Quincy, Dorchester, Merchants & Farmers, Cambridge, and other good Mutual companies, paying 70 per cent. dividends. The German-American, Providence, Washington and other first-class stock companies. They are prepared to place large or small lines upon all classes of property at lowest rates. ALFRED L. BARBOUR. E. P. HATCH. Office at the First National Bank, West Newton. 22ly

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton." Boat Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

S. F. CATE, Furnishing Undertaker,

WASHINGTON STREET, WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8119.

HENRY L. WHITTLESEY, COUNSELLOR-at-LAW

39 COURT STREET, BOSTON, Residence, 371 Cherry Street, - West Newton

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1857.

West Newton, Mass.

AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President. JAMES H. NICHOLSON, Treasurer. ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Benj. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Brigham, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cate, Adams K. Tolman, C. F. Eddy, Lyman K. Putney, Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Samuel Barnard, Fred E. Crockett.

Open for business daily, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m., and 2 to 4 p. m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

DENTISTRY, H. E. JOHNSON, D.D.S.

Ten years Practical Experience.

Office, over Ingraham's Drug Store, WEST NEWTON.

First class operating in all branches at reasonable rates.

Office Hours: 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

NEWTONVILLE DIRECTORY

TAINTER'S Circulating Library

Has all the latest novels, the leading magazines and most popular reader books. It is a great convenience to those who wish to keep up with the times.

All the leading daily papers, magazines and periodicals for sale, also the cheap popular libraries.

C. H. TAINTER, Newtonville News Depot

TELEPHONE 49 4.

JOHN F. PAYNE, Associates' Block, - Newtonville,

REGISTERED PHARMACIST.

SUNDAY HOURS—8 to 10:35 a. m., 12 to 4 to 9 p. m.

NEW PERFECTION ICE CHEST.

Please call and examine before purchasing and then kind.

O. B. LEAVITT, Leavitt's Block, Newtonville.

PRESIDENT HOVEY'S PORTRAIT.

Presented by the Alumni to the Theological Institution.

ELECTION OF TRUSTEES AND OTHER MATTERS.

The exercises in connection with the graduation of the students of the Newton Theological Institution brought many people to Newton Centre, Tuesday. The usual class examinations occurred in the forenoon, and in the afternoon an address to the alumni was delivered by Prof. S. Burnham of Hamilton Theological Seminary, who spoke in the Baptist church, taking for his topic: "An old Bible but a New Theology."

At the annual meeting of the trustees these officers were elected: Eustace C. Fitz, president; Benjamin A. Greene, secretary; Freeman A. Smith, treasurer; Amos W. Downing of Haverhill, John H. Sanborn of Newton Centre, Benjamin E. Cole of Boston, James McWhinnie of Cambridge, Orrin P. Gifford of Boston, Lemuel C. Barnes of Newton Centre, directors; Robert C. Mills, James McWhinnie, John B. Brackett, Benjamin A. Greene, R. O. Fuller, G. S. Dexter, A. W. Benton, J. H. Sanborn, Alvah Hovey, executive committee; E. C. Fitz, W. A. Bowdler, J. C. Stevens, G. D. Edmonds, finance committee. The finances were reported to be in excellent condition, and the church recently completed was free from debt. A paper, prepared by President Hovey at the request of the trustees, was read, in which he stated that there were needed five new professorships, new buildings for the better accommodation of classes, and especially a new library building. The following committee was appointed to consider the recommendations: President, Alvah Hovey, E. C. Fitz, G. C. Barnes, G. S. Harwood and Mr. Munroe.

PRESENTATION OF THE PORTRAIT.

The alumni dinner was held in Associates' Hall. When the tables were cleared away the body listened to the secretary's report, which showed eighteen deaths during the year. The standing committee was elected as follows: president, S. L. Caldwell, D. D.; vice-president, Kendall Brooks, D. D.; secretary, Professor C. R. Brown; orator, H. E. Wayland, D. D.; substitute, Basil Manley, D. D.

The necrology list, submitted by Prof. C. R. Brown, was read, as follows: H. H. Hazleton, class of '49, died many years since, information just received; S. W. Avery, '47, died at Lisbon Falls, Me., Dec. 17, 1885, aged 61; R. C. Palmer, '47, died at Perry, N. Y., several years ago, aged 64; Isaac Niles, '45, died at Chicago, Ill., several years ago, aged 65; Asahel Chapin, '33; S. W. Clark, '35; George Waters, '36 reported dead; J. W. Capen, '40, died about a year ago in Birmingham, N. Y.; J. T. Smith, '45, died at Royalston, Mass., May 17, 1888, aged 73; A. A. Cummings, '50, died at New Bedford, Mass., June 11, 1888, aged 68; Harvey Ball, '20, died at Albion, N. Y., June 18, 1888, aged 88; C. L. Eaton, '91, died at Newton Centre, Oct. 12, 1888, aged 30; J. B. Cook, '33, died at Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 8, 1888, aged 84; A. B. Thombs, '87, died at Marlboro, Mass., Dec. 4, 1888, aged 31; C. A. Thomas, D. D., '35, died at Brandon, Vt., March 6, 1889, aged 89; C. W. Currier, '78, died at Winfield, Kan. April 18, 1879, aged 46. The late Harvey Ball was for nine years the oldest living graduate. The oldest alumnus now living is Joseph Freeman, D. D. of East Charlotte, Vt., class of '30.

The pleasant feature of the occasion was the presentation of a large oil portrait, in a massive gilt frame, of President Hovey to the institution by the alumni. The presiding officer was Professor J. L. Lincoln, LL. D. of Brown University, and in his opening remarks he said that whatever changes might come they were all certain to find the old institution in its accustomed place. "This day," said he, "will always bear the unique distinction of being the day of the Hovey celebration. We have come to join together in this presentation of a new portrait and listen to the congratulatory addresses which will be made by some of our brethren." He said he wished to bear his testimony of honor and love to the president of this institution, and then introduced the Rev. Dr. W. S. McKenzie of Boston, who made the presentation speech. He said:

My duty on this occasion may be said to be quickly discharged. This occasion recalls many things on which I should like to dwell, but I will not. There are two things for which I am thankful. The first is the fact that the man whom we would select for special and deserved recognition is yet alive. (Applause.) He is here in the midst of his admiring disciples. He is here with his natural forces unabated and with his hearing unimpaired. We are not here to lament the dead, but to laud the living, and God grant that we may have long to wait before we shall have occasion to use the phrase which has come down to us from the past: "De mortuis nil nisi bonum." It is now forty years since Dr. Hovey first entered upon the work of this institution. During these four decades many noble men have come, have served and gone. All the while Dr. Hovey has steadily remained at his post, toiling on. Toiling on to-day, with no apparent abatement of former enthusiasm. Indeed, his wisdom and courage seem to expand with every passing year. During this time he has steadfastly and unwaveringly pursued his labors here. During this time there have been 745 students in training for the Christian ministry, and of these 550 are living to-day.

A few months ago the members of the alumni felt that the time had arrived when some testimonial should be devised in which to express their esteem and admiration for Dr. Hovey. It was decided that this should be something more than a temporary souvenir, but something that should be a perpetual memorial ought to be brought into this testimonial; something which could be located in the institution in which so much of his active life has been spent, where his work and name will be cherished with pride and admiration long after he and his pupils have passed away. That testimonial is now before you.

Dr. McKenzie then unveiled the portrait amid great applause. The members crowded about to view. Continuing, he said:

You may rest assured, Dr. Hovey, that "we have not come to bury Caesar, but to praise him." We all sincerely desire that many more years may be added to your noble and beautiful life, and that you may long be continued in the work in which you are engaged and to which we have come to believe you were fore-ordained from eternity and where you have made your calling and election sure. [Applause.]

The artist, Mr. Otto Grueman, was then presented to the audience. Two of Dr. Hovey's classmates, the Rev. Mr. Ford and Dr. Eaton of Nashua, N. H., then seized the opportunity to congratulate their old friend and made pleasant short addresses. Letters were read from alumni as follows, expressing the highest esteem for Dr. Hovey: Drs. Basil Manley and J. H. Broadhus of Louisville, Ky.; Dr. H. G. Weston, Chester, Penn.; Dr. E. Dodge, Hamilton, N. Y.; Dr. J. R. Boise, Morgan Park, Ill.; Dr. E. A. Park, Andover, and Dr. J. W. Northrup of Morgan Park, Ill.

Dr. Hovey on being called upon was greeted with tremendous applause, and the audience rose en masse to greet him. He was visibly affected by his welcome. He said: I am sure, my friends and pupils and fathers, that you have said a great many things to-night that were very kind and partly true. I cannot help feeling myself, as I hear these kind and precious words, that you have only seen a small part of the man, and that if you had seen all you could not have said as you have said. There have been so many failures in my work, you would have tempered your language, I am sure. But I want to say here before my Master and my pupils, I have tried every year and every month of the year, to do something that would be useful—something that would be a genuine and true help to those who have been under my charge. I count it the great blessing of my life that God has so graciously blessed me in my work here. Now, of the future that remains for me, I can say but little. Of the Institution I can say a great deal. All my hopes are bound up in it. It is my hope that men of strength, men of hearts, men of grand trust in the Lord Jesus Christ may come every year, and, working together, grow better and better than ever before. I desire, hope and pray for it. I expect, and for the future we can all have confidence in one another; we must labor for the same truth as we see it and extend it as far as possible. My prayer is that you may all grow in grace and the Lord Jesus Christ.

Dr. E. G. Robinson of Brown University was then introduced. He said: A thoughtful man is irresistibly convinced that a portrait of himself is in more senses than one a counterfeit presentment. It must necessarily be the man as he has passed through the artist's mind. But as generations look at this portrait it will be a source of strength to them. I want to congratulate my brother here on one piece of good fortune, and that is he has never known what it is to be taken up by the roots and transplanted. He came to his present position by degrees, and with the satisfaction of knowing that he was crowding out nobody else. The place was fitted for him and he was fitted for the place. I want to say that I have confidence in the teachings of our brother. I believe our brother studies the truth and preaches it as he believes it. He is a man who has honest convictions and dares to express them, and they are coupled with a profound and unalterable loyalty to Jesus Christ. His has been a great example to young men. Wherever he found them defective he tried to make them right.

Dr. Pepper of Colby University was next introduced. He said: Dr. Hovey has been my friend and associate for more than twenty years. I am glad to say that his teaching and personal influence and the influence of his spiritual manhood have entered into my thought and my life so deeply that I do not know what in me is myself and what is Dr. Hovey. I think, however, that I am safe to say that the best thing in myself is not myself, but Dr. Hovey. My theology, my philanthropy, my whole life is largely his. So for me at this time to continue would be like Dr. Hovey enlarging himself. [Applause.]

Dr. Strong of Rochester, N. Y., was the next speaker. He said:

My interest in the Rochester Theological Seminary makes a common cause with you all in laying a chapter of honor and affection on this gray head. I see before me, I understand the speaker to say it might be a good thing if we could attend our own funerals and thus hear some of the pleasing things that would be said of us. I think it would be well if some of the things reserved for that occasion were spoken in a person's lifetime. Dr. Hovey has led us by the way of sound learning. Forty years have made a great difference in teaching and scholarship in our denomination, and we owe a great deal to his example and studious research. He has been an example of judicial fairness through all these years. His reverence and thorough knowledge of the Scripture has been of great value to us. There has been more than one time in my history of investigation that I have reached difficulties that I thought must be settled at once, and they have been given with a readiness and kindness which have won my heart. The reward of the Christian teacher does not come as soon as that of the Christian minister. But it comes just as surely. Dr. Hovey begins to see the fruitage of his teaching at the end of these many years.

THE NEWTON THEOLOGICALS.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON AT NEWTON CENTRE, BY DR. PEPPER OF COLBY UNIVERSITY.

The Baptist Church at Newton Centre, contained a large gathering Sunday morning, including the students of the Newton Theological Institution, who came to listen to the baccalaureate sermon which was delivered by Rev. G. D. B. Pepper, president of Colby University. After prayer and singing by the choir, Dr. Pepper read his text from the first epistle of John, third verse: "That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son, Jesus Christ."

"The character of the Apostle John was pre-eminently spiritual," said the speaker. "His life had the least of earth about it; his whole being was in the heavens. It is significant, therefore, that he insists upon what is concerned in religion and belief as a matter of observation, that which is heard with the ear and seen with the eye. There are those who profess the religion of Christ who find no place for facts. They are men of faith, and the faith with them is something which rises like a mist, having nothing that is solid or tangible, although possessing, perhaps, a certain beauty. There are those who are not Christians who refuse to recognize anything that is solid in faith and religion. They believe that all religion is destitute of substance and cannot stand the close observation of facts. Such men will, therefore, have no respect for a religion that cannot be seen, heard and handled. In business there are certain defined rules to be observed on the line of facts. The physician who administers treatment is governed by the facts in the case. He cannot trust to theories, for the patient's life must be sacrificed. The same idea holds true in science which is really putting facts to facts that have been carefully demonstrated. The business man, the professional man, or the scientific man who see in religion that which does not conform to fact cannot look upon it except with a feeling of contempt. The Apostle John says that fact is the first and the principle in religion. He speaks of a religion that can be seen and handled, proclaiming truths out of God's words. There is one fact in religion that must be recognized; the religious nature of man, not man in the abstract, but men.

We speak of our physical nature and intellectual nature demonstrated by certain phenomena. We possess also a sensitive nature. There are things within us we know of our own consciousness. It is clear to every one here that as far back as your memory can go came the idea of God and the supreme being, and with it the idea of moral law, an obligation that goes with you in business and in social relations. It is with you always, although it may sometimes be trampled upon. You possess also, the sense of worship. These are phenomena within you that cannot be got rid of. That which is distinct of us is distinctive of others; all men have these promptings and recognition of these natures. The men who profess God have a religious nature. The scientists who try to prove the fallacy of the foundation of religion are compelled, through their religious nature, to try and prove their assertions while their conscience twitches.

Despite all antagonism to the Bible, it is here among you; it is in your homes; it is here forth like the sunlight, and it is here to stay. We go back to the beginning and we see the germ of the completed book at the outside. It is a genuine thing which tries to remove the historical basis of the Old Testament. The Jews at the time of Christ believed that it was history, and if that history be not solid and real, then all devotion in the Old Testament is not true. I care only for a common sense view, and by that test it stands or falls. The Bible from beginning to end recognizes the honor God places upon facts; it will stand and not fall.

We know that men are not sinless, and we are conscious of our moral obligations. We do not believe in the integrity of everybody, for there is a recognition of depravity among us. It is a recognized fact that at the root of every life there is corruption, and that is sin. Depravity covers the earth; it is universal, but with it comes the power of lifting ourselves up from degradation. It is not, however, a matter of consistency within yourself. In conclusion, it may be said that no explanation of the life or works of Christ can be given that does not recognize in him a heavenly power. Jesus Christ stands lifted up above all men in the preserved records, and you can find him any day if you will. The life of Christ is a revelation of the life of him who penetrates the clouds that seek to obscure your vision. There is an eternal world beyond, and those who go forth from this seminary, go as the Apostles went, to bring men face to face with their religious nature, and to teach them a faithful regard to the facts in religion, that which can be seen and heard, that which will stand and bloom forever."

A Landable Rivalry.

[Framingham Gazette.]

A laudable rivalry has sprung up between religious denominations at Newton Highlands since the increase in population with the introduction of the B. & A. circuit railroad. The Baptists secured the only hall in the place and had a monopoly for a time, but now the Rev. J. C. Hill, who is well known hereabouts, has got himself appointed as minister there, has made arrangements for another hall, and now holds Methodist services regularly. Both these churches expect to build new houses of worship in the near future.

What Drink Does.

We all know that drinking alcoholic liquors does for men, but how many of us know what drinking adulterated and colored Tea does for women?

How many have their nerves ruined before they know it? Drink only the O. & O. Tea which is perfect in purity, a healthful and delicious beverage, nerve-tonic and aid to digestion.

100 Ladies Wanted.

and 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas H. Lane, who has cured thousands of cases of the blood, liver, and kidneys, it is a positive cure. For constipation and clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Children like it. Large-size package, 50 cents. At all druggists.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.

TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deathly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you. Do you suffer with that tired and allgone feeling? If so, use SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you. Do you feel that the mucus and work of the bowels are not procured sufficient exercise, and all who are troubled with constipation should use SULPHUR BITTERS. They will cure you. Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3-cent stamps to A. P. OGDEN & Co., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

DEARNESS CURED BY PEARL'S.

Widow's heart distressfully. Comfortable. Successful where all remedies fail. The book is a treat. Ask for it at all druggists. A. P. OGDEN & Co., Boston, Mass.

PEARL'S DYES ARE THE BEST.

Sold by Druggists.

THE HOWARD WILL.

Roy Howard declared that let them move where they would, the house was always haunted—haunted by an old Will.

There is a place in London called Doctor's Commons, where wills are deposited for safe keeping, and where a great deal of business "red-tape" is tied and untied around them, but Roy complained that this particular Will of his great-uncle would never "stay buried" there, but was always "bobbing up serenely" to interfere with his life in some way. It had been the staple subject of conversation between his father and mother ever since he could remember, without one farthing of profit, but much useless expense, so far, and Roy was heartily tired of it.

"Here, mother," said he, coming in from school one day, eyes bright and cheeks red, with a run in the fresh air "Here's another old document from Doctor's Commons. How I hate the sight of those great yellow envelopes!"

But Mrs. Howard's thin cheek flushed with pleasure as, stopping the flying wheel of the sewing-machine, she reached out eagerly for the package.

Not so fast, little mother," said Roy, keeping the envelope at a tantalizing distance. "I want to make a speech before you open it."

"Go on," said Mrs. Howard, smiling tenderly at the eager boy. "Your speeches are sometimes quite interesting. You will be an orator by the time you are a member of Parliament."

"There," said Roy, with some impatience, "that's the very point. You are always dreaming of great things for me, just on account of that old Will, and so we've never settled about the future. We're always hanging between riches and poverty, like Mahomet's coffin. Nothing comes of it but trouble and expense, and I don't believe we shall ever get a shilling. Now, honestly, do you, mother?"

The mother looked at him for a moment and breathed a weary sigh. "I don't know, Roy," said she, "what I do believe."

"I'm 15 years old," said Roy proudly, and I ought to go to work like other poor American boys. Come, mother, be reasonable! I know very well why we moved from the city and why you are wearing yourself out over that sewing-machine. All of those garments are not made for us, are they?" asked he, eyeing a great pile of linen suspiciously.

"Not quite all, Roy," answered the mother faintly.

"Have confidence in me, mother. I am not a child. How long can we go on, ever at this rate?"

The mother thought a few minutes and then it seemed almost with an air of relief at being forced into a confidence, answered: "Not more than a year, I am afraid, Roy."

"I thought so," said he. "Now, mother, if this mail brings no better news than its forerunners, I'm going to insist upon doing something myself, something to earn money. I can't have you killing yourself to support a great boy like me."

"It does seem a long time," said the weary mother, "and things look badly, I confess, but I've always been so sure that you would have your rights in the end. Perhaps I have done wrong to spend everything for it, but I thought it was the best thing for you, Roy," said she appealingly.

"You've done just right, little mother," said Roy heartily, giving her a warm kiss. "Only don't do so any more,—that is all. Just say that is a bargain before you break the seal. If there's nothing then I may go to work. There is a good place I can step right into," added he, with some hesitation.

"What is it, Roy?" "The Nancy's supercargo is not at all well, and Captain Marcy says that he will take me as assistant on the next voyage to Liverpool!"

Al! then it came, the dreaded thrust, for these words pierced the widowed mother's heart. Possibly Roy had a ghost in the Will, but certainly Mrs. Howard had a bogie in the sea. It was a monster that had already devoured her husband, and yet Roy loved it and pined for it.

"Come, mother," he continued persuasively. "It is such a chance, with father's best friend. You say it is a hard life, and I shall not like it. But just let me try. I shall never be satisfied without it. Give me this one taste of salt water! Do, mother!"

"I promise you to think of it, anyway—"

"Hurrah! hurrah! A life on the ocean wave, a home in the rolling deep," sang Roy in the beautiful voice of a trained choir-boy, his cheek glowing, as he danced around the room for joy. It was a great concession to have his mother to agree even to "think of it."

"Give me the letter, mad boy," said she.

"No need of reading it, mother. I can tell you what there is in it, and save you that trouble. Clairvoyant," said he, tapping his forehead significantly. And then, holding the papers for a moment. "This, ladies and gentlemen," said he, with a showman's ingratiating bow, to his imaginary audience, "this, contains, firstly, several pages of legal cap, made up entirely of such words as 'whereas,' 'aforesaid,' 'the party of the first part,' and 'the party of the second part,' jumbled together in a most confusing manner. (Continued on page 7.)

Nobody Knows

What I suffered for years with those terrible racking sick headaches. Life was only a torment to me; if you are so troubled, I would advise you to use Sulphur Bitters, for they cured me.—Clara Belle.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Arthur Hudson.

Uncle Jerry Rusk wants to know what breeds of horses grow the best kind of horse-radi-sh, and we have no hesitation in telling him the fiery breeds.—Richmond Dispatch.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Biliaryness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists; $1; six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

KASKINE THE NEW QUININE.

No Bad Effect. No Headache. No Nausea. No Ringing Ears. Cures Quickly. Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC.

SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, Nervous Prostration.

THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine.

Mr. Lode Hornbeck, of the U. S. Ship Keasarge, writes that he meets people almost daily who have used or are using Kaskine, and who affirm from experience that it is superior to quinine in tonic and curative properties, and produces no subsequent bad effects. Mr. John C. Scarborough, Selma, N. C., writes: "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a dozen years suffered from its effects. I was terribly run down when I heard of Kaskine, the new quinine. It helped me once. I gained 35 pounds."

Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price.

KASKINE CO., 168 Duane St., New York.

ACHING Sides AND Back

Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute. The Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The only instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; 5 for $1. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston. 30 ct.

FARMS BEST Soil Climate and Location in the South.

WANTED.—Agents for our new book containing interesting sketches of the most noted persons now living. Its 350 fine portraits are agents wonderfully. Park Pub. Co., Hartford, Conn.

PIM Pimples, black-heads, chapped and oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

BERRY BASKETS AND CRATES

at lowest prices. Address GAGE & Son, Wethersfield, Conn.

WANTED

Men to take orders for Nursery Stock, on Salary or Commission. I can make a successful of any one who will work and follow my instructions. Will furnish handsome outfit free, and pay your salary or commission every week. Write for terms at once. E. O. GRAHAM, Nurseryman, Rochester, N.Y.

SALESMAN

PILENNIUM.

Why suffer from PILES when you can thus horrible disease CHASED BY THE CURED BY the never failing remedy HILL'S Pilennium. Price 50 cents. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials. Ask your druggist for it. MAKE him get it for you if he hasn't it in stock. CARTER, CARTER & KILHAM, Wholesale Agents, Boston, Mass.

TAKE NO OTHER.

PARKER'S HAIR BALM

Cleanses and beautifies the hair. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Youthful Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling out, and all other hair troubles. Price 25 & 50 Cents. Free bottles.

MADE WITH BOILING WATER.

EPPS'S

GRATEFUL-COMFORTING.

COCOA

MADE WITH BOILING MILK.

THURSTON'S

IVORY DEARL TOOTH POWDER

WILL KEEP THE TEETH IN PERFECT CONDITION AND THE GUMS HEALTHY.

Price 25 & 50 Cents. Free bottles.

ASPLENDID CHANCE!

For YOU, Permanent position the year round. Good pay guaranteed. No experience needed. Good character and willingness to work alone required. Send for terms and commence at once. Write J. AUSTIN SHAW, Nurseryman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Get Your Lunch at

Fred M. Phillips'

DINING ROOMS,

16 North Market St., And 16 Clinton Street, Boston.

HINDER CORNS.

The only sure Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Ensures comfort to the feet. Use at Druggists. HINDER CORNS. N. H.

YOU CONSUMPTIVE

HARKER'S CHICKEN TONIC. It has cured the worst cases and is the best remedy for all ailments from defective nutrition. Take in time. 50c and $1.00.

E. C. MORRIS & CO'S SAFES

ALWAYS PRESERVE THEIR CONTENTS. Read from the Great Marlborough, Mass. fire.

Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 23, 1888.

Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: This is to certify that I have been using a No. 6 E. C. Morris & Co's safe in my store, and that in the most terrible fire this town has ever known on the night of the 25th inst. the safe was subjected to very intense heat for 36 hours, and upon its being opened, to my surprise, found its contents in perfect condition with the exception of the leather on one book which was against the wall of the safe, while the writing on every leaf was as clear and legible as when it was put in. I also found Machine Twist, Needles, Papers, etc., in good clear condition. In case I rebuild I shall feel that I can do no better than to use again what has served me well in this fire. In our fire of 1887 I had a safe of another make, the contents of which came out in very good shape but not as well as this one, although that fire was not as bad as this one.

You are at liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit, and should take pleasure in showing the books, etc., to any one who would like to see them.

Respectfully Yours, (Sgn.) HENRY O. SYMONDS.

P. S. Dec. 28.—I have this day purchased another of same size, having been satisfied with the other.

— Boston, Mass., Jan. 2, 1889.

Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen: On Aug. 9th, 1887, we had one of your large make of safes in our Woolfboro, N. H. factory, which went through a very hot fire and stood the test. Again on Dec. 25, 1888, in the Marlborough conflagration another of your make stood the test and all its contents found in good condition, even a gross of matches. Under the circumstances we can safely recommend your make to all.

Yours truly, (Sgn.) E. W. & I. M. Monroe.

Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 28, 1889.

Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & CO., Boston, Mass.

UNTIMELY DEATHS.

A Great Preacher Talks on the Subject and his Words are Refreshed by a Scientific Physician.

A prominent New York preacher, in a recent sermon, made the following remarkable statement:—"I do not wonder that thousands of people, many of whom seem the best prepared, yet shrink at the approach of death! There is something so horrible about ending all life and relations to this world and going out into the cold and dark unknown; in the very thought of the deep grave, to which we all are going, and in the agony and pain that precedes them both, that naturally make the strongest quake. I do not wonder, that the poet in writing of it said:

"For thou art terrible!" In connection with this subject, come the timely remarks of the well known Dr. Boditch. He says:—"There are at least a million people in this great city, who might be well and in the enjoyment of life and health. Why then do they die? Simply because they were thoughtless, heedless and neglected to use proper care and the right remedy. No man or woman, who has regular habits, is careful in diet, and uses that really remarkable preparation known as Ham's Family Medicine, intelligently, should not need to be sick or fearfully ill. Nature wishes every man and woman to be healthy, and she gives them the means to become so. Who, therefore, to those who the right means until it is too late!"

These statements, coming from the high sources they do, should carry with them great weight. They show clearly that no man or woman need despair, but can expect health, happiness and a long life, by proper living and the use of the right remedy.

DOES WHAT YOU EAT HURT YOU?

If what you eat hurts you, or if you are troubled with Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Headache, Low Spirits, Kidney Complaints, Etc., etc., etc.

Try a Bottle of DR. HAM'S Aromatic Invigorator!

It has stood the tests of the public for over a quarter of a century, and thousands have testified to its value. Send for circular and testimonials. For sale by all Druggists at 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

HEATH & MURRAY, General Agents for New England, 277 Washington Street, Boston.

OMNIPATHY

Dr. C. A. GREENE

Has for 41 years been curing all the (so-called) incurable diseases of the body, such as

Diabetes, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles and all the multitudinous afflictions of men and women.

By applications of non-poisonous remedies on the outside of the body (on the skin). He wishes to erect a college to teach his system and to dispose of his properties and his money. Will philanthropists aid him? He has an equipped granite quarry near Harrisburg, Pa., where are heavily timbered land in Vancouber, Ky., and 75 acres of land adjoining Harrisburg, Pa. Also for sale a lot of elegant Shetland and other ponies in his stables at Arlington, Va. Read his pamphlet of 44 pages containing most marvelous cures, sent to you free. Call and get it or send your name and it will be forwarded to you.

His consultations are FREE. He treats the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and all the organs of the body. No drugs are put in the stomach. Investigate his statements.

Offices, No. 178 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts, MIDDLESEX, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To Winfield S. Stinson, administrator of the estate of Mary L. Chickering, late of Newton, in said County, deceased, and to all persons interested in said estate, GREETING: Whereas, George J. Thomas, Thomas S. P. Grier and Charles B. Lottell, all of said Newton, have presented to said court their petition representing that said Mary L. Chickering made a contract with them whereby she agreed to convey to said petitioners, in consideration of the payment of fifty dollars, the first title payment of $97.50 the full consideration thereof, a certain parcel of land in said Newton, on the corner of Ayon Place and Third Street, that said Mary L. Chickering deceased before fulfilling her part of said agreement and that said petitioners ready to perform the part of said agreement and may that said administrator may be ordered to make to them a conveyance of said land according to the terms and tenor of said agreement.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be holden at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of June next at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioners ordered to file this citation by delivering a copy thereof to said administrator fourteen days, at least, before said court, and by publishing the same once a week for three successive weeks, in the Newton GRAPHIC, a newspaper printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this 15th day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-nine.

J. H. TYLER, Register.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

Western Farm Mortgage Trust COMPANY.

CAPITAL, $3,000,000.

Capital paid in over $1,000,000.

7% SAFE Investments.

Mortgages from $200 up. Principal and Interest guaranteed.

Over 3000 satisfied investors, composed of Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees, Guardians, and Private Investors.

Our record—Over $12,000,000 invested without loss or delay in payments.

F. B. ROGERS, Manager,

35 Congress St., Boston.

Send a call for information.

(Continued from page 6.)

led up with something called "law French," with a mixture that means just simply nothing at all. There is also a letter, written in hieroglyphics by a lawyer named Blackstone Winters, which, being at last deciphered by Mrs. Howard, and her talented son Roy,—"he bowed to his own image in the mirror," "the American heir, for the 20th time, that the case is deferred, but is sure to be set for trial soon."

"Well," said the mother, smiling at the boy's whimsical but accurate abstract, "you are probably right, but let me at least read it and know the worst." She broke the seal, read the old, familiar statement, and—Roy sailed in the Nancy.

II.

There never was a happier boy than Roy, as dawn, beautiful merchant ship sailed out of New York bay and spread her canvas to the ocean breeze. The weather during the whole voyage was delightful,—brisk winds but no storms. Roy almost wished that they might encounter the "flag-end" of a cyclone and have one exciting spin around its center, but nothing of the kind came their way. When off duty, he had plenty of time to make the acquaintance of the sailors and hear them spin their real sea yarns; to watch the phenomena of sea and sky with the joy of a "born sailor," to look for distant ships or whales and once to be the first to cry, "There she blows!" to peer through a Newfoundland fog at wandering icebergs and to feel, when they sailed into the yellow mouth of the Mersey, that he had not half exhausted the pleasures of a first voyage.

The Nancy safely moored at her dock, Capt. Marcy, to whom he had promised a week in London, whirled off on the "Limited Express" for that great city, which the boy had read and studied about all his life. It was 2 o'clock in the afternoon when they arrived, delightfully foggy, the long dark streets lined by spectral houses and dimly lighted by flickering gas jets. A real London "cabby," in two top-coats and a battered hat, dashed recklessly with them through the murky streets to the "Commercial,"—a favorite stopping place with sea-captains.

"And now, Roy," said Capt. Marcy, a true Yankee skipper with a "d'aw-cast" accent, as they sat in the coffee-room at the breakfast table the next morning. "D'you feel z'ef you could steer 'round about a pilot for a while in this great Bab'lon? I've got some pressin' business this mornin'! What d'you think about it?"

"Trust me, Capt. Marcy," replied Roy with a confident air, "I can find my way through every by-way and alley in Boston."

"Well, we do beat the world for crookedness in Boston," laughed the captain, "but I don't go further'n the streets, and that's one good thing. I s'pose now you're goin' to make a bee-line for the Tower."

Roy shook his head in emphatic negative. "Well, take care of yourself an' don't get into danger 'f you do get into mischief. I'm responsible to your ma, an' I can't go home without you. So if anything happens, I should have to turn into a kind of Flyin' Dutchman," and with this admonition, the captain vanished.

"And now," said Roy to himself, delighted to have baffled the captain's curiosity so easily, and pleased to be left to his own devices,—"now for a turn at the family ghost."

He was still sitting at the little round breakfast table and called one of the waiters to him. "Can you tell me," he asked, "the way to Doctor's Commons?"

The waiter deliberately hung the napkin over his left arm, and gazed at Roy with the stolid air of a cockney, who never went beyond the sound of Bow Bells.

"No, sir," he slowly answered, "I have never 'eard of Doctor's Commons. I 'ave a hospital!"

"Yes," answered Roy with a merry twinkle in his eye, "it's a kind of hospital for wandering heits."

"A 'ospital for 'ares!" echoed the astonished waiter. "There's a 'ospital for cats down near Lunnion bridge, but I allus thought as the 'are was a country 'imal 'e exclusive."

"Can you help you," said the pleasant voice of a gentleman at the next table, who had been listening to the conversation with some amusement. "What is it that you are looking for? Are you going to examine a will? Rather young for that I should think."

"No," replied Roy, "it's a queer kind of lawsuit and I want to find out if there's any chance of its ever ending."

"I thought so," replied the gentleman, with a pleasant smile. "It isn't the 'ospital that you want to find, but the Court of Chancery at Lincoln's Inn hall. Better take a cab."

Roy thanked the gentleman, and taking his advice, was soon riding rapidly through strange streets, still dim with the remains of yesterday's fog. His pulse quickened with excitement, as, under all the surface cries and sounds of city life, he heard for the first time the strange, fascinating, never-ceasing roar of mighty London.

He had never felt so manly and important in his life, somehow as if he were taking fate into his own hands,—as when, after leaving the cab to wait, he slowly worked his way into the very heart of the city, the presence of the court itself. But, when he looked around, every particle of his courage oozed away and he felt like quite a small boy, cherishing a secret purpose which was a piece of fool-hardy presumption.

Like other inquisitive boys, Roy had often gone into the open American court-rooms, where he had seen the judge, attired in the ordinary dress of a gentleman, listening to arguments delivered by other ordinary looking gentlemen, and the process had never struck him as remarkably impressive. But, when he looked around the court of chancery and saw the lord high chancellor in his great awe-inspiring wig and gold-laced gown, looking down from his crimson background on rows of chancery lawyers, all bowed and bearded, and still lower down rows of solicitors with great green bags stuffed full of documents, with a fringe of minor officers, clients and spectators melting off into the foggy spaces of the outer edge, Roy felt like a small Don Quixote and for a moment wished himself down in the deepest dungeon of the Tower itself.

The blood rushed to his face, there was a buzzing in his ears, and though some one was addressing the court he could not distinguish a word. Then, suddenly, before he had had time to recover himself, collect his scattered thoughts and get used to the awful majesty of the British law, the chancellor rose, everybody stood up, and for some reason, he saw that the court was adjourned for the day.

In a moment, the room resounded with the hum of conversation, the noise of departing lawyers and the running about of court officials.

"It is 'now or never,'" said Roy to himself, trying to screw his courage to a little higher notch. "It would be cowardly to go away without trying to find out anything, and I will not be a coward anyway," so with much trepidation, he stepped up toward the chancellor, who stood looking over a paper. "If your honor please," began Roy—"no one had instructed him to say 'My lord,'—can I tell you the case of Howard and Howard is to be decided?"

"The case is set for judgment to-morrow," answered the judge, casting a keen glance at the boy from eyes dark behind the beetling brows. "Why do you ask?"

"Because, your honor, if you please, I am an American heir."

"What?" said the chancellor, and there was no mistaking the black frown that gathered on his brow. "What is your name?"

"Royal Sturgiss Howard," answered Roy, in a tremulous voice, wondering what had said to make the chancellor so angry.

"Come with me!" said the chancellor imperiously, his brow still black as night, and, selecting some papers from a bundle, he led the way to a small room in the rear. Closing the door carefully, he interrogated Roy so minutely with regard to his ancestry and personal history, that Roy began to feel as if he had climbed the family-tree and was sitting in its branches. Having finished the examination, the chancellor opened the door and called one of the court officers.

"Go with this lad to his hotel," he said, "and bring to me, at my house, the papers he will give you."

"Yes, me lud," replied the functionary, with a low bow.

"And mind, Master Roy," said he with the frown gone and a friendly smile, "mind that you are here to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock with your friend, the captain."

"Yes, my lord," replied Roy, catching the title with a little hesitation, which his lordship recognized with a smile, as he dismissed him for the day.

III.

At a little before 10 the next morning, Roy took his seat in the court-room with Captain Marcy,—who had received a graphic account of the previous day's experience,—by his side. The captain crossed the right leg comfortably over the left, buried his hands deep in his pockets and looked around with a curiosity which 40 years of sailing on every known sea had not been able to dim. Nothing escaped his eager eyes. His comments full of Yankee shrewdness and delivered in a stage whisper, were almost too much for Roy's gravity sometimes.

"Wonder how Square Jones would look in one of them wigs an' gowns!" said he suddenly.

Squire Jones was an extremely diminutive justice of the peace, whom it was difficult to imagine in state robes of any sort, but there was little time for speculation, as the case of Howard and Howard was the first on the docket and was called immediately.

The lord high chancellor directed the clerk of the court to read a certain paper "already in evidence," he said. What was the surprise of Roy and his friend, when the clerk stood up and read in a droning voice a certificate of the death of Royal Sturgiss Howard, son of John Sturgiss Howard, deceased, and his wife Mary, born in Boston, Massachusetts, U. S. A. It was attested by two physicians and certified before a notary public.

Roy, astonished to hear of his own demise, pinched himself and found that he was thoroughly alive, in spite of a certificate signed by two doctors of whom he had never heard.

"Well, I'll be d—," said the captain in his ear, "if I didn't think I was takin' round a live boy. Never made such a mistake in my life before."

But there was little time for comment, for Roy was immediately called as a witness.

"Your name in full,"

Then it was time for a sensation in the court, as the clear, boyish voice sent the answer, "Royal Sturgiss Howard," into the remotest corners. Then he gave the names of his parents, and so made corroborative testimony in the simple, unaffected manner of one who tells "the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth," that a spirit of cordial friendliness began to shine in the faces around him.

Capt. Marcy was next called. He sauntered up to the witness stand with the perfect ease of a man who had begun as a cabin boy and "had stood before kings"—in the Sandwich Islands. He gave his testimony, which was conclusive as to Roy's identity, with perfect clearness and fluency, conversing with the lord chancellor,—to the secret merriment of the court,—as familiar as if they had gone on a whaling voyage together, when they were boys.

The chancellor then stated, what was perfectly evident to the court, that the certificate was a false, unsworn, and "fraudulent intent" and had already been given into the hands of the proper officers for investigation. That the opinion already written must be set aside and that judgment would be given that day according to the new evidence.

Then he made a few complimentary remarks to the "bright young heir," which made Roy's cheek flush with pleasure, and the case was dismissed for the day.

IV.

The final result is summed up in the following letter of Roy's:—

Dear Mother:—As soon as you receive this, please open the window and throw out that sewing-machine! (Don't let it fall on Carlo's head, though.) No more hard work for the little mother! The case is decided. "Howard and Howard" is no more and it seems that I am the Howard.

We have a letter from the court through plenty of money, and you must come to England at once—cheque inclosed to settle everything with my guarantors.

But I forgot to tell you about him. The chancellor says that I am an English ward, if I was born in America, and has appointed a Thomas Seymour, Esq., a lawyer, as my guardian. I like him very much, he is so "jolly," just like a big boy, and am staying with him in London. His three sons are home on Eton for vacation, and we have gay times rambling around London together. I've told Mr. Seymour all about wanting to be a sailor, and he says I must go to Eton for a year, and then if I can't give up the sea, it will be best to take steps for getting me a midshipman's commission in the English navy. Who knows, mother, I may yet be a "captain in the queen's navy."

I forgot to tell you in my last letter about the forged certificate. There wasn't a bit of wickedness about it after all, and I am so glad! It was just a piece of madness. Tom Howard—one of the distant cousins, was hurt in a railroad accident about six months ago and has been a little out of the head ever since. He says, "There are too many Howards," and so he decided to dispose of one of them, and arranged to deceive our own lawyer and the court through him, with the wonderful cunning of a madman. They have shut him up now and think he can be cured. He is a young barrister and this accounts for his being able to draw up the papers and manage everything so well. As soon as you get here, mother dear, we are to go down to Devonshire, our own home, with a tutor, and I am to study for the fifth form at Eton.

There are so many new things and life is so changed that it makes my head spin, and I'm afraid this letter is rather rambling, so I'll not write any more, but wait until we can talk it all over. Just think how I've always detested that old will, and now it has brought me such good fortune. Wouldn't you have thought me a crazy boy, if I had not known what I intended to do? I was "just in the nick of time," though. Good-by and come at once—bring Carlo, if you have to take an extra stage room for him—come to your loving son, Roy.

P. S. I may be an English boy, but I'm not for the stars and stripes, just the same.—(Springfield Republican.)

Eucpepy.

This is what you ought to have, in fact you must have it, to fully enjoy life. Thousands are searching for it daily, and mourning because they find it not. Thousands of dollars are spent annually by our people in the hope that they may attain this boon. And yet it may be had by all. We guarantee that Electric Bitters, if used according to directions and the use persisted in, will bring you Good Digestion and out the demon Dyspepsia and install instead Eucpepy. We recommend Electric Bitters for Dyspepsia and all diseases of Liver, Stomach and Kidneys. Sold at 50 c. and $1.00 per bottle by Arthur Hudson, druggist.

Lost—"I don't know where. I can't tell when I don't see how—something of great value to me, and for the return of which I shall be truly thankful, viz.: a good appetite."

Found—"Health and strength, pure blood, an appetite like that of a wolf, regular digestion, all by taking that popular and peculiar medicine, Hood's Sarsaparilla. I want every body to try this season." It is sold by all druggists. One hundred doses, one dollar.

Forced to Leave Home. Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an uneasy complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist today for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package, 50 cents.

C. E. OSGOOD & CO.,

CASH

House Furnishers

Old Continental Clothing House BUILDING

748 to 756 Washington St., BOSTON.

The only first-class house in the City that buys and sells

FOR CASH ONLY

No concern in the world can undersell us. Every special bargain advertised by our competitors. "For One Day only" we agree to duplicate

At Any Time.

Be Wise and buy for CASH

and save at least 25 % from any instalment house prices in America.

P. S.—Any customer presenting this advertisement at our office will receive a beautiful rug free.

Don't forget the place.

748 to 756 Washington Street, BOSTON.

HIRES

25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c ROOT BEER!

IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS

MAKES FIVE GALLONS OF ICE CREAM AND SPARKLING

Root Beer

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

$4.00 HAND SEWED.

$2.00 FRENCH WELT.

SOLD ONLY TO THE CONSUMER

OUR CELEBRATED

Crawford Shoe

Can be obtained only at our following

Crawford Shoe Stores

No. 611 Washington Street, Boston.

Under United States Hotel,

No. 38 Park Square,

No. 45 Green Street,

No. 2164 Washington St., Roxbury.

No. 50 Main Street, Charlestown.

Also in

Providence, Hartford,

New Haven, New York,

Brooklyn, Philadelphia,

Baltimore & Washington, D.C.

BOUVE, CRAWFORD & CO.,

Makers of

The Crawford Shoe.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO., Liberal House Furnishers. FACTS.

OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST, THE FINEST, THE CHOICEST. FACTS

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST, OUR WAREHOUSES THE LIGHTEST, OUR PROFIT THE LEAST. FACTS

Parlor Furniture. Chamber Furniture

5 Different Styles at $35.00
10 Different Styles at 40.00
10 Different Styles at 45.00
10 Different Styles at 48.00
15 Different Styles at 50.00
15 Different Styles at 55.00
20 Different Styles at 60.00
20 Different Styles at 65.00
20 Different Styles at 70.00
20 Different Styles at 75.00
20 Different Styles at 80.00
20 Different Styles at 85.00
20 Different Styles at 90.00
20 Different Styles at 95.00
20 Different Styles, $100 to $500

10 Different Styles at $17.00
10 Different Styles at 20.00
10 Different Styles at 22.50
20 Different Styles at 25.00
20 Different Styles at 30.00
20 Different Styles at 40.00
20 Different Styles at 45.00
20 Different Styles at 50.00
20 Different Styles at 60.00
25 Different Styles at 75.00
25 Different Styles at 85.00
10 Different Styles at 92.00
20 Different Styles, $100 to $700

200 DIFFERENT STYLES, Or more than 10 ordinary stores.

250 DIFFERENT STYLES, Or more than 10 ordinary stores.

MORE FACTS.

75 Different Styles of Sideboards.
100 Different Styles of Tables.
100 Different Styles of Chairs.
50 Different Styles of Lounges.
75 Different Styles of Baby Carriages.
900 Different Styles of Carpets.

LAMPS, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR US. Buying in Larger Quantities. Getting Larger Discounts. Doing Larger Business.

MORE FACTS.

75 Different Styles of Hall Trees.
50 Different Styles of Desks.
50 Different Styles of Chiffoniers.
50 Different Styles of Ranges.
50 Different Styles of Refrigerators.
500 Different Styles in Rugs.

CLOCKS, SHADES, DRAPERIES.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR YOU. Less Trouble in Selecting. Less Uncertainty of Quality. Lower Prices than Elsewhere.

CASH or INSTALMENTS FREE DELIVERY FREE RAILROAD FARE

To any Railroad Depot in New England. On Purchases of $100 or Upward.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO., Liberal House Furnishers,

827 Washington St., One Block South of Hollis St., Corner Common St., Boston, Mass.

Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Botanical Medical Institute 75 Court St. (Scollay Sq.), Boston, Mass.

INDIAN BOTANICAL REMEDIES

Roots, Herbs, Gums and Barks chiefly used. Dr. Solomon treats all CHRONIC DISEASES, makes a specialty of LUNG TROUBLES, CANCERS, TUMORS, EPILEPSY, TOXICITY, NEURALGIA, ST. VITUS DANCE, SPINAL COMPLAINTS, HEMORRHOIDS OF LIVER, ETC., AND ALL SKIN DISEASES, KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES, AND ALL DISEASES OF THE BLOOD. PILLS AND FISTULA cured without the use of the knife and cure guaranteed. Consultation free.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY

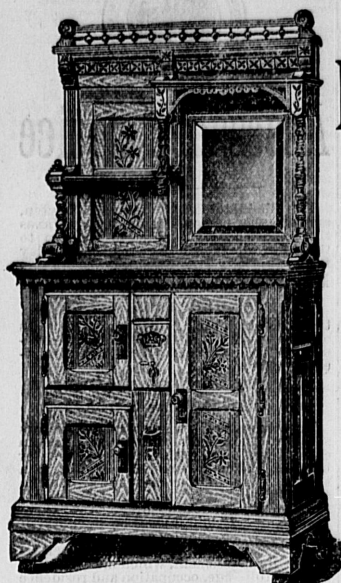

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turf, Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renov

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 33.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 24, 1889.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR

FINE
Refrigerators
AND LIGHT FURNITURE
of every description.
Especially designed for
Seaside and Country Cottages
Immense shipment of
Fancy Straw Mattings
just received.

H. M. GREENOUGH,
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHERS,
182 to 188 Tremont St. and 37 Boylston, Masonic Temple,
BOSTON.
TO THE PUBLIC.

I have been located here over three years and have no other Laundry in Newton. Those who wish to have any laundry work done, please remember the name and place. We will guarantee to give satisfaction and return all work at short notice.
Shirts, each, 10 cts.; collars, 2 cts.; cape collars, 2 for 5 cts.; cuffs, each, 2 cts.
Also very lowest prices will be charged for all kinds of work. Please give us a trial.
FIRST-CLASS CHINESE LAUNDRY,
French's Block, No. 330 Centre St., opp. Savings Bank, Newton.
FANK SHINN, Proprietor.

Thomas White
16 Essex Street,
First Store from Washington Street,
BOSTON.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS,
Low expenses enable us to sell strictly first-class Goods at very low prices.
23 yrs. CALL AND SEE US.

BUTTER.
We have taken the agency for the celebrated
Turner Centre Creamery
formerly controlled by W. B. Beal,—put up in half pound prints. Delivered to customers' day of arrival.
He who tries it, Buys it.
Gamaliel P. Atkins,
GROCER.
273 and 275 Washington Street, Newton.
Telephone, No. 1304.

RICHARD ROWE,
Insurance Agency,
No. 2 Mason Building,
WATER STREET, - BOSTON.
P. O. Box 304, Newtonville. 32

Brewster, Cobb & Estabrook.
BANKERS,
CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
HENRY E. COBB, ARTHUR L. SWEETSER,
CHARLES E. EDDY, C. H. WATSON,
ARTHUR F. ESTABROOK,
7yl FRANK B. BEMIS.

A. J. MACOMBER.
WATCHMAKER
Jeweller and Optician.
21 BEACH STREET, BOSTON, near Washington.
Everything usually repaired in a place of this kind will receive prompt attention at low prices.

CHARLIE CHING.
All work done by first-class Laundrymen and I will guarantee satisfaction to all.
No work to be delivered on Sunday. I would be pleased to have you call and examine my work

CHARLIE CHING,
315 Centre St., Hyde's Block, Newton.

HARRIS E. JOHONNOT.
Private residences fitted with Electric Call Bells,
Gas Lighting Apparatus, etc.
Repairing a specialty. Orders sent by mail or left with Barber Bros., Newton, will receive prompt attention. P. O. Box 173, Newton, Mass.

Dr. F. L. McINTOSH,
Corner of Washington and Jewett Sts.,
(Office of the late Dr. Keith).
Office Hours: 4 to 7 P. M. Usually at home until 9 A. M.
Refers to Dr. W. P. Wesselhoef, and Dr. James B. Bell.
Telephone, Newtonville, 46-2.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Centre Street, opposite Vernon, Newton.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

THE MISSES ALLEN'S
Boarding & Day School for Girls,
29 Vernon Street, Newton,
Will reopen September 25.
Applications now received. 33-2.

ELIOT CHURCH
Certificates for Pews good for their par value at the Auction Sale.
Placed in our hands for Cash
Sale at a Discount.

F. G. BARNES & SON,
27 State Street, Boston.

Special Notice!
THE LONDON
FURNISHING
PALACE
Having occupied the store cor. Washington and Kneeland Streets for the last 15 years
Have Removed to
727, 729 & 731 Washington St.
Opposite Cobb, Aldrich & Co.
We now have a larger store and keep the largest stock of Gen'l Furnishings in Boston.
Our stock consists of a complete line of Gent's Dress Shirts, Flannel Shirts, Underwear, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckwear,
Hats and Caps, Overalls, Jumpers,
Coats, Workmen's Shirts, etc.
Large stock of TRUNKS,
BAGS and VALISES.

The London Furnishing Palace,
727, 729 and 731 Washington St., BOSTON. 31-4

U. G. MCQUEEN,
Carpenter and Builder,
Washington St. near B. & A. R. R. Crossing.
Orders received through P. O. Box 716. All orders promptly executed in a first-class style.
Cabinet Work of all kinds a Specialty.
Do You Wear CHEAP Shirts?
None are cheaper than Blackwell's $1.50 shirts.
Do You Wear FINE Shirts?
None more elegant than Blackwell's $2.00 Dress Shirts.
43 THORNTON STREET, - NEWTON.

Perfect Fit, Color,
SHAPE AND SIZE.
$10.00 for Teeth on Rubber Plates.
Teeth on Gold Plate made in the best manner.
Careful and proper attention given to every person. Office contains all improved methods.
Boylston Building, 675 Washington St., Boston.
Room 23. Office Hours 9 to 4.
33 yrs. DR. W. D. CLARK.

A NEW DEPARTURE.
The First Exclusive Retail Bedding Store in New England.
BRASS BEDSTEADS!

Iron Bedsteads,
Hair Mattresses,
Live Geese Feathers,
Imperial Spring Couches,
Putnam Spring Beds and Cots.
—Specialties in—
Infants' and Invalids' Beds,
Luxuriously Upholstered Springs,
Siesta Mattresses and Pillows,
Down Quilts and Pillows.
—AND—
Fine bedding of every description
Our facilities for renovating and remaking are greatly improved, and we can give you better
work than ever.
PUTNAM & CO.,
8 & 10 Beach Street,
BOSTON.
ESTABLISHED 1849. 203m

Grand Concert!
Grand Concert!
Grand Concert!
Grand Concert!

BY THE AMHERST GLEE
AMHERST GLEE
AMHERST GLEE
AMHERST GLEE

AND BANJO CLUBS
BANJO CLUBS
BANJO CLUBS
BANJO CLUBS

AT
ELIOT HALL, May 25
AT 7.45 P. M.
ELIOT HALL, May 25
AT 7.45 P. M.
ELIOT HALL, May 25
AT 7.45 P. M.
ELIOT HALL, May 25
AT 7.45 P. M.

Tickets, 75c. and 50c.

Tickets now on sale at
HUBBARD & PROCTOR'S, Newton.
GAUDELET'S, Newtonville.
WRIGHTS, West Newton.
BRUSH'S, Auburndale.
NOBLES, Newton Centre.

THE PULSION
Telephone Co.
14 & 15 Sears Building,
199 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

This company is now ready to receive orders for telephones.

One Month's Trial
is given to test telephone and if not satisfactory at the end of this time no charge is made.
Satisfaction guaranteed and prices moderate. 33-13

NEWTON.
FOR SALE OR TO LET, FURNISHED.
On the Southwestern Slope of Mount Ida,
A very desirable house, built by the owner for his own use; has 12 rooms, besides laundry and bathroom; city water and gas; stable accommodation if desired, and such land as is required; the house is on high dry land, and commands a most extensive view to the south and west. Further particulars can be obtained and plans sent by applying to ROBERT
W. LORR, 10 Federal Street, Boston, Room 18, 204

LADIES'
Stock Exchange.
FOR TEN DOLLARS you can buy or sell
ten shares of any New York stock on par, larger amounts in proportion, profits unlimited, losses limited.
BONNER, MANES & CO.,
43 Winter Street, Boston. Room 3. 171y

NEWTON.

—Mr. Justin Whittier is able to be out again, after a severe rheumatic attack.

—Mrs. Orrin Whipple has returned from Kansas and is at the Central House, Waltham.

—Mr. E. H. Whitton is making extensive improvements about his place on Church street.

—Mr. Samuel Hano of Newtonville avenue, returned Monday evening from his vacation trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hibbard and Miss Hibbard will sail for Europe in July, to spend the summer.

—The sidewalk on Eldridge street near the Underwood school is being narrowed and new curbing put in.

—Mr. George H. Allen has again leased the John Blaney cottage on Black Will's
Cliff, Swampscott, for the summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Meacham and Mrs. W. O.
Trowbridge and family will sail for Europe next week, Saturday, to spend the summer.

—The City of Newton has borrowed $50,- 000 from the Boston Loan Company, at 2-14 per cent. per annum, payable next November.

—Among gentlemen from Boston and vicinity registered in Paris the early part of this month was Mr. C. P. Harkins of this city.

—Mr. J. V. Ramsdell intends to build a greenhouse on Carlton street, on a lot which he has leased in the rear of his residence.

—Mr. W. H. Blodgett and family go to Europe in July.—Mr. Blodgett for a short trip and the others will remain for a year or more.

—The public library building is again covered with its handsome growth of ivy, which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

—Mr. I. N. Peabody and family left Thursday for Nanepashemet, Marblehead Neck, where they have taken a cottage for the summer.

—The Eliot church grounds are being graded and put in fine order this week, and the new concrete sidewalks and curbing are a great improvement.

—The Grand Army Post and Cladin
Guards are to attend service at Grace
Church on Sunday night. The Rev. Dr.
Shinn will preach the sermon.

—The lots of land on California street, belonging to Mrs. S. C. Allison, have been sold to Mr. F. R. Rand to Mr. Brewster of Waltham, who will eventually build upon them.

—Miss Cousins of the Grace church choir has been compelled to take a vacation on account of her health. She is improving, but will be unable to resume her duties for some time to come.

—F. G. Barnes & Son have certificates to pews in Eliot Church, for sale at a discount, which are good at their par value at the auction sale; also money to loan on mortgage, at low rates.

—The pews in the new Eliot Church will be sold next Tuesday evening at 7.30. On Thursday evening the dedication exercises will be held, beginning at 7 o'clock, and the doors will be open at 6.30.

—On Monday, Benjamin Tripp was at work with a chisel when his hand slipped and the chisel was driven into his leg, barely missing the femoral artery. Dr. Frisbie attended him and he is doing nicely.

—The Boston Record published a ridiculous story that the Watertown and Newton Gas company and the Waltham Gas company had sold out to the Bay State Gas Co.
There was, of course, no truth in the report.

—Miss Eames is now receiving a salary of $2,000 a year from the Paris Grand Opera house, although she has had to refuse an offer of $2,000 per night for a long season in London, on account of her contract with the Paris manager.

—Mr. George W. Bush's harness room on the third floor of 7-large, airy, neat and tast-ily filled with nice harnesses, all in the best of order; it is in proper keeping with the rest of this popular stable.

—The Episcopal Sunday Schools of Newton, Waltham and Watertown, will unite in celebrating the Festival of the Ascension on Thursday the 30th, at 4 p. m., in Grace church. Addresses by the Rev. E. A.
Rand and Rev. T. F. Fales.

—With the cars of the Newton street railway running through Washington street every fifteen minutes, the north side of the track will be a great place for business and the railway ought to bring a large amount of trade to this part of Newton.

—Persons wishing to send flowers or other contributions to the Newton Cottage Hospital, can do so by leaving them at some public place and informing one of the attending physicians—Dr. Scates of Newton and Dr. Hunt of Newtonville during May and June and Drs. Frisbie and Meltosh during July and August.

—Rev. Mr. McKewen's pulpit being supplied last Sunday by Baptist ministers who were attending the anniversary, he will preach next Sabbath on the topics given for last week. At 10.45 a. m., "Our Riches through Christ's Poverty," and at 7.30 p. m., "The Heroism of Moral Character not clearly seen in this life."

—Miss Eames, who has made such a wonderful success at the opera in Paris, writes to a friend that the director said "she was the best prepared debutante in dramatic acting he had ever seen." She also writes that "all the town is wild over her motions."
This is deserved tribute to Miss Annie Payson Call of Newtonville, with whom alone
Miss Eames studied.

—Mr. George H. Hastings is building a handsome house on Brighton Hill, just above Grasmere street. The new house built by the Cladin estate is nearly completed and will be for sale. The new house built by Mr. J. W. French, on the corner of Washington street and Waverly avenue, is also for sale, and is one of the most attractive houses built in Newton for some time.
The interior arrangement is convenient, and the finish is very handsome. There are prospects of a good deal of building on Brighton Hill the coming year.

—Messrs. F. G. Barnes & Son, real estate agents, have recently negotiated the following leases of real estate at Newton:
The new house of Charles B. Galloway, situated on Church street, Ward 7, for five years, to Henry H. Hobart of Newton; the estate of Francis Murdoch, situated on Peabody street, Ward 7, for five years to John Leavitt of Newton; the estate of William E.
Field, situated on Waverly avenue, for five years to William H. Pitkin of Boston; the estate of Sewall F. Barker, situated in Waban Park, Ward 1, to H. G. Goodrich, N. E. agent for the Seaboard Milling Co. of Akron, Ohio.
The same firm have also sold on private terms, a lot of land owned by Gilman
Brackett, situated on Fairmount avenue,
Ward 1, between the residences of John F.
Lodge and E. W. Converse, Jr., containing 25,939 square feet, to C. H. Cushman of Cambridge.

—The annual May festival of the Sunday school of the Channing church held in Armory hall, last Saturday afternoon was a success and notwithstanding the warmth of the day, there was quite a large number present. Among features of the occasion may be mentioned the May pole dance and the graceful minuet in which the following young people participated: Misses Grace

Stevens, Bessie Thomas, Bertha New,
Bessie Calley, Messrs. George Lane, Homer
Bigelow, J. Anderson Lord, Walter Soule.
The movements were very prettily executed and the effect was enhanced by the costumes representing the style of dress worn by the fair maidens and gallant beaux of our great grandmothers and great grandfathers' days. The success of the minuet and may pole dance may be attributed to the very able instruction of Mrs. North who directed the dancing. The children enjoyed themselves and amusements were provided which charmed the young folks and pleased the older ones. The sale tables presided over by ladies of the society proved popular and were well patronized. Ice cream and cake were served and thus the material pleasures added to the general enjoyment of the occasion. In the evening, the ladies and gentlemen of the society participated in the pleasures of a social dance.
Music was furnished by an orchestra.

The new edifice of the Eliot church will be used for the first time next Monday evening, upon the occasion of the organ opening, the program of which is given in another column. The opening recital will be given by Messrs. Henry M. Dunham and Samuel Carr, Jr., of Boston, William H.
Clark of Woburn, and J. Wallace Goodrich of Newton. On Tuesday afternoon the church will be open from 3 to 6, the organ being played by Mr. Carr, at intervals of half hour from 3.30 to 4, 4.30 to 5, and 5.30 to 6.
This will give those desiring an opportunity to sit in different parts of the auditorium to decide what pews they may wish to select at the sale, Tuesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, the auction sale of pews will take place, this continuing on Wednesday evening, if found necessary. Mr. Henry E. Cobb will be the auctioneer. Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, the dedicatory exercises will take place, and will consist of an address by the pastor, Rev. Dr. Calkins. Report of the building committee, by the chairman, Mr.
C. E. Billings, and brief addresses by former pastors. Music will be furnished by the chorus choir of the church. Upon Friday evening the preparatory lecture will be delivered by Dr. Calkins, the communion service being held on Sunday afternoon,
June 2. The first morning and evening services will be held in the church on this date.

The Wanzer Cooker.

A party of Newton ladies took lunch at the Tremont House, Tuesday, to examine into the wonderful work of the Wanzer cooker, all the food being cooked by it.
They were quite as enthusiastic over its merits as the party that dined there last week, and all hope that the cooker will soon be in the market. Among the company were Mrs. Henry E. Cobb, Mrs. L. T. Burr, Mrs. C. B. Lancaster, Mrs. Geo. E. Hatch,
Mrs. H. C. Haverton, Mrs. C. E. Whitmore,
Mrs. C. S. Holbrook, Mrs. Geo. D. Clark and Mrs. Estabrook of West Newton, Mrs.
Dr. Calkins, Mrs. N. L. Ripley, Mrs. D. W.
Farquhar, Mrs. S. D. Whittemore, Mrs. C.
W. Loring, all of Newton, and Mrs. Sally
Joy White of the Boston Herald.

A luncheon was given Thursday to fifteen or twenty prominent Newton gentlemen, when the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted:
Boston, May 23, 1889.
Whereas, We have this day witnessed a demonstration of the "Wanzer Cooking Process" and partaken of lunch cooked by same, therefore be it resolved, That we are of opinion that First—That we fully endorse all that the ladies have said in its favor.
Second—That from an economical and scientific point of view, we have never seen its equal.
Third—The flavor of food including fish, beef,
lamb, chickens, potatoes, onions, puddings, etc., surpasses anything we have ever known when cooked by range or stove.
Fourth—The fact that the entire meal was cooked in one room in which it was served (without any odor) and that no one thing partook of the flavor or odor of any other, though cooked in same room, is marvelous.
Fifth—As incredible as it may seem, everything from fish to beef was cooked the same length of time and each article perfectly done.
Sixth—The economy, cleanliness, simplicity and perfection of "Wanzer Cooker," must necessarily make it an article of great commercial value.
Seventh—We hereby tender Mr. Wanzer our sincere thanks for the very enjoyable experience and lunch and congratulate him as a public benefactor.

Tomorrow's Amherst Concert.

The concert which the Amherst College Glee and Banjo clubs are advertised to give tomorrow (Saturday) at Eliot Hall, promises to be the best one of its kind ever given in Newton. The clubs are in particularly good condition this season, and have won the hearty commendation of the press and the audience of the various places in which they have appeared. The program to be presented is of the regulation college sort, running from grave to gay, from pathetic to ridiculous. There will be any quantity of nonsense, but there will also be a sprinkling of part singing. The concert which the club gave at Poughkeepsie pleased the Poughkeepsie News Press so much that it said: "Encore after encore made notable the Amherst glee club concert at the Poughkeepsie last evening. It was an assured success from the beginning.
The '400' and the 'inferior' element of the audience were in thorough sympathy with the singers, and every meritorious effort was meted with perhaps more than a fair degree of encouragement. Sprinkled among the new fillers were many enthusiastic young men from the Riverview military academy, who enjoyed the "catchy" singing in a superior measure.
They clapped, and clapped, and clapped, until the gloves of the ladies were quite worn out with keeping up with them.

Y. M. C. A.

The meeting last Sunday was not largely attended on account of the severe heat, but a good audience gathered. Mr. Arthur Leonard of the Malden Y. M. C. A. had the leadership of the meeting and spoke on "Be true." He spoke of the many ways in which we deceive both self and others. Considerable time was given for testimony and many witnesses took part. It is expected that Mrs. K.
L. Stevenson will address the meeting next Sunday.

The Flower Mission.

The Flower Mission will begin its work for the season on Tuesday May 21.
All contributions to be left at the ladies' room of the depot every Tuesday and Friday morning from quarter of eight until 9 o'clock. Flowers, fruit and books earnestly solicited.
32-21
LOUISE J. SMALLWOOD.

Oil Stoves.

The citizens of Newton and vicinity are invited to call and examine the many varieties of Oil and Gas stoves at 13 Cornhill, Boston. A full line of Adams and Westlake stoves. See advertisement in another column.

The Eliot Church Organ.

The new organ, now being set up in the Eliot church by Geo. S. Hutchings, of Boston, and which will be opened next Monday evening, is not only one of the largest, but also one of the finest in this State west of Boston. The case is of solid cherry, of heavy design, richly carved, and harmonizing with the architecture of the church. The front pipes, covering the entire organ front, are in solid color of gold bronze, with a gilt band at the top. The action of the organ is extended, the key desk being in front of the choir, at the foot of the gallery. The desk is finished in solid cherry and polished mahogany. The organ is a three manual, and has thirty-seven speaking stops. The motive power for the bellows is furnished by a large water-motor, means for blowing by hand being ready for use in case of accident to the motor. The key action and the manual couplers are pneumatic, thus relieving to a large extent the heavy pressure upon the keys.

Among the mechanical novelties of the instrument, the crescendo pedal stands chief. The method of operating this is a new invention which is used for the first time in this organ. By the use of this pedal, the stops are drawn on, automatically, from the softest stop to the full organ, the reverse action being accomplished at will. For this organ the crescendo is operated by a balance pedal, this having superseded the old cleat and pump arrangements.

For the beauty of the voicing, if for nothing else, this organ would be notable. While adhering to neither the English, French or German schools of voicing, the builder has adopted the best points of each, the sharp, incisive quality of the string-toned stops affording admirable contrast to the smoothness of the flutes and stopped pipes. A most charming effect is produced by the substitution, in the choir organ, of a 16-foot Dulciana for the usual Lieblich Gedackt, the Dulciana being of a much softer tone
and of quieter effect.

The manual couplers are controlled by thumb-knobs placed between the great and swell key-boards.

The following is the specification of the organ:

GREAT ORGAN.
Open Diapason,	16 feet
Open Diapason,	8 "
Viola di Gamba,	8 "
Doppel Flute,	8 "
Flute Harmonique,	4 "
Octave,	4 "
Twelfth,	2 1/2 "
Mixture,	2 "
Trumpet,	4 Ranks 8 feet

SWELL ORGAN
Bourdon Bass,	16 feet
Bourdon Treble,	8 "
Open Diapason,	8 "
Salicional,	8 "
Acoline,	8 "
St. Diapason,	8 "
Quintadena,	8 "
Viola,	4 "
Flauto Traverso,	4 "
Flauto,	2 "
Dolce Cornet,	4 Ranks 8 feet
Cornet,	8 "
Cornet,	8 "
Vox Humana,	8 "

CHOIR ORGAN.
Dulciana,	16 feet
Geigen Principal,	8 "
Melodia,	8 "
Dolcissimo,	8 "
Flute d'Amour,	4 "
Piccolo Harmonique,	4 "
Clarinete,	8 "

PEDAL ORGAN.
Contra Bourdon,	32 feet
Open Diapason,	16 "
Bourdon,	16 "
Violoncello,	8 "
Flute,	8 "

MECHANICAL REGISTERS.
Coupler,	Swell to Great Great to Swell
"	Great to Choir
"	Choir to Pedal
"	Great to Pedal
"	Choir to Pedal
"	Pedal to Pedal

PEDAL MOVEMENTS.
Great Forte
Great Mezzo
Great Piano
Swell Forte
Swell Mezzo
Swell Piano
Coupler, Swell to Great at Octaves,
Coupler, Great to Pedal, Reversible.
Grand Crescendo.
Balanced Swell Pedal.

The following is the program of the organ opening at the new Eliot church next Monday evening, at 8 o'clock:

1. a. Prelude.	Dunham
b. Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique.	Guilman
2. Second Organ Sonata.	Mendelssohn
3. a. Adagio. From King Manfred. Reinecke
b. Elsa's Brautjungfer. Zum Muehlen.	Wagner
From Lohengrin.
4. Impromptu upon a familiar melody.	Mr. Wm. H. Clarke.
5. Cantilene.	Lalome
Grand Choeur.	Mr. Carr.
6. Prelude, Five Interludes and Final.	Whiting
upon the plain chant Magnificat.	Mr. Dunham.
7. Scherzo Symphonique.	Guilman
8. Overture, Zanetta.	Auber
	Mr. Clarke.

For Seashore and Country.

People going to the seashore or country for the summer will find everything they desire at H. M. Greenough's complete house furnishing store, 182 to 188
Tremont street, Boston. He has a fine assortment of refrigerators, light furniture of every description, especially designed for summer use, and also a great variety of fancy straw mattings. Newton patrons will receive special attention and will find this one of the most convenient places to trade in Boston. See advertisement in another column.

The Pulsion Telephone company are receiving many orders for telephones.
One month's trial is given to test the telephone and if it is not satisfactory no charge is made. This company is putting up a line in Waltham and a number of subscribers has already been received.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE OVERHEAD ELECTRIC SYSTEM GRANTED TO THE NEWTON STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

The board of aldermen met Monday evening, Mayor Burr in the chair. All the members were present. The minutes of the last half dozen meetings were read and approved. Business from the Common Council was disposed of in concurrence.

A communication from the school board announced the election of Chas. A. Drew to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Rev. Dr. Pierce.

PUBLIC BATH HOUSE.

Mayor Burr sent in the following message to the board:

In view of the approach of summer and the unusual warmth of the season, it seems to be a fitting time to remind you that Newton provides its citizens with no facilities for public bathing. The necessity of establishing at least one public bath house near the center of population, seems too apparent to be dwelt upon, the growth of the city in recent years having resulted in depriving men and boys of the privilege they formerly enjoyed of bathing in nearly every pond and at many places on the banks of the river. It is unnecessary to add that both public health and public order suffer under the existing conditions. I recommend that immediate action be taken by you with power of supplying the need before the end of the bathing season.

H. M. Burr, Mayor.

On motion of Aldermen Kennedy the message was referred to the committee on public property with instructions to report as soon as possible.

A communication from Chief Bixby stated that the two old buildings complained of at the last meeting as unsafe, had been removed, one by the owner and the other by the fire department, consequently the hearing appointed on the subject was not held.

The Fanning Printing Company asked for license for a building 24 by 35, with small ell, on Spring street, Ward 5, and it was granted under suspension of the rules. They also asked permission to put in a four horse power boiler and engine, to be used for a printing office, and a hearing was appointed for Monday evening, June 3rd.

Alderman Pettie presented an order appropriating $65 for such maps of the precincts of the city as is required by the public statutes, the money to be expended by the committee on elections.

Alderman Harbach presented a petition from Chas. H. Stone and others for the repairing of some 700 feet of sidewalk on Bellevue street, which is in a very bad condition and liable to cause accidents, which would render the city liable for damages. Referred to the highway committee.

C. M. Whittlesey and Ann M. Langdon asked to have their sidewalks on Cherry street graded and concreted.

Chas. E. Eddy and others asked to have their sidewalks on Richardson street graded and concreted.

M. A. Chandler, Jeremiah Meany and L. A. Ross gave notice of intention to build dwelling houses on Beacon street, Ward 6.

W. A. Ware and M. J. Waldron were granted junk licenses.

Thomas Hart was granted a license to move small building from Melrose street to Freeman street, Ward 4.

J. V. Ramsdell was granted license to build a conservatory, 10 by 24, on Carlton street, Ward 1.

H. E. Hibbard, trustee, petitioned for sidewalks with concrete on Park street, Ward 7.

Mayor Burr appointed ex-Alderman E. H. Mason, Alderman Childs and Councilman Ranlett a commission to revise the city ordinances.

Alderman Harbach presented an order which was passed, that the $350 received from abutments on Middlesex road be appropriated for drains and culverts on same street.

Ex-Alderman Mason appeared at the hearing on granting license to W. W. Sherman to build stable in rear of brick block at Newton Centre, occupied by W. O. Knapp and others, and asked that the stable be made fire proof and the drainage be made satisfactory. The people there did not object to the stable, if it did not open on the narrow street leading to the depot, as a building there would be an improvement, and he believed in allowing a man to do what he wished with his land, under reasonable restrictions.

Mr. Sherman said the stable would open on the driveway between the block and the stable, and he was willing to do anything reasonable in the way of providing for drainage. He intended to have a tin roof, but he did not think a brick building was necessary.

Fred Huestis, who is also interested in the stable, said they were willing to do anything reasonable, and to conform to the regulations of the board. Alderman Mason thought the matter could be left to the inspector of buildings. The hearing was then closed and the matter taken under consideration by the license committee.

THE STREET RAILWAY ORDER.

Alderman Johnson aroused great interest by reading the following order, granting to the Newton Street Railway Company the right to use the single trolley system, over Washington street from Newton to West Newton, and over the route of the Waltham and West Newton street railway to the Waltham line.

Ordered: On the petition of the Newton Street Railway Company, (a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts) dated February 18th, 1889, that said petition be granted in the manner and upon the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth:

Section I. The said Newton Street Railway Company is hereby authorized and permitted to use as a motive power for its cars, the overhead system of propelling by electricity. And said Company is authorized and permitted to erect and maintain iron poles of a kind and pattern and in a manner satisfactory to the Board of Aldermen, upon Washington street, from Centre street at the end of the tracks of the West End Railway Company to the junction of said Washington street with Elm street at West Newton, the location of said poles to be as shown on the plan of said railway au-nexed to said petition, and to place and maintain thereon the necessary cross arms, wires and fixtures for the operation of its cars by the overhead single trolley wire system of operating electric motors, but no wire shall be suspended nearer the ground than twenty feet; provided, however, that the permission to use such electric system as above specified is granted upon the following express conditions in addition to the conditions upon which such permission is usually granted to wit:

1st. That the electric system of motors shall be completed and in use throughout the whole of said Washington street within six months from the date of this order.

2nd. That if the Board of Aldermen shall at any time order any of said poles or fixtures to be removed, said Company shall remove the same within reasonable time and restore the streets to a proper condition, satisfactory to the Board of Aldermen.

3rd. That said Company shall at any time when required by the Board of Aldermen, substitute for the single trolley wire electric motor system above specified, such other electric motor system as may be approved by said Board of Aldermen.

4th. That said Company shall light all its cars with electric lights.

5th. That said Company shall save said city harmless from all damages, costs and expense to which it may be legally subjected in consequence of the acts or neglect of said Company, its agents or employees, or in any way arising out of the rights and privileges granted.

6th. That said Company shall so construct, maintain and use its said overhead single trolley electric system of motive power as not to impair the efficiency of certain electric signals and telephone wires used by the City of Newton for its fire department and police service.

7th. That it is hereby understood and agreed that if in the event of a fire it is deemed necessary for the officers and men of the fire department of the said City of Newton, in order the better to extinguish or prevent the spread of such fire, to cut the wire or wires of said Company, they shall be allowed to do so without any liability on their part, or on the part of said City to the said Newton Street Railway Company, and wire or wires so cut shall be repaired and restored by said Street Railway Company at its own expense, and without expense or cost to the said city.

Section II. Said Newton Street Railway Company is hereby authorized and permitted to operate its cars on the railway formerly owned by the Waltham and Newton Street Railway Company, in the same manner and upon the same terms and conditions as provided in Section I. Iron poles to be located as shown on the aforesaid plan.

Section III. No act shall be done by said Company in or upon the streets of said City toward the carrying out of the provisions of this order until the Company shall have executed and delivered to the said City of Newton a corporate bond in the penal sum of $10,000, satisfactory to the Board of Aldermen, and in form approved by the City Solicitor, conditioned upon the faithful performance by said Company of all the duties and its compliance with all the conditions imposed upon it by this order.

Section IV. The authorities and permissions above set forth are granted upon the condition that nothing herein contained shall be deemed a limitation or waiver of any rights now possessed by or that may hereafter be conferred upon the Board of Aldermen of Newton, to make rules and regulations pertaining to the operation and maintenance of street railways or the running of cars thereon within the limits of the city; also on the condition that the track on said Washington street be constructed, equipped and in operation within six months from the acceptance of this order by the said Company; otherwise this order shall be null and void; and upon further condition that the Directors of the Newton Street Railway Company shall accept this order and agree in behalf of said Company to comply with all the conditions herein contained, and shall file such acceptance in writing with the clerk of the City of Newton within thirty days from the final passage thereof; otherwise it shall be null and void.

Alderman Childs said that he was surprised that the order was brought in at this time. The board had voted to give a hearing to gentlemen interested in the storage battery company, whose names stood as high in the city as those of the gentlemen connected with the company. The order, he thought, was ill-timed, and was an insult to the gentlemen to whom a hearing had been granted. It was only courtesy not to pass the order until after the hearing.

He certainly should object for several reasons. First, he thought the bond of $10,000 was not large enough. It was a paltry sum compared with the damage the system might do, and ought to be $25,000. He wished to make a personal statement, also. That great organ, the Waltham Free Press, had published, probably by the Thomson-Houston company, that he was interested in the Storage Battery company. This was false, as he neither held any stock in it nor wanted any. He should never invest money in such a company.

He believed that the Storage Battery system was a success. He thought it was only courtesy to give the company a hearing. Alderman Johnson said he was sorry that the alderman from ward one had been so interested in the Storage Battery people, but their petition did not apply to the case at all. The location asked for had been granted to another company two years ago. If the board desired they could grant a hearing but he did not see how they could give away what had already been given. He also thought it was an example of monumental cheek for the New England Telephone company to detain the board all one evening to listen to the remonstrance, when they had themselves no legal location in Newton. But the board had listened to them out of courtesy. The Storage Battery company asked for a location, merely, but the other company already had the right to put their tracks down in the streets, if they desired. As for the storage battery system, it had now been on trial for 8 years, as Mr. Hyde said, and had not been adopted by a single railroad in the country.

Alderman Childs said that the storage battery people had stated in their petition that they desired to use the storage battery system. They had not yet had a hearing. As for Mr. Hyde's statements, there was a good deal of difference between a statement and a fact. A prominent lawyer, who did not live in Newton, had told him that it was a matter of grave doubt whether the Newton Street Railway company had any location in Newton. He did not think they had.

He did not propose to fight the Newton Street Railway company, but he asked for a postponement out of courtesy. The Thomson-Houston company are having a hearing to-night in Salem and it is of vital importance to them to have this order pass the Newton board to-night.

Alderman Johnson asked, when we get through with the hearing what does it amount to if we can't grant a location? Alderman Childs said the body that had the power to grant had the power to take away. Wm. E. Russell had said that the board had the power to revoke such a grant, and the board did compel the old Union Street Railway Company to take their tracks from Elmwood and Tremont streets. The Newton Street Railway did not do anything until they were forced into it by the appearance of the new company.

order pass the Newton board to-night.

Alderman Johnson asked, when we get through with the hearing what does it amount to if we can't grant a location?

Alderman Childs said the body that had the power to grant had the power to take away. Wm. E. Russell had said that the board had the power to revoke such a grant, and the board did compel the old Union Street Railway Company to take their tracks from Elmwood and Tremont streets. The Newton Street Railway did not do anything until they were forced into it by the appearance of the new company.

Alderman Chadwick said that the Newton Street Railway had applied for a location before the other company was even heard of, and it had been prevented from laying its tracks because it was forbidden to cross the railroad. The highway committee had been waiting to make repairs on Washington street because the laying of the railroad tracks would tear up the street, but there were constant complaints of the condition of the street, and if anything is to be done this year, action should not be longer delayed. The petition should either be granted or refused. The alderman from Ward 1 talked about courtesy, but the first petition made for storage batteries was by a private citizen, and it was made merely to head off the Newton Street Railway company. There was no courtesy in that. He saw no reason why the order should not be passed at once.

Alderman Johnson said their petition was for a location, and not for a storage battery system.

Alderman Childs said that the first petition received was from Col. Hewins, and at that time a company was being formed, and he asked the board to wait for it. Washington street was in no worse condition than it had been and it would not suffer if we wait another week. He moved to lay that matter on the table; Alderman Pettie seconded the matter and it was defeated 4 to 3.

Alderman Pettie said he was not aware the matter was coming up, and he was willing to postpone it for a week, but he thought it could be discussed to night as well as any time. The petition before us asks for a location for the single trolley system, and the company's location does not expire until October. The company wanted the right through Newton to complete a small part of the circuit. It was hardly business like to ask them to change their system, when they reach the Newton line for the two miles in its limit, and unless some serious reasons were brought against it, he should vote for the order. The system was used in Boston and seemed to be the only reliable electric system. So far there had only been one complaint from the telephone company, and from certain prominent citizens who objected to having the streets disfigured. The Telephone Co. had their poles in the streets, for their private business, and the city had no more to do with it than with any other private enterprise. He thought the telephone company took a good deal upon themselves when they come here and instruct us as to our duty. The legislature is the place for them. He thought it strange the Storage Battery people should ask for a franchise which had already been granted to another company, but he was willing to leave it till the next meeting, and moved to table. Alderman Childs seconded, but the motion was defeated 4 to 3.

Alderman Pettie thought the bond should cover the possible damage to our police and fire signal service.

Alderman Childs said it would interfere with the telephones, and $10,000 would not cover 1-5 of the damage it might do.

Alderman Johnson said the City Solicitor had considered the matter and said that the bond would fully cover any damage. In the city of Boston, only $50,000 was demanded to cover the whole city, and he thought $10,000 would cover Newton. He could see no possible reason for waiting.

Alderman Johnson said that the alderman could order the company to use the Storage Battery system at any time when it was proved to be a success. He did not see why the Storage Battery company had not invited the board to go for a franchise for a month and you will never run a ball again.

W. H. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK, INSURANCE AGENT, Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

S. K. MacLEOD Carpenter and Builder, Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and 4 fittings for Plumber's Work Shop, Centre Place, opp. Public Library Residence, Boyd street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 500, NEWTON, MASS.

HOWARD BROS., ICE DEALERS. We are now prepared to furnish the citizens of Newton and Waltham with PURE POND ICE.

AT LOWEST MARKET RATES To Families, Hotels, Markets, &c., at Wholesale and Retail.

ORDER BOX, At W. Henry Brackett's provision store, City Market and Post Office, Newton and Hall's Grocery Store, Waltham.

Post Office Address, Waltham, where orders may be left.

F. H. HOWARD, W. O. HOWARD, PROPRIETORS.

J. J. JOHNSON, FLORIST. CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc. Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK. Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Office in the Newton National Bank. GEORGE HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President. MISS SUSANNA M. DUNKLEE, Treas. COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT: George Hyde, Willard Macey, J. C. Hyde, J. F. C. Hyde, Clerk.

OTHER MATTERS.

C. H. Tainter petitioned for leave to put up awnings in front of his news store in Newtonville, and the matter was referred to Aldermen Chadwick and Harbach.

Alderman Chadwick presented an order appropriating $1,500 for cellar, foundations and water closets in rear of the Clafin school building, and the order was referred to the finance committee. Forty-five thousand nine hundred dollars was appropriated to cover the expense of the city during June.

A PLAY GROUND.

Alderman Kennedy presented an order that the committee on parks consider the expediency of securing public play grounds in certain of the wards and report the probable expense. He thought the city was backward in providing places for the children to play and in wards one and seven they had no place but the streets. It was the same in Nonantum, and he thought suitable places ought to be provided. Now was the time to do it, before the land was all taken for building purposes. The order passed, after which the board adjourned to 7:15 next Monday evening.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon's Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR. Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire. Landaus and Hackes, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING. Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 7874.

THEODORE L. MASON, Agent for the celebrated Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock. Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Ellet Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

LLOYD BROTHERS, Improved Carpet Cleaning Machine They remove all Dust, Brighten Colors and Destroy Moths.

Office, 605 Main Street, 3d door East of Church Street, Works on Benefit St., Waltham, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly attended to. TELEPHONE NO. 7874. P. O. Box No. 50.

L. H. CRANITCH HOUSE, SIGN, AND ORNAMENTAL PAINTER, Graining and Paper Hanging a Specialty.

WALNUT STREET, 2d Door from Central Block, NEWTONVILLE.

DO YOU KNOW That you can save money by buying your GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, WOODENWARE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES, at WHITTIER'S?

I am adding every day to my stock, and making Lower Prices than ever. Come here and pay cash for a month and you will never run a ball again.

W. H. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK, INSURANCE AGENT, Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

S. K. MacLEOD Carpenter and Builder, Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed.

Bathrooms and 4 fittings for Plumber's Work Shop, Centre Place, opp. Public Library Residence, Boyd street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 500, NEWTON, MASS.

HOWARD BROS., ICE DEALERS. We are now prepared to furnish the citizens of Newton and Waltham with PURE POND ICE.

AT LOWEST MARKET RATES To Families, Hotels, Markets, &c., at Wholesale and Retail.

ORDER BOX, At W. Henry Brackett's provision store, City Market and Post Office, Newton and Hall's Grocery Store, Waltham.

Post Office Address, Waltham, where orders may be left.

F. H. HOWARD, W. O. HOWARD, PROPRIETORS.

J. J. JOHNSON, FLORIST. CONSERVATORIES, School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc. Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK. Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Office in the Newton National Bank. GEORGE HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President. MISS SUSANNA M. DUNKLEE, Treas. COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT: George Hyde, Willard Macey, J. C. Hyde, J. F. C. Hyde, Clerk.

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH, ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR.

5 Tremont Street, Boston. Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands, 471

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE, ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW (Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)

56 Bedford St., Boston. Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY, COUNSELLOR AT LAW, 113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass. Residence, Newton. 28-1y

GEORGE W. MORSE, Attorney & Counsellor-at-Law, 28 State St., Room 45, Boston. Residence, Newtonville, Mass.

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law. Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM, WINFIELD S. SLOCUM. Residences, Newtonville. Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

MADISON BUNKER, D.V.S. Veterinary Surgeon.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON, MASS. Telephonic connection. 5*

MILLINERY. Latest styles in Hats and Bonnets and general assortment of French and American Millinery Goods and Novelties in all the newest patterns.

Crape always in stock and special attention given to orders for Mourning Goods. Old Crape made New by Shriver's patent process. Hats dyed and pressed and Feathers dyed and curled at short notice.

H. J. WOODS, Ellet Block, Elmwood St., Newton. Open Monday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot for conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET. TELEPHONE CONNECTION: 3

W. B. YOUNG, REAL ESTATE AND INSURANCE AGENT. NEGOTIATOR OF MORTGAGES, Land furnished and houses built to suit on ea

Office, 35 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON. Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Centre.

F. G. BARNES & SON. Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance Brokers.

AUCTIONEERS for REAL and PERSONAL PROPERTY. FOR SALE and FOR RENT a large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: No. 27 State Street, Boston, and Brackett's Block, Newton.

GEO. W. BUSH, Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER, ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes, And every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

WM. H. PHILLIPS. Would respectfully inform the citizens of Newton that he can be found at the above place, and will attend to all orders personally. Having had over twenty years experience in the business, I trust I can attend to all calls that may come under my direction, to the satisfaction of all parties who may require the services of an Undertaker. 11

PEARSON'S NEWTON AND BOSTON EXPRESS. BOSTON OFFICES: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 33 Court St. Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.

NEWTON OFFICE: At H. B. Coffin's, Order Boxes at Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins'. Leave Newton at 9.30 a. m. Leave Boston at 3 p. m.

M. C. HICCINS, PRACTICAL PLUMBER -AND- Sanitary Engineer. (Formerly with S. F. Carrier.)

Summer's Block, Newton.

PLUMBING WORK IN ALL ITS BRANCHES Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city; perfect satisfaction guaranteed. 25-1y

BAY STATE THE BEST IN THE WORLD. LOWEST PRICES. MADE BY J. CHAYNES & CO. BOSTON-MASS. SEND FOR ILLUSTRATED CATALOGUE FREE

PEERLESS DYES Are the BEST. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS.

City of Newton.

Assessors' Notice

The inhabitants of the City of Newton, and all other persons liable to pay taxes therein, are hereby required to bring in to the Assessors of said Newton, on any day from

May First to the fifteenth day of June next,

true lists of all the Polls (males, 20 years old and upwards), and schedules and estimates of their personal estates, not exempted from taxation.

ASSESSMENT OF WOMEN. CHAP. 196, ACTS OF 1880. The Assessors or Assistant Assessors shall, in the month of May or June in each year, visit each dwelling-house or building and make true lists of all women twenty years of age and upwards, who shall be in writing over their names, request the Assessors to assess them for a "poll tax" and it shall be the duty of the Assessors to inquire at each such dwelling-house for building purposes, or other requests for assessment, which must give the name in full—age, occupation and residence May 1st 1888. All women desiring to be assessed, or not tax should have their written request for such assessment, such in the form required by the Act of 1880, ready for delivery to the Assessors when they shall visit the house where they dwell. Each request should be upon a separate sheet signed by the applicant with her name in full. No application for the assessment of a woman for a poll tax will be received by mail or in any other manner than that provided by said Chapter 196, except by filing in the office of the Assessors the list provided by Section 12, of Chapter 238, of Acts of 1880, as amended by Chapter 200, of Acts of 1888.

Persons holding estates in trust, whether for minors or otherwise, are particularly requested to furnish the Assessors with statements in relation to such estates. When estates of persons deceased have been divided during the past year, or have changed hands from other causes, the Executors, Administrators, Trustees, or other persons interested, are required and warned to give notice of such change; and in default of such notice will be held to pay the tax assessed, although such estate has been wholly distributed and paid over.

Returns of Property Held for Literary, Benevolent, Charitable or Scientific Purposes. In accordance with the requirements of Chapter 217, Acts of 1882—All persons and corporations are hereby required to bring in to the Assessors of Newton on any day from May first to the fifteenth day of June next, true lists of all real and personal estate held by such persons and corporations respectively for literary, benevolent, charitable or scientific purposes on the first day of May, 1889, together with statements of the amount of all receipts and expenditures by such person or corporation for said purposes during the year next preceding said first day of May; such lists and statements to be in such detail as may be required by the tax commissioner.

MORTGAGED REAL ESTATE. CHAP. 175, ACTS OF 1882, SEC. 1. Any mortgagor or mortgagee of Real Estate may bring in to the Assessors of the town or city where such Real Estate lies, at the time specified for bringing in the list as provided in Section thirty-eight of Chapter eleven of the Public Statutes, a statement under oath of the amount of each separate lot or parcel of such Real Estate, and the name and residence of every holder of an interest therein as a mortgagee or mortgagee of the amount of the mortgagee's interest in each estate or part of an estate shall be given in such statement. The Assessors shall, from such statements or otherwise, ascertain the amount of the parts of such estates that are the interests of mortgagees and mortgagors, respectively, and shall assess the same. Whenever, in any case of Real Estate, a statement is not brought in as herein provided, no tax for the then current year on such Real Estate shall be invalidated for the reason that a mortgagee's interest therein has not been assessed to him.

SHIPPING. Shipping and business income are not taxable to a firm, but each resident partner must include these items in his individual return. Owners and agents of ships and vessels engaged in the foreign carrying trade, are referred to Sections 8 and 9, Chapter 11 of the Public Statutes, for the form of return required to obtain exemption from taxation upon the valuation of such property. Said returns to be made to the Assessors on or before June first.

Any

NEWTON TARIFF REFORM CLUB.

A TARIFF IS A TAX.

Organized, Jan. 24, 1889.
Membership on May 1, 95.

Address all communications to the Secretary of the Newton Tariff Reform Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

Republican Tariff Reform.

In last week's Journal Mr. Allen says the present Tariff is not the War Tariff, because in 1870, 1872, and 1883, the Republican majority in Congress reduced and reformed the existing rates. In 1882 Mr. Allen says the communication is "faulty" but its spirit is utterly false. Let us have the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. In this demand for the whole truth, we gladly accept the epithet "insatiable"; nothing will please us except "absolute freedom" from importations of foreign goods. Mr. Allen says 403 articles have been added to the Free List since the war, why does he not name some of them? Why not admit frankly that hides, tea, coffee, Indian rubber, cotton, and possibly one or two more, are the only ones of great importance; and that the cottons must stand alone as albumen, bologna sausage, hogs-hair, lemon-peel, sea-weeds, snails, sulphur, tin and turtles? If the Protectionists think this list unfair we will send the complete catalogue, four hundred and sixty-three, to the Journal for publication. Why does not this correspondent say that nearly all of these articles the Republicans were too glad to remove from the list of revenue producers. A reduction on the wheat-stones gave the tariff on wool a longer life, and in putting cotton on the free list they put off the day when cotton must stand alone. If tea were free, I rails were safely taxed; and if coffee no longer yielded revenue, crockery must.

Again, it is honest to boast of numerous reductions on unnamed and insignificant articles, and at the same time omit to state such facts as these: cottons must stand alone. If tea were free, I rails were as high as in 1864 upon the following: books, chinaware, cotton goods, many classes of hemp and flax goods, window glass, iron rails, steel wire, paper and silks. The "reduction" of 1870, Mr. Allen forgot to state, that the cottons must stand alone. If tea were free, I rails were as high as in 1864 upon the following: books, chinaware, cotton goods, many classes of hemp and flax goods, window glass, iron rails, steel wire, paper and silks. The "reduction" of 1870, Mr. Allen forgot to state, that the cottons must stand alone. If tea were free, I rails were as high as in 1864 upon the following: books, chinaware, cotton goods, many classes of hemp and flax goods, window glass, iron rails, steel wire, paper and silks.

The Act of 1872 is mentioned, but that of 1875 is not. The most important part of the former Act was a ten per cent reduction on cottons, woollens, glassware and the myriad forms of iron and steel. The Act of 1875—did the Protectionists ever hear of it—repealed that provision, and restored the old rates.

The Act of 1883 may well be named the Hypocritical Tariff—it pretended to do much and did little. The table given in the Journal shows nothing, until one has some knowledge of what articles they were that received real reductions, what articles received lower rates simply as a matter of form, and what articles received an increased rate. For example, in our tariff there are many kinds of woollens; how were they treated in 1883? On most classes the duties were lowered but in nearly every case these woollens can not be imported under the new rate any more than under the old; the duties are still prohibitory. But there were two kinds of woollens, dress goods and cassimeres, which were largely imported. The duties on these were raised, and the consumers paid the higher price. Cottons were similarly treated. Perhaps half the cottons imported since 1883 have paid higher rates than would have been demanded under the old law. The duty on iron ore was increased, and even if a reduction was made in copper the amount left was still higher than in 1864.

Quicksilver was free in 1862, but the owners of the richest mines in the world needed protection against paupers, and "1883" put 10 per cent on quicksilver. Wool was slightly reduced, but all the high tariff leaders are ashamed of it, and one can scarcely call them Reformers in Wool Duties—unless, be sure, "The way to reform it is to tax that spot as high as the rest."

Iron in many forms is reduced, and steel rails have come down a little, and their "bad eminence." Here at last is a step in the right direction; and we mean to give even the Hypocritical Tariff its due; it was not all wrong and there may be some slight reductions in other articles.

Mr. Allen wisely refrains from any mention of the present attitude of the Protectionists towards Reform. He spares the "Wonderful Tariff" of last winter, and we, too, at this time will spare it—and him.

The Republican Tariff Reformers have paid their tithes of mint, and anise and cummin;—steel rails are only $17 a ton instead of $28, and hides and hellebore are on the free list. But what about the weightier matters of the law, judgment, and mercy, and faith; the tools of the mechanic, the sugar and salt and rice and fish of the poor, the clothing and shelter of the laborer. These ought to have been done, and not to leave the other undone.

Tariff Fables—No. 2.

THE FOX WITHOUT A TAIL.

A conceited young Fox was wont to liken himself to a powerful nation, and in especial used to call his tail, which in south was a fine one, the Commercial Marine. Being caught in a War Trap he was glad to compound for his neck by the loss of his Commercial Marine. To make the best of a bad matter he called the rest of the foxes together and advised them to follow his example. "When one comes to reason upon it," said he, "a Commercial Marine may be good enough in its way, but I am truly in a maze to find so many advantages coming from the loss of it." Upon this an old fellow with a grizzled, graying tail stepped forward and said, "I rather think, my friend, you would not advise us thus if you could compass the recovery of your own Brush."

Foreign Trade and the Shipping Interest.

One of the strongest arguments made by our friends who believe in continuing the war tariff in time of peace is that any material reduction of that tariff would throw labor out of employment in this country and cause an inundation of foreign goods. This argument leaves out of sight the fundamental conditions of foreign trade. If we buy we must sell. Foreign commerce cannot be carried on without these two factors. Our extreme protectionist friends of the modern school—never dreamed of by Hamilton or Clay—look upon all importations of products which could be made here at any price as so much dead loss. The wiser theory seems to be that if two countries can exchange what they do not need or want for what they do need or want they both make profits.

What we need in this country to-day, and especially in New England, are crude materials as cheap as our rivals get them and access to the foreign markets on equal terms with those rivals. In many of our industries artificial stimulation has increased capacity until there can be produced in six or seven months all the goods that this country demands in a year, and these goods are shut out of foreign markets because the high tariff increases the cost of production. Manufacturers in almost every department of industry have testified that if it were not for the higher cost of production caused by the extreme tariff they would laugh at foreign competition, for the simple reason that a man is worth more in this country than elsewhere.

We heard a good deal from the extreme protectionists about the restoration of our mercantile marine. Our great shipping interest, for which the country is especially adapted, is prostrate because "protection" which covers the land, can not be extended to the free "highway of nations." To talk about restoring it to a healthy state without removing the burden of the tariff is about as sensible as to prescribe brandy to a strong runner whose feet are shackled.

The shipping interest, which under normal conditions would be worth more to this country than all the "protected" industries, has three great elements of nature. First the building of ships would mean the profitable employment of a large amount of capital and labor. Secondly, the carrying trade has been highly profitable, and might be again if the business were not overdone by artificial stimulation, as by the French bounties, for instance. Thirdly, and more important still, if we had our own steamship lines, running to all parts of the world, we could more conveniently send our products to foreign markets where they would be wanted if they could be easily and profitably obtained.

There are we are justified in saying that all the advantages of foreign commerce—one of the greatest sources of the wealth of nations—are sacrificed by a high tariff, and that no compensating advantages are secured which we should not enjoy in any event. ALPHA.

Field Day.

The Newton Natural History Society held its second field day for the season last Saturday afternoon at Echo Bridge and the beautiful little region on the south side of the river. The party numbering about thirty left the cars at Eliot and walked the half mile to the ravine and rocks bearing the inappropriate name of Devil's Den. Here they were joined by others from the Upper Falls and Centre. After rambling over this little romantic dell amid the "Forest Primeval" of robust, sombre shading hemlocks, the party gathered on a little knoll for a rest and the exercises of the day.

Dr. J. F. Frisbie gave an address, taking for his subject the conglomerate formation or pudding stone found so abundant in this region. The conglomerate is divided into pudding stone and breccia, and consists of fragments of older rocks cemented together by a finer material. In the pudding stone the included material is rounded, water-worn boulders or stones or even fine sand. The latter is called sandstone and has many shades of color.

Observe along the beach patches of water-worn stones of different sizes and extent. Through subsidence, following a fracture in the earth crust, producing the earthquake, this beach becomes the floor of the ocean. Fine material eroded and worn away from the land is carried by running water to the ocean, and deposited on these pebbles, settling among them, and thus preparing all for the formation of a conglomerate, when two other forces are added. Continued deposit on top at times gives pressure. To this is added heat from the interior of the earth, and in time, by the aid of the pressure and the heat this material is cooked and cemented into a solid rock, and the conglomerate rock is the result.

Long ages pass away, the earth loses heat by radiation into space and contracts, and this ocean floor is elevated above the water and the conglomerate comes into view.

In making a plum pudding the housewife contracts a conglomerate. Let her place the raisins in a dish, pour over them the milk and eggs, set in the oven to bake, and it emerges a typical conglomerate.

In a breccia the included fragments are angular, not rounded, but the process and the result is the same. Likewise with the sandstone, the sand on the beach is cemented by the fine material, the only difference is in the size of the enclosed fragment of rock.

Here in Newton slate is found in direct contact with the conglomerate. This is easily explained. The fine silt that cements the rock fragments together is laid down abundantly above or below the other material, and by heat and pressure this silt is baked into slate.

Oris Pettie Esq., gave an interesting historical account of the early settlement of this part of Newton, with especial reference to the successive mill industries from the earliest date to the present, cotton, iron, silk and paper. He then led the party through the paper mill, close by the river, and explained the manner of manufacturing paper.

From there they went to Echo Bridge, and listened to the wonderful echo, then on top for the view. A part descended through the trap to see the water and listen to the echo in the great conduit. From there they went to the mill, and Pettie to his beautiful home and spent an hour on his lawn looking at the fine views of mountains and valley, while listening to stories and legends of the past. A half mile walk to Eliot station and at 5.45 the cars were taken and the field day was over.

It had been an afternoon of interest and pleasure enjoyed by all.

The Newton Cottage Hospital.

To the Editor of the Newton Graphic:

It is reported on good authority that a prejudice against the hospital has arisen in some quarters, based upon the entirely false idea that the small charges collected at the Hospital are paid to the attending physicians, and thus that the Hospital is an institution for enriching them. The truth is that not a cent collected by the hospital has ever been paid to a physician. The physicians do their noble work for the Hospital with no pecuniary compensation whatever. In a few instances—perhaps six or eight in all—with the consent of two members of the medical board, physicians have been permitted to bring their private patients to the hospital for convenience in special treatment. From these they may or may not have received their ordinary fees. The hospital has nothing to do with them; and every dollar that the hospital collects goes to the ordinary expenses of food, cleaning, warming, nursing, and other necessities, without any compensation to the physicians. The following statement has twice been published in the reports of the hospital, and may serve to correct erroneous impressions if the editor will kindly reprint it.

J. WORCESTER, SEC. EX. COM.

[Extract from Hospital Report]

No person has ever been refused admission to the hospital on account of poverty; and, once admitted to the general wards, poor and rich receive equal care and attention according to their need, the food being regulated by the physicians' orders. No other rule seems practicable and humane. Patients occupying private rooms, at much higher cost, can have any extra attendance they may require and choose to pay for. The price of ten dollars a week represents, as nearly as can be estimated, the cost of maintaining the patients in the general wards, and the price that it is fair for them to pay if they are able to do so. In fact, the number of patients who do pay this is extremely small; and any amount that a patient is able to pay is accepted. For those who have a claim for support upon the City of Newton, and can pay nothing, the City allows seven dollars a week; and for such persons who can pay a part of the seven dollars, the City makes up the rest. If the patient has no legal claim, when the City, as for instance, foreigners who have recently arrived, the State pays three dollars a week, which is the minimum cost of supporting them in a wholesale institution like Tewksbury; and for them the City adds two dollars, dividing with the hospital the difference between the three dollars and the seven which the City pays for its own poor. It is, of course, desirable that in every instance the patient himself, or his friends who are responsible for him, should pay whatever part of the cost he is able to pay; and at the same time if he is unable to pay anything, which is not refused to care for him. This is a more liberal course than is usual in hospitals; and it is urged by some that it encourages the habit of careless spending, and laying by nothing for rainy days; since a person will say, that he has no need to lay by for sickness, as he can not refuse to care for himself when he is sick. In general, people who will take this view will spend anyway, and cannot be much influenced by indefinite future needs. But we are not sure that something cannot be done usefully, by inducing poor families to pay small amounts regularly, as a sort of hospital insurance, which shall sort all the members of the family to the hospital care that they may need at any time.

The hospital cannot undertake to provide for patients not residents of Newton, at less than the actual cost. Patients from other towns, and cities, paying the weekly charge of ten dollars, can be admitted if there is suitable place for them. Contagious and infectious diseases are not admitted, as we have no separate and safe accommodations for them.

Incurable cases also, as a rule, are not admitted. Yet at many times happened that the hospital has received such patients because it was the only way of providing suitably for their closing hours. They may be admitted any time "for reasons satisfactory to the Medical Board."

Memorial day will be observed again in a short time, and in his general orders calling the attention of the Massachusetts veterans to this fact, Department Commander Goodale says: "Comrades, let us devote this one day of all the year to the memory of our departed comrades. As we treasure the recollections of the hours they were with us in life, and ever hold dear the memories and ties of comradeship, so let us on this day pay grateful tribute at their last resting places to the heroes brave and true who are with us no more."

Mrs. ABBIE C. THAYER, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, 19 CHANNING STREET, NEWTON.

Practises Christian Science Mind Healing as Taught by Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy.

EDWARD P. BURNHAM, BICYCLE DEALER.

Bicycles and Tricycles of all descriptions sold for cash, or on instalments. Specialty in letting Second-hand Machines taken in exchange. Repairs done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

T. F. CLENNAN, Carriage Trimming & Harness MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c. Washington Street, Newton.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

I will guarantee to cure the worst case of corns and bunions on any Lady's feet who will wear my

CUSTOM MADE Kangaroo Skin Boots.

They are soft, fine, and look handsome. They will wear longer than anything else known; they will keep their shape and turn water. I do not send the measure to the factory to be made up, but make them myself. I will guarantee a perfect fitting and comfortable boot no matter in what shape the feet may be.

Best Kangaroo, Flexible Bottom, no squeak, $6.50. Dongola, Flexible bottom, no squeak.

A. L. RHYND, Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Rubbers. Custom work a specialty.

Hyde's Block, Centre and Washington Sts., NEWTON.

TRADE MARK
O. & O. TEA

The Choicest Tea Ever Offered.
PERFECTLY PURE.

A MOST DELICIOUS BEVERAGE. TRY IT.

You will never use any other. Quality never varies.

It is the Highest Grade Leaf, picked from the best plantations and guaranteed absolutely pure and free from all adulterations or coloring matter. The cans bear the trade mark of the O. & O. and are hermetically sealed and warranted full weight. It is more economical in use than the lower grades.

Oriental & Occidental Tea Co., Ltd.,

Head Office, 31, 33 and 35 Burlington St., New York.

For sale by the best Grocers.

H. B. Coffin, C. O. Tucker & Co., G. P. Atkins, Newton; E. Moulton, Newton Highlands; A. R. Pitts, Newton Upper Falls; W. O. Knapp & Co. Newton Centre; Boston Branch Grocery, A. A. Savage, C. Strout & Sons, Newtonville; Alonzo Whitney, West Newton; Frank A. Childs, Auburndale.

PLUMBING.

Timothy J. Hartnett

BRACKETT'S NEW BLOCK,

Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton.

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others.

The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited. Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping. Agent for Portland Stone Ware Co's Drain Pipes, Vases, &c.

MURRAY & FARRELL,

CARRIAGE BUILDERS & HORSE SHOERS.

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS.

Also to shoeing, Over-reaching, Interfering and Tender-footed Horses. All kinds of blacksmith and wheelwright work done with neatness and dispatch. Washington, cor. Park St. Ward 7, Newton. Prices very reasonable. All our work guaranteed.

Newton City Market.

All kinds of Fresh and Salt

MEATS,

POULTRY AND GAME,

FISH & OYSTERS,

Butter, Cheese and Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit and Vegetables.

No. 413 Centre Street, Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor.

Champagne Cider

Manufactured at the Glen Farm, a quality of Sweet, Sparkling Cider, made from sound fruit, and just the thing for family use, which will be delivered in quart, pint and half pint bottles in any part of Newton. Best article in the market and sure to give satisfaction. Quality guaranteed. P. O. Address.

GLEN FARM,

Box 139, Newton Lower Falls, Mass.

Francis Murdock & Co.

ROYAL PURE DYE STAINLESS

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Best in the world. Examined by $5.00 GENUINE HAND-SEWED SHOE. $4.00 HAND-SEWED WELT SHOE. $3.50 POLY AND FARMER SHOE. $3.00 EXTRA VALUE Calf Shoe. $2.50 WORKINGMAN'S SCHOOL SHOES. All made in Congress, Button and Lace.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 SHOE FOR LADIES.

Best Material. Best Style. Best Fitting. Not sold by your dealer, write W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS.

Examine W. L. Douglas $2.00 Shoes for gentlemen and ladies.

FOR SALE BY M. J. O'SHEA, 336 Centre St., Newton. GEO. E. BARROWS, Newton Centre

WEST END STREET RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.55 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 5.25 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.05 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 6.35 P. M., then 7 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 11 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 12.50 P. M., then every thirty minutes until 8.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M., and every thirty minutes until 11.30 A. M., then every fifteen minutes until 11 P. M.

First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.25 A. M. D. F. LONGSTREET, General Manager.

ORNAMENTAL TREES.

SHRUBS & HERBACEOUS PLANTS.

FOR SALE.

A large and valuable assortment at the

NEWTON

Cemetery Nurseries,

Cemetery Nurseries. Also a large assortment of Greenhouse and Bedding plants. A few extra large size elms and maples.

HENRY ROSS, Supt.

Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

—THE—

ESSEX BOOT & SHOE CO.

28 Essex St., Boston.

F. LESLIE KEENE, Manager.

Have a large assortment of Seasonable Goods, including

Base Ball, Bicycle, Tennis, and

Yachting Shoes.

A liberal discount to clubs and yachts. Prices always the lowest. Don't fail to give us a call, we will make it pay you to do so.

EDDY'S REFRIGERATORS!

I have sold them for the past twenty-one years which is sufficient guarantee that they are the best. Refrigerators of all kinds repaired. Leave your orders and have them attended to at once, as warm weather will soon be here. Stoves, ranges, and furnaces cleaned and repaired. Tinplate, sheet iron and copper work done in a thorough manner.

JOHN S. SUMNER,

MIDDLESEX BLOCK,

352 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

INSOMNIA - SLEEPLESSNESS.

Dr. B. F. Howard's Hypnotic and Mind's Balm is an infallible remedy for Insomnia. It is purely vegetable, and aids much in the cure of other diseases. Dr. Howard was a great sufferer from this terrible malady. He cured himself—he can cure others.

Address, including stamp for particulars, Dr. B. F. HOWARD, 37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass., 22 1/2

OR SEEN AT OFFICE DAILY.

BEHNING Pianos

"THE FINEST IN THE WORLD."

HUNT BROS., 34 Essex St., Boston

Meat, Poultry and Game.

"THE CHOICEST" OUR MOTTO.

The Newton Market

Established in 1851 and located pleasantly at NOS. 7 AND 8 COLE'S BLOCK, has constantly on hand a LARGE and CHOICE SUPPLY of Meats, Poultry and Game.

W. H. BRACKETT, Proprietor.

Telephone 7554.

We have just placed on sale a full line of

Ladies' & Misses' ROYAL PURE DYE STAINLESS

FAST BLACK HOSE

TRADE-MARK

We guarantee every pair perfect—fast black and not to stain or crack. If you use them once you will use no other make.

We are also agents for the Famous LINWOOD Stocking with spliced Linen heel and toe. They will outwear two pairs of the plain cotton goods at cost no more.

Francis Murdock & Co.

ROOFING.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel

ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos. 20 and 22 East Street,

BOSTON.

Established 1836. Telephone No. 162. 49 58

W. B. BEAL,

Newton & Boston Express.

Boston: 48 Chatham and 75 Kilby Streets.

Newton: P. O. Box 470, Depot and J. McCammon's.

Leave Newton, 10 A. M., Boston at 3 P. M.

FF Furniture and Piano Moving.

C. G. NEWCOMB, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton 9.30 A. M.; leave Boston 3 P. M.

NEWTON ORDER BOXES: Newton City Market, Post Office, BOSTON OFFICES: 25 Merchants Row, 155 Congress street, 134 Franklin street. Post Office address, Box 420, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders.

A. C. TUPPER

Carpenter and Builder.

Estimates cheerfully given on building and all kinds of carpentry. Orders will be taken through the post office, Box 271, Newton, or at shop on Pearl street, opposite Bacon. All orders will receive prompt attention.

ARTHUR HUDSON.

Analytical and Pharmaceutical CHEMIST AND APOTHECARY.

(28 years experience in the business.)

WARRER'S BLOCK, NEWTON

Cor., Centre and Elmwood streets.

A full line of Chemicals of Standard P

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 80.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

A NEWTON STREET RAILWAY.

At last there is a prospect of a street railway in Newton, and the action of the board of aldermen has been received with satisfaction and approval by the great majority of citizens. The people of Newton wanted a street railway, and the majority did not care whether the cars were propelled by overhead wires, by storage batteries, or by horses, so long as the railway is started. Of the 200 telephone subscribers in Newton, only two appeared to remonstrate, and the general public do not use the telephone, while they will use the street cars, so that their interests were all on the side of the railroad.

The board of aldermen certainly stretched courtesy to its extreme limit in giving the Telephone Company a hearing, as, according to the City Solicitor, the company has no legal location in the streets of Newton, and as one of the aldermen remarked, it took a great deal of "cheek" for them to appear and take up the time of the board with their remonstrance, and then talk about "trespass." The aldermen evidently decided that they did not care to have that part of the question brought up next Monday evening.

As for the Storage Battery company, it asked for something already granted to another company, in its petition for a location, and hence it made no difference whether the board granted the right to use the overhead wire system before or after the hearing, they could not give away what had already been granted. Besides, the fact that no railroad in the country is using the storage battery system, may have had some effect. The only fault that can reasonably be found with the action of the board is that they did not grant the permit a month or more ago.

The full report of the speeches which we publish to-day, in connection with the full text of the order, will show that the subject was ably debated, and that the members were as well informed upon the wishes of the people and the merits of the question, as if they had held a dozen hearings. Alderman Childs ably represented the Storage Battery company, although it hardly needed his announcement that he had invested no money in the company to convince people that he was not financially interested. He has great faith in the storage battery system, as a system, but he is not putting any money in it, while an alderman of Newton.

All the other aldermen voted in favor of the order, and strong speeches in favor of it were made by Aldermen Johnson, Tolman, Pettie and Chadwick. As an illustration of the popular sentiment, one of the aldermen who is personally opposed to street railroads said that every resident but two on his street, one of the finest sections of the city, had signed a petition to have the West End company run their cars through it, and so nothing was left for him but to vote for the order.

The provisions of the order are carefully drawn, and appear to protect fully all the interests of the city, while the bond required is large enough to cover any damage that may be done. The provision that the cars must be running within six months is the most popular feature, and the company intend, it is said, to have everything in readiness by the first of September. They have abundant capital, also, and ought to get everything in first-class shape on the circuit by that time. President Parker says it is the intention to run the cars at first every fifteen minutes and to keep this up, if the patronage will warrant it. The road will certainly prove of great advantage to Newton, and will probably do much towards building up the north side of the city, between the centers of population.

The school board made quite an increase in the school expenses Wednesday evening, $220 was added to the salary of Superintendent Emerson, making it $3,200; $300 to the salary of Mr. Chandler. $210 was voted for graduation exercises of the grammar schools, to be held at West Newton, provided the parents approve; the board also ask the city council for $1,500 to pay the expense of the proposed vacation school, to be located at Auburndale, and $1,500 is asked for as a starter for the proposed addition to the Cladlin School building at Newtonville. It will be interesting to note what action the finance committee recommends in regard to these two requests. The City Council is rather eco-nomicall inclined this year, and realize that with the most careful management the tax-rate will be sufficiently high, to say the least, and therefore they are not recommending any appropriations for work not contemplated at the beginning of the year. The school board can of course spend their own appropriation as they choose, but to get any thing extra from the city council may prove a difficult matter, although the city council may possibly feel in a generous mood.

THE controversy between Mr. James T. Allen and the editor of our Tariff Reform column is getting to be interesting and we are sorry that Mr. Allen did not have confidence enough in his controversial powers to send his letters to the GRAPHIC, as then they would have reached the readers for whose benefit we suppose he is writing. All discussion is of value if it makes people think for themselves, and that seems to be what our Tariff Reform column is doing. The editor of it is certainly thoroughly posted on tariff history and legislation.

SENATOR EDMUNDS is impressed with the decay of political morals, as indicated by the increasing purchase of voters and in the June Forum he estimates the amount of money spent during the last campaign at $5,000,000, and in his criticism he spares no section of the country and neither party. Among the remedies that he points out are better registration laws, restriction of immigration and of naturalization, and the compulsory publication of election expenses.

ALDERMAN KENNEDY introduced an order about play grounds into the board of aldermen, Monday night, which ought to receive immediate attention. There is said to be a good sized field in Nonantum, which the city can hire at a merely nominal rent, and that would make a good beginning towards public play grounds. It would prove a great convenience to a large number, and a public playground is needed in that section even more than in Newton.

THE Milford Journal, whose editor wants the Milford postoffice, thinks it is all right for President Harrison to appoint his brother, or all of his relatives to high salaried offices, and says that any other course "would show a coldness of nature out of all character with the warmth and generosity which should characterize a government by the people." The Milford postoffice pays a salary of $2,500, we understand.

MAYOR BURR called up the question of a public bath house, Monday night, in a special message, and set forth the necessity for it in a forcible manner. The question has been agitated for several years, and possibly something may be done this summer. Now that we are to have a street railway in six months, no one can tell what other public improvements may come along with it.

We were told last week by our local contemporary that "the overhead electric system appears to be losing ground in popular favor," and the same fertile writer had a number of anonymous communications, all to the same effect. Nevertheless both Newton and a number of other cities have gone right along in adopting the system.

"TAVERNER" in the Boston Post gives this as his understanding of Boston etiquette among people living next door to each other: "It is the duty of every citizen to bow to his neighbor so long as the latter remains unconvicted of a felony or of cruelty to animals."

ONE cannot help feeling sorry for the Telephone experts and attorneys, who labored so hard with the board of aldermen, as they seem to have only wasted their own time, as well as that of the board of aldermen.

THE CHOIR FESTIVAL.

THE THIRTEENTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE PARISH CHOIRS.

The thirteenth annual festival of parish choirs took place with the choir of Grace Episcopal church at Newton Tuesday forenoon and afternoon. The rain prevented many from attending, provision being made for 300 from out of town, but only about 150 persons, comprising the following choirs, were present: St. Anne's, Lowell; Church of the Advent, Boston; Church of Our Saviour, Longwood; Grace church, Medford; Christ church, Cambridge; Church of the Messiah, Auburndale; Church of the Good Shepherd, Nashua, N.H.; St. Paul's, Newton Highlands; Grace, Marlboro; St. Mary's, Newton Lower Falls. There were about 800 ladies and gentlemen present, including Rev. Dr. Hutchings of Medford, Rev. Mr. Bishop of Somerville, Rev. E. A. Rand of Watertown, Rev. C. P. Mills of Newton Highlands, Rev. Mr. Vicks of Milford, Rev. J. H. Van Buren of Newburyport.

Rev. H. A. Metcalf of the Church of the Messiah, Auburndale, acted as master of ceremonies. The exercises commenced at 11 o'clock by the choirists marching through the aisles of the church, rendering very finely the processional by Mr. J. C. Knox. Mr. S. B. Whitney, the well-known organist and musical director at the Church of the Advent, Boston, acted as conductor, and the organ movements were finely rendered by Mr. Frank Young. The following was the order of service: Processional, "Forward be our Watchword," J. C. Knox; Introit, "O, God, who hast prepared," A. R. Gault; communion service in C, R. Redhead; offertory, "I waited patiently for the Lord," B. Tours; Nunc dimittis, Roman chant; processional, "Round the Lord in glory seated," S. B. Whitney. The singing was very fine, the voices blending harmoniously and the grand music of the Episcopal service being impressively rendered.

After the morning service the choirists and invited guests, numbering about 200 persons, enjoyed a dinner in Armory Hall, furnished by the ladies of the Grace church.

The afternoon exercises began at 4 o'clock, when the following music was rendered: Processional, "Forward be our Watchword," J. C. Knox; Psalms viii., xv., xli., Anglican; magnificent in A. E. Bunnitt; Nunc dimittis in A. E. Bunnitt; anthem, "Christ became obedient unto death," J. F. Bridge; anthem, "Ye shall dwell in the land," J. Stainer; anthem, "The sun shall be no more thy light by day," Rev. H. H. Woodbury; Te Deum Laudamus in E. H. Rev. H. H. Woodward; processional, "Round the Lord in glory seated," S. B. Whitney.

There was a large attendance at the afternoon services from all parts of the city. The church was beautifully decorated under the direction of the church committee, the arrangement of the potted plants, cut flowers and foliage being tasteful and effective. The festival was a success musically considered, and its participants are to be congratulated.

Wear Resisters.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement of A. Shuman & Co., Boston, the well-known and reliable clothiers. They are running a special line of Boys' Suits called the Wear Resisters, and selling at the remarkably low price of $6 per suit.

MARRIED.

CHAMBERLAIN-WHEELER-At Boston, May 14, by Rev. Brooke Herford, Geo. W. Chamberlain of Newton and Mary A. Wheeler of Boston.

PIERCE-SMITH-At Everett, May 21, by Rev. Wm. O. Ayer, E. Nelson Pierce of Newton and Ella F. Smith of Everett.

DIED.

HANNON-At Newton Centre, May 18, Hanora, wife of W. Hannon, aged 37 yrs.

McBRIDE-At Newton, May 19, Edith M., daughter of Chas. F. McBride, aged 1 yr. 2 mos. 3 days.

COAKLEY-At Nonantum, May 21, Chas., son of Patrick Coakley, aged 1 yr.

McNAMARA-At Newton Centre, May 20, Arthur son of John W. McNamara, aged 3 yrs. 3 mos.

RAFFERTY-At Newton, May 20, Thos. J., son of Thos. J. Rafferty, aged 1 yr. 9 mos.

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER

THE PUREST AND BEST

Is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, and a small portion of flour as a preservative, nothing else whatever, and is warranted entirely free from alum, ammonia, phosphates, lime, and all the adulterants frequently found in baking powders. The character of materials used, their purity, and the nicety of their combination, render Cleveland's superior baking powder the most healthful and most economical in use, and it always affords wholesome, nutritious, and delicious food. It is recommended for purity, healthfulness and efficiency by Government and State chemists, chemists of Boards of Health, and professors in institutions of learning throughout the country. Sold only in cans, full weight.

CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

OUR

"Wear-Resister Suits" FOR BOYS

may be found on our counters in three different mixtures, made from wear-resisting and untearable materials.

These goods are substantially the best substances for hard service of any known material that can be shaped into wearing apparel; and the special adaptability of the fabric for resistance to wear has prompted us to copy-right the name of "Wear-Resister" as applied to Boys' Clothing, with more than ordinary success.

$6.00.

A. SHUMAN & CO.

Manufacturing Retailers,

440 Washington Street.

Corner Summer St., Boston. 33 2

MONEY

4½ Per Cent. 4¾

Trust Funds to loan on First Mortgages of Newton Real Estate at 4½, 4¾, 5 Per Cent. according to margin of value.

Telephone 29-57.

F. G. BARNES & SON, 27 State Street, Boston.

Beach Cottage To Let Near Plymouth, Mass.

A very desirable, fully furnished cottage to rent for the season or for July and August. Terms very reasonable. Inquire of Mrs. C. A. SHEDD, 31-4 74 Washington Park, Newtonville.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO LET-10 acres on Brighton street, standing grass, pasture and fruit for the season. Address, J. J. White, 136 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn, N. Y.

TO LET-Large barn to let in Newton Centre, long or short time, room for 3 horses and cows, and second hand cart for sale. Address P. O. Box 193, Newton Centre. 33 11

TO LET-Small tenement. Enquire at 25 Park street, Newton. 33 11

BOARD-Very pleasant rooms at the Misses Allen's, 29 Vernon street, Newton. 33 11

FOR SALE-Horse 5 years old, weight 850 lbs., good roadster. Apply G. B. Wilson, corner Beacon and Station streets, Newton Centre. 33 11

LOST-On Friday evening, May 17th, either on Station or Centre street, a green watered sash. The finder will be suitably rewarded by leaving the same at the Newton Centre post office. 33 11

LOST-Going from Hotel via Washington, Grove, Hancock, Woodland avenue to Hotel again, a brooch, design, a crescent, and star with eight settings. Finder rewarded if left at office of Woodland Park Hotel, Auburndale. 33 11

FOR RENT-South side of the railroad, five minutes from Newton station, a tenement of six rooms and bath room, hot and cold water, furnace and all modern conveniences. New and clean, nice, convenient and cosy home for a small family. Inquire of H. J. Wood, Elliot Street, 32 31

FOR SALE-Three fine new milk cows, Jersey and Holstein breed. Prices reasonable. D. A. White, Glen Avenue, Newton Centre, Mass. 32

BOYS' BICYCLES a specialty at E. P. Burnham's, 25 Park street, Boston prices. 32 2

WANTED-A few experienced Crocheters. Apply at 25 Park street. 32 2

PASTURE TO LET-45 acres of good pasture land situated on Washington St., Newton, near Newton Lower Falls. Rent $90 per year. Address P. O. Box 212, Boston. 31 11

WANTED-Second hand furniture. Any party having second hand furniture, carpets etc., that they would like to dispose of, call and a purchaser by applying to John Flood, Nonantum Block, or at his house, cor. of Centre and Pearl streets, Newton. Telephone 62-3. 31 11

TO LET-Houses in Newtonville: 8 rooms 44 Clarendon, $15 per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 55-3. 21 11

FOR SALE-A good second hand covered buggy, Hall's make. Apply to W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 30 11

TO RENT-One half double house on Cross street, nine rooms, all modern improvements. Rent, $22 per month, including water rates. Apply to E. T. Wiswall, 40 Cross street. 30 11

FOR SALE-The prettiest and fastest pony in and cart in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office. 30 11

TO LET-Two medium sized houses, in good locality near depot, nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, on reasonable terms. Address "Letter Carrier No. 2, Newton. 30 11

TO LET-Furnished or unfurnished rooms in a pleasant locality and near the depot. Address "Letter carrier No. 2, Newton. 30 11

TO LET-On Washington street, a convenient house of six rooms. Apply to H. C. Daniels. 29

WANTED-Good competent girls to take nice situations in first class families. Apply to McWain, Intelligence Office, Nickerson's Block, Newton Centre. 28

TO LET-House of 10 rooms, bathroom and good kitchen, steam and horse cars. The windows and doors are all supplied with wire screens and there is a range with hot water connection in the kitchen. Apply to 371 Washington street, Newton. 28

TO RENT-New house, 6 rooms, bath and furnace. All modern conveniences. Apply to T. J. Hartnett. 28

TO LET-Handsomely furnished rooms with board at 288 Newtonville Avenue. Apply to J. W. Cotton, Newtonville. 26 11

TO LET-House of 8 rooms, Webster Park. Nice, sunny house, decorated cellar and furnace. Apply to Robert Bennett, Station Agent, West Newton. 21 11

FOR SALE-Retail Provision route of one hundred and fifty to two hundred customers. Apply to A. D. Hall, Newton Highlands, Mass. 12

TO LET-On Thornton, (formerly School) St., corner of Ayon Place, Ward One, half of double French roof dwelling, 19 rooms besides bath room. All the modern conveniences. Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to G. W. Crosby, 8 Eldridge Street. 20 11

BRUCE S. EVANS & SON, Auctioneers

AUCTION SALE.

The executors under the last will of George E. Allen formerly of West Newton, deceased, under a license from the Probate Court, will sell by public auction, to close the estate,

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1889,

AT 4.30 O'CLOCK P. M.

on the premises, corner of Cherry and River Sts., West Newton.

Three vacant lots of land on River and Cherry streets, containing respectively 7,002, 6,371 and 9,281 square feet of land. These are in every respect desirable building lots and are located in a first class neighborhood.

Also the dwelling house formerly occupied by said George E. Allen, and 11,355 square feet of land; the house contains 12 good rooms and a good stable attached. This property is within five minutes walk of depot, post office, stores and schools, and all the lots are well stocked with a variety of grape vines and apple and pear trees.

TERMS OF SALE, $100 to be paid down in cash to bind sale on each vacant lot, $200 in cash to be paid down to bind sale on dwelling house and lot, balance in cash in ten days.

For further particulars and plans enquire of the executors or auctioneers.

JAMES T. ALLEN, } Executors,
CHARLES D. DAVIS, }

West Newton, May 19, 1889.

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Auburndale.

SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING of ESTATES in the above villages.

Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

REMOVAL.

ALVAH SKINNER & SON

DEALERS IN

Diamonds, Other Gems

AND WATCHES.

6 WINTER STREET,

BOSTON,

Corner Washington. Room 2.

The large increase in our business, and the many additions we are constantly making to the variety of our goods, compels our removal to a larger store, the spacious room No. 2, at corner of Winter and Washington Streets, over B. F. Bradbury's Drug Store, where we hope to renew the kind consideration of our trade. 32 4

ALVAH SKINNER & SON.

TO DEPOSITORS

IN
Newton Savings Bank.

An Act Requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings, to call in their Books of Deposit, at Stated Intervals. (Chapter 40 Acts of 1888.)

"During the year eighteen hundred eighty nine and every third year thereafter, Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors, for verification, in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."

In accordance with the above law, all depositors in Newton Savings Bank are requested to bring in their books of deposit, to the bank, at their earliest convenience for verification. By vote of the Trustees of Newton Savings Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, } Committee of In-
WILLARD MARCY, } vestment for New-
JAMES F. C. HYDE, } ton Savings Bank.
NEWTON, May 7, 1889.

FOR SALE

—IN—

NEWTONVILLE.

Three New Houses,

To be completed this month, all thoroughly built, with modern improvements, and grounds to be graded and put in first-class shape.

These houses are located on Court street, near the railroad station, and along the route of the Newton Street Railway. One house contains nine rooms, the other two have eight, besides bath rooms.

They can be inspected at any time and those desiring a pleasant home or to make a sure paying investment, should see them at once.

For terms, etc., apply to

A. R. MITCHELL,

37 Broad Street, Boston,

Or at residence, Newtonville.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS AND IMPORTERS,

Invite an inspection of their carefully selected

Spring Cloths

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

WALTHAM

WATCHES

—AT—

Lowest Prices.

Rings, Jewelry and Chains.

L. D. Whittemore, Jr.,

411 Centre St.,

Fine Watch Repairing.

French, English and American

Clocks put in first-class order.

All work guaranteed.

F. M. Whipple & Co.,

—Artists in—

STAINED GLASS

—AND—

METALLO - MOSAIC - GLASS,

—FOR—

Churches & Dwellings.

86 Federal St., Boston, Mass.,

or at residence

88 Harvard Street, Newtonville. 24 11

Number Your Houses

And so obtain the FREE POSTAL DELIVERY. If you do not know your number enclose a postal Card, addressed with your name and street to the City Engineer, West Newton, who will return it with your correct number. You can get the best

Bronze Metal Nickled Plated

2 inch numbers at

BARBER BROS.

HARDWARE STORE,

No 415 Centre Street.

MILK & CREAM.

WARRANTED PURE.

Having one of the largest dairies in the state with all modern improvements for cooling and keeping of milk, I am better prepared to serve the trade than ever before, having everything in the best possible condition in all its details. Also Fresh Eggs, Poultry and Choice Bottled Champagne Cider. In their season, Strawberries, Raspberries and Currants, delivered fresh every day. Address

E. JENNINGS. Box 129, Newton Lower Falls.

HAIR CUTTING

J. T. BURN'S,

Cole's Block.

With Latest Improved Hair Clippers.

We can cut hair any length or style to suit our patrons. Ladies' Misses' and Children's Hair Cutting a specialty. Ladies waiting room next door to barber shop. Razors carefully honed and concealed. Children's Sea Foam only 10 cents, one of the best in Boston for cleansing the scalp.

Don't forget our Root Black for the general accommodation of the public at

JOHN T. BURN'S

Hair Dressing Rooms,

Cole's Block, over H. B. Coffin's.

Open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m., 12 Saturdays.

Charles S. Holbrook.

Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.

No. 44 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.

POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies allow rates.

FISH OYSTERS,

Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

—AT—

Bunting's Fish Market,

COLE'S BLOCK.

Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Mrs. F. A. THOMSON,

NEWTONVILLE.

—Mr. George L. Whitney of Washington park is seriously ill.

—Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. F. M. McHugh. It is a boy.

—Dr. John J. Coxeter has purchased the Cheney estate, Cabot street, from Mr. Charles T. Puffer.

—Mr. W. H. Knapp offers a choice variety of tomato plants, pot grown, at his greenhouses on North street.

—Mrs. Gertrude Cooke Dickerson will soon remove to Burlington, Iowa, where she will reside permanently.

—Messrs. Higgins and Nickerson are building a $2000 house on Judkins street which will be offered for sale.

—It is hoped that the committee on public parks will report favorably on a location for a playground in this ward.

—Mr. O. B. Leavitt has returned from a short visit to New Hampshire, where he went for the benefit of his health.

—The last meeting of the season of the M. G. R. Whist club was held at the house of Miss Lucy Shaw, last Friday evening.

—Messrs. Fuller & French have leased one of Mr. Curtiss' new houses on Valentine avenue to Mr. Northrup of New Haven, Ct.

—Mr. A. A. Savage, the well-known grocer, lost a very valuable spaniel Tuesday afternoon, the dog being run over by a team and killed.

—Officers Clay and Laflie are entitled to credit for the arrest of the three drunken men who caused a disturbance at Grove Hill park last week.

—Orville Douglas, who has been traveling through California, Alaska and British Columbia, arrived home last Friday much improved in health.

—Mr. C. S. Dennison made a score of 245 at the Newton's club's bowling alley, last Saturday evening, coming within 4 points of the score which won the Powers' cup.

—Messrs. Higgins and Nickerson are building an $18,000 residence for Mr. Austin Sherman, corner of Walnut and Mill streets; also a $7000 house for Mr. Hamilton on Crafts street.

—The Rev. G. H. Emerson, D. D., editor of the Christian Leader, will preach in the Universalist church next Sunday morning, at 10.45. Subject, "Five Phases of the Gospel as a Leaven."

—It is probable that this ward may eventually boast of an acquisition in the shape of an elegant new club house, as the scheme is being agitated by some of the members of the Newton club.

—The Ladies' Missionary society of the M. E. church gave a missionary tea Thursday afternoon and listened to an address by Mrs. E. W. Mansfield. They entertained the Newton society and other invited guests.

—A concert will be given in the vestry of the Universalist church, Wednesday evening, May 25, by the Tufts College Glee and Banjo clubs, assisted by Mr. J. B. Weeks, reader. It will be given under the management of the Universalist Sunday school and the proceeds go towards paying the debt of the society.

—Mrs. H. D. Kingsbury gave a very pleasant afternoon tea Thursday, from 4 to 6, at her residence on Otis street, in honor of her guests, Miss Dewey and Miss Gertrude Dewey, daughters of Hon. Charles Dewey, of Montpelier, Vt. A large number of ladies were present, and Mrs. Geo. A. Mead and Mrs. Charles Keene presided in the dining-room.

—A large attendance of members gathered in the club house of the Newton club last Saturday evening and participated in the usual social features. Refreshments were served by the club steward, Mr. Welch. Interest concentrated in a friendly bowling match between Mr. E. H. Pierce and Mr. W. J. Felt, the former securing an aggregate score of 301 and the latter 264. It is probable that the trophy to be held open for challenges for one year will be made known soon.

—Rev. R. A. White preached on Sunday morning from the text, "If thou lovest thy life thou shalt lose it, and he that loatheth his life shall save it." He made many applications of the text, but dwelt especially upon the noble example of that devoted patriot who gave his life to his people in the Hawaiian islands, in such self-denial and sacrifice, with the certain knowledge of a loathsome and lingering death, yet in the hope of doing some permanent good for those afflicted ones of humanity.

—The art sale committee, consisting of Mrs. W. H. Merrill, Mrs. R. A. White, Mrs. Charles Keene and Mrs. W. L. Chaloner, met at the residence of their chairman, Mrs. Merrill, and divided the work of solicitation into districts, made general outline of plans, and are expected to report results about the middle of June. Outline and art embroidery, painting on china, in water-colors, oils, etc., will be the principal lines of acceptance, and the summer affords ample time for such pleasant labor.

—Dalhousie lodge, F. A. M., gave an entertainment and sociable to its lady friends in Masonic hall Wednesday evening. There was a large gathering present, numbering about 200, and the affair was greatly enjoyed. The entertainment consisted of vocal and instrumental music and readings, the following program being rendered: Piano solo, Miss Jordan; song, Amphion male quartet; bass solo, "The Bird Song," Mr. Hugh Campbell; reading, Mr. T. E. Stutson; soprano solo, Miss Riley; bass solo, Mr. W. W. Cole; song, Amphion quartet; humorous reading, Mr. T. E. Stutson; vocal solo, Mr. W. T. Rice. After the entertainment, the company adjourned to the banquet hall, where a collation was served.

—Mr. Matthew Binney died at his residence in Boston on the 18th inst. He was born Oct. 8, 1803, at the North End, in what is now Cooper street, and was the youngest son of Benjamin and Lydia Greenleaf Binney, both of his parents having come to Boston from Hull. He was all his life a resident of Boston, and took a great interest in the welfare of his native city. He retired from business in 1861, and was among the oldest members of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, having joined that body in 1829. He leaves a widow and three sons, one of whom, Mr. Charles E. Binney, resides in Newtonville. The deceased was a former resident and his death will be mourned by many friends here, by whom he was highly esteemed.

WEST NEWTON.

—John Potter, a son of Mr. A. B. Potter, has been here on a visit from the West.

—Miss Florence Merriam has returned from her five months' trip to California.

—The estate of the late George E. Allen will be sold at public auction, Monday afternoon, June 3, at 4.30 p. m.

—Rev. J. C. Jaynes will speak next Sunday upon "The loyalty which young people owe to the church."

—Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Capen have returned from their long European tour and are at their old home on Elm street.

—Mr. S. R. Urbino, a former well-known and honored resident of West Newton, has gone to Germany for a long visit.

—A memorial service will be held in the Second Congregational church, Sunday evening. A fine musical program will be rendered.

—A report of the 70th anniversary exercises of the Sunday school of the Second Congregational church will be found in another column.

—Miss Emma Nickerson led the children in the march at the May festival of the Unitarian Sunday school in the City Hall, last Saturday afternoon.

—The twenty-third anniversary of the Sunday school of the Baptist church will be observed with appropriate exercises Sunday evening at six o'clock.

—The new residence of Mr. E. W. Kimball on Watertown street, is well under way and will be soon ready for occupancy. Mr. H. H. Hunt is the builder.

—In court since our last issue, 11 cases have been disposed of as follows: Drunks, 6; disturbance of peace, 2; assault and battery, 1; violation of liquor law, 2;

—Everett Palmer, the clerk in Mr. Albert F. Wright's pharmacy, is a lucky man. He drew $250 on a twentieth ticket, for which he paid $1, in the May drawing of the Louisiana lottery.

—The Hon. and Mrs. John C. Wyman have returned from Georgia and are visiting for a few weeks a sister of Mrs. Wyman in West Newton. They are to spend part of the summer in Wianno, with the venerable Mrs. Chace.

—Mr. E. T. Wiswall of the board of health accompanies City Engineer Noyes on his trip of inspection in the interest of the water board. They left last night and will visit Portland, Me., Burlington and St. Albans, Vt., Albany and New York City.

—Those who enjoy good bathing anticipate much pleasure this season in availing themselves of the privileges offered by Mr. J. T. Allen's swimming pond. It will be under the management of Messrs. Colby and Coe and special instructions will be given as formerly.

—The annual meeting of the Newton Woman's Suffrage League will be held at the house of Mr. George A. Walton, Chestnut street, Saturday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock. The program will include a paper by Miss Alice Blackwell of Boston, who will be present and address the meeting.

—An inquest relative to the cause which led to the death of John Burns, who was killed by the 4.30 p. m. express on the Boston and Albany Railroad near Brookline, was held before Judge Mather in the police court, yesterday afternoon. Decision reserved.

—Messrs. A. S. Glover and J. C. Whitney of the water department have been very busy of late in looking out for the large amount of detail work in connection with the collection of water rates. The department is ably managed under the direction of the water registrar, and his assistants.

—Loyalty lodge, Good Templars, will give an entertainment in its hall, last Wednesday evening. A musical and literary program will be presented, consisting of selections by a mixed quartet, flute solos by Mr. Chas. E. Rand and other interesting features. After the entertainment, a basket party will be enjoyed.

—West Newton people are rejoicing over the prospect of the electric street railway, which will offer an easy and convenient method of transportation between West Newton, Newtonville and Boston. The people generally commend the action of the board of aldermen in granting a franchise to the Newton Street Railway company.

—At the annual meeting of the Woman's Educational club, a paper edited by one of its number, called "The Souvenir" was circulated among the members. It contains some of the best selections which have been read at the meetings, original contributions, and notices of those who have passed from the club and "gone up higher," and it is in every respect a most worthy and fitting "souvenir" as the name indicates of its rich history. A large number were disposed of at the meeting, but there are still copies remaining which can be obtained by application to Miss H. A. Claflin.

—Few persons probably are aware that Hawthorne wrote his Blithedale Romance in Newton. The story is still told in the streets of Chestnut and Highland streets in West Newton, and which was the home also of that great educator, Horace Mann. It is a curious illustration of the improvement which has come over the town that Julia Hawthorne says in the life of his father that a most dismal and unlovely little suburb near West Newton was in the winter of 1837 could not exist outside of New England. It was a place, he adds, where the omnipresent ugliness compelled a man to write in self-defence.

—The annual May party of the Sunday school of the First Unitarian church was held in City Hall, Saturday afternoon. The exercises consisted of a May pole and tambourine dance and a grand march, in which all the children participated. Music was furnished by Cole's orchestra, and refreshments were served. There was a large number present, including the parents and friends of the young folks. It was decidedly warm, the thermometer evidently indicating a persistent effort to surpass the previous year's record. A solo, "Welcome Pretty Primrose," was rendered and a trio, sung by three young girls, the lullaby of the children. The success of the affair may be largely attributed to the efforts of the committee, Mr. W. Eustis Barker, Mr. Theodore A. Fleu and Mrs. B. F. Otis.

—Rev. W. T. Burns, who was called to the Baptist church here, died in Texas, May 18. He was a graduate of Denison University and of Rochester Theological Seminary in the class of 1874. Three months before graduation he received and accepted a call to the Warburton avenue Baptist church of Yonkers, N. Y. Finding that his health would not permit him to work at Yonkers, he removed at the end of two years to Haverhill, Mass., where he served the Portland street church. Still later he was pastor of the First Church in Lynn and of the First church in Camden, N. J. The malarial climate of Camden, however, soon drove him to Lockport, N. Y. Disease followed him. Last winter he came to the Boston City Hospital for treatment, and made such a speedy recovery that in a month after leaving the hospital he was invited to the pastorate of the church at West Newton. This, however, he was compelled to abandon and go to Texas for rest at the home of his brother, only, however, to die. He leaves a widow, the daughter of Prof. O. J. Marsh of Louisiana, and four children.

—Dr. Geo. F. Adams, a highly respected and skillful physician of this place more than twenty-two years ago, died at Medford, the 10th inst, on the spot where he was born. After leaving Medford when a young man, he went to Waltham, entering a manufactory there as an operative, and being steadily advanced until he held the position of overseer. He then went to the paternal farm in Medford and afterwards removed to Boston, where he studied medicine and practiced with the late Dr. Edward Kittredge, corner of Franklin street. He afterwards conducted a medical institution at Brooklyn Heights, N. Y., after a system similar to that pursued by Dr. Kittredge and acquired a wide spread reputation. He was the family physician and was lamented Henry Ward Beecher, in whose regiment he enlisted and served through the war as its surgeon. He was promoted to the position of brigade surgeon and returned home in impaired health, finally settling in West Newton, where he enjoyed a lucrative practice. He established a few years later the well-known Turkish bath on Essex and Washington streets, Boston, and after a few years removed to St. Louis, where he was actively engaged in his professional duties for about 12 years. His health having failed perceptibly he returned to his home in Medford to pass his remaining days. He leaves a wife and one son, Dr. Chas. F. Adams of Chicago, and the record of a useful and honorable life.

—An art exhibition under the auspices of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society was held in the parlors of the Second Congregational church Wednesday and Thursday afternoon and evening, and many visitors examined the curios, art studies in oil and water colors, exquisite needle work and embroidery and the numerous attractions presented in the collection which was one of the most interesting and tastefully arranged exhibits that has been shown in this city. It would be impossible to give a description of all the pretty things shown in a numerous collection, but among articles exhibited were noticed a plate which was in use in the family of George Washington; a very large and rare collection of arms; a quaint carving of St. Arthur, a woven quilt, 150 years old, loaned by Mrs. C. M. Whittlesey; ancient books, 300 years old, loaned by Mr. W. E. Sheldon; beautiful specimens of Dresden china, 150 years old, with several pieces of modern Dresden china, a very valuable exhibit; old-time china in use in the Eddy family for many years, decorated with the Eddy coat of arms; a quaint carving of St. Peter, from the bedstead of the Duke of Devonshire; powder horn of 1745, loaned by Mr. Florence; china plate, 100 years old, loaned by Mrs. C. E. Ellis; quaint china pitcher, 150 years old, loaned by Mrs. Hastings; handsomely worked silk crazy quilt, loaned by Mrs. White; Japanese walking stick, loaned by Mr. C. W. Shepard; beautiful picture, a very pretty piece of coloring, loaned by Mrs. G. A. Field; collection of beautiful designs for stained glass windows, executed by Mr. C. S. Dalby; Japanese picture, loaned by Mrs. T. A. Flou; lace shawl, loaned by Mrs. C. M. Whittlesey; specimen of Princess lace, loaned by Mrs. J. P. Cobb; a fine crayon sketch, Mr. S. K. Burrison; worsted-worked picture of Daniel Webster; fine collection of decorated china, loaned by Mrs. Arthur Carroll; collection of water colors by Mrs. Moore. One of the most beautiful art specimens was a portrait of Princess Wilhelmine of Holland, a dainty and life-like bit of coloring, painted in Germany by Miss Abbott, one of the corps of teachers at the Newton high school. Another beautiful specimen was a portrait of Mr. C. S. Dalby, a stained glass window designed for Mr. E. W. Kimball. It is a very fine piece of opalescent glass work in a very tasteful combination of colors. Charles Fisher, Mrs. Gorham Phillips, Mr. Henry Cleveland, Mr. Frank Barker and an efficient corps of young ladies constituted the efficient committee in charge. The art and literary society of the church and the artistic arrangement of the collection in detail reflects great credit upon the committee whose patient labor is evident to all who have had the pleasure of visiting the exhibition.

AUBURNDALE.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Parker are visiting their son at New York.

—Mr. Vickers has been putting odometers on many of the carriages of his patrons.

—Capt. B. C. Baker is having a stable built at his coal yard, in which to keep his team horses.

—A large number from here attended Ladies' night of Dalhousie lodge at Newtonville, Wednesday evening.

—The marriage of Mr. George Chamberlain to Mrs. Alice Wheeler is announced. They are to reside at Orange.

—Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Farley will take a fortnight's trip with their horse and buggy, going as far north as Lake Winnepesaukee.

—Mr. Granville Fuller's new house on Maple street has been rented by out of town parties, who will soon take possession. —A party of young ladies from Lasell have secured the balcony for the Amherst Glee Club concert at Elliot Hall, Newton, May 25.

—Mrs. Phillip Gardiner sailed for England Sunday. She will visit friends there through the summer months, returning in the fall.

—The ladies of the Methodist society will have a strawberry festival and sale at Auburn Hall, Wednesday evening, May 29th. The Natick orchestra will furnish music, and a pleasant time is assured all who attend.

—James Hamblin, a colored waiter at the Woodland Park Hotel, was arrested Tuesday evening, by Officers Holmes and W. G. Bosworth, for assaulting a brother waiter with a fork. He was locked up in the central police station, and was tried at the court Wednesday afternoon, and fined $10 and costs. He was sent to the house of correction for non-payment of fine.

—Church of the Messiah.—The following standing committee were appointed for the ensuing year at vestry meeting of May 18: Finance—Messrs. Parker, Noyes, Baldwin; hospitalities—Messrs. Baldwin, Turner, Anderson, Hixman; Misses—Messrs. Parker, Beardsley, Bird; parish societies—Messrs. Carter, Foster, Bird, Farley; care of church property—Messrs. Parker, Nye, Carter.

—Last week's outing of the Appalachian Mountain Club was at Wausley Hills, Saturday afternoon. Mt. Penel was ascended and the Hundreds Woods explored, many rare plants being found, including the cornel tree in full bloom. Altogether the party was delightfully entertained at the home of Mrs. Codwise, a member of the club.

—Conductor Geo. Richardson was presented with a handsome silver plated lantern last evening at the Riverside station by his friends and associates on the Boston & Albany railroad. Upon the globe his name was engraved with the date of presentation. Conductor John Bean made the presentation in a few words, and Conductor Richardson expressed his appreciation, when he had recovered from his surprise, thanking his friends for their evidence of esteem.

—In spite of the severe storm Monday evening, a large number attended the May festival at Auburn hall, given by Riverside lodge, No. 76, N. E. O. P. The Natick orchestra furnished music during the evening, and from ten until twelve o'clock dancing was indulged in. The program of those present the most successful and pleasant entertainment given here for a long time. The new order may well congratulate itself on netting $50 at its first entertainment, and in such unpromising weather.

Memorial Day.

Headquarters Charles Ward Post 62, Department of Massachusetts.

NEWTONVILLE, May 23, 1889.

The following is published for the information of the citizens that are to parade on Memorial Day:

Major Geo. H. Bennett will act as chief of staff, Capt. Dan L. Hammond and Frederick S. Pratt will act as aids.

S. E. Howard, Marshal.

ORDER OF MARCH.

The column will form at the intersection of Walnut and Watertown streets, Newtonville, where it will be reviewed by the mayor and the city council, and will then move promptly at 2 p. m. via Walnut street to Newton cemetery, where the graves of the deceased comrades will be decorated, followed by the dedication of the soldiers' lot, presented by the city. The procession will then march via Walnut, Homer, Valley, Highland, Temple, Putnam, Margin, Washington, Woodland avenue, Grove, Auburn, Washington, Webster, to vacant lot corner Webster and Elm streets, where dress parade will be held.

FLOWERS.

A generous contribution of flowers is solicited for purposes of decoration and may be left at the following places:

Hubbard & Proctor's, Newton, until 9 a. m. G. A. E. Hall, Newtonville, until 1 p. m. H. G. Ingraham's, West Newton, until 9.30 a. m. Alfred Brush's, Auburndale, until 10 a. m.

Usual places at Lower Falls, and at the residence of E. Moulton's, Newton Highlands, until 10 a. m. J. J. Noble's, Newton Centre, 10.30 a. m.

It is not because we sell our fine goods and butter at cost that we have so large trade and sell so low. It is because we buy the goods right.—Eliot Market.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOTEL,

GILMANTON, N. H.

Leased and controlled by Summer Residents, one of whom is JOHN L. STODDARD, the Lecturer.

Remarkably healthy location; lovely scenery; hotel entirely refurnished and enlarged; everything new, clean and comfortable; hair mattresses throughout; generous table; spring water; plenty of tennis; Pool Table and Bowling Alley; new and experienced landlord. Moderate terms. Send for circulars.

O. G. SANBORN, Manager.

HOTEL

SORRENTO

SORRENTO, ME.,

Near Bar Harbor.

Frenchman's Bay and Mount Desert Land and Water Company, proprietors of this beautiful summer resort.

Yachting, fishing, beautiful drives, and picturesque scenery.

To accommodate the increasing patronage seventy rooms have been added this year. Rooms large, airy and well furnished.

FIRST-CLASS BEDS.

The hotel is kept on both the American and European Plans and is lighted throughout by electric light.

The Cafe is unrivalled and noted for the excellence of its cuisine. An abundant supply of pure water.

First-class plumbing and perfect drainage. Open from June 1st to October 1st. Plans and terms on application.

MAGNIFICENT COTTAGE LOTS

FOR SALE.

COMPANY'S OFFICES: (11 Milk street, Boston, 11 Main street, Bar Harbor.

Direct route to Sorrento by Boston & Maine Railroad, Eastern Division, and Boston & Bangor Steamers. The Company's Steamer "Sorrento" runs hourly during the season between Sorrento and Bar Harbor; 20 minutes' sail.

GYMNASTICS

Having closed for the season, Miss RANSOM has time for some

SWIMMING LESSONS

to persons outside the school. Cost $1.00 each. Apply to Miss Ransom, teacher, or C. C. BRAGDON, Principal, Lasell Seminary.

Tomato Plants.

POT GROWN.

For Sale at the Greenhouses of W. H. KNAPP, North St., Newtonville.

Lasell Notes.

Miss Fannie Reed has been again at the school.

Next Monday, if pleasant, a party of the pupils will go to Newport by cars and take carriages to ride about the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith of Chicago called to see Miss Harding, and also to arrange for putting their daughter into the school next year.

The carriage party intending to visit Cambridge and Mt. Auburn on Monday, were disappointed by the rain. The trip is indefinitely postponed.

On Friday, May 19, a party of pupils visited the steamer Cephalonia at the wharf in Boston, seeing it under favorable conditions as it was ready to put to sea on Saturday.

Some of the pupils attended a concert at Newton, on Friday afternoon, May 17, escorted by Mr. Bragdon. It was a union of all the church choirs of the city, and a very enjoyable affair.

Miss Farwell, the teacher of painting and drawing, will sail for Europe as soon as the school closes. She will visit Paris, and some of the cathedral towns of England, but will spend much of her time in art studies in London.

Miss Etta Stafford of the Harvard Annex took dinner at the school on Saturday. She was graduated at Lasell and remained a year as a post graduate. From the advancement of her wider experiences she remembers gratefully her earlier school and teachers.

Mr. Joseph A. Hills, the piano instructor, has invited the school to a piano recital of some of his Boston pupils, on Monday afternoon, May 27, at 3 o'clock. It will be at Steiner Hall on Boylston street. It is not a public affair, only a few friends invited.

The musical recital to be given by Miss Sade Hollingsworth of Lasell seminary will occur on Tuesday evening, June 6, at 8 o'clock, in the Congregational Church. Miss Hollingsworth will be assisted by the Amphion Quartet, Mr. Willis Nowls, the violinist, from Boston, and Mr. J. Wallace Goodrich from Newton.

The swimming classes continue to be very popular. Some of the pupils have been remarkably successful, learning the stroke in a very few lessons. Some who have taken lessons in our large cities cannot compete with the best of Miss Ransom's pupils. Many find swimming a great advantage in exercise as well as amusement, and declare that it gives them a fine appetite.

Two lectures of the course of architecture have been given during the week. The first on Thursday evening, May 16, treated of "Roman Architecture," and the fourth on Monday evening, May 20, of the "Romanesque and Norman." Both were profusely and beautifully illustrated and were entertaining as well as instructive. The fifth will give the Gothic and the sixth the Renaissance, which will finish this very excellent course.

At the missionary meeting, on Sunday afternoon, Miss Cutler gave an admirable account of the seven young men who originated the Oxford movement; also how the impulse extended to America. Miss Barnum gave some description of Harpoon in India, to which place she will soon return, having received an appointment as teacher in the girls' school. The "nife boxes" were opened, and officers elected for the coming year.

Langwood Hotel,

LANGWOOD PARK, Wyoming, Mo.

Sixty daily trains. Mineral Spring. Purest of air. No malaria; with an altitude of 300 feet above Boston, and only 6 miles from State, yet a real mountain home. Lawns lighted with electric lights. A Fairy Land, a Fairy Home, a Garden fit for Queens.

The house will open April 1. The 4-horse barge will meet the 2.30 train on each day at Wyoming Station, B. & M. R. R., and the 4.45, 5.30 and 6.15. Address 28 State street, Room 51.

River Bluff Cottage

KENNEBUNKPORT, MAINE.

First-class board; high ground, fine view of river and ocean; tennis court; boats on premises; open June 1; references exchanged.

Address: Mrs. M. J. NUTTING, 31-4 No. 13 Richardson St., Newton, Mass.

IF YOUR HOUSE NEEDS

PAINTING, USE

BAY STATE PAINTS.

MANUFACTURED BY WADSWORTH, HOWLAND & CO., 82 and 84 Washington street, Boston. Send for sample card in 45 different shades.

The Woodcliff Hotel,

FORT POINT, STOCKTON SPRINGS, ME.

Situated on Penobscot Bay, with beautiful grounds, pine grove, lawn tennis, bowling, etc. Delightful walks and drives. For pamphlets and all information, address 31 Milk street, Boston, DUSTIN LANCEY, Pres't, or N. H. PEAKES, Manager.

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

32 4t

UNTIMELY DEATHS.

A Great Preacher Talks on the Subject and His Words are Reinforced by a Scientific Physician.

A prominent New York preacher, in a recent sermon, made the following remarkable statement:—"I do not wonder that thousands of people, many of whom seem the best prepared, yet shrink at the approach of death! There is something so horrible about ending all ties and relations to this world and going into the cold and dark unknown; in the very thought of the deep grave, to which we all are going, and in the agony and pain that precedes death, that naturally make the strongest quake. I do not wonder, that the poet in writing of it said:

"For thou art terrible!"

In connection with this subject, come the timely remarks of the well known Dr. Bodich. He says:—"There are at least a million people in their graves to-day, who might be well and in the enjoyment of life and health. Why then did they die? Simply because they were thoughtless, heedless and neglected to use proper care and the right remedy. No man or woman, who has regular habits, is careful in diet, and uses that really remarkable preparation known as Hunt's Remedy, should not need to be sick or fear untimely death. Nature washes every man and woman to be healthy, and she gives them the means to become so. We, therefore, to those who neglect the right means until it is too late!"

These statements, coming from the high sources they do, should carry a weight that we cannot ignore. They show clearly that no man or woman need despair, but can expect health, happiness and long life, by care, proper living and the use of the right remedy.

DOES WHAT YOU EAT HURT YOU? EAT LOW SPIRITS, HEADACHE, KIDNEY COMPLAINTS, ETC., ETC., ETC.

Try a Bottle of DR. HAM'S Aromatic Invigorator!

It has stood the tests of the public for over a quarter of a century, and thousands have testified to its value. Send for circular and testimonials. For sale by all Druggists at 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

HEATH & MURRAY, General Agents for New England. 277 Washington Street, Boston.

OMNIPATHY

Dr. C. A. GREENE

Has for 41 years been curing all the (so-called) diseases of the body, such as Diphtheria, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles and all the multitudinous affections of men and women.

By applications of non-poisonous remedies on the outside of the body (on the skin). He wishes to erect a college to teach his system and to propose to the Legislature to raise the money. Will philanthropists aid him? He has an equipped granite quarry near Harrisburg, Pa. 40 acres heavily timbered land in Vancouver, Ky., and 75 acres of land adjoining Harrisburg, Pa. Also for sale a lot of elegant Shetland and other ponies in his stable at Arlington, Mass. Read his pamphlet of 44 pages containing many marvelous cures, sent to you free. Call and get it or send your name and it will be forwarded to you.

His consultations are FREE. He treats the Eye, Ear, Lungs, Heart and all the organs of the body. No drug is put in the stomach. Investigate his statements.

Offices, No. 178 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MIDDLESEX, SS.

PROBATE COURT.

To Winifred S. Slocomb, administrator of the estate of Mary L. Chickering, late of Newton, in said County, deceased, and to all persons interested in said estate.

Whereas, George J. Thomas, Thomas S. Pingree and Charles B. Lenthall, all of said Newton, have presented to said court their petition representing that said Mary L. Chickering made a contract with them whereby she agreed to convey to said petitioners, in consideration of the payment of fifty dollars in hand in part payment of $97.50 the full consideration thereof, a certain parcel of land in said Newton, on the corner of Avon Place and Thornton Street; that said Mary L. deceased before fulfilling her part of said agreement; and that said petitioners ready to perform their part of said agreement and pray that said administrator may be ordered to make to them a conveyance of said land according to the terms and tenor of said agreement.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be holden at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the first Tuesday of June next at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the same.

And said petitioner ordered to serve this citation by delivering a copy thereof to said administrator fourteen days, at least, before said Court, and by publishing the same once a week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic, a newspaper printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this ninth day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-nine.

31st J. H. TYLER, Register.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:

From 9 A. M., to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.

On Saturdays, from 9 A. M., to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

Western Farm Mortgage Trust

COMPANY.

CAPITAL, $3,000,000.

Capital paid in over $1,000,000.

7% SAFE Investments.

Mortgages from $200 up. Principal and Interest guaranteed.

Over 2000 satisfied investors, composed of Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees, Guardians, and Private Investors.

Our record—Over $12,000,000 invested without loss or delay in payments.

F. B. ROGERS, Manager,

35 Congress St., Boston.

Send for call for information.

California Correspondence.

OAKLAND, Cal., May, 1889.

The eastern excursionists, who have found winter quarters in California are now fast leaving for home on the other side of the continent. This week the Raymond & Whitecomb excursionists, to the number of 150 persons, took the overland train for the east, while other parties have left before, and more to follow the coming week.

Oakland people have endeavored to give a hearty welcome to these visitors, and it is hoped that many of them carry home sunny memories of their sojourn upon the Pacific coast. Hoping to induce some of these visitors to return and take up a residence in this beautiful city, parties of excursionists have been invited to Oakland upon certain days, where they have dined at the hotels, gratis, and then have taken a free ride around the city. The best teams and most stylish carriages have been furnished for this purpose, by wealthy and liberal citizens, and the excursionists have usually seemed very thankful for the generous attention.

But not long since a party of eastern visitors labored under the mistaken idea that the Oakland "sight seeing," provided by citizens, was but a portion of the program called for by their Raymond & Whitecomb tickets, and which they had a right to have fulfilled.

This mistake led to rather good jokes on some of the prominent men, who had donned their best garments in honor of the guests, and had condescended to handle the reins of their stylish hacks and other vehicles, in order to point out the beauties of the city from its front door, opening upon the waters of the bay, to the back door or hill tops of the suburbs.

The drivers, supposed to be hack drivers by the party, received rather scornful treatment, which was not relished by the gentlemen. After lunch at the hotel, several members of the party were politely informed by one of the entertainers that his carriage was at the door ready to carry them wherever they desired to go. The haughty and insolent reply, "Go where you are ordered!" was so unexpected that the liberal gentleman is said to have turned and walked away, remarking in disgust, "no man orders me."

In another case a capitalist, who is the owner of much real estate in the city, and who had offered to drive his own stylish carriage, found soon after starting that he was considered on a coachman. He let the mistake pass for the time being, but before returning to the hotel he made it convenient to drive through Ninth street, and when opposite his own block, with a wave of his hand toward a grand building, and in a tone of assumed indifference said, "That's my block." The guests did not reply, but if they comprehended his meaning, it is thought that they probably went home to tell the pleasant story that hack drivers own brick business blocks in Oakland. Moral, never judge a California social position by the labor he performs, neither expect his coat to be labeled with the amount of gold he possesses.

The car called "California on wheels," which has been slowly crossing the continent for months past, and which displays the choice collection of California fruit, etc., will soon exhibit in the New England states. It is estimated that nearly half a million people have already surveyed the contents of the car, and many testify that the fruit is well worth beholding. Fresh specimens are sent on from the state board of trade, as needed, and a few days since specimens of palm and pampas grass were called for to trim the car afresh for the eastern exhibit.

The "Deaf, Dumb and Blind Institute" at Berkeley, near Oakland, is said to be the first of its kind to introduce the type-writer and the stenographic machine into its institution for the benefit of the blind. The latter machine has keys like the type writer, but instead of letters, dots are pricked on paper, forming a system of shorthand, which is read by the sense of touch. A blind pupil becomes expert in taking down a letter from dictation, and after translating the stenographic notes, writes them out by means of the type-writer. The last legislature appropriated $500 to buy type-writers for the blind in this institution. A phonograph has also been ordered for the blind, which may make the stenographic machine unnecessary. It is hoped that the pupils thus taught may be able in future years to secure remunerative employment.

The last showers of the season are now falling, and five or six months of trade, as weather are to be looked for ahead. The gardens are full of lovely flowers, and Solomon in all his store of botanical and other knowledge was probably never permitted to see such a vast array, and great variety of lovely roses as California exhibits to-day. Rose festivals are being held in numerous places. One last week in this city, under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, was an exhibition of roses which would have delighted the eyes of easterners. The red, orange, white, lavender and green bushes in the hall covered with roses and containing refreshments, were compared to a glimpse of fairy land. Among the prominent designs in floral pieces was a lighthouse ten or twelve feet in height, composed of a variety of roses which gradually changed in hue from a pure white at the top to a deep red at the base. Another piece represented a boat trimmed with white, pink and red roses, the masts also being hung with roses and rose leaves. But the most striking floral piece was the one seen on entering the hall. It was in the shape of a life sized cow, made of the handsomest of choice roses. It was supplied with natural horns, paws for eyes, and two white calla lilies for ears. A milk maid sat near by, who, for cash received, dealt out butter milk, which was declared to be "fresh from the cow."

PACIFIC COAST.

Electric Bitters.

This remedy is becoming so well known and so popular as to need no special mention. All who have used Electric Bitters sing the same song of praise. A purer medicine does not exist and it is guaranteed to do all that is claimed. Electric Bitters will cure all diseases of the Liver and Kidneys, will remove Pimples, Boils, Salt Rheum and other affections caused by impure blood. Will drive Malaria from the system and prevent as well as cure all Malarial fevers. For cure of Headache, Constipation and Indigestion use Electric Bitters. Entire satisfaction or money refunded.—Price 50 cts. and $1.00 per bottle at Arthur Hudson's Drug Store.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

Archer, W. Masks or Faces. A study in the Psychology of Acting.	55.337
Avery, E. M. Elements of Natural Philosophy: a Text Book for High Schools and Academies.	102.482
Barnum, P. T. The Wild Beasts, Birds, and Reptiles of the World; the Story of their capture.	37.140
Bennet, A. J. The story of the First Mass. Light Battery, attached to the 9th Army Corps.	75.219
Botone, S. R. The Dynamo; how Made and how Used; a Book for Amateurs.	101.324
Chamberlain, N. H. The Sphinx in Aubrey Parish.	63.715
Ebers, G. Margery (Glad); a Tale of Old Nuremberg.	61.697
The time pictured is the first half of the 16th century, "when Nuremberg was at the height of its glory as a centre of art and letters."
Edwards, E. American Steam Engineering; with Examples of the Latest American Practice in the Design and Construction of Steam Engines and Boilers of Every Description.	103.317
Frost, J. Presidents of the United States, from Washington to Cleveland; comprising their Personal and Political History, brought down to the Present Time by H. W. French.	92.560
Guntton, G. Wealth and Progress; a Critical Examination of the Labor Problem, the Natural Basis for Industrial Reform; or how to increase Wages without reducing Profits or lowering Rents; the Economic Philosophy of the Eight Hour Movement.	84.155
Holmes, C. F. All about Pasadena and its Vicinity: its Climate, Missions, Trails and Canons, Fruits, Flowers and Game.	32.399
Huntington, G. Chubby Ruff and Other Stories.	62.709
Ideals of the Republic; or Great Words from Great Americans.	81.140
Keene, J. H. Fishing Tackle, its Materials and Manufacture; a Practical Guide.	101.405
Lamartine, A. de. Selected Poems from Premieres et Nouvelles Meditations; ed. with Biog. sketch and Notes. (Le French.)	42.63
Lowell, J. R. Political Works. (Household Ed.)	55.340
Macfarlane, M. R. The Magic of a Voice.	61.694
Marziale, F. T. Life of Victor Hugo. (Great Writers.)	91.512
Merriman, G. S., ed. The Story of William and Lucy Smith.	94.471
Smith, G. Stephen History. Pioneer Missionary and Naturalist in Central India, 1844-63.	95.395
Steam Heating Problems; or Questions, Answers and Descriptions relating to Steam Heating and Steam Fitting, from the Sanitary Engineer.	106.321
Temple, Sir R. Lord Lawrence. (Eng. Men of Action.)	92.555
Thayer, W. H. Hesper; an American Drama.	52.416
The drama opens about 1860, and closes during the war of the rebellion.
Theal, G. M. Kafir Folk-Lore; a Selection from the Traditional Tales of the Cape Colony.	54.474
Westall, W. Tales and Traditions of the Northwest, from San Francisco to Sitka.	65.606
Woodman, A. J. Picturesque Alaska; a Journal of a Tour among the Mountains, Seas and Islands of the Northwest, from San Francisco to Sitka.	31.273

E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.

May 22, 1889.

IMPROVED FACILITIES.

A NOTEWORTHY INCREASE OF ACCOMMODATIONS WEST AND SOUTHWEST VIA THE ROCK ISLAND ROUTE.

The Council Bluffs and Pacific Limited Vests, which now leaves the Rock Island Union depot on Van Buren St., in Chicago, at 2.45 p. m., daily, is a magnificent train replete with every modern improvement which can add to safety and comfort. To its complement of superb Day Coaches, Dining Cars and Pullman Sleeping Cars, (the latter running without change to Omaha) new and elegant free reclining chair cars have been added, which now run through from Chicago to North Platte, Nebraska (via Omaha), stopping at Fremont, Columbus, Grand Island and other important intervening points—west of the Missouri river.

The night express, which leaves daily (except Saturday), at 11 p. m., and on Saturday at 10.30 p. m., has also adopted a feature of especial interest to those contemplating a trip to interior and Southern Kansas points: viz: the carrying of a Pullman Palace Car through Wichita. This city, as well as its neighbor Caldwell, is an important outfitting point on the direct line to Kingfisher (or Lisbon) and Ft. Reno in the Oklahoma country. With a passenger service and Pullman Sleeping Cars, the latter unequalled, and the conveniences superadded of restful reclining chair cars from Chicago to North Platte, Nebraska; from Chicago to Kansas City, and Kansas City to Caldwell, and through Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars to Wichita—the question naturally arises, "Why more could the traveling public ask or desire?"

For further information, address John Sebastian, Gen'l Ticket & Passenger Agent, Chicago.

The May Century has a series of three timely papers on "Samoa, the Isles of the Navigators." The first is by Dr. H. W. Whitaker of the United States Navy, and is profusely illustrated. The second, also illustrated, is on "Our Relations to Samoa," by Mr. George H. Bates, who was commissioner of the United States in 1880, and who, since the article was written, has been reappointed commissioner by the present administration. The third paper in the series is a brief one by Captain Erben of the United States Navy who commanded the "Tuscarora" when it took Steinberger to Samoa in 1875.—The Century Co., New York.

Prof. George Howard Darwin, of Cambridge, England, who contributes to Harper's Magazine for June an illustrated paper upon "Saturn's Rings," is the second son of the late Charles Darwin, and has become noted through his mathematical and physical investigations connected with the study of astronomy.

Pimples on the Face cured. Sulphur Bitters will cure the worst case of skin disease; from a common pimples on the face to that awful disease scrofula, it is the best medicine to use in all diseases of such stubborn and deep-seated disease. Do not delay; use Sulphur Bitters and drive the humor from your blood.

Forced to Leave Home. Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an unsightly complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist today for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package, 50 cents. 30 ly

C. E. OSGOOD & CO.,

CASH

House Furnishers

Old Continental Clothing House BUILDING

748 to 756 Washington St., BOSTON.

The only first-class house in the City that buys and sells

FOR CASH ONLY

No concern in the world can undersell us.

Every special bargain advertised by our competitors, "For One Day only" we agree to duplicate

At Any Time.

Be Wise and buy for CASH

and save at least 25 % from any instalment house prices in America.

P. S.—Any customer presenting this advertisement at our office will receive a beautiful rug free.

Don't forget the place.

748 to 756 Washington Street, BOSTON.

HIRES

25c HIRES' IMPROVED 25c ROOT BEER! IN LIQUID NO BOILING EASILY MADE THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS

MAKES FIVE GALLONS DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

ROOT BEER

THE most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

$4.99 HAND SEWED. $3.99 FRENCH WELT. SOLD ONLY TO THE CONSUMER

OUR CELEBRATED

Crawford Shoe

Can be obtained only at our following

Crawford Shoe Stores

No. 611 Washington Street, Boston. Under United States Hotel, " "

No. 38 Park Square, " "

No. 45 Green Street, " "

No. 2164 Washington St., Roxbury.

No. 56 Main Street, Charlestown.

Also in

Providence, Hartford,

New Haven, New York,

Brooklyn, Philadelphia,

Baltimore & Washington, D.C.

BOUVÉ, CRAWFORD & CO.,

Makers of

The Crawford Shoe.

H. W. MARTIN,

TELEPHONE 7957.

Practical Upholsterer

AND DEALER IN

FURNITURE.

Upholstery work and repairs of all kinds neatly done. Hair Mattresses made over, Picture Frames to order, Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

H. W. MARTIN,

GARFIELD BLOCK, GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,

Liberal House Furnishers.

FACTS.

OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST, THE FINEST, THE CHOICEST.

FACTS

OUR PRICES ARE THE LOWEST, OUR WAREHOUSES THE LIGHTEST, OUR PROFIT THE LEAST.

FACTS

Parlor Furniture. Chamber Furniture

5 Different Styles at . . . $35.00	10 Different Styles at . . . $17.00
10 Different Styles at . . . 40.00	10 Different Styles at . . . 20.00
10 Different Styles at . . . 45.00	10 Different Styles at . . . 22.50
10 Different Styles at . . . 48.00	20 Different Styles at . . . 25.00
15 Different Styles at . . . 50.00	20 Different Styles at . . . 30.00
15 Different Styles at . . . 55.00	20 Different Styles at . . . 40.00
20 Different Styles at . . . 65.00	20 Different Styles at . . . 45.00
20 Different Styles at . . . 70.00	20 Different Styles at . . . 50.00
20 Different Styles at . . . 75.00	25 Different Styles at . . . 75.00
10 Different Styles at . . . 85.00	25 Different Styles at . . . 85.00
10 Different Styles at . . . 90.00	10 Different Styles at . . . 92.00
20 Different Styles, $100 to $500	20 Different Styles, $100 to $700

200 DIFFERENT STYLES, 250 DIFFERENT STYLES, Or more than 10 ordinary stores.

MORE FACTS. MORE FACTS.

75 Different Styles of Sideboards. 100 Different Styles of Tables. 100 Different Styles of Chairs. 50 Different Styles of Lounges. 75 Different Styles of Baby Carriages. 900 Different Styles of Carpets.

LAMPS, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, DRAPERIES.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR US. WHAT IT MEANS FOR YOU.

Buying in Larger Quantities. Getting Larger Discounts. Doing Larger Business. Less Trouble in Selecting. Less Uncertainty of Quality. Lower Prices than Elsewhere.

FREE DELIVERY To any Railroad Depot in New England. FREE RAILROAD FARE On Purchases of $100 or Upward.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,

Liberal House Furnishers,

827 Washington St., One Block South of Hollis St., Corner Common St., Boston, Mass.

Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Botanical Medical Institute

75 Court St. (Scollay Sq.), Boston, Mass.

INDIAN BOTANICAL REMEDIES

Roots, Herbs, Gums and Barks chiefly used. Dr. Solomon treats all Chronic Diseases, makes a specialty of LEUCORRHOEA, CANCERS, TUMORS, EPILEPTIC FITS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, ST. VITUS DANCE, SPINAL COMPLAINTS, HEMORRHOGE OF LUNGS, ECZEMA and all SKIN DISEASES, KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD. PILLS and FISTULA cured without the use of the knife and cure guaranteed. Consultation free.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 50 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.

Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; bottle for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factor and Residence, Clinton Street.

DR. JAMES M. SOLOMON, JR.'S GREAT INDIAN WINE BITTERS!

Greatest Kidney and Liver Cure and Blood Purifier Known to Man.

The greatest Liver and Kidney Cure known to man, is recommended to dyspeptics and sufferers from Indigestion; to victims of Kidney and Liver Complaints; to all who have impure blood or Scrofula; to the bilious and constipated; to those who have poor appetites; to nervous and debilitated persons; and all who find that a stomach out of order is the beginning of the end of the vital powers. Successfully used for Torpid Liver and Bilious Diseases, indicated by loss of appetite, sick headache, drowsiness and constipation. Dyspepsia and Indigestion, indicated by acidity, distress after eating, gnawing pain in the stomach, burning and choking sensations, vomiting, bad breath, coated tongue, costiveness, distressing dreams, melancholy and dread of society. Diseases of the Blood, indicated by wasting of strength, blanched complexion, cold extremities, eruptions, boils, carbuncles, salt rheum, erysipelas, scrofula and general debility.

WHY THEY ARE CALLED WINE BITTERS.

Because all Bitters are prepared with either Alcohol or Whiskey to prevent them from fermenting, where we have added the sufficient quantity of Grape Wine making them instead of a beverage a pure Herbal Medicine.

Opinions, Extracts and Condensations from the Medical Profession.

I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. JOSEPH TARKER, M. D.

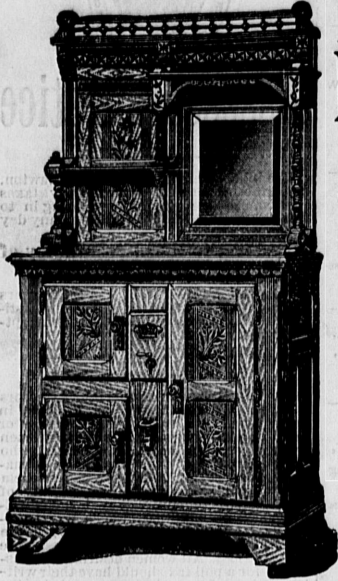

I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. BALTIMORE, MD. I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. BALTIMORE, MD.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XVII.—NO. 34.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, MAY 31, 1889.—TEN PAGES.

TERMS—$2.00 PER YEAR

FINE Refrigerators
AND LIGHT FURNITURE
of every description,
Especially designed for
Seaside and Country Cottages
Immense shipment of
Fancy Straw Mattings
just received.

H. M. GREENOUGH,
COMPLETE HOUSE FURNISHERS,
182 to 188 Tremont St. and 37 Boylston, Masonic Temple,
BOSTON.
TO THE PUBLIC.

I have been located here over three years and have no other Laundry in Newton. Those who wish to have any laundry work done, please remember the name and place. We will guarantee to give satisfaction and return all work at short notice.

Shirts, each, 10 cts.; collars, 2 cts.; cape collars, 2 for 5 cts.; cuffs, each, 2 cts.
Also lowest prices will be charged for all kinds of work. Please give us a trial.
FIRST-CLASS CHINESE LAUNDRY,
French's Block, No. 330 Centre St., opp. Savings Bank, Newton.
FANK SHINN, Proprietor.

Thomas White
16 Essex Street,
First Store from Washington Street,
BOSTON.

BOOTS, SHOES & RUBBERS,
Low expenses enable us to sell strictly first-class Goods at very low prices.
23 1/2 yr. CALL AND SEE US.

BUTTER.
We have taken the agency for the celebrated
Turner Centre Creamery
formerly controlled by W. B. Beal—put up in half pound prints. Delivered to customers day of arrival.

He who tries it, Buys it.
Gamaliel P. Atkins,
GROCER.
273 and 275 Washington Street, Newton.
Telephone, No. 1304.

Special Notice!
THE LONDON FURNISHING PALACE
Having occupied the store cor. Washington and Kneeland Streets for the last 15 years

Have Removed to
727, 729 & 731 Washington St.
Opposite Cobb, Aldrich & Co.

We now have a larger store and keep the largest stock of Gent's Furnishings in Boston.
Our stock consists of a complete line of
Gent's Dress Shirts, Flannel Shirts, Undershirts, Hosiery, Gloves, Neckties, Hats and Caps, Overalls, Jumpers, Coats, Workmen's Shirts, etc.
Large stock of TRUNKS, BAGS and VALISES.

The London Furnishing Palace,
727, 729 and 731 Washington St., BOSTON. 31-4

THE MISSES ALLEN'S
Boarding & Day School for Girls,
29 Vernon Street, Newton,
Will reopen September 25.
Applications now received. 33-2

U. G. McQUEEN,
Carpenter and Builder,
Washington St. near B. & A. R. R. Crossing,
Orders received through P. O. Box 716. All orders promptly executed in a first-class style.
Cabinet Work of all kinds a Specialty.

CLARA D. REED, M. D.
RESIDENCE AND OFFICE,
Centre Street, opposite Vernon, Newton.
Hours—1 to 3 and 7 P. M.

SWEET DREAMS
May be enjoyed if you rest upon a good comfortable bed.
A Rare Combination
is found in the
Putnam Spring Cot
(Cot, Mattress and Spring.)
This is just what you need at your country or sea-shore home.

BRASS AND IRON BEDSTEADS
—AND—
Fine Bedding of all kinds.
Remaking and renovating a specialty.

PUTNAM & CO.,
8 & 10 Beach Street,
BOSTON. 293m

THE PULSION Telephone Co.
14 & 15 Sears Building,
199 WASHINGTON ST., BOSTON.

This company is now ready to receive orders for telephones.

One Month's Trial
is given to test telephone and if not satisfactory at the end of this time no charge is made.

Satisfaction guaranteed and prices moderate. 33-13

Do You Wear CHEAP Shirts?
None are cheaper than Blackwell's $1.50 shirts.

Do You Wear FINE Shirts?
None more elegant than Blackwell's $2.00 Dress Shirts.
43 THORNTON STREET, NEWTON.

Perfect Fit, Color, SHAPE AND SIZE.
$10.00 for Teeth on Rubber Plates.
Teeth on Gold Plate made in the best manner. Careful and proper attention given to every person; office contains all improved methods.
Boylston Building, 675 Washington St., Boston, Room 25. Office Hours 9 to 4.
33-3m DR. W. D. CLARK.

LADIES' Stock Exchange.

FOR TEN DOLLARS you can buy or sell ten shares of any New York stock on margin, larger amounts in proportion, profits unlimited, losses limited.
BONNER, MANES & CO.,
43 Winter Street, Boston. Room 3. 171y

THE NEW ELIOT CHURCH.

DESCRIPTION OF THE INTERIOR AND EXTERIOR—THE DEDICATION SERVICES.

The new Eliot church is completed and it is certainly one of the most beautiful ecclesiastical edifices in the state, both in point of architecture and in its decorative features. The interior is finished in accordance with the general architecture, the decorators, Messrs. L. Haberstroh & Son, having brought out some very rich and beautiful effects. The demands of the order of the architecture, which is after the Byzantine and Romanesque styles, has been observed and ornaments and colors have been introduced in harmony with them. The arches at the entrance have been faced inside and out with an open, gold relief mosaic, and this special ornament has been carried into the borders of the ceiling and follows the truss work in many places. The process and material are shown to good advantage, and while the effect in its color sense is rich, it also forms a complete solid ornament, assisting in the unity of every part.

This same blending of architectural form with color is seen in the window, and other openings, where the treatment is composed of bands of rich gold, not garish, but subdued and effective. Other designs, resembling embroidered and hand-tinted leather, are to be found here and there, while the central frieze, which circles the entire interior, and marks the gradations of golden yellow to light terra cotta, that warm the walls, is of a faded scroll design in gold relief. Above the truss work, on line with the terminating beam projections, a dark shade of terra cotta is used, and numerous semi-band like lines are drawn with gold edges, leaving no barren places in the upper decoration.

The chancel is enriched with a strap work relief design and the same pattern is effectively used around the ceiling ventilators; these interlacings are broken by bosses, and being of an old copper color, they readily blend with the surroundings.

Other metallic effects are noticeable, in some of the smaller details, the effect is produced by introducing various colors, not too pronounced, but sufficient to save the monotony so likely to occur where there are broad masses of color.

The general treatment is quiet and unobtrusive and the eye easily passes from one point to another, catching an effect of the agreeable combination of color and form. The treatment of the chapel is very simple. The dado is in golden yellow tints, while russet browns and terra cotta form the upper scheme of coloring. There are several detailed sections of tile and work, also gold stripes and tablet borders all in relief and distinguished both in color and design. The relief work is very interesting throughout, being the result of patient hand work, and bringing out the best effects of artistic decoration.

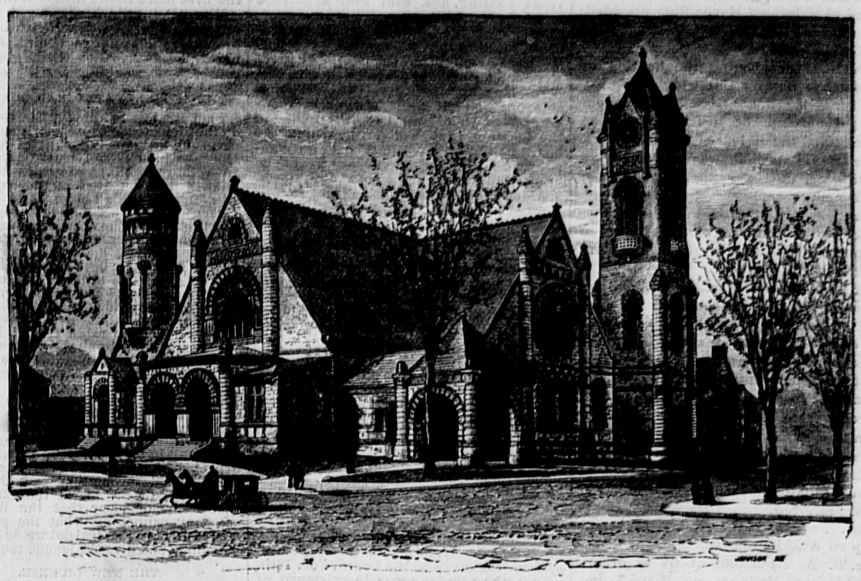

The woodwork of the interior is finished in a light, warm, golden yellow, and the floor is of a light pine, 6 inches in height, and the distance from the floor to the roof is about 70 feet. The roof is supported by heavy trusses, starting from carved stone corbels, and the diagonal trusses rest upon polished granite columns with richly carved olive stone capitals and bases. The window over the main entrance, the gable is arched, and the two rose windows in the transept are 17 feet in diameter. The arch of the main window is supported upon clusters of columns, surmounted with carved capitals. All of the windows are of a slightly tinted glass, and the large memorial windows are of elegant design and finish.

The exterior presents a grand and massive appearance. The building occupies the same location as the wooden structure destroyed by fire in the latter part of 1887. Its walls are constructed of a slightly tinted granite from the Bragville quarries, located near Milford, Mass., and rich Kibbee brown sandstone trimmings from Longmeadow, near Springfield, Mass.

The general design of the building embodies characteristic features of the Romanesque style of architecture, while the carved enrichments used to emphasize important features both externally and internally, are after the much admired forms of Byzantine art, of which St. Sophia, of Constantinople, is a prominent example. The outline of the plan of the audience room is cruciform; the extreme dimensions being 116 feet through the nave and 91 feet across the transepts. The width of the nave and transepts being 64 feet each. The greater part of the audience is massed in the centre of the room and within a comparatively small radius from the speaker. To improve the view and facilitate hearing the voice of the speaker in this large audience room, capable of seating 1,100 persons, the floor is inclined towards the pulpit 42 inches, and the pews are arranged after the manner of an amphitheatre—an ancient as well as a valuable invention. The large auditorium is free from obstructive columns. This has been accomplished by the use of the hammer-beam construction, varied to embody salient features of the architectural style chosen, and to produce an elegant and varied interior effect. Rich Etowah marble coupled columns support the double diagonal trusses, and contribute to the completeness and richness of the design. The audience room is finished in cherry and an effort has been made in the decoration, by the use of the most recent plastic devices, so well adapted to the illustration of the Byzantine Romanesque style, to produce such a tone, depth and richness of form coloring as would make the size of the audience room less perceptible without diminishing the feeling of repose so appropriate to the purposes to which it is dedicated.

The dimensions of the chapel, located directly in the rear of the audience room, are 46 feet by 68 feet, the rear end on the axis of the building being segmental. The height of this room is 40 feet, and this permits two stories, those on the North containing a primary school room, 18 by 32, and a kitchen on the first floor, and four class rooms 15 by 14; those on the South comprise a ladies' room 18 by 32 and dressing room, over which are three large class rooms. In the chapel decorations a variety of colors are used, although warm and harmonious, a satisfactory result being obtained by subdued contrasts rather than by similar tones as in the audience room.

The principal features of the exterior on the front of the building, next Centre street, are a round tower 85 feet high with round pilasters crowned with winged and angel heads, and an open tiled porch 14 feet by 28 feet, between two vestibules. On the corner of Centre and Church streets is a porte-cochere, and at the intersection of the church and chapel is the principal tower, 127 feet high, containing four illuminated dials, an open bell chamber with balconied windows, in which is a bell weighing 3,524 lbs., most of which is the metal from the old bell. The inscription is the same, viz: "Blessed is the people that know the joyful sound."

THE NEW ELIOT CHURCH.

Much credit is due to the representatives of the different branches of art and the building trades who have so satisfactorily assisted in the completion of this edifice under the direction of the architect, George F. Meacham of Newton, and to whom the committee desire publicly to express their thanks.

THE CHURCH DEDICATION.

INTERESTING EXERCISES AT THE CHURCH THURSDAY EVENING.

The dedicatory exercises at the new Eliot church took place Thursday evening, before a very large audience, among whom were many from other churches. The service began with the rendering of "A Mighty Fortress is our God," by the choir, followed by the hymn, "Lord of all being, throne afar" by the choir and congregation, which was to be given out by Rev. J. P. McCullough of the Baptist church, but he was unable to be present. The prayer of Invocation was made by Rev. Andrew McKeown of the Methodist church. The choir sang Gounod's anthem, "Redemption."

MR. BILLINGS ADDRESS.

Mr. Chas. E. Billings, chairman of the building committee, read the following address.

Sunday morning, Jan. 16th, 1887, the Eliot church edifice was consumed by fire. At a parish meeting held Jan. 24th, 1887, a committee was elected with full power to raise funds and to rebuild. The following gentlemen served on the committee.

N. P. Coburn, E. W. Converse, John C. Chaffin, H. E. Cobb, J. W. Davis, Wm. P. Ellison, W. E. Field, A. S. March, F. Murdock, John C. Potter, C. E. Billings. Deacon Joseph N. Bacon, one of the original members and founders of Eliot church, was elected an honorary member of this committee.

The committee organized Jan. 25th, '87, by electing C. E. Billings, chairman, Joshua W. Davis, secretary, and John C. Chaffin, treasurer.

We were very fortunate in being able to secure, at the outset, the services of

Mr. Geo. F. Meacham, an architect of long and varied experience, and in every respect qualified for the difficult work before him.

We have no words with which to express our gratitude for the undeviating patience, the unwearied faithfulness, the unremitting watchfulness of our architect, for the twenty-eight months while this work has been in progress. So far as his ability and taste as an architect are concerned, judge ye.

It is in the temples erected for the worship of God, that architecture lays claim to special dignity, and the ideal of beauty and grace, sought for and realized in this magnificent building, will be a perpetual monument to Mr. Meacham's artistic skill and genius.

For the building of the first tabernacle for the worship of God, we read that, "Every one whose heart stirred him up, and every one whom his spirit made willing, brought the offering to the work of the tabernacle. . . . they came, both men and women, as many as were willing-hearted, and brought bracelets and earrings, and rings, and tablets—all jewels of gold."

And I bear testimony, that the men, women and children of this parish, in the day of trial were "willing-hearted," and that you also "brought a willing offering unto the Lord," and that your generous contributions, amounting to the sum of $94,782.00, enabled the committee to build for the use of this community forever, this sanctuary, and to present it this evening, for dedication to the worship of God, free of debt.

Ground for the new edifice was broken August 11th, 1887, and the first season the foundation walls and floor timbers were laid.

On Fast Day, April 5th, 1888, the cornerstone was laid with appropriate services.

In a cavity of the corner-stone is a copper box, containing the contents of the two boxes found in the corner-stone of the building burned. Also a history of the church to the date of the laying of the new corner-stone, a list of all the contributors to the building fund, and documents of interest to posterity.

Inasmuch as the accounts of the committee are not fully settled, I cannot state the total cost of the buildings at this time, and shall omit a report of the work in detail, until I can report to the parish at a meeting, which will be called for that purpose.

There are some statements of general interest, which you will notice upon the fifth page of the order of services. The society is under great obligation to the friends who have made special gifts, and an official acknowledgement will be received by the donors, from the clerk of the parish.

The corner-stone is the gift of Mrs. Henry E. Cobb, and is of Georgia marble, enclosed in brown stone, richly carved, and bearing the inscription, "Jesus Christ himself being the chief corner-stone."

The clock, with illuminated dials, is the gift of Mr. Francis A. Brooks, who by this act of generosity and public spirit, is entitled to the thanks of the entire community.

The pulpit bible is the gift of Mr. Geo. H. Quincy. The pulpit hymn books are the gift of Miss Annie E. Taylor; the communion table is the gift of Mr. G. Ham D. and Mrs. Adelaide S. Gilman, with this inscription: "In remembrance of Him and in His name with thanksgiving and gratitude."

The memorial windows are all gifts of friends, and suggest tender memories of those whom we knew and loved.

A memorial window has been placed in the chapel by the choir, in loving remembrance of Joseph P. Cobb, who was their faithful friend, and the honored leader of the service of praise in Eliot church for fifteen years.

The window in the nave, on the south, was given by Mrs. Eleanor H. Coburn, and is dedicated to the memory of father, husband and son.

The patriarch's experience of God's loving care for those who trust in Him, prompts him to say to all who shall look upon this window in years to come, "I have been young and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed being bereaved."

The rose window in the south transept was given by Mrs. Emily F. Potter, Mrs. Annie L. Goodrich, Mrs. Mary E. Gross and Mrs. Alice M. Wright, in memory of their father, Ebenezer Woodward. He served the church for thirty-two years as deacon, was clerk and treasurer for nineteen years, and a member of the choir for thirty years. He was a friend to God's poor; he visited "the fatherless and widows in their affliction"; he kept "himself unspotted from the world." "Blessed are they that do His commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life."

The window in the southwest transept is dedicated by Edmund W. Converse to the memory of his wife, Charlotte A. Converse, a woman revered and loved as a wife, mother and friend. Not only her children, but all who knew her "arise up and call her blessed."

The window in the southeast transept is given by Mrs. Lucy B. S. Snowbridge, in loving remembrance of her husband, William Otis Snowbridge, who was deacon of this church for five years, its clerk for many years, and many years a member of the choir. "Christ, the light of the world." This faithful disciple was a bright and shining light, faithful in bearing burdens, useful in every possible way to the church, and to the community in which he lived.

The rose window in the transept on the north is the gift of Miss Elizabeth C. Jewitt, in memory of her brother, David Brainerd Jewitt. All who knew him esteemed and loved him, as a man, a neighbor, and a friend. Had he been with the disciples that evening, he surely would have joined in the invitation to the Master: "Abide with us: for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent."

The window in the northeast transept is given by Mrs. George H. Jones and Miss Mary P. Jones in loving memory of husband and father, George H. Jones. "A sower went out to sow his seed." He was a sower of good seed in this community. He did not live in vain. He was always a true, faithful and reliable friend of Eliot church.

The window in the northwest transept is dedicated by Mrs. Mary H. Potter and J. Sturgis Potter to the memory of husband and father, John C. Potter. "A faithful steward." The silent lapse of twenty-nine years has not clouded with forgetfulness, nor lessened our gratitude as a church, to him for the conspicuous part he took and the burdens he assumed during the building of our former meeting-house. His work was not entirely destroyed by the fire, for we have selected portions of the old granite foundations, and have incorporated them into the elevation of tower and belt courses of transepts and nave.

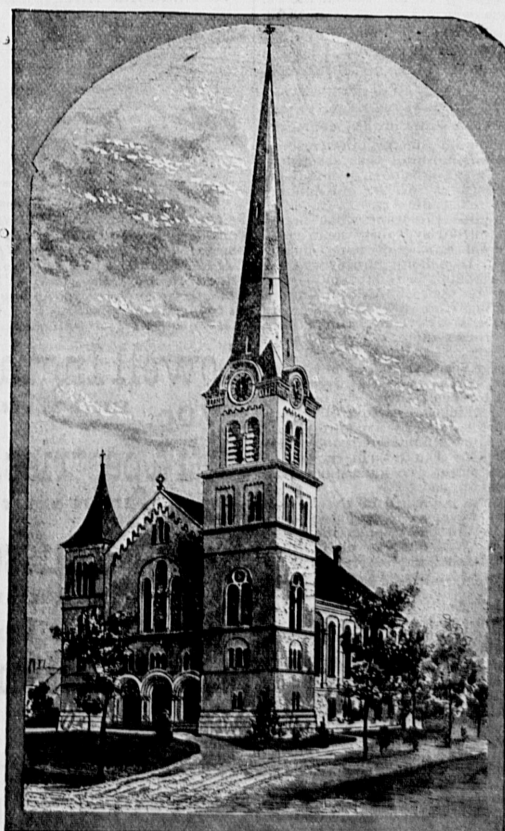

The window in the nave on the north, is in memory of one of the sweet singers in Israel. For many years a member of the choir, twelve years the superintendent of the Sunday school; the treasurer and one of the building committee of the edifice which was burned.

George W. Bacon, you are a worthy representative of what the family of Basons have been to Eliot church, from the time when your father stood by the side of William Jackson, and laid its foundations with prayer and faith, to the day when your brother lifted up his hands, and, in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost, laid the corner stone of this building.

The window in the nave on the west is dedicated to the memory of one of the original members and founders of this church, Andrew B. Cobb.

The fathers' named this church in memory of one who was justly called "The morning star of missionary enterprise in America."

Henry E. Cobb, by the gift of the John Eliot memorial window, becomes the link which will forever connect the first missionary enterprise in America, with

THE OLD ELIOT CHURCH

(Continued on 4th page.)

CITY GOVERNMENT.

THE HEARING ON THE STORAGE BATTERY SYSTEM.

Both branches of the City Council met Monday evening in special session. Alderman Pettie and Councilmen Hale, Luke and Wiswall were absent. In the board of aldermen Mayor Burr presided; the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

The hour for opening the hearing on the Storage Battery Company's application for a location arrived, but no one was present and the hearing was postponed until the arrival of the next train.

Mr. Henry E. Cobb was appointed an auctioneer, and the appointment was confirmed.

Chas. J. Bailey asked to have sidewalks graded and concreted in front of his premises on Washington street, Ward 7; referred.

Mr. Horatio Carter sent in a communication in regard to Alston street, which has been in dispute between him and the city government for some time, and asked to have a committee appointed to meet him and look over the ground, claiming that the street had been left in a worse condition than before it had been touched by the city; referred to the highway committee.

M. S. Hodgdon asked for license to move building through Washington street; referred.

Geo. Foster and others asked for street lamp on Washington street.

Dr. R. A. Reed and about 40 others asked to have Hyde avenue, Ward 7, improved, the street brought up to grade, made safe for passing, and a sidewalk constructed on one side; referred.

Alderman Chadwick presented an order, which was referred to the highway committee, for a sidewalk on Edinboro street, in front of the premises of Wm. Vose.

Alderman Harbach reported from the highway committee in favor of granting a petition for sidewalks on Summer and Lowell streets and Hillside avenue, and an order was passed for their construction.

An order was passed authorizing the water board to expend $3,000 for coal at the pumping station.

On application of Major Geo. H. Benyon, the use of City Hall was granted to the High School battalion for drill on Memorial Day.

The following jurors were drawn for the June term of the Middlesex county superior court: Arthur R. Coe, West Newton; Chas. E. Lord, Newton; James Nickelson, Oak street, Ward 5; Sidney Harwood, Ivanhoe street, Ward 7. As Mr. Harwood had sailed for Europe last Saturday to be gone three months, there was some discussion over drawing another name, but his name was finally allowed to stand.

The Jury list for 1889-90 prepared by the city clerk was approved.

A NEW ALMSHOUSE.

An order was passed by a unanimous vote, authorizing the city treasurer to borrow $5,000 on a note of the city for five years, at not more than 4 per cent, the amount to be used by the committee on public property in buying six acres of land with buildings thereon, on Cherry street, Ward 3, to be used for almshouse purposes.

THE STREET RAILWAY HEARING.

The petitioners for the location for the Storage Battery Street Railway company having arrived, the hearing was proceeded with. Hon. Linus M. Child had charge and said that his company only asked for a location on such streets as had not been granted to other companies. The Storage Battery company were willing to resort to a practical test, and to show their confidence in the system by building a railroad and running cars upon it. They had confidence that they could do the work and only asked for an opportunity to show what they could do.

Ex-Mayor Kimball was the first witness and told of the general desire in Newton for a street railway, and of the objections made to horses, or to any system of poles and overhead wires, whereby public safety was endangered. The storage battery system was a success, it had worked, and it will work, and would be the motive power of the future. He said he would be pleased to invite the mayor and the board to inspect the cars which would be put on the Beverly and Danvers road July 1st. The financial standing of the company was as strong as that of the Thomson-Houston company, whose published statements showed no surplus, although they claimed to have one.

Mr. Child again called attention to the fact that his company were ready to build a road and operate it, and deprecated the haste of the last meeting when a location was granted to the West End company, and said they now only asked for a location on those streets where a location had not been granted to the West End company. He spoke advisedly, he said, in calling it the West End company.

Col. E. H. Hewins was then called upon and explained at some length his new system of storage battery, which, he said, was not yet in use on any road. He had fitted up a West End car, and it had run successfully for a year, as Superintendent Bancroft and other West End officials admitted. But the West End company had refused to allow him to exhibit the car, or to use it, and he had only just succeeded in getting his machinery out of it. A car fitted with his system weighed tons, while an ordinary horse car weighed about two tons. The batteries would run a car 40 miles, while the Julian battery used in New York would run a car 24 miles. His car cost about 5 cents a mile, a horse car about 3 cents. With a large number of cars the cost of using his battery would be less than 3 cents.

Mr. Chandler, a youthful reporter of the Boston Globe, who had been an assistant to Col. Bancroft on the Cambridge road, testified to the success of Col. Hewins' car, the general satisfaction it had given, and also to the fact that President Whitney of the West End company had refused to let the Globe run the car for advertising the paper, over the West End road.

Col. Hewins also testified that Mr. Whitney had expressed his perfect satisfaction with the car, and that he had asked him to make a bid for furnishing 10 cars. The very next day a cyclone of something had struck him, and he (Mr.

Whitney) had withdrawn his proposition. The reason might have been that application for the overhead wire system was then pending before the Boston Aldermen, and he did not wish to let the people see that a storage battery car could be run. Ordinary tracks were too light for electric cars.

Mr. J. L. Alley, an expert electrician, repeated the testimony he gave at a previous hearing, and said that a storage battery car could go up all grades.

Mr. Child then made his closing argument, arguing that the system was a perfect success, and that the overhead wires were dangerous, expensive, and disfiguring. He supposed that the West End company had got all it wanted in Newton, but as there were some streets on the location they asked for, which the board had not given the West End company, he asked that those streets be granted to them.

Alderman Chadwick asked why it was so hard to convince people, the Storage Battery company had something so good better and cheaper.

Mr. Child said it was not. The Providence road had voted to order storage battery cars, and they were receiving application for cars every day. Their's was a new invention. They had ordered four or five cars to be built, and would order more as soon as possible.

President Parker of the Newton Street Railway said that he would like to correct one mistake of Mr. Child. The aldermen had not voted away any location at their last meeting; the location had been granted to his company two years ago, before Mr. Child's company was even heard of.

Alderman Child said that Mr. Parker had not shown any disposition to use it, until this company had forced him to do something.

President Parker replied that his application for right to use the overhead system was made to the board, Feb. 15th, before the company was in existence, or any street had been taken to form it, and it was only after his application had been made that Col. Hewins had appeared with his petition.

Mr. Child said he understood that there were several miles of streets not granted to the Newton Company.

Alderman Johnson said he would state for the information of Mr. Child, that they were only short streets, and the people would protest against blocking up every outlet from the main thoroughfares of the city with railroad tracks.

The hearing was then closed.

OTHER BUSINESS.

Seventy-six dollars was appropriated to pay Dr. F. L. Thayer for attendance upon James Sanders, a member of the fire department.

An order appropriating $1400 was referred to the finance committee, for a public bath house on Bullough's pond, and an attendant.

Sixty dollars was appropriated for expenses of city government on Memorial day.

Permission was granted to F. S. Sherman to run wire from Watertown to Crafts street, for private telephone.

License was granted to Charles H. Tainter to put up awning in front of his store in Newtonville square.

The board then adjourned.

OUR BOSTON LETTER.

From our Special Correspondent.

FAREWELL POINT SHIRLEY—FAREWELL TAFT!

Some forty odd years ago, or to make it more explicit, say in the year 1848, B. A. Taft, then not unknown to fame, in connection with "Taft's Cornhill Coffee House," afterwards "Young's," conceived the idea that a first-class seaside resort, at which parties could come from the city to enjoy a genuine fish and game dinner, would be in order and he established the present Point Shirley hotel.

At that time there were no popular seaside or beach resorts in the United States. Those which had approached the idea were merely accidental. Taft came from a family, back generations, who had made famous the stage houses and the road houses on the leading turnpike routes out of Boston, particularly on the Southern route to New York. Hotel keeping was with him congenial, and no man has so well improved the race from which he sprang.

"Point Shirley," in the opinion of Taft, was a necessity forty years ago. He read at once what the desires of the people were. The Cunard steamers had made Boston their first terminal point on this side the Atlantic. The Tremont House was then the greatest and best appointed hotel in the United States. Then there was old Whit's, the Fresh Pond hotel, the Spy Pond hotel, the Spring hotel at Watertown, the old stone hotel at West Roxbury, the Phoenix at Dedham, Cattle Fair at Brighton and Porter's at North Cambridge, to say nothing of Taft's in Cornhill court, the Stackpole and other metropolitan resorts. But there was nothing that seemed to supply in an Englishman's mind his favorite "Brighton" of the old country and the white bait diners.

Taft supplied the want when he selected "Point Shirley," forty years ago—not the Point Shirley of to-day by any means. For then Point Shirley was far from the madding crowd of cities and could only be approached by a lengthy drive starting from East Boston or by private yachts by water, which only made the resort more select and more desirable.

It is hardly necessary to recount to the people of Newton what the average of that resort has been during the past two decades. I think the people of no city outside Boston, possibly excepting Providence, R. I., have more generously supported the place than those of the city of Newton. I might give names, but that would be invidious.

When it was published in the Boston papers last week, as supposed fact, that Taft would not re-open his resort this season, every one was up in arms. "What, Taft close? impossible!" "We," said his best friends, "have something to say about this. Close without our knowing it! No, he can't do this. He owes it to us and we owe it to him that a proper celebration of such an undesired event should take place."

And so from the north and the south, the east and the west, came a petition signed by not all (that would have been impossible) of his friends to allow them the privilege and pleasure of making some return for the hours of happiness they had enjoyed in that quiet jumping off place and this petition took the form of asking him to give them one more season. This was too much for the genial Taft, and though he felt that he had, in measure, filled out the term of his usefulness, he could not resist this last appeal of genuine friendship, and though he would not have yielded to any call from mere personal considerations, he could not resist this. He has consented to give his farewell season, and, if I am not mistaken, there will be such a gathering of the tribes from home and abroad during the next four months, that will convince Taft that he, like the father of his country, still holds the first place in the hearts of his friends.

When Point Shirley is closed, one of, if not the chiefest attraction which Bostonians could offer to their guests, will be wiped out. Let them give him a rouser.

THE NEW ELEVATED RAILROAD BILL. I am at a loss to know what the friends of the defeated elevated railroad bill can mean by introducing a new bill in the House, which is not materially different from the old bill, and which they must know will be defeated in the senate by a still larger vote than before.

The position, according to my idea, is just this. The West End company asks for a reasonable time to develop their rapid transit problem, and they ought to have. They have been at a great expense and are going to a still greater one to furnish the people of Boston proper and the suburbs with rapid transit. This is what the people want. It is not a question with them whether the rapid transit is an elevated railroad or by the electric motor, so be it that they have the rapid transit.

I notice that some of the papers say that this development on the part of the West End company should be made apparent within nine months or before the next legislature meet. Now, this is not fair. If the West End company can accomplish this result in two years it is all that can be expected from them. In the meantime let the elevated speculation rest, the people can afford to wait. If at the end of that time it is made clear that the West End company cannot do what the people demand, then let the legislature do the best thing and give the people the elevated.

THE NEW LICENSE. There seems to be a variety of opinions as to the success of the high license. Several bar rooms have been reported as making returns that their business has been doubled, and more since the high license or the restrictive license went into operation. On the other hand the proprietor of one of the largest and most respectable saloons in Boston told me the other day that high license was a humbug, as it would create thousands of kitchen bar rooms throughout the city, and in this I agree with him. The progress of temperance in any city or community can never be assured by law, make that law ever so strict.

Athletics, 11; Lynn, 6.

The Athletics visited Lynn last Saturday and played the team representing that city. The Newton boys showed great improvement over their work in the Marion game on the 25th of this month, and outplayed their opponents at every point. The fielding of Lang and Farwell and the batting of Morehouse were the features of the game. Cook pitched an excellent game and was well supported by Dunn. Half of last year's Providence team pitched the last two innings and was very effective. Hook was hit hard by all the visitors. Morton who played left field has been secured by Manager Crosby and will play that position the remainder of the season.

Thy following is the score in full:

ATHLETICS.
	A.B.	R.	H.	E.	P.O.	A.	E.
Dunn, c.	5	1	0	1	0	0	2	1
Morton, lf.	4	1	1	1	0	0	1
Farrell, 3b.	4	1	1	1	1	3	0
Burrows, 2b.	4	1	1	1	1	2	1
Hobart, r.f.	4	0	0	0	1	0	0
Morehouse, r.f.	3	2	2	4	9	0	0
Dryden, c.	4	0	0	0	2	1	1
Hutchinson, s.s.	4	2	1	1	0	2	1
Cook, p.	4	1	0	0	1	13	0
Totals	36	11	9	11	27	23	9

LYNN.

	A.B.	R.	H.	E.	P.O.	A.	E.
Bond, ss.	5	1	0	0	0	2	1
Hale, lb.	3	1	1	1	11	0	1
W. Hadley, c.b.	5	2	0	0	4	1	1
Nichols, if.	4	0	0	0	4	2	2
Ober, r.f.	4	0	1	1	1	1	0
Dykes, c.	4	0	0	0	1	1	1
F. Hadley, 3b.	3	1	1	1	3	1	2
Hall, 2b.	4	2	2	2	1	3	2
Hook, p.	4	0	0	0	0	6	0
Totals	36	6	5	5	23	18	11

Earned runs—Athletics 5; 2b hits Morehouse (2). Base on balls by Cook (4). Hale. Struck out by Cook (10); Hook (2); Hale (4). Left on bases, Athletics (2); Lynn (6). Double plays—Lang, Morehouse, Cook, Farrell. Passed balls—Dunn (2). Hadley (6) Nichols. Wild pitches—Cook, Hook. Stolen bases—Newton, 13; Lynn, 5. Sacrifice hits—Athletics, 3; Lynn, 3. Time of game, 1h. 45 min. Umpires, Harkins, on Bases; Quigley, on Balls.

Athletics..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Lynn..... 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 1 6

Mrs. ABBIE C. THAYER, CHRISTIAN SCIENTIST, 19 CHANNING STREET, NEWTON.

Practices Christian Science Mind Healing as Taught by Mrs. Mary B. G. Eddy.

TO CATCH THE EYE

Is the purpose for which this advertisement was designed, as well as to inform the public that CHILDS & LANE are now prepared to show as fine a line of Spring Carpets as was ever shown in this city.

We quote a few prices:

Lowell Ingrains 70c. PER YARD.

Tapestries, 75c. PER YARD.

Body Brussels, 1.00 PER YARD.

BEST QUALITY SEAMLESS

Straw Mattings 35c. PER YARD.

N. B.—Remember that we make a specialty of the celebrated CHILDS & LANE $1.00 BRUSSELS.

CHILDS & LANE, 116 Tremont St., Boston.

"And so you think that you deserve an increase in your salary, Mr. Bookkeeper," said old Whitgoods as the clerk stood before him, with the courage of desperation. "Yes, sir," he replied, "and I have waited until the new year before speaking." "I am glad that you did," returned the merchant, "for it gives me an opportunity to meet your wishes. I will pay you the same amount for 365 days' work this year as you got for 366 days in 1888. Good morning."—Puck.

For all Throat and Lung Diseases take Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s, Cough Cure. It has cured thousands. All druggists, 50 cents per bottle.

Daniels' Nonantum Stables

HENRY C. DANIELS, PROPRIETOR.

Livery and Hacking.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Generals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING.

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 7874.

THEODORE L. MASON, Agent for the celebrated

Rockford Watch

ELGIN, WALTHAM, and other American Watches always in stock.

Repairing of Fine Watches, French, Grandfather and American Clocks a specialty.

All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Ellet Block, Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

LLOYD BROTHERS.

Improved Carpet Cleaning Machine

They remove all Dust, Brighten Colors and Destroy Moths.

Office, 605 Main Street, 3d door East of Church Street, Works on Bennett St., Walnut, Mass.

Orders by mail promptly attended to.

Telephone No. 7699. P. O. Box No. 597

L. H. CRANITCH

HOUSE, SIGN, and ORNAMENTAL PAINTER.

Graining and Paper Hanging a Specialty.

WALNUT STREET, 2d Door from Central Block, NEWTONVILLE.

DO YOU KNOW

That you can save money by buying your GROCERIES, PROVISIONS, WOODENWARE, FRUIT AND VEGETABLES, at WHITTIER'S?

I am adding every day to my stock, and making Lower Prices than ever. Come here and pay cash for a month and you will never run a whit again.

W. H. WHITTIER, Howes' Block.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,

Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT

placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies

Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord, Mass.

S. K. MacLEOD

Carpenter and Builder,

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly

Bathrooms and Bedding Plants.

Shop, Centre Place, op. Public Library

Residence, Royal street, near Jewett.

P. O. Box 600, NEWTON, MASS.

J. J. JOHNSON,

FLORIST.

CONSERVATORIES,

School Street, Newton.

Floral Decorations for Weddings, Receptions, etc., etc.

Cut Flowers and Bedding Plants.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Office in the Newton National Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President.

MISS SUSANNA M. DUNCKLEE, Treas.

COMMITTEE OF INVESTMENT:

George Hyde, Willard Marcy, J. C. Hyde

J. F. C. Hyde, Clerk.

T. F. CLENNAN.

Carriage Trimming & Harness

MAKING.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, &c.

Washington Street, Newton.

A Long Felt Want Supplied.

I will guarantee to cure the worst case of corns and bunions on any lady's feet who will wear my

CUSTOM MADE

Kangaroo Skin Boots.

They are soft, fine, and look handsome. They will wear longer than anything else known; they will keep their shape and turn water.

I do not send the measure to the factory to be made up, but make them myself. I will guarantee perfect fitting and comfortable boot no matter in what shape the feet may be.

Best Kangaroo, Flexible Bottom, no squeak, $6.50. Dongola, Flexible bottom, no squeak.

A. L. RHYND,

Ladies' and Gents' Boots, Shoes and Rubbers Custom work a specialty.

Hyde's Block, Centre and Washington Sts., NEWTON.

LAWYERS.

JOSEPH R. SMITH,

ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR,

5 Tremont Street, Boston.

Residence, Lake Avenue, Newton Highlands.

CHAS. H. SPRAGUE,

ATTORNEY & COUNSELLOR-AT-LAW

(Office of the Boston Merchants' Association.)

56 Bedford St., Boston.

Residence, Central St., Auburndale.

JESSE C. IVY,

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

113 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass.

Residence, Newton.

GEORGE W. MORSE,

NEWTON TARIFF REFORM CLUB.

A TARIFF IS A TAX.

Organized, Jan. 24, 1889.
Membership on May 1, 95.
Address all communications to the Secretary
of the Newton Tariff Reform Club, Newton Centre, Mass.

TARIFF TABLES.

THE EAGLE AND THE ARROW.

III.

A Tariff Reform Bowman took aim at an Economy, Eagle we mean, and hit him in the heart. As the Eagle turned his head in the agonies of death, he saw that the Arrow was feathered with arguments from his own wings. "How much sharper," said he, "are the wounds made by weapons which we ourselves have supplied?"

Application: Vide infra.

American Economist.

"A Daniel, still say I, a second Daniel," Merchant of Venice.

Many a good speech last Fall was simply an explanation of "How I became a Free Trader." The same theme will doubtless be used again, and we venture to predict that more than one Free Trade orator will refer to the "Economist" as his saving star. Yes, we mean the "American Economist," devoted to the Protection of American Labor and Industries, and published by the American Protective Tariff League, with a vice president and a secretary in every state in the Union. We thoroughly agree with the wish of a Michigan correspondent of this high tariff organ, that "it could be placed in the hands of every American citizen," and we endorse with enthusiasm the statement of a Pennsylvanian, who says, "The Economist is and continues to be a perpetual surprise." Let us look over together some of the surprises of the last two months.

CROPS. According to the Minneapolis Tribune, the outlook is very bright in the northwest, for a big crop of wheat, corn, oats and barley; and this brightened news-paper rejoices thereat. Such short-sighted and sentimental nonsense disgusts the Economist. A big crop means low prices, a short crop means high prices; how the farmers can rejoice in anything but scarcity is a puzzle to the Editor. If the success of Free Trade ever should drive the Economist into agriculture, it will doubtless pray for famine in India or war in Europe; and a visitation of locusts or a destructive cyclone (on a rich man's farm) would be a benediction indeed.

MARKETS AND MAXIMS. In commenting upon certain business failures in California the Economist says: "The woolen mills of California in certain lines took pride in producing the very finest made in the world." But "it is possible to carry this aesthetic taste further than the market will bear. If the market demands adulterated goods, fabrics weakened by shoddy, cottons glazed with sizing, silks whose weight consists of four-fifths of the metals used in dyeing them, the manufacturers must give it what it demands at their peril for declining to do so." The Economist is in no danger of carrying aesthetic taste further than the market will bear. We can pardon a mistaken policy that "protects" mills, which take "pride in producing the very finest goods in the world," but we draw the line at "adulterated goods, fabrics weakened by shoddy, and cottons glazed with sizing." Let the Economist turn from its study of markets to a consideration of maxims; and we know of nothing better to begin with than "Honesty is the best Policy." To be sure, this is not the highest morality, but the virtue in it is as concentrated as we dare prescribe for the patient.

PRICES AND PROFITS. The action of the tariff on prices is a very complex matter. We know that it makes wool high as well as everything else the farmer wishes to sell, and at the same time it makes everything he needs to buy low. Woolens included. The first result of a tariff is to increase prices, its second result is to decrease them. It compels you to pay more for everything, and yet you get everything cheaper. This is all very puzzling, and we thank the Economist for his frank statement of April 19, on the matter. It appears that in the Journal of Economics, Prof. Taussig made some slight concession to Protection, and the Economist, in a noble spirit of compromise, comes over at once into the camp of the enemy. "The fallacy," says the Economist, "underlying this whole line of argument, [Prof. Taussig's] is its assumption that Protection to Home Industries has only one result, or motive, namely: 'To reduce the price of the article.' So far from being the sole reason, it constitutes hardly any part of the reason." We thank thee, Jew, for teaching us that word. "Mr. Taussig's paradise," continues the Economist, "is the period of low prices, with a relatively high purchasing power in money over commodities. But the workingman's paradise [Homer nods—he means manufacturer's paradise] is at a different and earlier period, long before the domestic article undercuts the foreign. The chief object of the tariff is not low prices, but true profits. 'True profits' is not 'mere interest on capital' nor 'rent on plant,' but 'compensation for enterprise.' 'Compensation for enterprise' means in the Queen's English the money stolen from the people by the aid of the tariff. Understanding what 'true profits' are, we see why 'paradise' is the period before the domestic article undercuts the foreign. We had understood previously that such periods were more like purgatory, endured for the sake of bliss to succeed them; but that was a Free Trade blunder.

STATE TARIFFS. A western correspondent suggests that the Lowell farmers and the Pennsylvania iron masters would be better off could they protect themselves—from the pauper labor of Europe?—not at all, but from the farms of the West and the furnaces of the South. Mark the Economist's reply. "There is undoubtedly force in our correspondent's suggestion from a purely economic point of view. It is undoubtedly true that many kinds of manufactures in the two sections (the Northwest and the Pacific Coast,) are prevented from coming into existence through Eastern competition and low freight rates; and that in many respects the two sections would prosper better if the manufacturers in question could be brought into existence by Protective duties against Eastern goods, or by higher railway freight rates, or by State and Local action." Unfortunately there is no "political body capable of enacting the Protection through Tariffs." "There can be no harm in admitting that the inability to bring these manufactures promptly into existence, by means of Protective Duties against Eastern goods, is one of the modes of taxation, which the Northwest accepts as an incident to the benefits, in other respects, which the Union confers!!!" Thanks to the Northwest for accepting this mode of taxation. We wonder how long it will continue to accept another mode of taxation, commonly called the Tariff of 1883. Not long, if it reads the Economist.

Tariff Reform is all right we have heard, but the Tariff Reformer's Logic must lead, oh, dreadful thought, ultimately to Free Trade! Well, what of this Protectionist Logic and its blessings.

1. Short Crops.
2. Shoddy Goods.
3. High Prices.
4. True Profits.
5. State Tariffs.

We will gladly forward copies of the Economist to any one who doubts the fairness of our quotations.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE ASSOCIATION

ANNUAL MEETING AND ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The annual meeting of the Newton Woman Suffrage association was held at the residence of Mr. Geo. A. Walton, Chestnut street, West Newton, Saturday evening, and these officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mr. N. T. Allen, president; Mrs. J. Herbert Sawyer, Mr. Edwin F. Kimball, Mrs. Chas. D. Davis, vice-presidents; Mrs. L. A. Chapman, secretary; Mrs. James P. Tolman, treasurer; Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, Mrs. Flora D. Sampson, Mr. Geo. L. Bean, Mrs. Kate A. Mead, Mrs. M. H. Cole, Mrs. B. L. White, Mrs. Jane M. Hastings, Mrs. N. P. Cutter, Mrs. Julia Binney, Mrs. Geo. N. Crosby, directors. After the election of officers social features were enjoyed, interspersed with remarks relative to the woman suffrage movement by the president of the Newton association, Mr. Nathaniel T. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wyman of Valley Falls, R. I., Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, Mrs. M. H. Cole, Mr. G. L. Bean, Mr. Geo. A. Walton and others. After the business session, the ladies and gentlemen present had the pleasure of listening to remarks relative to the suffrage movement by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wyman of Valley Falls, R. I.

Mr. Wyman, in his remarks, alluded to the slow progress of all great reforms, instancing the abolition of slavery. The same thing, he said, was true in regard to the woman suffrage reform. It has been argued that suffrage for women will render our wives and daughters less worthy of reverence and respect, but such an argument is absurd. Women who have been brought in contact with men in the counting room, in the telegraph office, and in other commercial and business relations have elevated the moral tone of their surroundings, for where is the man who would dare indulge in the utterance of a ribald jest in their presence? It would be precisely the same with regard to women at the polls. Who is the man who would attempt even at the ballot box to lower woman from the high standard of purity and moral courage or attempt in any way to rob her of those attributes which command reverence and respect? The time is coming when thoughtful men will stretch out their hands for the woman's vote. The aid of women is needed in the abolishing of the saloon and in the working out of great moral reforms. In the mean time, let no friend of woman suffrage be discouraged, for there is every reason for hopefulness. No great cause ever succeeded until after many defeats, and the time is near at hand when the cause that we advocate shall triumph, and we shall rejoice in the happy change which can only result in good. [Applause.]

Mrs. J. H. Sawyer, president of the Social Science club, spoke briefly. She said that women were especially needed in politics now, when one was confronted with the spectacle of politicians representing the two great parties, actuated by principles of policy alone, looking only for votes, and truckling to the foreign element for sake of continuing in office. She said that the press was subservient, and dared not treat questions affecting the welfare of the country in a spirit of fairness. Women would be more conscientious and would vote largely in favor of all reforms.

Remarks followed by Mr. Nath'l Allen, president of the Newton association, Mr. G. L. Bean, Mrs. M. H. Cole, Mr. Geo. A. Walton and others.

The Small Boy.

The small boy is the same the world over, says "Bal," in the Louisville Journal. He has a universal language, and if he landed during the marble season in Timbuctoo he'd be perfectly able to make the Timbuctoo boy understand his opinion of alleys and tors. The small boy is a Democrat—fine clothes do not obtain with him; indeed they are rather scorned, and a well dressed boy is at present grabbed by his fellows and taunted with being "Little Lord Fauntleroy," and asked in a whispering tone, "Why doesn't 'oo go home to 'dearest?" There is no sentiment about the small boy. He is all things to all men, and that is impudent. No pavement is too sacred to keep him from writing his opinion in the whitest of chalk upon it, and no lampost is too high and no step too much decorated for him not to occupy it and view any passing show. He confesses to but one weakness, and that is dogs. Cats he holds in utter contempt, regarding their tails merely as an appendage by which to swing them, and girls he loathes and in his heart wonders what they were made for. For a few years he will run away from them, and after that time, or until he gets married, he will run after them. The small boy is an institution we could ill afford to dispense with, and, like a great many other institutions, he occasionally needs a thorough warming up. I would like to suggest to his guardians that nothing is quite so efficacious for this purpose as a very high heeled slipper; the heel affords a fine grip and the slipper is less likely to get out of your hand because of this, as you make it caress the cell-like creature in your grasp. The clergy commend this, for it draws the blood from the boy's head and lets him coolly think out the right and wrong of his actions, while it quickens his conscience.

All persons having a Cough or any Pulmonary disease may be relieved by Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Cough Cure. 50 cents per bottle at all druggists.

HOMES FOR THE PEOPLE.

PLANS THAT ARE ARTISTIC, CONVENIENT AND ECONOMICAL.

Here Are Designs for a Picturesque Little Cottage That, It Is Claimed, Can Be Put Up for $600—A Fine Looking House for $1,800.

There has never been a time in the history of man's civilization when the building of houses for homes received so much attention as now. It is becoming the ambition of every man, no matter what his financial level, to own his own home, and the various forms of co-operative real estate buying and building—the loan association and the like—have rendered it far more feasible than in the past for every man to realize this most laudable desire. The results are marvelous. Neat, tasteful and artistic houses are springing up everywhere. The landlord's occupation in many cases is gone. The wage earner, the small business man and the professional man are now their own landlords to an extent that would have been deemed impossible thirty, twenty, nay, five years ago. And not the least gratifying feature of this state of affairs is the fact that it causes every man to give attention to the affairs of his own community. He is a taxpayer—why should he not concern himself with the administration of the government of his town, his village, his city?

Let the good work go on. Let the people of this country become a people of home owners, independent and self respecting. Nothing can more certainly conduce to the greatness of the country as a whole, nothing will more certainly tend to render solid the foundations of peace, public prosperity and the institutions of the general government.

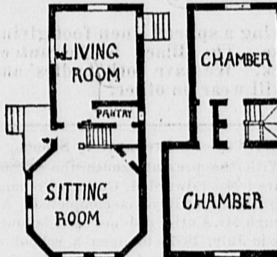

The publishers of this paper, recognizing all this, have decided to furnish its readers with a series of designs and plans for houses of varying cost, from the cottage of a few hundred dollars' expense to the elegant villa. It is expected that the plans will combine economy, convenience and beauty. They have been selected from a number of standard sources and an estimate of cost will be given in each case, though this is an element that must necessarily vary greatly in different localities.

Tasteful Frame Cottage.

This plan is taken from a handsome little pamphlet entitled "Artistic Homes," issued by the National Building Plan association of

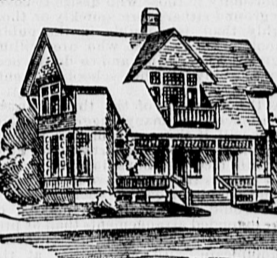

PERSPECTIVE VIEW.
Detroit, Mich., a publication from which we shall draw quite liberally. The estimated cost of the completed building is $600, and it is described as follows in the book of plans: First story, 9 feet high in the clear; cellar, 6 feet. First story contains sitting room, 15x16 feet;

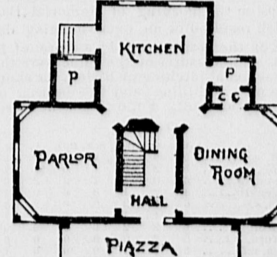

FLOOR PLANS.
Living room, 13x15, with pantry. Attic story contains two large bedrooms. Cellar under living room.

Two Story Frame Dwelling.

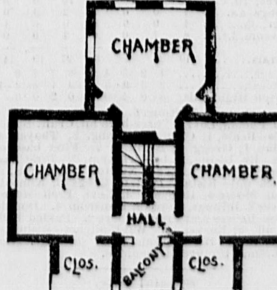

These plans are from "Artistic Homes," by the National Building Plan association, Detroit:

PERSPECTIVE VIEW.
Frame Two Story Dwelling—Height of stories in the clear—first, 10 feet; second, 9 feet 6 inches. Cellar, 6 feet 6 inches. First story contains hall, 7x11; parlor, 12x14; din-

FIRST FLOOR.
Living room, 12x14; kitchen, 13x14; pantry and closet. Second story contains three bedrooms, about 13x14 each, with large closets. First story, clapboards; second story, shingles. Estimated cost of building, $1,800.

SECOND FLOOR.

The Choicest Tea Ever Offered.
PERFECTLY PURE.

A MOST DELICIOUS BEVERAGE. TRY IT.
You will never use any other. Quality never varies.

It is the HIGHEST GRADE LEAF, picked from the best plantations and guaranteed absolutely pure and free from all adulterations or coloring matter. The cans bear the trade mark of the Co., and are hermetically sealed and warranted full weight. It is more economical in use than the lower grades.

O. & O. Tea Co., Ltd.,
Head Office, 31, 33 and 35 Burlington St.,
New York.

For sale by the best Grocers.
H. B. Coffin, C. O. Tucker & Co., G. P. Atkins
Newton; E. Moulton, Newton Highlands; A. R. Pitts, Newton Upper Falls; W. O. Knapp & Co.,
Newton Centre; Boston Branch Grocery, A. A. Savage, C. Strout & Sons, Newtonville; Alonzo Whitney, West Newton; Frank A. Childs, Abnurdale.

PLUMBING.

Timothy J. Hartnett

BRACKETT'S NEW BLOCK,

Centre Street, Opp. Public Library, Newton,

where he is prepared with better facilities to execute all orders with the same care and personal supervision as in the past.

Having had seventeen years' experience on Back Bay work in the city of Boston, and over six years on some of the best work in the city of Newton, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Have water attached to the leading modern water closets at store for inspection and information of house owners and others. The thorough ventilation of the drainage system of buildings a specialty.

First class mechanics employed and first class work solicited. Jobbing and other work receive personal supervision. Contractor for gas piping. Agent for Portland Stone Ware Co's Drain Pipes, Vases, Etc., 35 1/2

MURRAY & FARRELL,

CARRIAGE BUILDERS & HORSE SHOERS,

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS.

Tender to shoeing, overhauling, interfering and fender-footed horses. All kinds of blacksmith and wheelwright work done with neatness and dispatch. Washington, or Par. St. Ward, Newton. Prices very reasonable. All our work guaranteed.

Newton City Market.

All kinds of Fresh and Salt

MEATS,

POULTRY AND GAME,

FISH & OYSTERS,

Butter, Cheese and Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit and Vegetables.

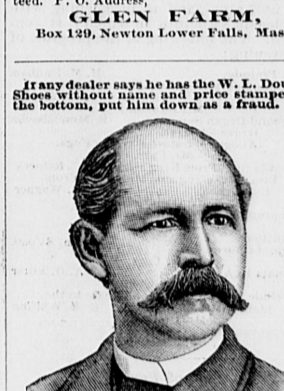

No. 413 Centre Street, Opposite Public Library.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor.

Champagne Cider

Manufactured at the Glen Farm, a quality of Sweet, Sparkling Cider, made from sound fruit, and just the thing for family use, which will be delivered in quart, pint and half pint bottles, any part of Newton. Best article in the market and sure to give satisfaction. Quality guaranteed. P. O. Address,
GLEN FARM,
Box 129, Newton Lower Falls, Mass.

If any dealer says he has the W. L. Douglas Shoes without name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3 SHOE FOR GENTLEMEN.

Best in the world. Examine his $5.00 GENUINE HAND-SEWED SHOE. $3.50 POLICE AND FARMER'S SHOE. $2.50 EXTRA VALUE CALF SHOE. $2.35 WORKINGMAN'S SHOE. $2.00 and $1.75 BOYS' SCHOOL SHOES. All made in Congress, Boston and Lace.

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3 SHOE FOR LADIES.

Best Material. Best Style. Best Fitting. If not sold by your dealer, write to W. L. DOUGLAS, BROCKTON, MASS. Examine W. L. Douglas $2.00 Shoes for gentlemen and ladies.

FOR SALE BY
M. J. O'SHEA, 356 Centre St., Newton.
GEO. E. BARROWS, Newton Centre.

WEST END STREET

RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

WEEK DAY TIME.

First car leaves Newton 5.55 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 5.25 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 9.50 P. M.
Returning leave Bowdoin square 7.05 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 6.35 P. M., then 7 P. M., and every thirty minutes until 11 P. M.

SUNDAY TIME.
First car leaves Newton 7.50 A. M., then every thirty minutes until 12.50 P. M., then every fifteen minutes until 9.50 P. M.

Returning leave Bowdoin square 8.30 A. M. and every thirty minutes until 11.30 A. M., then every fifteen minutes until 11 P. M.
First car for Boston leaves Watertown at 7.25 A. M.
D. F. LONGSTREET,
25 1/2 General Manager.

ORNAMENTAL TREES.

SHRUBS & HERBACEOUS PLANTS.

FOR SALE.

A large and valuable assortment at the

NEWTON

Cemetery Nurseries,

Cemetery Nurseries. Also a large assortment of Greenhouse and Bedding plants. A few extra large size elms and maples.

HENRY ROSS, Supt.

Please call and examine before purchasing elsewhere.

—THE—

ESSEX BOOT & SHOE CO.

28 Essex St., Boston.

F. LESLIE KEENE, Manager.

Have a large assortment of Seasonable Goods, including

Base Ball, Bicycle, Tennis, and Yachting Shoes.

A liberal discount to clubs and yachts. Prices always the lowest. Don't fail to give us a call, we will make it pay you to do so.

EDDY'S

REFRIGERATORS!

I have sold them for the past twenty-one years which is sufficient guarantee that they are the best. Refrigerators of all kinds repaired. Leave your orders and have them attended to at once, as warm weather will soon be here. Stoves, ranges, and furnaces cleaned and repaired. Tin-plate, sheet iron and copper work done in a thorough manner.

JOHN S. SUMNER,

MIDDLESEX BLOCK,

332 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

INSOMNIA - SLEEPLESSNESS.

Dr. B. F. Howard's Hypnotic and Mind's Balm is an infallible remedy for Insomnia. It is purely vegetable, and aids much in the cure of other diseases. Dr. Howard was a great sufferer from this terrible malady. He cured himself—he can cure others.

Address, including stamp for particulars,
Dr. B. F. HOWARD,
37 Tremont St., Boston, Mass.,
OR SEEN AT OFFICE DAILY. 22 1/2

22 1/2

Refining

Pianos

"THE FINEST IN THE WORLD."
HUNT BROS., 34 Essex St., Boston

Meat, Poultry and Game.

"THE CHOICEST" OUR MOTTO.

The New on Market

Established in 1851 and located pleasantly at
NOS. 7 AND 8 COLE'S BLOCK.
has constantly on hand a LARGE and CHOICE SUPPLY of

Meats, Poultry and Game.

W. H. BRACKETT,
Proprietor. Telephone 7854.

We have just placed on sale a full line of

TRADE MARK
PURE DYE
ROYAL

Ladies' Gents' & Misses' Royal FAST BLACK HOSE

We guarantee every pair perfectly fast black and not to stain or crack. If you use them once you will use no other make.

We are also agents for the famous LINWOOD Stocking with spliced Linnen heel and toe. They will outwear two pairs of the plain cotton goods and cost no more.

Francis Murdock & Co.

ROOFING.

Slate, Copper, Tin and Gravel

ROOFING.

Special attention given to repairing.

John Farquhar's Sons,

Nos. 20 and 22 East Street,

BOSTON.

Established 1836. Telephone No. 162. 49 58

W. B. BEAL,

Newton & Boston Express.

Boston: 48 Chatham and 75 Kilby Streets.
Newton: P. O. Box 470, Depot and J. McCannon's.

Leave Newton, 10 A. M., Boston at 3 P. M.
Furniture and Piano Moving.

C. G. NEWCOMB, NEWTON & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Leave Newton 9.30 A. M.; leave Boston 3 P. M.
NEWTON ORDER BOXES: Newton City Market, Post Office. BOSTON OFFICES: 25 Merchants Row, 135 Congress street, 194 Franklin street. Post Office address, Box 439, Newton.

Personal Attention Given all Orders.

A. C. TUPPER

Carpenter and Builder.

Estimates cheerfully given on building and all kinds of carpentry. Orders will be taken through the post office, Box 271, Newton, or at shop on Pearl street, opposite Bacon. All orders will receive prompt attention.

ARTHUR HUDSON.

Analytical and Pharmaceutical

CHEMIST AND APOTHECARY.

(28 years experience in the business.)

WARNER'S BLOCK, NEWTON

Cor. Centre and Elmwood streets.

A full line of Chemicals of Standard Purity always in stock.
Physicians' prescriptions compounded, with accuracy at all hours.

Proprietary Medicines and Druggists' Sundries.

CHEMISTRY.

With a large and thoroughly appointed Laboratory, Mr. Hudson offers his services in the line of his profession. Investigation as to the composition of matter conducted by analyses or syntheses, according to most approved methods.
Analysis of potable waters, milk, etc., a specialty.

The Senior Druggist of Newton.

TELEPHONE 7979.

The Atkinson House-

Furnishing Co.

OF MAINE.

PAYS ITS STOCKHOLDERS

10 Per Cent. Annually in January and July.

$50,000 worth of the stock will be sold at Par
($10 per share) until April 1, 1889. Subscribers now and get a full 5 per cent. dividend in July. Full particulars from the Company, Portland, Me., or

DAVID W. SEARS,
233 1/2 17 Milk Street, Room 5, Boston.

Newton and Watertown

Gas Light Company.

All orders for Gas and Electric Light left at their office, 421 Centre street, Newton, will receive prompt attention.

TELEPHONE 78-2.

CAMBRIDGE LAUNDRY.

NEWTON OFFICE:

Sumner's Block, opposite Newton National Bank.
Work done well and promptly. Work take Monday to 2 P. M., and returned Thursday night Received after Monday and up to Thursday, returned on Saturday. Holland and lace curtain a specialty.

NEWTON LAUNDRY

J. FRED RICHARDSON.

Thornton (formerly School St., near Washington St., Newton.

Best

Special Bargain Week!

A BEAUTIFUL ASSORTMENT OF PARASOLS and SUN UMBRELLAS
in all the new Shades and Colors, ranging in price from 25c to $5 each. We are selling them at LESS than Boston prices.

One lot of the new printed MOHAIR DRESS COODS

Just received from New York. They are very pretty and only 20 a yard, regular price 25c.

Another Lot of the New Open Work printed ORGANDIE LAWNS which we have been selling so many of at 25c, price this week 20c

One Case of Colored Fancy Scrims
Just received worth 15c a yard. Our price for this sale 10c a yard.

One Case of Printed Challies
In Combination Colorings, very pretty and cheap, 8c a yard.

THE LATEST STYLES IN CENTS' FURNISHING COODS
AT THE LOWEST CITY PRICES.

Francis Murdock & Co. NEWTON.

FRANCIS MURDOCK & COMPANY.

1000 Pieces All Silk Fancy Ribbons
5 and 7 in. Wide, all the New Colorings and Combinations. Goods never sold at less than 50c a yard, we shall offer them this week at the nominal price of 29c per yard.

One Lot of All Silk Fancy Ribbons
2 1/2 in. Wide, in the New Shades suitable for BONNET TRIMMING sold at 37 1/2c, our price now only 19c.

Small Lot of All Silk Fancy Ribbons
2 in. Wide, going at 10c a yard.

One Lot of Moire Sash Ribbons
In Beautiful Colorings, worth $1.25 yard, price this week only 69c.

200 Doz. LADIES' JERSEY VESTS
Fancy Trimmed and good value at 25c, our price now only 12 1/2c.

All the Latest Novelties in RUCHINGS
AT LOW PRICES.

We recommend for Durability, it having a spliced linen foot giving double the wear of any common hose. The Black is Guaranteed perfectly Fast, will not stain or crock. We have both Ladies' and Gents'. If you buy them once you will wear no other.

Look at the BARGAINS We Offer!

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR.

This Department we make a specialty of and carry as Fine a Line of these goods as can be found in Boston and at Low Prices. We ask a comparison of Style and Workmanship of these goods.

THOMPSON'S SUMMER CORSETS.

A GREAT BARGAIN, ONLY 75c.

A Fine Embroidered Sateen Corset

In Ecru, Pearl, White and Gold, at only 75c.

SUMMER SHAWLS.

A fine line for Evening Wear just received from New York. They are very cheap.

KID CLOVES

In all the New Styles and Shades. Our $1.25 and $1.75 quality are warranted and we give a new pair for every one that does not give perfect satisfaction.

A Great Variety of FANS

Ranging in price from 5c to $2 each; just received.

Francis Murdock & Co. NEWTON.

SPECIAL SALE.

Having purchased at a very low figure the ENTIRE STOCK, lease fixtures and good will of Messrs. FOSS & GAULT at 22 Temple Place, Boston, it will be sold at a Great Sacrifice.

The stock, which is very large, consists mostly of the best makes of FRENCH, ENGLISH and AMERICAN UNDERWEAR & HOSIERY. All new, fresh goods and the greater part of them imported direct within the last few months. The season being already so far advanced we must AT ONCE close out many thousands of dollars' worth of the most desirable goods at a great sacrifice from importation prices.

LADIES' UNDERWEAR.
White Jersey Vests, 3 sizes, 50c, former price 75c.
Jersey Knickerbocker Drawers 50c, former price 75c.
Superior English make Gossamer weight Vests $1.00, marked from $1.75.
Very fine quality Vests and Drawers $1.25, reduced from $2.00.

CHILDREN'S UNDERWEAR.
Child's India Gauze Vests, would be very cheap at 25c, 17c.
Children's Combination Suits in sizes from 10 to 30, 60c, 75c, and $1, reduced from 85c, $1 and $1.50.

LADIES', MEN'S and CHILDREN'S HOSIERY.
$10,000 in Hosiery alone that must be closed. The kinds and mark-downs are too numerous to mention, but you will find many lines marked down from 25 to 75 per cent.

A. L. GORDAN,

22 Temple Place, Boston.

ALSO AT

Robinson's Block, West Newton,

where many of these goods will be sold. Also many of the Dry Goods, Gents' Furnishings and Boots and Shoes, now in stock, will be marked at prices to close.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

COACHMAN.—Wanted situation for a Coachman, on gentleman's place. Been in my employ for past three years. Best of references. Address C. J. BAILEY, Newton. 3412

TO LET.—A suite of rooms to let permanently in a very desirable location in West Newton. Address P. O. Box 155. 241

TO LET.—On the march, Decoration Day, a regimental badge. The finder will be suitably rewarded by returning it to Horatio Carter, Newtonville. 241

FOR SALE.—Pew No. 109 in the new Eliot Church. Enquire of Dr. SCALF. 241

TO LET.—Small tenement. Enquire at 25 Park street, Newton. 241

BOARD.—Very pleasant rooms at the Misses Allen's, 25 Vernon street, Newton. 33

FOR SALE.—Three fine new milch cows, Jersey and Holstein breed. Prices reasonable. D. A. White, Glen Avenue, Newton Centre, Mass. 22

TO LET.—On Washington street, a convenient house of six rooms. Apply to H. C. Daniels. 29

FOR RENT.—South side of the railroad, five minutes from Newton station, a tenement of six rooms and bath room, hot and cold water, furnace and all modern conveniences. New and clean, nice, convenient and cozy home for a small family. Inquire of H. J. Wood, Elliot Block, 32 St Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 55-3. 221f

WANTED.—Second hand furniture. Any party having second hand furniture, carpets, etc., that they would like to dispose of, can find a purchaser by applying to John Flood, Nonantum Block, or at his house, cor. of Centre and Pearl streets, Newton. Telephone 62-3. 31 1f

TO LET.—Houses in Newtonville; 8 rooms 44 Clarendon, $15 per month. D. P. O'Sullivan, Cabot St., Newtonville, Telephone 55-3. 221f

TO RENT.—One half double house on Cross street, nine rooms, all modern improvements. Rent, $22 per month, including water rates. Apply to E. T. Wiswall, 40 Cross street. 301f

FOR SALE.—The prettiest and fastest pony and cart in the State. Sold for no fault, but owner has outgrown them. Apply at this office. 301f

TO LET.—Two medium sized houses, in good locality near depot, nine rooms each, all modern conveniences, on reasonable terms. Address "Letter Carrier," Newton, Mass. 301f

TO LET.—Furnished or unfurnished rooms in a pleasant locality and near the depot. Address H. Letter carrier No. 2, Newton. 301f

WANTED.—Good competent girls to take nice situations in first class families. Apply to McWain, Intelligence Office, Nickerson's Block, Newton Centre. 28

TO LET.—House of 10 rooms, bathroom and steam and horse cars. The windows and doors are all supplied with wire screens and there is a good range with hot water connection in the kitchen. Apply to 371 Washington street, Newton. 28

TO RENT.—New house, 6 rooms, bath and furnace. All modern conveniences. Apply to T. J. Hartnett. 28

TO LET.—Handsome furnished rooms with board at 288 Newtonville Avenue. Apply to J. W. Cotton, Newtonville. 201f

TO LET.—House of 8 rooms, Webster Park. Nice, sunny house, cemented cellar and furnace. Apply to Robert Bennett, Station Agent, West Newton. 21 f

FOR SALE.—Retail Provision route of one horse and buggy and fifty to two hundred customers. Apply to A. D. Hall, Newton Highlands, Mass. 12

TO LET.—On Thornton, (formerly School) St., corner of Avon Place, Ward One, half of double French roof dwelling, 10 rooms besides bath room. All the modern conveniences. Early possession. Moderate rent. Apply to G. W. Crosby, 8 Eldredge Street. 201f

ILLUMINATION

Is our sole business, and it is so conducted that we offer the largest stock, the greatest variety (of both standard goods and novelties) and the lowest prices, of any concern in this country. No matter whether you wish to light your house, your store, your factory, a church, or a public building, you cannot afford NOT to get our designs and prices. We are importers and manufacturers, wholesale dealers and retailers.

R. HOLLINGS & CO.,

647 Washington Street, Boston.

(Continued from 1st page.)
The present and future missionary enterprises of this church. May this window be a faithful index to posterity of what we expect of them from generation to generation. Let the young men of Eliot church of today, and of generations yet unborn, find in this window an inspiration to obey the call, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

OTHER ADDRESSES.
Rev. Wm. S. Leavitt, the first minister of Eliot Church, who served from 1845 to 1853, gave a short address from the text, "Other men have labored and ye have entered into the fruits of their labors." He came to the church when a young man of 23, when he thought he was fit to teach theology to others. He knew now a great deal less than he did then, but he rejoiced at the prosperity of the church, at the magnificent building they had erected. He was with the church in its early days of trial and of struggle, and to use that word, but happily slavery had passed away, and whatever the next struggle might be he hoped the church would stand up for liberty of thought, for liberty of the soul, for free speech, a free Bible and freedom of worship.

Rev. S. M. Freeland, minister of the church from 1853 to 1878, made the closing address. He said that one thought was forcibly suggested to him, which was, "Can you afford to live here?" When a man builds a fine house, this question is asked, and it should be of a church. The new edifice had cost about three times as much as the former one. He expected to see their benevolent offerings three times as great, and their Christian work largely increased. The church was built on ground that had been consecrated by the struggles, the sorrows and the joys of the fathers of the church, but the building would not be consecrated until it had been made sacred by similar struggles, by wrestlings like that of Jacob with the angel for the blessing. He alluded, also, in a very feeling manner to some who had passed away and whose names had become identified with the history of the church.

The exercises closed with the Hallelujah chorus from the "Messiah," and the benediction by Rev. W. A. Lamb.

The pulpit platform was handsomely decorated with bouquets of flowers, and the attendance was so large that chairs had to be brought in, and even then many stood during the service; and many who came later went away, being unable to find seats. It was certainly the largest congregation ever assembled in Newton, and the new church was none too large for the opening service.

Eliot Church Organ Concert.

The organ opening at the Eliot church on Monday evening was an event which had been awaited by music-lovers with much interest, and attracted an audience which completely filled the large edifice, notwithstanding the rain. The varied and rich program gave a fine opportunity for displaying the powers and resources of the magnificent instrument. The finished and artistic playing of Mr. Dunham and Mr. Carr was much enjoyed, and the numbers of Mr. Clark designed to show the peculiar and odd effects which may be produced on the organ, were pleasantly received.

To those, however, who were unacquainted with the powers of Mr. Goodrich, the organist of the church, his playing was a revelation and a surprise. Contrasted as it was with the efforts of the best professional organists, it is not too much to say that it fully equalled them in every particular of merit and skill.

We are unable, from want of space, to give a description of the noble instrument itself. It is one of the largest in the state, containing 37 stops, 3 manuals and 2407 pipes, and is in keeping with the elegant structure in which it is contained. The following is the program of the evening:

1. a. Prelude, H. M. Dunham
- b. Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique, A. Guilman
2. Second Organ Sonata, F. Mendelssohn
- a. Adagio, From King Manfred, C. Reineck
- b. Elsa's Brautlied zum Mysterium, From Lohengrin, R. Wagner
3. Improvisation on a familiar melody, Mr. Goodrich
4. Cantilene, Th. Salome
5. Grand Choeur, Mr. Carr
6. Sonata in A minor, A. G. Ritter
7. Prelude, five interludes and finale to the plain chant Magnificat, G. E. Whiting
8. Improvisation, "The Storm," Mr. Dunham

Sale of Pews.

The sale of pews drew a very large number to the new Eliot church building Tuesday evening, and great interest was manifested in the securing of seats. Mr. Henry E. Cobb made a very efficient auctioneer and made the sale pass off rapidly and at very satisfactory premiums.

He opened the sale with a short address, reminding the people that they were buying not only for themselves but for their children, and that they should choose a satisfactory church home. The bidding began in a very spirited manner, the first pew being sold to Mr. N. P. Coburn at a premium of $675. The second and third were bid in at the same premium by Mr. J. C. Potter and Mr. Chas. E. Billings. Mr. H. E. Cobb bid off two pews at a premium of $500 each. The first pews chosen were taken in the south centre aisle, which seemed to be a favorite place. The pews were valued at from $800 to $15 each, and the premiums ranged from the sums named down to $5. The sale was kept up until after 10 o'clock, and all who desired to buy were given an opportunity, so that there was no necessity of postponing the sale. The total amount of premiums on pews sold amounted to about $14,000, and the remaining pews will be turned over to the society to be rented. The sale is regarded as very satisfactory.

The Amherst Concert.

It is only fair to state that the failure of the Amherst Glee Club to appear at Eliot Hall on Saturday evening was in no way due to the local manager. He had been instructed during the week, by telegraph, to go on with the arrangements and did not learn of the change until nearly midnight on Friday when it was too late to enter any effective protest. Holders of unused tickets may recover their money by presenting their tickets to those of whom they purchased them.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Subscription for one year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.

Entered as second class matter.

All money sent at the sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable to

EDWARD D. BALDWIN, Editor and Publisher

TELEPHONE NO. 80.

The GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston & Albany News Room, Boston Depot.

ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC HAS BEEN CONSOLIDATED WITH THE GRAPHIC.

THE STREET RAILWAY HEARING.

The street railway hearing on Monday evening was a rather tame affair, and Mr. Hyde was needed to enliven it with his remarks and give a sort of a background to the very rose-colored testimony of the experts.

Hon. Linus M. Child was the attorney for the Storage Battery company, and strangely enough he had not taken the pains to inform himself of the merits of the case. He assumed that a location had been granted to the Newton Street Railway company the week before, when the location was granted nearly two years ago and it was only the right to use the overhead wire system that was granted at the previous meeting. Mr. Child said that his company only asked for a location on those streets named in their petition, on which a location had not been granted to the other company. These streets are chiefly short and unimportant ones, and should the board do as Mr. Child asked, they would have a location on a half dozen streets in different parts of the city, miles distant from each other, and the grant would be of very little practical use to them. Until this attorney has some more practical plan to propose, the board can hardly be blamed if they do nothing in the matter. The board could of course rescind the location granted some years ago, or they can wait until it expires, next October, but it would hardly be wise to grant two different roads a location on the same street.

The gentlemen who testified seemed very enthusiastic upon the subject of storage batteries, and especially in regard to the inventions of Col. Hewins, which have had a practical test on one car of the West end road. All will hope that the system can be proved a success, as that is the ideal system, and with the merits claimed, it would be adopted by every street railroad in the country.

There is to be a practical test on the Beverly and Danvers road in July, on which four of Col. Hewins' cars are to be placed, as soon as they are finished, and they have been ordered to be completed as soon as possible. The test will be watched with a good deal of interest, both by citizens and by street railway men.

The company will find the Newton board of aldermen willing to treat them fairly, whether the Newton Street Railway company is the West End company or not. The West End company may have a great deal of money, but neither they nor any other corporation has money enough to buy up a majority of the Newton aldermen. Fortunately for Newton, its board of aldermen is beyond the reach of any kind of a bribe, and so far they seem to have acted fairly and justly to both the company that is in the field and to the one that wants to be.

BETTER EDUCATION NEEDED.

Senator Edmunds takes a hopeful view of the political situation, although he is of the opinion that corrupt political methods in the selection of lawmakers and of the executors of the law has at least kept pace with material advancement in this country, as elsewhere. Agents of both the political parties in recent years, he believes, have yielded to temptation to purchase votes in close States and to tamper with registration and election returns. The chief causes, he says, are, first, the intensity of party feeling, which warps the judgment and stifles the conscience of even well-meaning citizens who have no personal, selfish ends in view; and, secondly, the greed of a small class of citizens who are in politics for what they can make out of it. Both political parties, the Senator thinks, have fallen shamefully short of their brilliant promises of civil service reform in their actual performances. Nevertheless, he thinks that real progress has been made, and that there is fair ground for hope that before many years the offices will cease to be regarded as spoils. In this he is probably correct, because the people are being educated on this question and roused to the necessity for the reform, which so far the politicians have scoffed at, either openly or secretly. When public sentiment becomes such that no man who yields to the spoils system can hope to be elected to office, then we may expect to see a change of heart, and the Goves, the Quays, the Hills and the Gormans, will profess reform principles as ardently as they now flout them. Reform may be defeated this year or next year, but all who believe in the future of our government see that it must come sooner or later. Men who are in politics for the sake of personal profit cannot be expected to prove reformers, to be very nice about methods. Senator Edmunds sets forth several remedies for the present condition of things, the most important of which he considers to be the better education of the voters and their children,—an education including the essential truth that every citizen of the republic in town, district, city, State or nation is personally a real factor for good or ill in the great sum of the general welfare; that his own opinion—the best effort of his mind and heart—is the sole true guide for him, and that, in spite of corrupt temptations, or the blare of trumpets, or the flames of torches, or the excitements of contest or victory of one party or another, his mission for himself and his children is to follow the light that his knowledge and his conscience perceive, and not that of any other man.

THE NEW ELIOT CHURCH.

The dedication of the new Eliot Church building has been an event of great interest to many in Newton, and the church is to be congratulated on its handsome and commodious edifice, the largest and most costly church building in Newton. As the church is the largest and wealthiest religious body in the city, it is fitting that this should be the case, and the money has been well expended. The building is an ornament to the city and will remain for generations as a testimonial to the religious faith and liberality of the builders. They built not only for themselves but for future generations, who will enjoy the beautiful structure many years after the present generation have passed away. In this issue we give a picture of the new building and also one of the old one, with a full description of the work of building, and of the completed structure. Mr. Billing's report gives an account of the very satisfactory way in which the building committee have performed their labors, and we are glad to be able to give the report in full. The fine organ was fully described in last week's issue, and seems to be all that was expected from the high reputation of its makers. The report of the dedicatory exercises is necessarily somewhat brief, on account of the lack of time for a fuller report, it being found impossible to procure the addresses in advance; nevertheless, a full summary is given, with all important facts. The presence of the other ministers of this section of Newton shows the friendly relations that exist between the different denominations, and that the new church is looked upon as belonging not only to Eliot Church but to the whole city, to which it is such an ornament.

The action of the City Council in buying land for almshouse purposes will be welcome news to the village of Waban, to which the present almshouse has been a decided disadvantage. It ought to give a great impulse to building there, as a large number of property owners have said that they were only waiting for the removal of the almshouse to be decided upon, before putting up new buildings and improving that section. A good start has already been made, a portion of the land has been attractively laid out, and a number of handsome houses have been built. If proper measures are taken Waban will be one of the handsomest sections of Newton, as it has great natural advantages, and it will attract people who wish good-sized estates, with houses in keeping. Owing to its location at the middle of the Circuit road, its residents can go to Boston in either direction, without extra expense, and within a very few years it will be connected by street railways with the other villages. One of the most important things to be done there is to widen all the main streets, which can be easily done now, while land is cheap, and few buildings have been erected. A portion of the city's land will probably be saved for an engine house and school buildings, while the remainder will bring much more than enough to pay for the change. The site for the new almshouse, at nearly the end of Cherry street, is probably as unobjectionable a site as could be chosen, and there will be land enough for all necessary purposes.

An effort is being made to simplify the tangled laws and decisions now followed in administering the tariff, and it is said that the chances are good for the passage of such a bill by the next Congress. The necessity of such a reform has been long felt, and a bill would have been passed before, had it not been for the extremists of both parties, who would let nothing be done if their own tariff bills could not be carried out. Secretary Manning called the attention of Congress to the necessity of some reform in the administrative features of the tariff, and Secretary Windom is known to hold the same views. A committee, consisting of Deputy Collector Fiske and Appraiser Stearns of the Boston Custom House, and Mr. J. R. Leeson of this city, representing the Home Market Club and Merchants' Association, is holding a series of conferences, to discuss the reforms that are needed, in accordance with the request of the Senate subcommittee, and the results of their labors will be sent to Secretary Windom before Congress meets. The vexed question of tariff-reform will not be entered upon, but only to simplify the present complicated methods, so that such a bill ought to have a good chance of passing. The fact that Boston men have been chosen for this work, shows that their ability and intelligence is appreciated by the country and the present administration.

The order appropriating $1400 for a public bath house and the salary of an attendant, the house to be located on Bullough's pond, certainly ought to pass.

There is now no convenient bathing place within the limits of the city, and Newton ought certainly to do something to show it is in favor of cleanliness. Some years ago there used to be numerous bathing places, but with the growth of the city these have had to be given up, until now there are none save on the further limits of the city, at too great a distance from the centers of population to be available. The large number of boys who have to remain in the city all the summer should be provided with some of the luxuries which every large city offers, and for this reason a public bath house should be provided.

In the report of the school board last week, a mistake was made in crediting $30 to each grammar school for the union exercises at West Newton, instead of $30 for the whole, which makes quite a difference. The $200 added to Superintendent Emerson's salary makes it $3,300, which includes his salary as clerk of the board. Out of this sum he pays his secretary. We are glad to make these corrections, as the GRAPHIC, although it has differed with the school board in the past, has always endeavored to treat the board fairly, and not to criticize their acts adversely unless the facts warranted it. Our school board certainly spends enough money, without being charged with expenses they have not incurred.

REPRESENTATIVE SLOCUM of this city made an excellent speech on the provincial laws matter, endorsing the work of Mr. Goodell, and the house voted to continue the work by the emphatic majority of 111 to 49. This disposes of one of the most scandalous attacks upon a public official, in the history of the Commonwealth, and it is a victory for those people who do not believe in sensational and unfounded attacks upon public men. Newspapers who pursue that policy may succeed in selling papers, but they do not gain reputation.

THE Metropolitan sewerage bill seems to be working its way along, in spite of the habit of this legislature of referring all troublesome questions to the next general court. The subject has been so generally discussed, that it might as well be passed now as next year, for sewerage is needed.

The Suburban Press Association had a very pleasant visit to the Waltham Watch Factory, Monday afternoon, closing with a lunch in the Treasurer's office, at which speeches were made by President Fitch of the Watch company, and by the visitors.

Camp 100, Sons of Veterans.

This camp has started off in a vigorous manner and under the most favorable circumstances. The first regular meeting, after its formation, was held in Good Templars' Hall at West Newton, last Monday evening. Five new members were elected and many more sons of veteran soldiers are soon to join.

The interest in this camp exhibited by the old soldiers is a sure guarantee of a good backing by them if needed, but from all present appearances these young men are fully competent to care for their own welfare, and paddle their own canoe. It must not be understood that these Sons of Veterans are mere boys. That is a mistaken idea some have. The sons must be eighteen years old, at least, to become members, and the work they have to do is an education of no small value and importance.

At the meeting last Monday evening, the newly elected officers were put squarely on their feet to initiate new members, when they had seen the work done by once, and that the evening of the formation of the camp and their own installations. The work was excellently done and speaks well for the ability and painstaking efforts of the officers.

The feature of the evening was a surprise presentation to the camp, by Post Commander A. T. Sylvester, Esq., of Post 62, G. A. R., presented to the camp, in behalf of the Newton Ladies' Home Circle, swords for the officers. This doubtless shows a beginning of the deep and continued interest the ladies will take in the success of the camp. If some of our public spirited citizens will see that they have a flag, guidons and a few other necessary properties, it will aid these young men at the beginning of what will be, we hope, one of the most successful camps in Massachusetts. The members of the camp have received and accepted an invitation from Charles Ward Post, No. 62, G. A. R., to parade with them and take part in Memorial day exercises.

A Revolution in Cooking.

We have recently seen an oil range which seems to completely solve the problem of cooking with oil. It has what housekeepers have long been looking for—power. The wicks are on the principle of the Student or Rochester lamp, making it one-third more powerful than any other stove of equal size. It is called the "Famous" Oil Range and is manufactured by the Smith & Anthony Stove Company, of Boston, and sold by their agents everywhere. Unlike other oil stoves, the "Famous" is mounted on a strong stand with castors, and is high enough to work over with ease. It possesses a decided novelty in a permanent laundry attachment for heating four flat irons at the same time without taking up any room on the top of the stove. It is odorless and non-explosive and can be graduated to run light or strong, as desired. It is a complete substitute for a coal range, and housekeepers will find it a welcome addition to the kitchen outfit. By addressing the manufacturers, or their agents, complete descriptive circulars can be obtained.

Louisiana postmaster (who is assisted in his duties by his young bride)—Why, Mary, what are all these postal-cards doing here? They should have gone in the last mail. Young bride (who is a Massachusetts school-mistress)—Oh, I have just put them aside until I should have time to correct the spelling.—[Salem Gazette.]

Squareprice—What ails your face? Looks like you have been toying with barbed wire. Savepenny—No, I am parading the new five-cent barber-shop. Get cut rates there, you know.—[Omaha World.]

IS YOUR BAKING POWDER PURE?

Do its Manufacturers Publish all the Ingredients Used?

IS IT FREE FROM AMMONIA?

As is well known, ammonia is unhealthy in food, and dries up the bread material.

Protection to consumers of food compounds lies in their ability to choose those made from healthful substances. Unless manufacturers publish just what their baking powder is made of, do not use their goods, but buy instead

CLEVELAND'S SUPERIOR BAKING POWDER.

This powder is made only of strictly pure grape cream of tartar, and strictly pure bicarbonate of soda, with a little wheat flour to preserve it. This is attested by the official analyses of Government and State chemists, and physicians, and chemists of Boards of Health throughout the country. CLEVELAND BROTHERS, ALBANY, N. Y.

OUR

"Wear-Resister Suits" FOR BOYS

may be found on our counters in three different mixtures, made from wear-resisting and untearable materials.

These goods are substantially the best substances for hard service of any known material that can be shaped into wearing apparel; and the special adaptability of the fabric for resistance to wear has prompted us to copyright the name of "Wear-Resister" as applied to Boys' Clothing, with more than ordinary success.

$6.00.

A. SHUMAN & CO.

Manufacturing Retailers,

BOYS' DEPARTMENT.

440 Washington Street.

Corner Summer St., Boston. 33 2

A. L. JEWELL,

Real Estate and Mortgages

ROGER'S BUILDING,

209 Washington St., Boston. 1113

THOMAS SINCLAIR,

Practical Upholsterer

Upholstery in all its branches. Hair Mattresses made to order and remade. Window shades made of the best material and only the best fixtures used. Every shade warranted to give satisfaction. Prices as low as is consistent with good work and material. 48

E. A. LIBBY,

IMPORTER OF

Rich Paris Millinery

Mourning Orders a Specialty.

No. 19 Temple Place, Boston. 31-17

A TIMELY FACT

FOR PLANTERS.

The best place to buy your Bedding Plants is a

John Irving's Greenhouses,

161 Pearl Street, Newton. 31-13

RICHARD ROWE,

Insurance Agency,

No. 2 Mason Building,

WATER STREET, - - BOSTON.

P. O. Box 304, Newtonville. 32

Real Estate.

Mortgages.

Insurance.

Newton, Newtonville, West Newton, Anburndale.

SPECIAL ATTENTION paid to SALE and LEASING OF ESTATES in the above villages.

Representatives of all the LEADING INSURANCE COMPANIES.

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville Sq. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington Street, Boston.

REMOVAL.

ALYAH SKINNER & SON

DEALERS IN

Diamonds, Other Gems

AND WATCHES.

6 WINTER STREET,

BOSTON,

Corner Washington. Room 2.

The large increase in our business, and the many additions we are constantly making to the variety of our goods, compels our removal to a larger store, the spacious room No. 2, at corner of Winter and Washington Streets, over B. F. Bradbury's Drug Store, where we hope to renew the kind consideration of our trade. 32 4

ALYAH SKINNER & SON.

TO DEPOSITORS

Newton Savings Bank.

An Act Requiring Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings, to call in their Books of Deposit, at Stated Intervals.

(Chapter 40 Acts of 1888.)

"During the year eighteen hundred eighty nine and every third year thereafter, Savings Banks and Institutions for Savings shall call in the books of deposit of their depositors, for verification, in such manner as their respective boards of trustees may elect."

In accordance with the above law, all depositors in Newton Savings Bank are requested to bring in their books of deposit, to the bank, at their earliest convenience for verification. By vote of the Trustees of Newton Savings Bank.

GEORGE HYDE, Committee of INVESTMENT FOR NEWTON SAVINGS BANK
WILLARD MARCY, Investment for NEWTON SAVINGS BANK
JAMES F. C. HYDE, Investment for NEWTON SAVINGS BANK
NEWTON, May 7, 1889.

CHURCHILL & BEAN

TAILORS AND IMPORTERS,

Invite an inspection of their carefully selected

Spring Cloths

503 Washington St.

BOSTON.

G. F. CHURCHILL, Newtonville.

J. H. BEAN, Dorchester.

WALTHAM

WATCHES

—AT—

Lowest Prices.

Rings, Jewelry and Chains.

L. D. Whittemore, Jr.,

411 Centre St.,

Fine Watch Repairing.

French, English and American

Clocks put in first-class order.

All work guaranteed.

F.M. Whipple & Co,

—Artists in—

STAINED GLASS

—AND—

METALLO - MOSAIC - GLASS,

—FOR—

Churches & Dwellings.

86 Federal St., Boston, Mass.,

or at residence

88 Harvard Street, Newtonville. 2417

ROBERT MILLER & CO.

Manufacturers of

AWNINGS,

CANOPIES,

Horse Wagon Covers

AND FLAGS.

Tents for sale or to let.

330 STATE STREET

BOSTON. 3117

Enthusiastic professor—Yes, gentle men, that was a great time. Herder had written his "Walden." Lessing was in full activity. Goethe had begun his brilliant career and Schiller was about to be born.—[Fliegende Blätter.]

Number Your Houses

And so obtain the FREE POSTAL DELIVERY. If you do not know your number enclose a postal card, addressed with your name and street to the City Engineer, West Newton, who will return it with your correct number. You can get the best

Bronze Metal Nickled Plated

2 inch numbers at

BARBER BROS.

HARDWARE STORE,

No 415 Centre Street.

MILK & CREAM.

WARRANTED PURE.

Having one of the largest dairies in the state with all modern improvements for cooling and keeping of milk, I am better prepared to serve the trade than ever before, having everything in the best possible condition in all its detail. Also Fresh Eggs, Poultry and Choice Bottled Champagne Cider. In their season, Strawberries, Raspberries and Currants, delivered fresh every day. Address

E. JENNINGS. Box 129, Newton Lower Falls.

HAIR CUTTING

J. T. BURN'S,

Cole's Block.

With Latest Improved Hair Clippers.

We can cut half any length or style to suit our patrons. Ladies' "Misses" and Children's Hair Cutting a specialty. Ladies waiting room next door to barber shop. Razors carefully honed and concealed. Children's Sea Foam only 10 cents, one of the best in Boston for cleaning the scalp. Don't forget our Root Black for the general accommodation of the public at

JOHN T. BURNS'

Hair Dressing Rooms,

Cole's Block, over H. B. Coffin's.

Open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m., 12 Saturdays.

Charles S. Holbrook.

Fire, Life & Accident Insurance.

No. 44 KILBY STREET, BOSTON.

POST OFFICE BOX 241, NEWTON.

Insurance placed in reliable companies allow best rates.

FISH OYSTERS,

Vegetables & Fruit of all Kinds

—AT—

Bunting's Fish Market.

COLE'S BLOCK.

Established 1877. Connected by Telephone.

Mrs. F. A. THOMSON,

MILLINERY.

Mourning orders will receive prompt attention.

Hats dyed and pressed.

CENTRE STREET, : NEWTON, MASS.

OPPOSITE BANK.

A New Photographer in Newton!

ODIN FRITZ

Formerly the artist with H. F. Holland and Partridge of Boston, where he was eminently successful, particularly so with the "Little Folks" wishes to inform the public that he has taken Mr. Gilne's studio, remodeled and fitted it for first-class work, and hopes for confidence and generous patronage.

Special rates to schools and classes. Open for appointments and sittings, April 6th. Respectfully,

ODIN FRITZ,

STUDIO

358 Centre St., Newton. Mass.

1882 ESTABLISHED 1887

HUBBARD & PROCTER,

PHARMACISTS,

Successors to

Chas. F. Rogers,

BRACKETT'S BLOCK

NEWTON, MASS.

JOB F. BAILEY

KEEPS THE BEST STOCK OF

Doors, Blinds, Windows,

—AND—

Building Materials

THAT CAN BE FOUND.

24 Kneeland Street

BOSTON.

(A few doors west of the B. & A. Station.)

Below are some of the articles he keeps on hand.

Doors, Windows, Blinds, Sashes, Cellars, Skylights, Moulding, Stair Posts, Stair Rails, Blinds, one-half roll, Turned Walnut Balusters, Plain Balusters, Framing Pins, Blind Trimmings, Pine Shelves, Walnut Shelves, Dowels, Gutters, Conductors, Thresholds, Conductor Irons, Brackets, Single Front Doors, Pairs Front Doors, Store Doors, Hard Wood Doors to Order, Store Sash, Glass and Putty, Plate Glass 1-light Sash, 2-light Sash, 3-light Sash, 4-light Sash, 2-light Windows, 4-light Windows, 8-light Windows, 12-light Windows, 15-light Windows, 18-light Windows, 24-light Windows.

Send for prices before you buy, or send for just what you want and he will send it to you. 33 17

NEWTON'S DEAD SOLDIERS.

A LIST OF THOSE BURIED IN OUR CEMETERIES.

The following list of the soldiers who are buried in Newton cemeteries has been prepared, with the companies to which they belonged, as far as it has been possible to ascertain them. The Post would be glad to have the missing particulars sent to them, so as to make the record complete.

NEWTON CEMETERY.
Avery, George,	1st Mass. Inf.
Arthur, J. H.,	13th Ind. Vols.
Benson, W. R.,
Bassett, L. F.,
Bent, J. S.,
Brace, G. F.,	70th U. S., C. T.
Brace, T. L.,	1st Mass. Cav.
Briggs, A. P.,
Brigdon, J. E.,	1st Mass. Cav.
Bradbury, William,	44th Mass. Inf.
Boyd, G. S.,	33d Mass. Inf.
Buck, E. R.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Belcher, C. A.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Belcher, W. H.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Bruce, Robert,	1st Mass. Cav.
Clark, J. S.,	8th Vt. Inf.
Chapman, A. F.,	5th Mass. Cav.
Carroll, Howard,
Cazmay, S. W.,	5th N. J. Vols.
Carver, R.,
Cardozo, T. W.,
Daily, W. H.,	30th Mass. Inf.
Faye, A. J.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Fell, William,	32d Mass. Inf.
Fiffeld, C. E.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Hamblin, J. C.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Harrington, H. C.,
Hitchcock, T. B.,	42d Mass. Inf.
Hawkes, L. S.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Huntress, G. E.,
Houghton, J. P.,	1st Mass. Inf.
Harris, W. A.,	1st Mass. Cav.
Harris, Arlon,	1st R. I. Cav.
Hovey, C. A.,
Johnson, W. H.,	13th Mass. Inf.
Jackson, T. L.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Kingsbury, R. S.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Kimball, George,
Lyman, E.,
Lyon, Henry,	44th Mass. Inf.
Lawson, H. T.,	16th Mass. Inf.
Leach, L.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Merrett, O. P.,
Morgan, E. M.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Myers, John,	1st Mass. Cav.
Morey, G.,	5th U. S. Cav.
Norcross, J. C.,	16th Mass. Inf.
Nichols, S. C.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Park, W. H., Jr.,	U. S. Navy
Perkins, J. S.,	Surgeon U. S. Army
Ramsdell, G. P.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Rogers, J. B.,	57th Mass. Inf.
Rice, W. H.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Roffe, M. J. H.,	1st Mass. Cav.
Ray, Geo. H.,
Stevens, H. M.,	45th Mass. Inf.
Stone, H. L.,	24th Mass. Inf.
Stone, G. W.,	8th Mass. Inf.
Spaulding, S. C.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Trowbridge, L. F.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Trask, F. L.,
Trowbridge, W. O.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Underwood, A. B.,	32d Mass. Inf.
Ward, Charles,	32d Mass. Inf.
Ward, J. G.,	32d Mass. Inf.
White, H. K.,	26d Mass. Inf.
White, George R.,	10th Mass. Inf.
Weatherbee, G. L.,
Whitney, A. W.,	13th Mass. Inf.
Walker, E. A.,	U. S. N.
White, E.,	50th N. Y. Vols.
Washburn, A.,
Wetherell, A. B.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Fowle, John, (war of 1812)
Nichols, J. L.,
Rand, C.,
ST. MARY'S, NEWTON LOWER FALLS.
Arnold, L.,	U. S. N.
Beatty, F.,	U. S. N.
Crane, Zenas,	44th Mass. Inf.
Eaton, W. W.,	1st Mass. Inf.
Flagg, H. F.,
Flagg, J. L.,	16th Mass. Vols.
Hill, George N.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Hooker, C. F.,	1st Mass. Cav.
Jones, Charles,	U. S. N.
Jordan, W. E.,	44th Mass. Inf.
Kendall, A. A.,	12th Mass. Inf.
Perkins, G. T.,	26th Mass. Inf.
Perkins, F. W.,	U. S. N.
Whitton, John,	1st Mass. Cav.
Hooker, Z. E., (revolutionary),
HIGHLANDS.
Brown, C. S.,	1st Mass. Inf.
Cornish, E.,	N. Y. Vols.
Davall, C. H.,
Unknown,
Pettie, Thomas, (revolutionary),
WEST NEWTON.
Jones, Charles,	15th Mass.
CENTRE STREET.
Newell, R. H.,
Burnham,
Army Nurse, unknown,
Hull, William, (revolutionary),
Brown, E.,
UPPER FALLS.
Tapp, A.,	1st Mass. H. Art.
MOUNT AUBURN.
Edmonds, J. C.,	24th and 32d Mass. Inf.
Edmonds, J. W.,	(citizen).

New Music.

We have received the following new music from Messrs. White, Smith & Co., 516 Washington street, Boston: "Loyal and True," (Decorative Hymn) words and music by W. A. Springer; "Cover With Blossoms these Comrades of Ours," for male voices, words by Mrs. F. B. Pratt, music by Geo. Thome; "It's a Long Lane that has no Turn," song and chorus, words and music by Dan Lyons; "Messengers of Love, Waiters," for pianoforte, Geo. H. Hayes; "The American Flag," song for bass or baritone, words by J. R. Drake, music by C. C. Stearns; "We'll ever keep thy memory green," arranged for male and mixed quart, words by Frank N. Scott, music by C. A. White; "The Follies" for June.

A man entered Brentano's very hurriedly the other day and said to the attendant, "Have you a book called 'The Quick or the Tiger'?" "You mean 'The Lady or the Dead,' don't you?" said the attendant with a smile. "Yes. How much is it?"—[Texas Siftings.]

Farmer's boy—Say, pop, there's a man outside wants a job to help clean out the stable, and feed pigs, and do other chores for a while. Farmer—A tramp? Boy—Dunno; he's purty well dressed. Farmer (who has seen Denham Thompson's "Old Homestead")—Oh! I guess he's some New York actor practicing a new play.—[New York Weekly.]

"Doctor, if there is no such thing as hydrophobia, how does it happen so many persons who have been bitten by rabid dogs die afterward in convulsions?" "They die of fright, sir. They are scared to death. The imagination sometimes exerts a power sufficient to kill." "Then why can't a patient who thinks he has hydrophobia be cured in the same way by making him imagine he is going to get well?" "Because we can't inspire him with any—er—faith in our medicines."—[Chicago Tribune.]

WEST NEWTON BAPTIST SUNDAY-SCHOOL.

INTERESTING EXERCISES IN CONNECTION WITH THE TWENTY-THIRD ANNIVERSARY.

There was a large gathering in the Baptist church Sunday evening upon the occasion of the twenty-third anniversary of the Sunday school and the exercises were of a very interesting character. Solos were finely rendered by Miss Alice A. Bruce and Miss Jessie G. Stickle, and the exercises by the primary class were interesting and well recited by the little folks.

Miss H. H. Gordon gave a very interesting address upon "Bible Illustrations," on the blackboard, by means of blocks, by pictures, by the scissors, notably the illustration of the two commandments—Love to God, Love to Man, written on the tables of stone; by cutting the corners off impressively illustrated how the little ones might have the commandments in the heart. It was very simple, but very impressive and instructive. Mr. Rogers, leader of the singing, gave a very beautiful solo. Rev. J. M. Church, who has been supplying the church, addressed the audience, but directed most of his remarks to the children. He spoke very impressively of Jesus as the Shepherd; 1st, he knows all his sheep by name; 2nd, he leads them; 3rd, he feeds them. His address was replete with illustrations taken from life, and made a deep impression upon all, the children especially.

The secretary and treasurer, Mr. A. C. Barbour, submitted his annual report. He says:

"Along the river of time we glide." It has brought us to the close of another year of our school work. Changes have taken place, and we miss the faces of some who have long been members of our school, who now are engaged in other fields of labor. Death has removed but one, but she was one of the brightest jewels of our school, a member of Bro. Leland's Bible class, and occasionally a teacher; one loved and respected by all—Mrs. Fred Inman—she is not lost to us, only gone on before. "We shall meet her beyond the river" "bye and bye." Our school has lost some in membership, but nothing, I believe, of its earnestness. Our present membership is 203; officers and teachers, 23; scholars, 180; our average attendance for the year has been 114; our contributions have been $538.06, as will be seen by the report of the treasurer.

The missionary spirit has grown during the year, and we have become more deeply interested in the work in both home and foreign lands; may the spirit still increase until we can sing truthfully

"Jesus doth reign where ere the sun doth his successive journeys run. His kingdom stretch from shore to shore, till moons shall wax and wane no more."

Let us by our prayers and our contributions encourage those who have gone forth to "Proclaim Salvation through Immanuel's name." There has been considerable interest in our school, both among the teachers and scholars, and we had anticipated having one come and labor with us in our school, who was full of the spirit of God, earnest and true, but God has decreed it to be otherwise; we bow in submission to his will, knowing that He has us in his keeping, and will do for us just what is right and best. Let us trust in Him; be strong and he will bless us.

FINANCIAL.

Cash received from envelopes, $78.76; cash received from Chas. Putnam for library books $100; cash received from anniversary collection $10.32; cash received from collection for Little Wanderers, $42; collection received from birthday box, $35.93; collection received for Sunday school helps, $65; collection received from Miss's concert $25.55; on hand, $7.07; total, $545.73. Paid Amer. Bap. Soc'y, Lesson Helps, etc., $82.18; paid general expenses, $51.14; paid stereopticon exhibition, $12; paid church treasurer, birthday box, $45.03; paid Little Wanderers collection, $42; paid library books, Putnam fund, $100.33; paid foreign missions, $100; paid native preacher under W. E. Thomas, $50; undesignated, $50; home missions, $100; to Louisville University, Dr. Simmons, $25; undesignated, $50; balance on hand, $25.05; total, $545.73.

Magazines.

Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, in the May Forum, shows the wide difference between conventional Christianity and the teachings of Christ, and gives to Christian society and the churches many evidences of their shortcomings.—The Forum Publishing Co., 253 Fifth Ave., New York City.

Whoever is interested in literary work in whatever capacity will find the Western bright Boston Magazine a valuable acquaintance and helper. It is the only magazine devoted solely to explaining the practical details of literary work, and so crowded are its pages with articles of the truest practical worth that it is not surprising that it should attain as it did at the very start a phenomenal success.—The Writer, Box 1905, Boston.

Wide-Awake for June presents an exceptionally interesting table of contents for its young readers, including contributions by Mary E. Wilkins, Elizabeth L. Gould, Annie Sawyer Burns, Sara Trainer Smith, Clara Louise Burnham, Kate Putnam Osgood, Clinton Scollard, Margaret Sidney, Jessie Benton Fremont, Sally Joy White, Oscar Fay Adams, and other popular writers. The number is particularly attractive in its stories, which are many and excellent, while the illustrations, both humorous and serious, are up to the best standard of this admirable periodical in variety and artistic merit.—Published and received from Messrs. D. Lothrop & Co.

The series of articles on the practical applications of electricity, which begin in the June Scribner, will be written by acknowledged authorities in the subjects of Lighting, Telegraphy, Medical Electricity, etc.—including among their number President Morton of Stevens Institute, C. Buckingham of the Western Union, A. F. Kennelly, Mr. Edison's chief electrician, Dr. M. Allen Starr, and Professor Brackett of the Princeton Scientific school.

"The real 'deserted village'." A business man at Portland, Me., lost a $20 gold piece while on the way to his office, and on his way home found the coin on the pavement, where it had lain unnoticed all day.

ELIOT CHURCH.

THE WARMING AND VENTILATING APPLIANCE.

The entire edifice is thoroughly warmed by a hot water apparatus, the system employing both the direct and indirect method of heating.

For the church proper, there are six large brick chambers located at different parts of the basement in which are the indirect radiators, which are supplied with fresh air through large air inlets, the air after being warmed passing directly into the auditorium through the registers in the floor.

In addition to these indirect radiators, there are placed 3 large direct radiators in the auditorium, while the vestibules are warmed by radiators having a separate source of supply, thus enabling them to be warmed when the rest of the apparatus is shut off. The chapel is warmed in the same manner, the ladies' parlor and the primary department rooms by the indirect method, and the class rooms by direct radiators.

The heat is furnished by two "Mills" boilers, which are sectional in form and absolutely non-explosive, located in the basement, which are ample in size; either one being sufficient to heat the entire church during ordinary winter weather, while both may be used when required.

The system of ventilation employed is known as the Vacuum system; the air being supplied through the large heating chambers, as described above; the foul air is exhausted from the auditorium through openings at convenient points under the pews, these openings being connected by ample sized ventilating ducts to the fan which is located in the basement and which discharges the impure air through brick ducts out of doors above the roof. The power to run the fan is supplied by a water motor, and entire freedom from noise is secured.

The fan, running at a slow speed, is exhausting 750,000 cubic feet of air an hour, equivalent to changing the entire contents of the house once every three quarters of an hour. In addition to this the air which is vitiated by the gas burning in the large chandeliers is taken away by a system of overhead ventilation, and discharged out of doors above the ceiling of the church.

The committee having in charge the selection of the heating and ventilating apparatus spent a good deal of time investigating this subject, visiting all the large churches in the principal cities, after which they invited the several houses dealing in the line in Boston to submit plans for warming and ventilating; and they unanimously awarded the work of constructing this apparatus to Albert B. Franklin, 228 Franklin street, wholly upon the merits of the scheme presented.

Special Bargain Week.

The ladies of Newton and vicinity will be specially interested this week in the half page advertisement of Francis Murdoch & Co., where are offered greater bargains than can be found at any store in Boston. They have recently been able to buy several large lots of goods at a great sacrifice, and Newton people will have the first chance to secure bargains. The firm have now three large stores in different cities in New England, so that they have to buy in large quantities and can take advantage of any opportunities that are offered in the wholesale trade. They offer all silk ribbons at lower prices than were ever known before, summer dress goods at ridiculously low prices, parasols at new prices, undergarments, gloves, fans, and anything usually found in a city store. They call special attention to the Linworth stocking, the best wearing article to be found in the market, and it will pay every one to read their advertisement carefully.

The City Hall Ventilating Pipes

To the Editor of the NEWTON GRAPHIC: We have a case to-day before our city fathers and we ask your aid whereby we may approach them. We do not profess to be superior over other mortals in matters of taste, we claim merely to have a moderate appreciation of what is pleasing to the eye in all matters where beauty and harmony are aimed at. Our City Hall some years ago was redeemed from a condition of cold bare walls to those walls tastefully decorated. Everyone upon beholding the great improvement was enthusiastic in their praise. The coloring and designs were thought to be very pretty, and when the new chairs graced the hall one settled in their seat with a feeling of pleasure and satisfaction. But behold the change. The walls now present a hideous disfigurement. Huge protruding pipes from ceiling to floor now desecrate them, offensive to the eye and an outrage upon one's feelings. One is almost unfitted to enjoy anything there now, and an audience of pretty dressed ladies suffer from the dismal effect. Those dreadful pipes cast a shadow upon every body and everything; we have no grade and spite against any man. We know not what particular man or men stand responsible for this barbarism.—we only know the beauty of the hall is destroyed. What makes it more to be regretted is the fact, so we have been told, that the object intended is a total failure. It was a mystery for some time before we learned what the pipes were for; we supposed it was some extraordinary method of ventilation for the benefit of the men and women who went to the hall; when we found out that those unsightly things were to give to rooms below, and when we were also informed that it was a perfect failure, then it was an effort to keep our souls in patience. It seemed to some of us women, that we could have suggested a better plan, on the principle of a cold air box running parallel with the room. Ventilation any other way—rather than the one adopted, even if it was one that was sure to work well. As it is there are the pipes, entirely useless, so we are told by one who occupies one of the offices below. To the powers that be, we earnestly request that the pipes be removed. A TAX PAYER.

Chicago mathematics: "What is the matter, Nelly?" "Nothing, ma, except—" "Except what, Nelly?" "Except that we've got a new teacher, and she's just as uppish and insulting." "Who is she?" "Priscilla Ryan, from Boston." "What did she do?" "Oh, she took us out of our A B C's and began some funny business right off, such as: 'How many feet make a yard? Three.' And she made us say it, too. I knew it was a slur about Chicago feet. The idea of our yard being only big enough to hold three feet!"—[San Francisco Wasp.]

A GREAT CONFERENCE.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ALL THE AMERICAS TO MEET IN OCTOBER.

The Proposition First Suggested by James G. Blaine During Garfield's Administration—The Representatives of the United States to Meet in October.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, May 30.—By long odds the most important convention of the year is that which will meet in this city next October. It is called the American States conference, and is to be attended only by the states of the three Americas—North, Central and South America. The plan had its origin with the present secretary of state, who attempted to put it into execution while he was secretary under President Garfield; but it failed at that time owing to the death of the president and consequent dissolution of his cabinet, and also on account of the difficulties then existing between Chili and Peru and Mexico and Guatemala. Now Secretary Blaine revives the scheme with very good prospects of success. Naturally, the United States takes the leading place in this continental conference, for it is by far the most powerful and important nation interested.

Under the invitations the following form is prescribed for the conference: First—Measures that shall tend to preserve and promote the prosperity of the several American states.

Second—Measures toward the formation of an American customs union, under which the trade of the American nations with each other shall, so far as possible and profitable, be promoted.

Third—The establishment of regular and frequent communication between the ports of the several American states and the ports of each other.

Fourth—The establishment of a uniform system of customs regulations in each of the independent American states, to govern the mode of importation and exportation of merchandise and port dues and charges, a uniform method of determining the classification and valuation of such merchandise in the ports of each country, and a uniform system of invoices, and the subject of the sanitation of ships and quarantine.

Fifth—The adoption of a uniform system of weights and measures, and laws to protect the patent rights, copyrights and trade marks of citizens of either country in the other, and for the extradition of criminals.

Sixth—The adoption of a common silver coin, to be issued by each government, the same to be legal tender in all commercial transactions between the citizens of all the American states.

Seventh—An agreement upon and recommendation for adoption to their respective governments of a definite plan of arbitration of all questions, disputes and differences that may now or hereafter arise between them, to the end that all difficulties and disputes between such nations may be peacefully settled and laws prevented.

Eighth—And to consider such other subjects relating to the welfare of the several states represented as may be presented by any of said states which are hereby invited to participate in said conference.

Though the delegates have held no meeting, and have received no instructions, by common consent John B. Henderson, of Missouri, is already looked upon as the chairman of the American commission. Gen. Henderson is a man of great ability and force. A native of Virginia, he was before the war a Douglas Democrat, and in the war espoused the Union cause and did good service in the field. He was in the United States senate from Missouri from 1863 to 1869, and it was there, during the Andrew Johnson impeachment trial, that he first demonstrated the positive character of his convictions and his tenacity and courage of purpose. So close was the struggle in the senate that it was known one or two votes would in all probability turn the scale for or against the innocence or guilt of Johnson, and the greatest pressure was brought to bear upon Henderson, who was supposed to be friendly to the president, to induce him to change his vote.

He was deluged with letters and telegrams from his state, public meetings were held to ask him by resolution to turn against the unpopular Johnson, and he was even threatened with political ruin. But it was all in vain. Gen. Henderson could not be turned from his purpose, and voted with Trumbull, Fessenden, Grimes and other Republicans, and thus saved the president from the disgrace of impeachment. This display of moral courage cost Gen. Henderson his seat in the senate, for at the next election he was displaced by Carl Schurz. Gen. Henderson is very wealthy, having for a number of years enjoyed the most remunerative law practice in the city of St. Louis.

Andrew Carnegie, the Pittsburgh iron and steel millionaire, is one of the best known members of the commission. Carnegie is a Scotchman, and has the shrewd mind and well poised judgment characteristic of the natives of the Bonnie land. He was put on the commission because of his thorough familiarity with the commerce of the world, and more especially with the iron and steel interests. On recommending Carnegie to the president for this honor Secretary Blaine remarked that the conference was likely to resemble a game of checkers, and he knew Carnegie was a good checker player, for he had tried him to his sorrow. It is a fact that Carnegie owes his rise in the world to a game of draughts.

His father was a journeyman potter in Pittsburgh, and being fond of checkers, as most Scotchmen are, often joined in the games at a well known local house. There he met David Brooks, a railway manager, and happening to speak one day of his son Andrew, and to express the wish that he had some work for him, Brooks told Carnegie he would take the boy into his office as a messenger. The youngster went to work the next day at $3 a week, learned to manipulate the telegraph keys, attracted the attention of Tom Scott, and was soon put in the way of developing into a millionaire, an opportunity which he lost no time in grasping.

The diplomat of the delegation, who may be relied upon to look out for the interests of this country in all matters of international law, is William Henry Trescott, of North Carolina. Secretary Blaine has said of Mr. Trescott that he is the most accomplished diplomat in this country, which is praise indeed. Trescott is one of the very few Americans who have made diplomacy their trade, and who have mastered it in all its details. His record is one of which any man might be proud. His first diplomatic service was as secretary of legation at London. He then became first assistant secretary of state under Lewis Cass in the administration of Buchanan, and was the first man to fill that office, which was created about the beginning of Buchanan's term. When the war broke out Trescott returned to his native state, intending to take a part in the diplomacy of the Confederacy, but for some reason, probably because he had been a strong Whig and an anti-Calhoun man, was not trusted by President Davis with missions suitable to his abilities.

After the war he came north again, and was one of the United States counsel in the Halifax fisheries dispute, which resulted in the payment of five and a half millions of dollars to this government. Later he was sent, with James F. Swift, now minister to Japan, and Col. James B. Angell, of Michigan, to negotiate a treaty with China. That was in the administration of Mr. Hayes, when Mr. Everts was secretary of state. In 1881 Mr. Blaine sent him as a special minister to Chili and Peru, and he was subsequently designated by the government to join Gen. Grant in negotiating a commercial treaty with Mexico. Mr. Trescott has written a history of American diplomacy up to the end of Jefferson's career in the presidency, besides a large number of magazine articles. He is now a resident of Washington.

The representative of New York city and its vast business interests is one of the best known business men of that city—Cornelius Bliss, of the firm of Bliss & Fabian, cotton merchants. Mr. Bliss is a native of Massachusetts, and his first business employment was with James M. Beebe & Co., then the principal dry goods house of Boston. He became a partner in the firm in 1864, and rapidly grew rich. About 1870 he joined the firm of which he is now a member, and his house sells a larger quantity of cotton prints than any other firm in America.

William Pinckney Whyte, of Maryland, represents on the delegation the interests of Baltimore and the eastern middle section of the country, particularly the mercantile and shipping lines. He is a man of wealth and high character, educated a lawyer, which profession he practiced with eminent success, but is now engaged in railway enterprises as a capitalist and president. He is a Democrat, and though not actively engaged in politics represents what is known as the anti-Gorman element of Democracy in Maryland. He served one term in the United States senate.

Clement Studebaker, of Indiana, represents the manufacturing interests, particularly the makers of wagons and farming machinery and implements. He is one of that family of Studebakers who have built up the greatest wagon factory in the world at South Bend. The father of the Studebaker boys was a plodding wagon maker, who taught his boys his trade, and who was satisfied to turn out vehicles as fast as he could sell them to the farmers of the surrounding country. He had no dreams of an empire for a market. But one day the old gentleman died, and just as the neighbors were wondering how the Studebaker boys would get along without the guiding hand of a father, the youngsters began branching out in the wagon business in a most astonishing manner.

They put up new shops, hired more workmen, introduced machinery, and soon began to sell their product all over the west. Now they make a complete wagon every five minutes. Their vehicles are known all over the continent of America, and even in Europe. Clement Studebaker is perhaps the best known of the brothers, being a man of great public spirit. He is a prominent Republican of Indiana, and is also conspicuous in the councils of the Presbyterian church.

Thomas Jefferson Coolidge, of Boston, is New England's representative, though he will be assisted in looking out for the interests of that section by Mr. Bliss, who is selling agent for many of the great cotton mills. Mr. Coolidge is a capitalist and railway president, who was originally a lawyer. He is an accomplished and polished gentleman, justly proud of his descent from the family which gave to the world a Thomas Jefferson. Mr. Coolidge not long ago presented the government with the desk on which the Declaration of Independence was written.

Morris Este, of California, is a well known lawyer of the Pacific coast, and was chairman of the Republican national convention last year. He is also a farmer, ranchman and wine grower, and is fully able to represent the varied interests of the Pacific coast.

John R. G. Pitkin, of Louisiana, is a prominent citizen of that state, who held a Federal office, that of marshal, under a former administration. He was placed on the delegation as a representative of the sugar interest of Louisiana, which hopes to profit much by the conference. John F. Hanson, of Georgia, is the most extensive cotton manufacturer of the south, having large mills at Macon. He is the cotton representative in the international conference, and there are hopes that the cotton trade with Central and South America may be greatly stimulated.

Congress has appropriated $75,000 to defray the expenses of the conference, and the public printer will print the proceedings of the body in English, Spanish and Portuguese. This will provide for everybody except the Haytiens, whose language is the French.

WALTER WELLMAN.

MINER ROBINSON,

ELECTRICIAN,

209 Washington St., Boston.

Residence, West Newton

Private Residences fitted for the

Incandescent LIGHT.

Licensed by the New England Electric Exchange to do Electric Light and Power wiring of every description, also to install and operate Electric Motors, Storage Batteries, etc. Estimates furnished.

W. H. FRENCH & CO., PRACTICAL PLUMBERS,
GAS FITTERS,
—AND—
Sanitary - Engineers.Washington Street, Newtonville,
(Near Newtonville Square.)

Desire to call the attention of the residents of Ward Two to the following facts, viz: Having had over thirty years of practical experience in this line of business, and keeping ourselves thoroughly posted in all the latest sanitary improvements, we feel confident that we can give our customers stock and work which will give entire satisfaction in every respect. As to quality of work, we can refer you to a large number of gentlemen in this city and Boston, for whom we have done work for the past thirty years. We are bound to suit our customers in the best quality of stock and work, and make our price according to the entire satisfaction of all. Our office is connected with telephone. Please remember the location. 290m.

WEST NEWTON DIRECTORY

BARBOUR & HATCH,
Insurance Agents,
FIRE, LIFE AND ACCIDENT.

Represent the Worcester, Traders & Mechanics, Quincy, Dorchester, Merchants & Farmers, Cambridge, and other good Mutual companies, paying 70 per cent. dividend. The German-American, Providence, Washington, and other first-class stock companies. They are prepared to place large or small lines upon all classes of property at lowest rates.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR, F. F. HATCH,
Office at the First National Bank, West Newton. 221y

Livery, Hack & Boarding Stable

(Established 1861.)

Barge, "City of Newton,"
Horse Sleigh, "Snow Bird."

S. F. CATE, West Newton.

S. F. CATE,
Furnishing Undertaker,WASHINGTON STREET,
WEST NEWTON, MASS. Telephone 8119.HENRY L. WHITTLESEY, COUNSELLOR-at-LAW

39 COURT STREET, BOSTON,

Residence, 371 Cherry Street, - West Newton

West Newton Savings Bank

Incorporated 1867.

West Newton, Mass.

AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.

JAMES H. NICKERSON, Secretary.

ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees—Austin R. Mitchell, Ben. F. Houghton, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Fred C. Bridgman, Samuel Bernard, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred C. Barbour, Edward W. Cate, Adams R. Tooman, C. F. Eddy, Lyman K. Runney, Committee of Investment—Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Samuel Bernard, Fred E. Crockett.

Open for business daily, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and 2 to 4 p.m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July and October.

DENTISTRY.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Mr. F. Dewson arrived home this week.

—Workmen have been engaged this week in putting in the incandescent electric lights in the clubhouse of the Newton club.

—Mr. W. F. Dearborn and family, accompanied by Ida Brown, leave here May 31 for Cottage City, where they will pass the summer.

—The pupils of the high school were dismissed Monday on account of the cold weather and the absence of artificial heat in the building.

—The boys and girls of the Sunday afternoon class will give a concert in the Congregational church Sunday evening; all cordially invited.

—The city furnished a collation for the Newton High School Battalion in the City Hall, after the fatiguing march and exercises on Memorial Day.

—Mrs. Fayette Shaw starts for the West in a few days, where her husband intends to go into business. The family will probably remove from this city.

—Ex-Gov. Claflin has been chosen one of the vice-presidents of the New England Suffrage association, and Mrs. Claflin one of the executive committee.

—Mr. Briggs Wadsworth has purchased a cottage at Winthrop and leaves with his family Saturday, to take possession. They will remain during the summer.

—Miss Fannie Stowell has resigned her position as bookkeeper for Mr. H. P. Dearborn to accept a civil service appointment in the office of the police commissioners, at a good salary.

—The school children's concert to be given by the Newtonville Woman's Guild will occur on Thursday evening, June 6, at 7 o'clock, at the Congregational church, Newtonville.

—Rev. G. H. Emerson, D. D., editor of the Christian Leader, preached in the Universalist Church, last Sunday morning. His subject was: "Five Phases of the Gospel as a Leaven."

—Mrs. E. J. Peck and family who have been residing in the house of Mr. George W. Morse, will remove to Boston. Mrs. Peck will continue their residence here until the close of the school year.

—The annual meeting of the Newton Cooperative Bank will be held in Tremont Hall Tuesday evening next, when officers will be elected for the ensuing year. The usual sale of money will also occur.

—Mr. H. D. Corey has been elected secretary of the Springfield Bicycle Manufacturing Co. This company has just completed a factory costing $80,000, at Highlandville, Mass., near Needham, and have their headquarters at 178 Columbia avenue, Boston.

—Post 62, G. A. R., turned out about 85 men, and the Newton High School Battalion numbered 160 men with staff and augmented drum corps. The high school boys gave a fine exhibition of marching and formed a splendid line at the dress parade.

—Mr. Geo. W. Morse and family sailed May 28th from Southampton for New York on the North German Lloyd steamer "Elder," which is expected to arrive in New York June 6th. Mr. Morse has just received the degree of M. A. from Dartmouth college, his alma mater.

—Maj. Benyon, military instructor at the high school, was one of the judges at the prize drill of the Boston Highlands school battalion, held in Mechanics Hall, Boston, last Friday. He was also one of the judges at the prize drill of the 5th Battalion, E. I. S., held in the same place Tuesday evening.

—A fine concert was given by the Tufts college glee and banjo clubs in the vestry of the Universalist church, Wednesday evening. The college songs were well rendered and the instrumental selections were very fine. Mr. J. B. Weeks, reader, gave some enjoyable selections. The concert was given under the auspices of the Universalist Sunday school and the proceeds will go toward the debt on the church.

—There was the usual large gathering at the clubhouse of the Newton Club, Saturday evening. The bowlers were out in good numbers, with a determination to make good individual scores. Dr. W. O. Hunt was most successful, making 267. H. Pierce's score by a points, making 267. It was open house on Memorial Day and there was a large number of members present during the afternoon and evening.

—About 50 of the members of Union Lodge, No. 28, Knights of Honor, of Boston, and their friends, surprised one of the esteemed and valued members, C. A. Jordan, at his residence on Bennington street on Monday evening. After taking possession of the house, Bro. C. H. Ellis presented Mr. Jordan with an elegant gold watch, with the monogram of the order engraved on it; they also presented Mrs. Jordan with a beautiful diamond bracelet. The recipients were taken entirely unawares, responded in a few well chosen words. The ladies furnished a brilliant lunch which they brought with them, after which music and other festivities followed until a late hour.

—The prize drill of the Newton High School battalion takes place June 8. The movements will consist of a battalion drill, competitive individual company drill, competitive company drill, skit drill and dress parade, after which the prizes will be awarded. The music for the occasion will be rendered by the 5th Regt. band of which the talented musician and composer, Mr. Mace Gay, is leader. In New York the band received round after round of applause for its fine work. A feature of the program will be the rendition of Mr. Gay's "The March of the Soldiers," which will be one of the conveniences of the future, letter boxes will be placed in convenient and accessible places in various parts of the ward.

—A surprise party was given to Mr. Jas. H. Wright, Tuesday evening, at his residence, Nevada street, when he was presented with a scarf pin. The design was a fly, sapphire and garnet, set in diamonds. Capt. M. L. White made the presentation speech, remarking that there were no flies on Mr. Wright. Among those present were Capt. Cook of the Police News, M. T. Clark, M. V. Livingston, George Withers, Ned Graham, Chas. Sopher, James D. Henthorn, Geo. Shapley and Wm. Boston. A letter was read from J. Wesley Kimball, expressing his regrets at not being able to be present. Mr. Wright was completely surprised. He leaves for Mt. Clemens, Michigan, June 3.

WEST NEWTON.

—Mr. Joshua Blake has arrived here from St. Augustine, Fla.

—Mr. C. M. Whitley leaves next week for a visit to Washington Territory.

—Mr. H. B. Parker and family have removed to Nantasket for the summer.

—The City Marshal advertises for proposals for a police signal system for this city.

—The Eucras of West Newton defeated the Comets of Newton by a score of 37 to 7.

—Fred Allen is here from the West on a visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen.

The report of the annual meeting of the Baptist Sunday school will be found on another page.

—Rev. Mr. Brown of Brookline will conduct the services next Sunday at the Unitarian church.

—Mr. Eugene Fleming returned yesterday from New York, where he had been on a business trip.

The report of the anniversary of the Baptist Sunday School will be found in another column.

The members of the police force wore their new summer helmets for the first time on Memorial Day.

A report of the annual meeting of the Woman Suffrage Association will be found on page three.

Flower Sunday, and connected with it the christening of children, will be observed at the Unitarian church, June 16.

A good chance to secure a good building lot or a desirable residence. See advertisement of the auction of the George E. Allen estate.

The young girls who presided over the leonade stand at Lincoln Park, Jos. and the thirty men in the procession were well taken care of.

J. Wiley Edmonds camp, Sons of Veterans, turned out 27 men Memorial day and made a fine appearance. The camp will very soon add many to its membership.

The flower mission will commence this week. Contribution of fruit, vegetables and flowers will be received at the baggage station, Tuesday and Friday mornings before the hour of 9 o'clock. Small fruits are particularly solicited; nothing more grateful to the invalid can be received.

Mr. N. T. Allen very kindly obtained the consent of the owners to allow the use of the school Athletic ground, corner of Elm and Webster streets, for the dress parade and closing exercises Memorial Day, in which the Post, Claffin Guard and High School Battalion participated.

The board of health held a field day meeting, Tuesday afternoon, the bids for the removal of house offal were opened, only one being received, from the present contractor, W. H. Magne. At the next meeting of the board the matter of awarding the contract will be considered.

Loyalty Lodge, Good Templars, gave an entertainment in the hall, Wednesday evening. A musical and literary program was presented. Selections were finely rendered by a mixed quartet, and Mr. Chas. E. Rand played some fine flute solos. After the entertainment a basket party was enjoyed.

At the meeting of J. Wiley Edmonds camp, Sons of Veterans, held in Good Templars' hall, West Newton, Monday evening, its officers were presented with four handsome swords, the gift of the Newton Ladies' Home Circle. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Austin T. Sylvester, past commander of Charles Ward post 62.

Rev. Mr. Jaynes preached last Sunday to the young of his congregation, a sermon of some interest in its text, "It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth." He dwelt particularly at the close upon the duty of loyalty to the church, with an earnest exhortation for the consecration of the best and noblest of every faculty to what it stands for—God, which is service to man.

Samuel Bernard reports that he has negotiated a lease of the C. M. Buckman house to Rev. J. C. Jaynes for one year from June 1st; also the sale of Rev. Francis Tiffany's house to Captain Joseph Fyffe of the United States Navy and of Mr. Wm. B. H. Dowse's house to Mrs. L. A. Kimberly, whose husband, Admiral Kimberly, will be remembered, was in command of our naval forces at the time of the recent cyclone at Samoa.

Harmony assembly 75 R. S. G. F. celebrated its second anniversary at New England hall, 98 Washington street, Boston, Tuesday evening, May 14, with an entertainment and supper. The entertainment was furnished by the Davis family of Webster, part West Newton, assisted by Miss Mamie Byron of Somerville. A piano solo by Mr. Clarence Davis, vocal solo by Miss Byron and vocal selections by Mr. Davis. The Good Templars of West Newton are to be congratulated on having such a musical family among its members.

The pupils of Miss Clara E. Munger gave a recital in the parlors of the Unitarian church, last Friday evening, and those present enjoyed an excellent program of instrumental and vocal music. Miss White sang the "Carnival of Venice," by request. Her voice was in excellent form, sweet and pure in tone and the execution pleasing and artistic. The accompaniment was hardly up to the standard, and it is a lamentable fact that few, even good pianists, are successful in this important field in the musical profession. Miss Roberts made an excellent impression and possesses a fine quality of good quality, her lower notes being especially pleasing. Mr. Osborne's recitations were well received and the instrumental selections were creditably rendered.

The popular drama, "A Celebrated Case," was given by members of St. Bernard's Catholic Lyceum in the City hall, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, under the direction of Mr. Robert W. Hurley of Boston. Large and attentive audiences were present. The play was very prettily staged, and the principal characters were, on the whole, very creditably sustained, the costume being especially satisfactory and suited to the piece. Many of the glaring amateur defects in gesture and impersonation were conspicuous by their absence, and in some of the comic and dramatic scenes the acting was excellent. The drama is arranged for a prologue and afterpiece in four acts. The following was the cast in the prologue:

Jean Renaud, a soldier in the French army.
Count D'Aubertre, commanding the King's Own regiment.
Mr. George M. Cox, Lazare, a cavalier.
Dennis O'Rourke, an Irish servant in the King's service.
Mr. James R. Condrin, the corp.
The seneschal of the village of Montague.
Mr. Thomas J. Klockner, Captain in the King's own.
Madeline Renaud, Jean's wife.
Adrienne Renaud, Jean's child.
Miss Maggie Cain, Martha.
Miss Sarah F. Haley, Julie.
Miss Katie F. Hackett, Annette.
Miss Katie F. Magluchie, Louise.

The following was the cast in the afterpiece:
Jean Renaud, condemned to the gallows for life.
Mr. William M. Duane, Count de Moray, returned from exile.
Duke D'Aubertre, Governor of province.
Mr. John S. Lester, Viscount Raoul de Lange, betrothed to Adrienne.
Mr. George M. Cox, Dennis O'Rourke, in the duke's service.
Mr. Paul J. Linnann, the sergeant of the guard.
Mr. James R. Condrin, Joseph, a sergeant.
Mr. Thomas J. Klockner, Adrienne, Duke D'Aubertre's adopted daughter.
Miss Kitty Caravan, Valentine de Moray.
Miss Minnie Fahy, Duchesse D'Aubertre.
Miss Nellie Lyons, Chaudroness of the College D'Hyeres.

Mr. Duane as Jean Renaud, Mr. Lester as Count de Moray, Mr. Cox as Duke D'Aubertre, Miss Maggie Cain as Valentine de Moray, and Miss Nellie Lyons as the Duchesse D'Aubertre were successful in the impersonation of their respective roles.

The concert given Friday evening last in the Unitarian Church parlor, in aid of the Williston home, by the friends of the institution, was a delightful one, and should have been enjoyed by a much larger audience. Unfortunately, notices of the entertainment were not seasonably or extensively given. The instrumental trio for violin, cello and piano was a very fine number, also the piano recitations were very enjoyable. Miss Roberts' recitations, rendered with fine style and feeling two songs, the "Persian serenade," and a "Frenchingstrum," a German composition. Miss White, who has become exceedingly a great favorite with West Newton audiences, sang in her usual charming manner, by request, "Carnival of Venice," "Solveig's Lied," and "Last Rose of Summer," the latter in a style worthy of any artist. Her voice, steady and the careful tuition of her teacher, is evidently broadening, at the same time losing none of its delicacy, or marvelous execution. She has, it is safe to predict, a career of no ordinary interest before her.

AUBURNDALE.

—Mr. C. G. Tinkham sold a saddle horse to Mr. Viles of Waltham, last week.

—Mr. C. C. Burr has been elected treasurer of the American Congregational Association.

—Mrs. B. C. Baker of Middleboro, wife of Capt. Baker, spent a few days in town this week.

—Mr. H. W. Robinson and family of Brockton occupy their residence on Lexington street this week.

—Mr. Sidney Baker, son of Capt. B. C. Baker, will take the examination for entrance to the Institute of Technology, Boston, this year.

—Capt. Edward S. Whitney read an interesting paper at the Congregational chapel, Sunday evening, on "Recollections of scenes and events in the civil war."

—Church of the Messiah—The Rev. Benjamin H. Paddock, D. D., will visit this parish to administer the sacrament of holy communion, at Evensong on Sunday, June 2, the service to begin at 4.15.

—To all friends of the children—A strawberry festival and apron sale will be held at Auburn Hall, Thursday, June 7. From 10 a. m. until 10 p. m., for the benefit of the "Williston Home," Auburndale. Admission 10 cents.

—Mr. J. P. B. Fiske was one of the graduates at the Institute of Technology, and the exercises on Tuesday were attended by a number of his Newton friends. Mr. Fiske has the honor of having been chosen president of his class.

A slight accident happened here this week. One of J. B. Stoddard's hacks, carrying parties to Weston, was disabled by one of the forward wheels coming off. The horses were taken into Brigham's stable and another vehicle obtained to finish the journey.

Before and after Miss Hollingsworth's concert at the Congregational church next Thursday evening, the members of the Young Ladies' Missionary society connected with that church will serve ice cream, cake and cherries in the chapel. Cakes and ice cream 20 cents; strawberries 15 cents.

The Auburndale Loyalty Temperance Legion will give an entertainment in the Congregational chapel, Tuesday, June 4, at 7.30 p. m., admission 10 cents. The exercises will consist of singing, recitation, a dialogue, in which five boys will participate, and an address to the boys and girls. This society is auxiliary to the National L. T. L.; the latter has 100,000 members.

One of the features of Memorial day was the fine appearance made by the company of fair Lassell girls, under command of their military instructor, Mr. E. C. Whitney. When the procession passed the seminary the girls were drawn up in line and saluted. They wore pretty blue skirts, white blouses and fatigue caps and carried wooden guns. They also gave a very pretty exhibition of marching movements and drill.

Church of the Messiah; the young misses connected with St. Agnes Guild are very much pleased with the results of their sale held on Friday and Saturday of last week at the residence of Mrs. Edwin Frost, Auburn street. This little society was formed last year under the directorship of Miss Sophia D. Newell, its object being to raise an entertainment for the support of the church. The officers were: president, Louise Collier; secretary, Maud Metcalf; treasurer, Susan Colton. Miss Newell was obliged to relinquish the office of director, and Mrs. Chas. R. Brown and Mrs. Edwin R. Frost succeeded to the charge. Both ladies have given much time and care to the preparation of the entertainment. The work table was beautifully furnished, and was managed by Maud Metcalf, Louise Collier, and assistants. The art gallery, which contained one hundred and one, was presided over by Miss Adele V. Willis and Little Nell (Theodore Carter) exhibited the world renowned "Wax Work," which was gotten up in excellent style. The confectionary department, kept by Helen Noyes and Gertrude Murdock, was very attractive. Mrs. Brown, with Carrie and Susie Colton, had charge of the refreshment room. The lemonade was tended by Emily Brown. Miss Hannah R. Boyd presided over the plant and flower table, which was furnished from the conservatories of Forbes. A large number of people were present on both evenings, and about $90 was netted.

Lassell Notes.

Mrs. Noyes spent Sunday at the school. Misses Miriam and Altha Phelps have been at Lassell.

The last consecration service of the year was held on Tuesday evening by the Society of Christian Endeavor.

The final temperance meeting of the year was held on Sunday, May 26. Officers for the ensuing year were elected.

Miss Jones's uncle and aunt called on her on Sunday, and she went to visit her home in the Sandwich Islands.

Mrs. Conant, (Nellie Ferguson) with her husband came to Lassell and made a very pleasant visit, seeming to remember her alma mater with affection.

The lecture of Tuesday evening, May 23, treated of Gothic Architecture, and was thoroughly illustrated. The next and last of the series will present the architecture of the Renaissance.

A portion of the school attended the religious services at the Congregational church preparatory to the ceremonies of Decoration day. They were much pleased with the address of Capt. Whitney.

In spite of the showers Prof. Bragdon took a party of pupils into Boston, Monday afternoon, to attend the musical rehearsals of the pupils of Mr. J. A. Hills at Steiner Hall. One of the performers was a former pupil of the school.

The Missionary Society of the school will give an entertainment, literary, musical and social, as these may be appropriate to the purpose of the association. It will be held in the gymnasium on Saturday evening, June 1st, at 7.45. All ladies interested are cordially invited to be present. Admission fee ten cents.

On Saturday evening the Amherst Glee club, led by Mr. C. H. Edwards, and the Amherst Banjo club, R. H. Wadhams, leader, gave a performance in the gymnasium, under the auspices of the "S. D." society. The program was varied and gave all the entertainment that it promised, and the musicians occasionally responded to the enthusiastic encores. At the close the members of the club and a few invited guests received the gentlemen in the parlors, and thus ended a very enjoyable evening.

The party to visit Newport left on an early train Monday morning, under escort of Prof. Rich, not anticipating the heavy rain that fell later in the day. Happily the rain did not begin quite so early there as here, and the party had their fourteen miles drive, and saw the "lions" within and without the city in spite of the weather. The long walk on the cliffs was impracticable, but Mr. Rich took the company to his own home, where they were hospitably welcomed, served with hot coffee and cake, and their stay made so agreeable that on their return to the city they were only conscious of a delightful day, and hardly remembered the disappointments caused by the rain.

As it is understood that some dissatisfaction has been felt in regard to the breaking of the engagement to give a concert at Newton by the Amherst Glee club, and the coming to Lassell instead, on Saturday last, it may be well to exonerate the S. D. Society, whose members, they came to the school, from all blame in the matter. These are the facts: on Friday evening, May 24, believing that the prospect of an audience at Newton was small, the manager of the Glee Club applied to the S. D. Society for an engagement for Saturday evening, begging the acceptance of the services of the club. He stated that the Newton manager would be glad of the change, that the Glee Club would be responsible for notifying the Newton people of it, so that those who had bought tickets at Newton should be given every opportunity to use those tickets. The S. D. Society, "S. D." took no responsibility in the matter, and if the above assurances were not fulfilled, were in no way to blame.

HONORING THE DEAD.

THE IMPRESSIVE EXERCISES AND PARADE MEMORIAL DAY.

In accordance with the annual custom, details of Charles Ward post were assigned to decorate the graves of deceased soldiers and sailors in the various Newton cemeteries. In the morning, a detail of the post proceeded to Mt. Auburn cemetery in Cambridge where the graves of Hon. J. Wiley Edmonds and J. Cushing Edmonds were decorated. A detail also went to the old cemetery on Centre street where the graves of Gen. Hall and others were decorated. Details also decorated the graves in the old cemetery at West Newton, and the cemeteries at Newton Highlands and Newton Upper Falls. The several details then reported to Senior Vice-Commander George M. Fiske at St. Mary's cemetery in Newton Lower Falls where the graves were decorated and exercises took place. Short addresses were given by Rev. W. G. Wells, rector of St. Mary's church, and Rev. A. P. Sharp, pastor of the Methodist church. The usual military parade took place, the post being escorted by the Newton City band, Co. C. 5th Regt., M. V. N. Pine Farm boys and the Bartlett Lancers. Mrs. W. R. Dimond had charge of the flowers supplied to decorate the graves in St. Mary's cemetery.

After the exercises at Newton Lower Falls the post proceeded with its escort to Newtonville, where it reported at headquarters to Commander S. S. Whitney, where a collation was served at about noon.

In the afternoon, the procession formed at the intersection of Walnut and Waterman streets, Newtonville, where it was reviewed by the mayor and city council, and at 2 p. m. moved promptly in the following order:

Platoon of Police, under City Marshal Richardson,
Capt. S. E. Howard, Chief Marshal, and aids,
Maj. George H. Benyon, Chief of Staff,
Capt. D. M. Hammond and Frederick K. Pratt, aids,
Newton City band,
Co. C., 5th Regt., M. V. N., Capt. G. C. Applin, commanding,
Charles Ward Post 62, S. S. Whitney, commander,
J. Wiley Edmonds Camp 100, Sons of Veterans, Capt. W. M. Ferris, commanding,
Joel D. Dudley Camp, S. of V., Brighton,
Capt. J. Q. A. Cushman, commanding,
Newton High School battalion, Maj. F. H. Morehouse, commanding,
City Council in Carriages.

The column proceeded through Walnut street to the Newton cemetery where the principal exercises of the day took place. About 80 graves of deceased soldiers and sailors were decorated at the same time and a salute was fired at the soldiers' tomb. The soldiers' memorial lot presented to the post by the city was then consecrated with impressive ceremonies. The military contingent, the Post and the city fathers formed a hollow square about the flag-staff placed in the centre of the lot. Commander Whitney, in the name of the comrades of the G. A. R. thanked the city council for its gift of the soldiers' lot. He said that it was an assurance that the dead were held in remembrance and that the principles for which the soldiers and sailors fought on land and sea, are not forgotten. "Nothing," he added, "can please the veteran soldier and sailor more than to know that he is loved and honored for what he did in the War of the Rebellion."

A guard of honor consisting of 4 U. S. sailors and soldiers, with the color bearers of the army and navy were then stationed near the staff, and upon receiving the order from the commander of the post transmitted through the Officer of the Day, the stars and stripes were hoisted at half mast, while the band rendered "The Star Spangled Banner."

The symbols were then set up, an anchor representing the navy, and a gun, haversack and canteen, representing the army. Carried in the complete U. S. naval uniform was appointed to guard the symbol of the Navy, and Sgt. John Ryan in the full dress uniform of the infantry, as was during the civil war, was appointed to guard the symbol of the army. The prayer of dedication was offered by Chaplain Chase, and at the conclusion of the services the guard of honor and special guard were dismissed and the emblems of the army and navy removed from the consecrated ground. Mayor Burr made a brief address at the conclusion of the ceremonies.

After the exercises at the Newton cemetery the lines were reformed and the procession moved over the following route: Walnut, Homer, Valentine, Highland, Temple, Putnam, Margin, Washington, Waltham, Webster, West Newton to vacant lot corner Webster and Elm streets, where the dress parade was held. The High School Battalion and the Claffin Guard gave a very pretty exhibition of marching and the movements at the dress parade were finely executed.

The dress parade was witnessed by a large concourse of citizens, and the citizen militia came in for a generous share of applause.

Beach Cottage To Let
Near Plymouth, Mass.

A very desirable, fully furnished cottage to rent for the season, from June 1st to August. Terms very reasonable. Inquire of—

Mrs. C. A. SHEDD,
21-4 Washington Park, Newtonville.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN—That Robert F. McAdoo has made application to the Board of Mass. and Alternates for permit to erect a barn (25x36) on Otis street, Ward 2.

ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, City Clerk.

MOUNTAIN VIEW HOTEL,
GILMANTON, N. H.

Leased and controlled by Summer Residents, one of whom is JOHN L. STODDARD, the Lecturer.

Remarkably healthy location; lovely scenery; hotel entirely refurnished and enlarged; everything new, clean and comfortable; hair mattresses throughout; generous table; spring water; plenty of teams; Pool Table and Bowling Alley; new and experienced landlord. Moderate terms. Send for circulars. 31-8

O. G. SANBORN, Manager.

HOTEL
SORRENTO

SORRENTO, ME.,
Near Bar Harbor.

Frenchman's Bay and Mount Desert Land and Water Company, proprietors of this beautiful summer resort.

Yachting, fishing, beautiful drives, and picturesque scenery.

To accommodate the increasing patronage seventy rooms have been added this year. Rooms large, airy and well furnished.

FIRST-CLASS BEDS.
The hotel is kept on both the American and European Plans and is lighted throughout by electric light.

The Cafe is unrivalled and noted for the excellence of its cuisine. An abundant supply of pure water.

First-class plumbing and perfect drainage. Open from June 1st to October 1st. Plans and terms on application.

MAGNIFICENT COTTAGE LOTS FOR SALE.

17 Milk street, Boston.
Main Wharf, Sorrento.
Main street, Bar Harbor.

Direct route to Sorrento by Boston & Maine Railroad, Eastern Division, and Boston & Bangor Steamers. The Company's Steamer "Sorrento" runs hourly during the season between Sorrento and Bar Harbor; 20 minutes' sail. 31

GEO. H. TALBOT, M. D.

306 Walnut Street,
NEWTONVILLE.

Office Hours: Until 9 A. M., 3 to 5 P. M.

Refers to Dr. H. C. Abilbom, 228 Marlboro St. Boston.

Mr. EDW. H. CUTLER'S

Preparatory School for Boys.

Third year begins September 1889.

For terms and further particulars call upon or address,

MR. EDW. H. CUTLER,
328 Washington St., Newton.

Suggestion has been made that Mr. Cutler establish a separate Department for Girls, to meet the boys in such recitations only as they have in common. Any person interested in such a department are invited to communicate with Mr. Cutler either personally or in writing.

Early application for admission to the school is specially requested.

City of Newton.

PROPOSALS FOR A POLICE SIGNAL SYSTEM FOR THE CITY OF NEWTON.

The City of Newton, Mass., hereby invite proposals for supplying the Police Department with a Police Signal or Alarm System, comprising twenty street boxes or stations, one central office apparatus and the necessary wires, batteries, etc., so arranged as to properly operate the system in four metallic circuits. The contractor is to furnish all material, labor and tools necessary for the construction of said signal system, and the work is to be done in a thorough and workmanlike manner, to the satisfaction and with the approval of the Police Committee of said city. Each bidder must furnish a detailed description of the system offered and must also exhibit at the time the bids are opened an actual working plan of the system covered by the proposal with the samples of the boxes and apparatus of all kinds offered therein.

A map of the city showing the location of the boxes or stations, and the central office can be seen at the City Marshal's office.

Bids will be received until Saturday, June 15, 1889, at 5 o'clock P. M., when they will be opened. The committee reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Proposals to be addressed to the Chairman of the Committee on Police, City Hall, West Newton, Mass.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
PROBATE COURT.

To the next of kin, creditors, and to all other persons interested in the estate of Ann Fanning, late of Newton, in said County, deceased, intestate.

Whereas, application has been made to said Court for a letter of administration on the estate of said deceased to Charles C. Burr of said Newton.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge, in said County of Middlesex, on the fourth Tuesday of June next at nine o'clock before noon, to show cause, if any you have, against granting the same.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in the newspaper called the Newton Graphic, printed at Newton, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said court.

Witness, George M. Brooks, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this twenty-seventh day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-nine.

J. H. TYLER, Register.

Langwood Hotel,

MY EXPERIENCE WITH A NIGHT-INGALE.

[Written for the GRAPHIC.]

It is not everybody that is privileged to enjoy the unbroken society of a night-ingale; and it is true that anyone thus privileged enjoys what is more than ordinary pleasure.

When I first brought my nightingale home, I had no idea of his song. I designed him merely as company for another much smaller bird, (a non pareil finch) which for several weeks had been subject to protracted spells of melancholy. This habit of mind I could not attribute only to the want of company; though I have no doubt that the wintry aspect of the country and the severe artificiality of a human abode, especially the stifling gas from the furnace worked upon his mind and combined to make his existence a constant test of endurance.

I cannot reproach myself with having neglected the bird at any time; indeed I am not sure that my attentions were not rather a source of annoyance than pleasure. Whether there ever occurred to the bird during this bleak winter a moment of true enjoyment I am unable to say; though sometimes by a peculiar flutter of the wings and twitch of the tail he showed that his confinement was not altogether intolerable. Of seed and water, apples and bananas, oranges, lettuce, cabbage and potatoes, he had plenty. His wants were attended to in a manner most flattering to himself; but with these attentions he could not be consoled, and it was evident that he longed for company of a more natural and congenial kind.

This idea was impressed upon me in various ways, until I resolved to select for him a companion, and with feelings of considerable responsibility I undertook to perform this vicarious function. I went to the bird store, and as I looked over the various kinds of birds the act of deciding became more and more troublesome. Many of the birds before me I knew nothing of; and it was quite important to select one that would not show incompatibility of temper. I must have one endowed naturally with amiability. A great Northern shrike, for instance, would behave like the little finch and think nothing about it; while others would practice larceny or prove themselves tyrants. If there had been a mate for the bird I should have been at ease; but there was not.

The Nightingales were recommended to me very highly. They were hopping about silently in a large cage, now and then pausing to eye a customer or pick at their ragged feathers. I turned to the parrots and then to the brilliant though tuneless little birds from South America, finally to the canaries, larks, thrushes and mocking-birds. All were attractive in their own peculiar way, and none were more so than the nightingales. These—the nightingales—assumed often grotesque postures and expressions, and appeared much dissatisfied with the food and accommodations forced upon them. No doubt they expected something better from the hand of civilized man; and so thoroughly justifiable was their disgust and disappointment, that I could not help crediting them with a large amount of intelligence and discrimination. I knew I should grow more interested in one of these birds by a closer acquaintance; and upon being told that the nightingales were by nature friendly disposed toward nearly all the little birds, my choice was quickly determined.

While awaiting the proprietor's motions, which were uncommonly slow, my attention was attracted to a bird, native of South America, known as the Crazy Grackle. He showed himself worthy of the name in a very few minutes. He cantered around the cage like a clown, threw up his head and uttered a few low syllables in a tone exactly like that of an old man. He made various other sounds while I was in the store, but they were all more or less unearthly, and excited the strangest sensations. Having outgrown all fear, he was easy and self-possessed in manner, though he seemed the very incarnation of mystery. He certainly impressed one as being very old, with the possibility before him of living through many ages to come. He inspired deeper feelings of the past than any ornament of antiquity I have ever seen; and if he has not communed with the aboriginal forests, he has certainly drawn a breath from the heart of nature imbued with her deepest mystery and solemnity.

The Grackle is, I believe, allied to the crow and black bird, and is valued as a cage bird for his powers of imitation and his strikingly original and interesting habits. The plumage of the specimen before me was of a glossy black, at least plumage he had was of this description. His tail was absent, and his neck wanted a few feathers. Whether his wild eccentricity leads him to carry a bare neck and a crooked tail, it is hard to say; but it is most natural to suppose he would prefer to carry such an appearance rather than one comely or refined.

When the proprietor had waited upon several people and replenished many of the birds with seed and water, he approached me ready to take from the cage of nightingales what ever bird I pointed out to him. After making several rough attempts at catching a bird, which greatly enraged and frightened the little flock, he succeeded in pulling out one of the finest specimens.

My bird was put at once into a small wooden crate about half the size of a hat box, and around the crate was wrapped some stiff brown paper, so that any one would have supposed the bundle to be shoes, or a box of flowers, or something of like importance. On account of the seed and water in the crate it was necessary to carry it right side up, but for this necessity the bird might have found himself capsize at every other breath. The rattling of a few scattered seeds in the paper was the only sound I heard as I walked along; though I listened, expecting the bird to sing out as an expression of gratitude over his deliverance from the hands of the bird dealer. Confusion of ideas no doubt suppressed his expression of feeling.

When I reached the railway station I remembered some errands I had to do in another part of the city, and desiring no encumbrances while travelling around I placed my nightingale in charge of a railway official, who looked with wonder at the package when I cautioned him to handle it carefully, as it contained a wild creature with which it would be dangerous to meddle. I gave the package a little turn and the sudden commotion created inside assured the man that there was no humming about it. I believe he was conscientious in adhering to my precautions, for when I returned my nightingale was as quiet as a can of oysters.

On board the train the bird poured forth with a loud voice. At this I was astonished. He really knew he was going somewhere, and was delighted at the prospect before him. The interval of quiet at the railway station had given him opportunity to collect his thoughts and he was now no longer in a nervous mood. But to my great surprise he did not appear delighted when, at home, I took him out of the paper. Being brought in contact with the visible world he was completely upset. He dashed and fluttered and screamed. He overturned his dish of water, and I was in a mood to over the floor. No one could approach him without fear of his killing himself; in fact, it seemed to be only a matter of a few minutes when both the bird and crate would be in ruins. I waited some time for his heat and excitement to subside, but he seemed impatient, and demanded a change for the better or worse. I folded the paper over him, took him up-stairs to the little finch, and letting out the finch, I put him into the cage. Now it was this cage I expected him to occupy, and I was in a mood to over the floor. No one could approach him without fear of his killing himself; in fact, it seemed to be only a matter of a few minutes when both the bird and crate would be in ruins.

I waited some time for his heat and excitement to subside, but he seemed impatient, and demanded a change for the better or worse. I folded the paper over him, took him up-stairs to the little finch, and letting out the finch, I put him into the cage. Now it was this cage I expected him to occupy, and I was in a mood to over the floor. No one could approach him without fear of his killing himself; in fact, it seemed to be only a matter of a few minutes when both the bird and crate would be in ruins.

The little finch hopped and flew around the room eyeing the strangely behaved nightingale with wonder. He resigned his cage with good grace, and this is saying much in his favor, considering that he himself enjoys being in it. The nightingale grew more and more desperate and the necessity of getting him a larger cage was plain enough. I saw that I could not get one too large. Back to the city I went, and this time I brought home the largest and most comfortable I could find. It was night when I returned, and well it was; for the bird had really retired and was now quiet enough to be moved with safety.

Since that night he has enjoyed his big cage, and the exercise he gets in hopping about, and the rooming from perch to perch is equivalent to a run around the yard.

This bird is not properly a nightingale, but a Cardinal Grosbeak (Cardinalis Virginianus) though often called the Virginian nightingale. Wilson Flagg, in one of his charming books, assigns to this bird much in his favor, considering three sweet notes, like chee-hoo, chee-hoo, chee-hoo, rapidly delivered. But this is great injustice to the bird as a singer; for he has no less than four distinctively original songs, and when he mixes them together one would think he had a great many others. He often commences so softly one can hardly hear him, and then gradually sings louder and clearer until the whole house rings with his voice. He is instantly stopped by anybody's presence. While out-of-doors he is inspired much by the orioles, whose voices somewhat resemble his own. When he sings with such full-heartedness, I wish my bird was more in favor of taking a bath. Occasionally he dips his head in his water jar, and splatters a little, but it is rather an unsatisfactory way of bathing. A larger dish he is afraid of, and I have been obliged to sprinkle him with a watering-pot. This he finds very agreeable; really, he enjoys it, and I have no doubt it does him good.

MILBENEDICT.

Haste the Good Work.

(From the Waltham Tribune.)

It recently looked as though the Newton board of aldermen intended to refuse to pass an order relative to permitting the Newton Street railroad to erect and maintain a single trolley system in that city, and the action taken Monday night, when a very large majority of the board voted in favor of the petition, was a surprise to Walthamites, who had been led to believe that the matter would be postponed so late in the season that it would be impractical to build the road this summer. The restrictions were similar to those demanded by this city, and in fact the order as passed by the Waltham board some time ago, covers all that the Newton board has demanded of the company, inasmuch as the aldermen have the power to demand anything of the railroad company that is reasonable, and the agreement to the demands of the Newton board of aldermen by the corporation, shows that protecting the fire alarm, telegraph, and police telegraph systems of Newton is a reasonable demand, and may with propriety be added to the requirements of the company by this city. In answer to a telephonic message last evening, President Parker of the company stated that work will be commenced not later than the first of next week, and that Main street in Waltham would be the place where work would first be inaugurated and pushed in both directions, until the lines were laid and in complete running order, all of which is anticipated and will be quickly by President Parker, so that the line will be running in the course of a couple of months. The Waltham people stand ready to welcome this new departure in street railroading, and the earlier the cars are running, the better our people will be satisfied, and the heavier the receipts of the company.

Hillborn & Whitman Co.
46 Canal St.
BOSTON

MANUFACTURERS OF
PARLOR FURNITURE
We carry a very large stock of Frames and Upholstery.

Ordered Work a Specialty.
All the Newest Coverings.

BARGAINS in Odd Pieces, Divans, Easy Chairs, Tables, Bookcases, Hall Furniture, Desks.

THE MEMORIAL OBSERVANCES.

THE POST ATTENDS SERVICES IN GRACE CHURCH, SUNDAY EVENING.

There was a large gathering in Grace church Sunday evening, when special Memorial services were held. The grand army and citizen soldiery were well represented, the following organizations occupying seats in the main body of the church: Charles Ward post 62, of this city, and Isaac B. Patten post 81, of Watertown, J. Wiley Edmunds camp 100, Sons of Veterans, and the Clavin Guard, Co. C, 5th Regt., M. V. M. The services opened with the rendition of the hymn, "God Bless our Native Land," after which came the sentence, exhortation and prayers of the Episcopal service followed by the responsive reading of the 91st Psalm, the Scripture lessons, creed and prayers. An anthem beautifully rendered by the double quartet of the church preceded the address by the rector, Rev. George W. Shinn, D. D.

"It is perfectly proper," said Dr. Shinn, "for men that have been participants in a great war to come together at times to tell over the stories of battle and to rejoice in the successes which they have achieved. It is especially proper for them to keep in grateful memory those who have fallen in battle and those who have finally succumbed to wounds and disease contracted in the service of their country. We have great pleasure in welcoming here to-night men who are the visible evidences of a conflict which was long and bloody, and who by putting their lives in peril have sustained the integrity of the government and preserved for posterity our own free institutions. We have great pleasure, too, in welcoming the citizen militia, organized for the defence of home and country and ready, if need be, to imitate the examples of those who over a quarter-century ago sprang forward to protect our flag and save the nation. We are glad to have this service in Grace church, for this congregation sent its representatives to the field. Gen. Underwood was long an active member of this parish and there is a memorial window in this church which commemorates another from among us who died for his country."

"To-night, I have thought, in the few minutes during which I ask your attention, to direct your minds to this question: 'Do we see any of the evidences of the coming of the time when wars shall cease? It has come to be regarded as one of the results bound up with the Christian religion that there shall be a cessation of wars. But here comes a strange perplexity. The Christian faith has existed for 18 centuries in the world and yet one of the chief elements of this faith is the maintenance of wars. We find Christian nations maintaining war-like attitude towards other Christian nations, and we see them cultivating the art of war until it becomes so destructive of human life and of treasure that it is perfectly appalling. I suppose that to every one of us there has, at some time or other, occurred the perplexing thought as to how Christianity and warfare can be made consistent. There are those who emphatically deny that the gospel and war can ever be made consistent, the one with the other. They stoutly maintain that every principle of Christian religion is violated by the perpetration of anything that tends to prepare for or carry on a war. They object to military and naval schools, to the enrolment of state militia, to the support of a national standing army, to the building of war vessels and coast defence, and to the use of money for the equipping of troops and for the building of forts and barracks. So far do they carry this that they adopt non-resistance as a principle. They will not take up arms even in self-defence nor encourage others to do so."

The matter becomes still more perplexing when you see what a strong argument can be made for the righteousness of war. It may surprise someone to have it suggested that anything can be said in justification of war. I do not know of any stronger presentation of that side of the case than that made by John Stuart Mill. Another English writer, Dr. Mozley, claims that it is the inherent right of a nation to contend for its own existence; that war may be a necessity for the redistribution of races and the territory which they occupy; that moral results are developed by the sacrifice of a nation; and that the perpetration of these things are strong points, but let us look at them a little more closely. First of all, most moralists treating of the general subject have been forced to make a distinction between wars of conquest and wars for defence. Who is there to-day who will be found ready to give any excuse for the former? Many of the earlier wars were simply for conquest. It is well nigh certain that the time has gone by for such wars; perhaps never again will men arise who will call around them great armies for the subjugation of weaker nations. Shall we not say that this is one triumph of Christianity? Then again looking back over the history of war, can any defence be urged for many of the other struggles in which nations have engaged? Has there been in them any question of national honor or any sustaining of national pride? Another triumph of Christianity must be recorded when we consider the favor with which the plan of the international courts of arbitration has been received in our day. Already important questions have been settled in that way, which, but for this plan, would have precipitated destructive wars, and there is reason to believe that arbitration by international courts must become the rule as we advance along the lines of Christian civilization.

Studying the precepts of Christianity and studying the ideal of Christian society, does not every one see that war will become an inconsistency. When men try to live out the principles of their religion, what place can there be for war? Our religion aims to convert the evil passions that lead to strife, seeks to develop a spirit that is not easily provoked, encourages fair dealing, makes appeals for justice, holds mighty forces in reserve for great emergencies, and renders it possible for man to attain his noblest possibilities without strife. All these things are inconsistent with war. But this element is working. The heaven has not yet penetrated all the meal, and the old question comes back in a new shape. Until society becomes more Christianized, is it possible to avoid war? I have not pretended to settle the question with which I started out. I have given you the arguments and positions on both sides. It is an interesting question, a problem indeed worthy of thought. If you think it over, I am sure it will start a prayer in your hearts, and that prayer will be "Hasten, O Lord, the spread of thy truth, so that all men and all nations may be at peace, and war shall be learned no more."

There are no such firm friends of peace as those who have seen war. There have been none more ready to extend the hand of brotherhood to their former antagonists than the soldiers of the union. They knew what war really meant, and knowing what it meant, they are friends of peace. Let us hope that never again will the sounds of war be heard in our land. May those who have come through the perils of war find a peaceful ending of their lives and find their rest, at last, with the merciful Christ. And may the time come when the beneficent sway of our Redeemer shall so prevail on the earth that all men shall live in the bonds of a blessed brotherhood."

A Lawyer's Story.

Mr. Robert T. Lincoln likes to tell the story of his first fee as an attorney. Old Judge Logan, under whom he read law, had always told him not to be afraid to charge big fees for his service, "People don't respect a cheap lawyer," said the judge.

One day soon after Mr. Lincoln had been admitted to practice, he sat alone in his office when a messenger brought a note from the Chicago agent of one of the wealthiest insurance companies in America, asking to have the title to a certain piece of property looked up. The young lawyer spent about half an hour looking into the title, and then sent the report to the insurance office. Pretty soon the messenger came with another note. This one requested Mr. Lincoln to send his bill by the bearer. The young lawyer had no idea what to charge. At first he thought it would be good policy not to charge anything, "for," said he to himself, "I shall like to get that company's work regularly."

But he knew Judge Logan would not approve that sort of thing, and he didn't want the judge to think that he was heedless of his advice. So he figured it that, since he had worked only half an hour, $10 would be a good stiff price, for it would be at the rate of $200 for a day of 10 hours. The words of Judge Logan, however, rang in his ears, and with a stroke of audacity that almost frightened him, Mr. Lincoln finally made the bill for $25. He felt that this was an outrageously high fee, and was hesitating as to whether he would give it to the boy or make out another for $10, when Judge Logan chanced to come in.

"You are just the man I want to see," said Mr. Lincoln, and he told him of his dilemma.

Judge Logan took the bill and tore it up. "I knew it was outrageously high," said Mr. Lincoln, "but, judge, you always told me to make a big bill, and I did this time to please you than myself."

"Nonsense," said the judge, "give me a pen." He set down, wrote another bill and gave it to the boy. "In a few minutes the boy returned with the insurance agent's check for $250, and a little note to Mr. Lincoln thanking him for his promptness, and saying the company's other work of this character would be sent to him."

"Great Scott!" said the young lawyer to the old one, "did you make out a bill for $250?"

"Of course I did," answered the old judge, "you don't want to be a d-d ekelemyonary institution for insurance companies, do you?"—[Washington Post.]

The New Discovery.

You have heard your friends and neighbors talking about it. You may yourself be one of the many who know from personal experience just how good a thing it is. If you have ever tried it, you are one of its staunch friends, because it is wonderful thing about it is, that when once given a trial, Dr. King's New Discovery ever after holds a place in the house. If you have never used it and should be afflicted with a cough, cold or any Throat, Lung or Chest trouble, secure a bottle at once, and give it a fair trial. It is guaranteed every time, or money refunded. Trial bottles free at Arthur Hudson's drugstore.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Arthur Hudson.

100 Ladies Wanted. and 100 men to call on any druggist for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine, the great root and herb remedy, discovered by Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains. For diseases of the blood, liver, and kidneys, it is a positive cure. It cures the most complex and chronic diseases. Children like it. Large-size package, 50 cents. At all druggists.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE GREAT German Remedy.
TRUTHS FOR THE SICK.

For those deadly Bilious Spells depend on SULPHUR BITTERS. It will cure you.

Do you suffer with that tired and aching feeling of the liver? SULPHUR BITTERS will cure you.

Operatives who are closely confined, the mill and work shops, clerks, who do not procure sufficient exercise, and all who are confined in doors, will find SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not be weak and sickly.

Do you not wish to suffer from rheumatism, use a bottle of SULPHUR BITTERS. It never fails to cure.

Don't be without a bottle. Try it; you will not regret it.

Ladies in delicate health, who are afflicted with SULPHUR BITTERS. They will not be weak and sickly.

Do you want the best Medical Work published? Send 3 cents stamps to E. C. MORRIS & CO., Boston, Mass., and receive a copy free.

Take Hood's Sarsaparilla 100 Doses One Dollar

The Chief Reason for the great success of Hood's Sarsaparilla is found in the article itself. It is merit that wins, and the fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually accomplishes what is claimed for it, is what has given to this medicine a popularity and sale greater than that of any other sarsaparilla or blood purifier before the public. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures Scrofula, Salt Rheum and all Humors, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Bilioussness, overcomes That Tired Feeling, creates an Appetite, strengthens the Nerves, builds up the Whole System. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists, and is six for $5. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Apothecaries, Lowell, Mass.

KASKINE
THE NEW QUININE.

No Bad Effect
No Headache.
No Nausea.
No Ringing Ears
Cures Quickly.
Pleasant, Pure.

A POWERFUL TONIC.
A SPECIFIC FOR MALARIA, RHEUMATISM, Nervous Prostration.
THE MOST SCIENTIFIC AND SUCCESSFUL BLOOD PURIFIER. Superior to quinine. Mr. Lode Hoombeck, of the U. S. Ship Keasarge, writes that he meets people almost daily who have used or are using Kaskine, and who affirm from experience that it is superior to quinine in tonic and curative properties, and produces no subsequent bad effects. Mr. John C. Scarborough, Selma, N. C., writes: "I got malaria in the Southern army, and for a dozen years suffered from its debilitating effects. I was terribly run down when I heard of Kaskine, the new quinine. It helped me once. I gained 35 pounds." Kaskine can be taken without any special medical advice. $1.00 per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Sent by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price. KASKINE CO., 168 Duane St., New York.

ACHING Sides and Back

Aching Sides and Back, Hip, Kidney and Uterine Pains, Rheumatic, Sciatic, Sharp and Weakening Pains, relieved in one minute by the Cuticura Anti-Pain Plaster. The first and most instantaneous pain-killing strengthening plaster. 25 cents; 5 for $1. At druggists, or of POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston. 30-41 North St., N. Y.

FARMS BEST Soil Climate and Location in the South.

WANTED. Agents for our new book "Prominent Men and Women of the Day," containing interesting sketches of the most prominent persons now living. Its 350 fine portraits help Agents wonderfully. Pub. Park, Co., Hartford, Conn.

PIM Pimples, black-heads, chapped and PLES oily skin cured by CUTICURA SOAP.

BERRY BASKETS AND CRATES at lowest prices. 1 can make a success of it. GAGE & Son, Wethersfield, Conn.

WANTED

Men to take orders for Nursery Stock, on Salary or Commission. I can make a success of it. E. O. GRAHAM, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y.

SALESMAN

of any one who will work and follow my instructions. Will furnish handsome outfit free. Write for particulars. E. O. GRAHAM, Nurseryman, Rochester, N. Y.

PILENNIUM.

Why suffer from PILES when you can be cured? The PILENNIUM is the never failing remedy. Half a Pilennium. Price 50 cents. Hundreds of unsolicited testimonials. Ask your druggist for it. MAKE him get it for you if he has it in stock. CAUTION: ASK FOR KILHAM, Wholesale Agents, Boston, Mass.

TAKE NO OTHER.

PARKER'S HARRISAM
Cleanses and beautifies the skin. Promotes a luxuriant growth. Never Fails to Restore Gray Hair to its Natural Color. Prevents Dandruff and hair falling. Box and $1.00 at Druggists.

EXHAUSTED VITALITY
UNTOLD MISERIES

Resulting from the Errors of Youth, Folly, Vice, Ignorance, &c., may be cured at home without fail or exposure. Infallible and Confidential. Large Treatise, 300 pages, only $1 by mail, sealed, postpaid. Small book, with endorsements of the press, free. Send now. Address The Penobscot Medical Institute, or Dr. W. H. Parker, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass.

THURSTON'S
IVORY DEAR TOOTH POWDER
WILL KEEP THE TEETH IN PERFECT CONDITION AND THE GUMS HEALTHY.
Price 25 & 50 Cents
250 bottles.

ASPLENDID CHANCE!
For YOU, Permanently putting the year round. Good pay guaranteed. No experience needed! Good character and willingness to work alone required. Quits free.

Send for terms and compensation at once. Write J. AUSTIN SHAW, Nurseryman, Brooklyn, N. Y.

E. C. MORRIS & CO'S SAFES

ALWAYS PRESERVE THEIR CONTENTS. Read from the Great Marblehead, Mass. fire. Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 23, 1888. Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, This is to certify that I have been using a No. 6 E. C. Morris & Co's safe in my store, and that in the most terrible fire this town has ever known on the night of the 25th inst. the safe was subjected to very intense heat for 36 hours, and upon its being opened to my surprise, found its contents in perfect condition with the exception of the leather on one book which was against the wall of the safe, while the writing on every leaf was as clear as if legibles when it was put in. I also found Machine Twist, Needles, Papers, etc., in good, clear condition. In case I rebuild I shall feel that I can do no better than to use again what has served me well in this fire. In our fire of 1887 I had to get rid of another safe, the contents of which came out in very good shape but not as well as this one, although that fire was not as bad as this one. I am at liberty to use this testimonial as you see fit, and should take pleasure in showing the books, etc., to any one who would like to see them.

Respectfully Yours,
[Sign.] HENRY O. SYMONDS.
P. S. Dec. 25, 1888. I have this day purchased another of same size, having been satisfied with the other.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 2, 1889.
Messrs. E. C. Morris & Co., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, On Aug. 9th, 1887, we had one of your large make of safes in our Wolboro, N. H. factory, which went through a very hot fire. It stood the test. Again on Dec. 25, 1888, in the Marblehead conflagration another of your safes was exposed to the heat of another fire in good condition, even a cross of matches. Under the circumstances we can safely recommend your make to any one who would like to see them.

Yours truly,
[Sign.] F. W. & I. M. Monroe.
Marblehead, Mass., Dec. 28, 1889.
Messrs. E. C. MORRIS & CO., Boston, Mass.

Gentlemen, On opening our safe which we purchased from you some two years ago, we found everything in perfect condition. The situation of our safe caused it to be exposed to intense heat for a number of hours.

As soon as we are ready to purchase we will call and select another of your make.

Yours very truly,
J. M. Cropley & Bros.

Over 100,000 in Use.
Send for Catalogue.

E. C. MORRIS & CO., BOSTON, MASS.

LA MAN

UNACQUAINTED WITH THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE COUNTRY WILL OBTAIN MUCH INFORMATION FROM A STUDY OF THIS MAP OF THE

GREAT ROCK ISLAND ROUTE

(C. R. I. & P. and C. K. & N. R.'s.)

West, Northwest and Southwest. It includes CHICAGO, JOLIET, ROCK ISLAND, DAVENPORT, DES MOINES, COUNCIL BLUFFS, WATERBURY, SIOUX FALLS, MINNEAPOLIS, ST. PAUL, ST. JOSEPH, ATCHISON, LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS CITY, TORONTO, COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER, FUELDO, and hundreds of prosperous and other towns covering vast areas of the richest farming lands in the west.

SOLID VESTIBULE EXPRESS TRAINS

Leading all competitors in splendor and luxury of accommodations (daily) between CHICAGO and COLORADO SPRINGS, DENVER and FUELDO. Similar magnificent VESTIBULE TRAIN service (daily) between CHICAGO and COUNCIL BLUFFS (OMAHA), and between CHICAGO and KANSAS CITY. Modern Day Coaches, elegant Dining Cars (serving delicious meals at reasonable prices), restful Reclining Chair Cars (seats FREE), and Palace Sleeping Cars (seats FREE). NELSON, HORTON, HUTCHINSON, WICHITA, ABILENE, CRAWFORD, and all points in Southern Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, the Indian Territory and Texas. California Excursions daily. Choice of routes to the Pacific coast.

The Famous Albert Lea Route

Runs superbly equipped Express Trains, daily, between Chicago, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, and Minneapolis and St. Paul. The popular tourist line to the scenic resorts and hunting and fishing grounds of the northwest. In Watertown and Grand Island, Nebraska, it connects the great "WHEAT AND DAIRY BELT" of Northern Iowa, Northwestern Minnesota and East Central Dakota.

The Short Line via Seneca and Kankakee offers facilities to travel to and from Indianapolis, Cincinnati and other Southern points.

For Tickets, Maps, Folders, or desired information, apply at any Coupon Ticket Office, or address E. ST. JOHN, E. A. HOLBROOK, Gen'l Manager, Gen'l Ex't & Pass. Agt. CHICAGO, ILL.

HIMROD'S CURE for ASTHMA

Catarrh, Hay Fever, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Croup and Common Colds.

Recommended by Physicians and sold by Druggists throughout the world. Send for Free Sample.

HIMROD MANUF'G CO.,
SOLE PROPRIETORS,
191 FULTON ST., NEW YORK.

Get Your Lunch at
Fred M. Phillips'

DINING ROOMS,
16 North Market St.,
And 16 Clinton Street, Boston.

HINDER CORNS.

The only safe Cure for Corns. Stops all pain. Restores comfort to the foot. No. 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 6

HOW IT STARTED.

The Account of Two Serious Diseases which came Without Warning—How to Keep Out of the Pit of Danger.

Mr. William Z. Coulton, of Worcester, Mass., walked rapidly to catch a train, thus getting into a perspiration, and carelessly sat in a draught after the train had started. The next day he was in bed with physicians attending him, and the third day he died.

The reader says these were only colds! Very true. But do you not know that nearly all known diseases start from colds? They are slight beginnings, but how frightful their ending! It is only a slight cold, but it goes to the lungs and causes pneumonia and consumption; only a cold that flies to the heart and causes instant death; only a cold that settles in the kidneys, liver and bladder, and brings final death, with lingering agony. No man ever died of kidney or bladder disease who did not first take cold; no woman ever became a confirmed invalid who could not trace its origin to a cold. Such being the terrible truth, the necessity of guarding these first beginnings in time must be plain to all.

Dr. Gardner, of the American Medical College, recently said: "While most colds go direct to the kidneys or bladder, I have never known a case where, if taken in time, by the preparation known as H. A. B. Ham's, they could not be cured and expelled before the system was so far gone that where the cold is allowed to linger, it most cases, it results in continued ill health or death."

This great remedy is superior to anything now known to doctors or medical institutions for the cure of kidney or bladder diseases or for female troubles, and I endorse it most heartily.

The danger of all beginnings are too often overlooked. Take them in time! Use the right remedy and only such remedy as has been endorsed by the highest authorities and has proven its worth by years of popularity.

DOES WHAT YOU EAT HURT YOU? If what you eat hurts you, or if you are troubled with Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Headache, Low Spirits, Kidney Complaints, Etc., etc., etc.

Try a Bottle of DR. HAM'S Aromatic Invigorator!

It has stood the tests of the public for over a quarter of a century, and thousands have testified to its value. Send for circular and testimonials. For sale by all Druggists at 50 cents and $1 per bottle.

HEATH & MURRAY, General Agents for New England, 217 Washington Street, Boston.

OMNIPATHY

Dr. C. A. GREENE

Has for 41 years been curing all the (so-called) incurable diseases of the body, such as Diabetes, Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, Consumption, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles and all the multitudinous afflictions of men and women.

By applications of non-poisonous remedies on the outside of the body (on the skin). He wishes to erect a college to teach his system and to dispose of his properties to raise the money. Will philanthropists aid him? He has an equipped granite quarry near Harrisburg, Pa. 400 acres heavily timbered land in Vanceburg, Ky., and 75 acres in Danville, Ky. Also for sale a lot of elegant Shetland and other ponies in his stables at Arlington, Mass. Read his pamphlet of 44 pages containing most marvellous cures, sent to you free. Call and get it or send your name and it will be forwarded to you.

His consultations are FREE. He treats the Eye, Ear, Lungs, Heart and all of the organs of the body. No drugs are put in the stomach. Investigate his statements. Offices.

No. 178 Tremont Street, Boston, Mass.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays from 9 A. M. to 12 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

R. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

HOWARD BROS., ICE DEALERS.

We are now prepared to furnish the citizens of Newton and Watertown with PURE POND ICE.

AT LOWEST MARKET RATES To Families, Hotels, Markets, &c., at Wholesale and Retail.

ORDER BOX.—At W. Henry Brackett's provision store, City Market and Post Office, Newton and Hall's Grocery Store, Watertown.

Post Office Address, Watertown, where orders may be left.

F. H. HOWARD. W. O. HOWARD. PROPRIETORS.

Western Farm Mortgage Trust COMPANY.

CAPITAL, $3,000,000. Capital paid in over $1,000,000.

7% SAFE Investments. Mortgages from $200 up. Principal and Interest guaranteed.

4 Per Cent. Ten Year Gold Debenture Bonds. 7 Per Cent. Six Year Gold Debenture Bonds.

Over 2000 satisfied investors, composed of Savings Banks, Institutions, Trustees, Guardians, and Private Investors.

Our record—Over $12,000,000 invested without loss or delay in payments.

F. B. ROGERS, Manager, 35 Congress St., Boston. Send a call for information.

DEAFNESS CURED BY PEARL'S. Incurable TUBULAR EAR CUSHIONS. Whispers heard distinctly. Comfortable. No pain. No danger. No loss of time. Address or call on R. H. PEARL, 528 Broadway, N. Y.

PEERLESS DYES ARE THE BEST. Sold by Druggists.

EXPLORATIONS IN EGYPT.

EGYPT EXPLORATION FUND'S ACHIEVEMENTS, BOOKS, AND NEEDS.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC.

The brilliant successes in Egyptian exploration since 1883, when our Fund was organized and began its work with the discovery of Pitom (built by the Israelites in bondage), have always let me confidently appeal to our public for its support. The work at Zoan, Nankrat, Tahpanhes, and in "the land of Goshen," and the recent splendid recovery of the most beautiful of Egyptian temples—that of Bubastis—are known to the public through the magazines, journals, and standard dailies of England and America. Each year we issue an illustrated quarto of the season's work; and the five books already published, treat of the arts and sciences of the past, Graeco-Egyptian architecture and art, as well as the history of Egypt, its geography, its relation to the Bible and its disclosed monuments. In the words of one of our most eminent educators: "The Egypt Exploration Fund has done and is doing a work of such momentous importance for education and enlightenment in many directions, that it deserves and should have the hearty sympathy and support of all who are interested in the progress of knowledge and the welfare of our race."

Some 300 eminent Americans have subscribed to this cause, among them 80 university or college presidents. Says a distinguished man of Chicago: "There ought to be hundreds among our men of wealth, who are possessed as well of cultivated minds, to whom it would be a pleasure to contribute to the Exploration Fund." Writes an eminent Yale professor: "The photographic plates alone are worth the subscription money"—referring to the season's Memoir. Miss Amelia B. Edwards, who visits America next fall and winter, with lists of subscribers in her illustrated lectures. Mr. James Russell Lowell is honorary vice president for America.

Owing to the rare skill and economy of our managers in the field, and our gratuitous services, but $7,000 to $8,000 a year are needed to carry on the work, although much more could be done with more means. There is not one cent of endowment, and I earnestly appeal for aid. Patrons contribute $25, but donors of $5 are equally entitled to the season's quarto memoir (fully illustrated), to the annual report with lists of subscribers, letters, balance sheet, etc., etc. As most important historic sites are being destroyed in Egypt by the fellahs and Arabs, involving the loss of precious records, the work should be vigorously prosecuted. But we cannot resume exploration without immediate aid. Let all who care to know the particulars of this important work address me for circulars and other information.

WM. C. WINSLOW, Vice-Pres. and Honorary Treas. 525 Beacon St., Boston, May 10, 1890.

Speech and its Defects.

Mrs. E. J. E. Thorpe, specialist for stammering, in her lecture on "Speech and its Defects," recently delivered before the Ladies' Physiological Institute in Boston, gave a sketch of what has been done in the past for defects of speech, with the various theories as to their cause, and the treatment. Stammerers more than almost any other class have been wrongly treated and imposed upon, because this subject has been misunderstood. Some specialists have attributed stammering to faults in the muscular action or to some other purely physiological cause, others to the mind. The latter class endeavor to educate the will. Mrs. Thorpe's treatment rests on the idea of the emotions as the basis of speech defects. Emotions certainly can not be weighed or measured, but by skillful treatment the patient can learn to control them. The other important point is that stammering is simply an exaggeration of conditions already existing in which exist in persons not credited with such defects, as in the case of parents of stammerers. One or both of the parents may have the same defect as their child, only the defect is not apparent because not exaggerated as in the child. Serious speech difficulty affects the mind and is the result of a great fear—a fear peculiar to the individual. Children sometimes become stammerers from the pressure at school. One question sharply put by a teacher has been known to cause stammering. The difficulty greatly needs treatment at the outset,—in the first stages. People do not realize the length of time required, after the habit is confirmed, to cure it, or how quickly the muscles become fixed. This point was dwelt upon at some length and made very emphatic. Pupils must first learn how to talk, but this knowledge will avail nothing, without the long training and incessant care and practice of a thorough course of treatment. The trouble is always made more serious, inveterate and complicated, than is at first supposed. The benefit first gained is a mere hint,—entirely momentary and elusive, unless rendered fixed and permanent by the most unrelenting and patient training.

The lecture, forcefully illustrated and abounding in interesting and curious facts, was a concise statement of the true method of treatment and its results, and gave evidence of great research and familiarity with all past and present systems and theories. The lecturer's own scientific treatment has been thoroughly tested for twenty years, working permanent cures in almost all cases and always alleviating the trouble. Her method, so rational, and the treatment so natural and gradual, and so delicately sympathetic, are their own best commendation, and they are also a standing reproof to the impostures and trickery carried on under the name of "specialists." Mrs. Thorpe invites the most searching scrutiny of her work and methods. Her brilliant success and the grateful and eloquent testimonials to her skill from persons cured and from physicians and others of the highest standing, have established her reputation, and she is becoming known throughout the country, wherever this subject is considered. She has our most heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for the future of this discovery, so simple yet so great,—so appropriate to this age of beneficent and remedial agencies.

It is a Curious Fact That the body is now more susceptible to benefit from medicine than at any other season. Hence the importance of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla now, when it will do you the most good. It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a happy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.

Hading's View of It.

On the table of the writer is a large picture of that dreamy, feline-looking woman, Jane Hading. Our friendship was brief but lasting, and her final words on the ship as she sailed away descend upon the decrees of Fashion with emphatic scorn.

"You have lost your veil?" was the inquiry made of her as she stood on the deck facing the ocean breeze. "Ah! mon cher ami! Never shall I wear a veil again. Your American ladies have made me see how ugly a woman can make herself."

"By wearing the Hading veil?" she was asked. She nodded her head in affirmative reply and was silent.—[New York Graphic.]

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

Burt, B. C. A Brief History of Greek Philosophy. 54.494

"Gives a concise but comprehensive account of Greek philosophy on its native soil and in Rome."

Cecil, K. Notes of my Journey round the World. 36.278

A journey of seven months and a half through Canada, the United States, Japan, China, India, Egypt, etc.

Chapin, J. H. From Japan to Granada; Sketches of Observation and Inquiry in a Tour round the World in 1887-8. 33.383

Cobb, J. T. and Japp, A. H. Stories of Success, as illustrated by the Lives of Men who have Made themselves Great. 91.549

Comstock, J. H. An Introduction to Entomology, with Original Illustrations by A. B. Comstock. 106.221

A text book to give a knowledge of the elementary principles of Entomology and to enable students to classify insects by means of analytical keys similar to those used in Botany.

Conklin, J. M. L. The Nile. 65.651

Emin Pasha in Central Africa; being a Collection of his Letters and Journals; ed. and annotated by G. Schweinfurth and others. 36.279

Erskine, P. Ionia; a Lay of Ancient Greece. 55.338

Fiske, J. Myths and Myth Makers; Old Tales and Superstitions interpreted by Comparative Mythology. 54.604

Gillmore, Q. A. Practical Treatise on Limes, Hydraulic Cements and Mortars. 106.320

Gladius, W. E. and others. Hand book of Home Rule; being Articles on the Irish Question, with Preface by Earl Spencer; ed. by J. Bryce. 81.148

Grossmann, J. Some Chapters on Judaism and the Science of Religion. 94.467

Higginson, T. W. The Afternoon Landscape; Poems and Translations. 53.382

Lang, A. The Gold of Fairlie. 67.359

Liedtke, J. de. Six months among the Charities of Europe. 2 vols. 84.156

An account of visits made by the author to the charitable institutions of Europe in 1863 and 1864.

Marshall, E. Houses on Wheels; a Story for Children. 65.621

Mullinger, J. B. History of the University of Cambridge, England. 91.635

Parker, F. W. How to Study Geography. 81.141

"A comprehensive work for the use of teachers, rich in details and suggestions for the study of geography." Pub. Weekly.

Salter, W. M. Ethical Religion. Lectures given before the Society for Ethical Culture of Chicago. 91.550

Seely, H. A Lone Star Bo-Peep, and Other Tales of Texan Ranch Life. 61.670

Simon, J. F. Victor Cousin; trans. by M. B. and E. P. Anderson. (Great French Writers.) 92.66

Starcke, C. N. The Primitive Family; in its Origin and Development. (International Scientific Series.) 102.492

Swift, J. The Tale of a Tub, and Other Works; ed. by H. Morley. 55.348

Timol, R. An Alien from the Common-Place; the Romance of an Old Young Man. 63.717

Whitney, J. D. The United States; Facts and Figures illustrating the Physical Geography of the Country, and its Material Resources. 105.271

E. P. THURSTON, Librarian. May 29, 1890.

Artist—Here is a very suitable picture. Mr. Gibbs. It represents Rev. Mr. Goss the missionary, in the center of a group of cannibals. Don Gibbs—I see the cannibals. Mr. Gibbs, but where is the missionary? Artist—Didn't I just tell you he was in the center of the cannibals? [Terre Haute Express.]

Explanatory.—Last week we announced that we were on the trail of J. B. Davis, the Apache avenue grocer, and that this week's issue would contain an exposé calculated to startle the community. We had over a column of it in type when Mr. Davis called at the Kicker office and subscribed for the paper and gave us a column advt. for a year. Mr. Davis is not only a genial, whole-souled gentleman, worthy of a place in our best society, but an enterprising, go ahead citizen, who is a credit to the whole state. When you want the best of goods at the lowest prices call on him. [Arizona Kicker in Detroit Free Press.]

A Sound Legal Opinion. E. Bainbridge Munday, Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother also was very low with Malarial Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life."

Mr. D. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters."

This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malarial Diseases, and for all Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1. at Arthur Hudson's drugstore.

EDWARD P. BURNHAM, BICYCLE DEALER.

Bicycles and Tricycles of all descriptions sold for cash, or on instalments. Specialty in letting Second-hand Machines taken in exchange. Repairing done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

For cash, or on instalments. Specialty in letting Second-hand Machines taken in exchange. Repairing done.

Residence, 25 Park St., NEWTON, MASS.

Forced to Leave Home. Over 60 people were forced to leave their homes yesterday to call for a free trial package of Lane's Family Medicine. If your blood is bad, your liver and kidneys out of order, if you are constipated and have headache and an aching complexion, don't fail to call on any druggist today for a free sample of this grand remedy. The ladies praise it. Every one likes it. Large size package, 50 cents. 30 ly

C. E. OSGOOD & CO.,

CASH House Furnishers

Old Continental Clothing House BUILDING

748 to 756 Washington St., BOSTON.

The only first-class house in the City that buys and sells

FOR CASH ONLY

No concern in the world can undersell us.

Every special bargain advertised by our competitors, "For One Day only" we agree to duplicate

At Any Time.

Be Wise and buy for CASH

and save at least 25 % from any instalment house prices in America.

P. S.—Any customer presenting this advertisement at our office will receive a beautiful rug free.

Don't forget the place. 748 to 756 Washington Street, BOSTON.

HIRES

25¢ HIRES' IMPROVED 25¢ ROOT BEER!

IN LIQUID NOBOLLING EASILY MADE THIS PACKAGE MAKES FIVE GALLONS

MAKES FIVE GALLONS OF DELICIOUS AND SPARKLING

Root Beer

The most APPETIZING and WHOLESOME TEMPERANCE DRINK in the world. TRY IT.

Ask your Druggist or Grocer for it.

C. E. HIRES, PHILADELPHIA.

$4.00 HAND SEWED. $3.00 FRENCH WELT. SOLD ONLY TO THE CONSUMER

OUR CELEBRATED

Crawford Shoe

Can be obtained only at our following

Crawford Shoe Stores

No. 611 Washington Street, Boston. Under United States Hotel, " No. 38 Park Square, " No. 45 Green Street, " No. 2104 Washington St., Roxbury. No. 56 Main Street, Charlestown.

Also in

Providence, Hartford, New Haven, New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington, D. C.

BOUYE, CRAWFORD & CO.,

Makers of The Crawford Shoe.

H. W. MARTIN, TELEPHONE 7087.

Practical Upholsterer AND DEALER IN FURNITURE.

Upholstery work and repairs of all kinds neatly done. Hair Mattresses made up, Picture Frames to order. Carpets taken up, cleaned and relaid. Orders by mail will receive prompt attention.

H. W. MARTIN, GARFIELD BLOCK, GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS. 691

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,

Liberal House Furnishers.

FACTS.

OUR STOCK IS THE LARGEST, THE FINEST, THE CHOICEST.

FACTS

Parlor Furniture.

5 Different Styles at . . . $35.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 40.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 45.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 48.00 15 Different Styles at . . . 50.00 15 Different Styles at . . . 55.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 65.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 70.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 75.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 85.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 90.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 95.00 20 Different Styles, $100 to $500

200 DIFFERENT STYLES, Or more than 10 ordinary stores.

Chamber Furniture

10 Different Styles at . . . $17.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 20.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 22.50 20 Different Styles at . . . 25.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 30.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 40.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 45.00 20 Different Styles at . . . 50.00 25 Different Styles at . . . 60.00 25 Different Styles at . . . 75.00 25 Different Styles at . . . 85.00 10 Different Styles at . . . 92.00 20 Different Styles, $100 to $700

250 DIFFERENT STYLES, Or more than 10 ordinary stores.

MORE FACTS.

75 Different Styles of Sideboards. 100 Different Styles of Tables. 100 Different Styles of Chairs. 50 Different Styles of Lounges. 75 Different Styles of Baby Carriages. 500 Different Styles of Carpets.

LAMPS, CROCKERY, GLASSWARE, SHADES, DRAPERIES.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR US. Buying in Larger Quantities. Getting Larger Discounts. Doing Larger Business.

WHAT IT MEANS FOR YOU. Less Trouble in Selecting. Less Uncertainty of Quality. Lower Prices than Elsewhere.

CASH or INSTALMENTS FREE DELIVERY To any Railroad Depot in New England. FREE RAILROAD FARE On Purchases of $100 or Upward.

B. A. ATKINSON & CO.,

Liberal House Furnishers,

827 Washington St., One Block South of Hollis St., Corner Common St., Boston, Mass.

Dr. James M. Solomon, Jr.'s Botanical Medical Institute 75 Court St. (Scollay Sq.), Boston, Mass.

INDIAN BOTANICAL REMEDIES

Roots, Herbs, Gums and Barks chiefly used. Dr. Solomon treats all CHRONIC DISEASES, makes a specialty of LUNG TROUBLES, CANCERS, TUMORS, EPILEPTIC FITS, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, ST. VITUS DANCE, SPINAL COMPLAINTS, HEMORRHOIDS OF LUNGS, ECZEMA AND ALL SKIN DISEASES, KIDNEY AND LIVER TROUBLES and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD. TILES and FISTULA cured without the use of the knife and cure guaranteed. Consultation free.

Great Reduction in Carpet Cleaning.

Nice Work Guaranteed by the NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COMPANY

Only 1 cent per year running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 5 cents per square yard for Turk 1st Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying Stairs, 30 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing $2.50 per day. Renovating and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal.

Sole Manufacturer of the ROCHESTER BUG EXTERMINATOR. Price 35 cents a bottle; bottle for One Dollar.

SIMON A. WHITE, P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factor and Residence, Clinton Street.

DR. JAMES M. SOLOMON, JR.'S GREAT INDIAN WINE BITTERS!

Greatest Kidney and Liver Cure and Blood Purifier Known to Man. The greatest Liver and Kidney Cure known to man, is recommended to dyspeptics and sufferers from indigestion; to victims of Kidney and Liver Complaints; to all who have impure blood or Scrofula; to the bilious and constipated; to those who have poor appetites; to nervous and debilitated persons; and all who find that a stomachic is the beginning of debility of the vital powers. Successfully used for Torpid Liver and Bilious Disorders, indicated by loss of appetite, sick headache, drowsiness and constipation. Dyspepsia and Indigestion, indicated by acidity, distress after eating, gnawing pain in the stomach, burning and itching sensations, coming, bad breath, coated tongue, costiveness, distressing dreams, melancholy and dread of society. Diseases of the Blood, indicated by wasting of strength, blanched complexion, cold extremities, eruptions, boils, carbuncles, salt rheum, erysipelas, scrofula and general debility.

WHY THEY ARE CALLED WINE BITTERS. Because all Bitters are prepared with either Alcohol or Whiskey to prevent them from fermenting, where we have added the sufficient quantity of Grape Wine making them instead of a beverage a pure Herbal medicine.

WINE BITTERS. Opinions, Extracts and Condensations from the Medical Profession. ATTERBORO, MASS. I have used Indian Wine Bitters in cases of Scrofula with great success. JOSEPH TABER, M. D. WATSON H. HARKWOOD, M. D. BALTIMORE, MD. I have used Indian Wine Bitters in Kidney complaint and it has surpassed my expectations. OSCAR J. CASKERY, M. D. BOSTON, MASS. Indian Wine Bitters has unquestionably a great field of usefulness before it. A. F. ERICK, M. D. NORWOOD, MASS. I am using the Indian Wine Bitters in my daily practice in cases of Kidney and Liver complaint, with good results. ARTHUR BULLARD, M. D. SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

UNION INVESTMENT CO., CAPITAL PAID UP $1,000,000. KANSAS CITY, MO., (Incorporated.) Offers 6 Per Cent. Debenture Bonds—its own obligation—secured by first liens on farms in Kansas, representing a value of two and one-half times the amount of Debentures, and held in trust by the American Loan and Trust Company, of Boston, Mass., for the protection of the holders of the Debentures. Interest payable semi-annually at the office of the American Loan and Trust Company in Boston, Mass.

Also 7 Per Cent. Guaranteed Farm Mortgages, representing not over

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, is agent for the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, handbills, and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Mr. C. S. Young has a son.
—Mr. George H. Coffin is moving from his late residence on Elgin street.
—Harry Dubois, late baggage master, is at work for Benick & Jewett, painting.
—Mr. F. W. Turner has removed to Nantasket with his family for the summer.
—Mrs. Damon, formerly of Laurel street, has just died in Chicago of pneumonia.
—Mrs. Persis Bartlett of Cypress street is visiting friends in Winchester, Mass.
—Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reynolds are located permanently at the Pelham house.
—A tree near Crystal lake was struck during the thunder storm Saturday night.
—Miss Lillian Smith has been at her home on Summer street for the past week or two.
—Mr. A. L. Harwood has been chosen a member of the Boston Congregational club.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Young of Crescent avenue have a son, born on Tuesday.

—Mrs. T. L. Rogers of Ward street is entertaining Miss Madeline Lewis of Brookline, N. Y.

—Miss Marcella Sylvester of Warren street is spending her vacation at Bath, Maine.

—Mrs. Dr. Bancroft has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Bartholomew Wood of Homer street.

—Rev. Wm. H. Cobb has been re-elected librarian of the American Congregational Association.

—Mr. Boynton's son of Station street is recovering from diphtheria under the care of Dr. Sylvester.

—Mr. H. H. Kendall and family of Washington, D. C., are visiting with Dr. Stearns on Beacon street.

—Mr. E. C. Dudley arrived home from Dodd city, Mo., Friday, where he has been on a visit to his ranch.

—Miss Mary Moore of Summer street intends opening a kindergarten school in the month of September next.

—Wanted—A competent sales girl in dry and fancy goods store in Newton Centre. Address L. B. 55, Newton, Mass.

—Mr. Henry Warren of Station street has returned from the west, where he has been on business for a few weeks.

—Mr. W. H. Woodman is fitting the back part of his store for an ice-cream parlor similar to the one he had last year.

—The board of health find something wrong in the valley near where the diphtheria occurred, which is to be changed.

—Rex Boynton has had a hard siege with diphtheria, affecting the throat, nostrils and windpipe, but is slowly recovering.

—Master Richard Hayes, employed at A. A. Sherman's, has been confined to the house for a few days, by an attack of malaria.

—Mrs. Capron and two children from Woonsocket have been spending two weeks with Mr. Capron of Beacon street.

—Mr. Guy Franklin of Marlboro street, Boston, and family, are expected here next week to occupy their summer residence on Station street.

—The wedding of Miss Lizzie Thatcher and Rev. Harry P. Dewey is to take place at the Congregational church, the guests to be admitted by church cards.

—Mrs. F. A. Robbins, who has been visiting her father, Mr. C. E. Dudley of Station street, returned to her home in Worcester, Mass., Saturday.

—The first Episcopal service is to be held on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in small Associates' hall. Rev. Mr. Mills of the Highlands will conduct the service.

—Miss Leona Cousins was not able to occupy her position as alto of Grace church, Newton, on Sunday evening, on account of ill health. Miss Belle Bassett took her place.

—Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brown of Bowen street are spending a week among friends in East Bridgewater, Mass. They will take their cottage at Falmouth beach, in June.

—Rev. Henry M. King, D. D., of Albany, N. Y., has a very just and appreciative review of Dr. Hovey's work in this week's Watchman, which will be interesting to all friends of the Institution.

—Miss Effie H. Richardson finishes her labors at the post-office this week, and will visit friends for a short time. Miss Mary Hazleton of Parker street will take Miss Richardson's place at the office.

—Alfred Armstrong, who hurt his knee so severely a few weeks past, returned home from the Massachusetts hospital, last Wednesday. His physicians hope for a complete recovery from his injury.

—At a meeting held by the Woman's Club on Friday morning last, it was decided to give an entertainment, or in other words a fair, to be held next winter, for the benefit of the boys' playground.

—The faculty of Boston University have chosen Mr. Stephen Emery of Pelham street as one of the three senior professors for next year, from the nominations made by the class. Mr. Emery stands very high in the graduating class of the University.

—Mr. Bertrand Taylor, architect, Grant avenue and Beacon street, will spend the next six months studying architecture in Europe. Mrs. Taylor and the children will pass the summer at Cotuit, Mass. Mr. J. W. Work, cashier of the Maverick bank, Boston, will have Mr. Taylor's house for the summer.

—A correspondent sends us the following: I have always heard that Newton had fine public schools, but I never knew there was such an exceptionally fine private school as the one I visited some few days ago. It was parents' day at Miss Cook and Miss Friend's and I was fortunate enough to be there during the exercises. Down stairs Miss Cook had the children read and give some good number work in such a way that you couldn't help seeing the little ones knew what they were talking about. The thing that pleased me most was the observation of the children showed that the pupils had been taught to think for themselves. I wish more of this could be done in all schools. Up stairs Miss Friend had the older scholars do some very good history and geography work besides the practical questions in arithmetic. One pleasing feature was the singing of some patriotic songs with a little talk about the song given by a pupil before each was sung. Together with all this the children looked so happy and interested you knew what they had learned had been presented to them in the most interesting manner.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Madame Manson has gone to Yarmouth for a month's sojourn.

—The next meeting of the Chautauqua club will be with Mrs. Logan.

—Rev. C. P. Mills has as a guest, his sister, Miss Blanche Mills from Williams-town.

—Mrs. A. B. Putney will continue her stay at Northampton two or three weeks longer.

—Miss Emma Crafts has been quite ill with catarrhal bronchitis but is now convalescing.

—Mrs. W. C. Strong has returned from a ten days' visit to her daughter at Smith college, Northampton.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Small are to be congratulated on account of the arrival in their household, of twins, a son and daughter.

—Mr. E. P. Seaver of Waban, superintendent of Boston schools, is making a tour of the western cities, on matters connected with education.

—Some fine print designs made by Mr. Fred C. Moore of this place, were exhibited this week at the closing exercises of the Institute of Technology.

—A petition is in circulation and being signed by residents of Waban, and will be sent to the City hall asking the city to erect a schoolhouse in that locality.

—Mr. Sanford E. Thompson of this village graduated from the department of civil engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on Wednesday of this week.

—The youngest child of Mr. Granville C. Emery, lately of this place, came very near burning to death last week from playing with matches. It is hoped he will recover.

—Mr. Sanford E. Thompson was one of the class which graduated from the Institute of Technology on Tuesday, in the course on civil and topographical engineering.

—Lessons of patriotism were both well and entertainingly impressed at the Parents' Day exercises in Miss Brooks' room on Wednesday morning by the children of grade 5.

—The personal estate of the late Arlon Harris, expressman, was sold at auction, Monday afternoon. The good will of the express route was purchased by Wilson's express Newton Centre.

—The Monday club met this week with Mrs. C. H. Brown. There were no literary exercises, as the meeting was called for the purpose of making the necessary arrangements for holding a lawn party on the 17th of June, on the grounds of Mrs. Brown.

—Mr. L. K. Harlow is having a house built on land purchased from the city of the Strong estate, nearly at the top of Flag Staff Hill. H. H. Hunt of West Newton is the builder. Page & Henshaw are also putting in a cellar for a house on the corner of Woodman and Chestnut streets, next adjoining the estate of Mr. H. L. Warren.

—Mr. David Bates has had his fine house much improved in appearance by having it nicely painted, and Mr. Watson is having his two houses painted, one of which is occupied by Mr. Leonard and the other being vacated by Mr. Henry Hodson, who is moving into his new house. Mr. Carter will occupy the house being vacated by Mr. Hodson.

—The ladies of the Home Circle had a strawberry festival in Odd Fellows' Hall, Wednesday night. There was a large attendance, and the fancy table and refreshments were very liberally patronized. There were readings by Miss Jennie Parsons, banjo solos by Mr. Charles Scott, and organ selections by Walter E. Merrill. The shooting gallery was a popular feature. Mr. Herbert J. Patterson winning the first prize, an Afghan rug; F. W. Turner, the second, a silk handkerchief case; Mrs. Wm. Benis won the first ladies' prize. A donkey party furnished much fun. Miss Minnie Dyer winning first prize. D. W. White, the second. Dancing concluded the evening. A good sum of money was realized.

NONANTUM.

—During the past few months, Mr. L. E. Chase has been developing a choir at the North church with very gratifying success, thus supplying a long felt need.

—The service of song rendered by the boys from the Pine Farm house was a pleasant affair, a large audience attending, although the weather was threatening.

—Horse thieves seem to be about, as Mr. Galway, janitor of the North church, caught a fellow just going away with Rev. Mr. Lamb's horse and carriage on Sunday evening.

—The Rev. G. N. Thompson, a returned missionary from India, preached an interesting discourse upon that field to the No. church Sunday morning. He showed how much the people of this country have to be thankful for, when compared with that great country of 400 millions. His text was from the 115th Psalm, "Ye are blessed of the Lord."

—Some of our citizens feel justly indignant that the city government should remove one of the night police to another part of the city, leaving us only one to cover a beat of six miles long.

—The wife of Mr. John Soars had been feeling unwell for a week or more past, but nothing dangerous was anticipated until Wednesday morning, when a severe cold called; she failed rapidly and died the same night.

—Rev. Mr. Eastman of Ashland, N. H., is visiting friends in this village.

—Little Joseph Jewett has been very sick for some days past, but is now some better, and it is hoped he will soon be well again.

—Twenty-eight years ago next Sunday Rev. S. E. Lowry organized the North Evangelical Sunday school in the old depot station with nine persons, only four of whom are now living. The anniversary of the organization of that little school will be celebrated next Sunday evening at 4 o'clock, at the North church. The exercises, consisting of recitations, songs, duets, etc., by the children, assisted by Master George Hayes, the natural orator. After the children's exercises A. S. Lovett, Esq., of Boston, will deliver a short address, followed by the pastor, Rev. W. A. Lamb. The school now numbers 238 and is in a flourishing condition. Mr. A. S. Lovett has been elected as superintendent for the coming year, with C. A. Worth as assistant.

—It is reported that Mr. E. A. Dugdale, former superintendent of the Nonantum Worsted Mills, has become insane and has been confined in an asylum in Philadelphia, Pa.

—The Wellington Associates gave a concert and dance at the Athenaeum hall on Wednesday evening, and a general good time was enjoyed by a large company; the whole affair was very successful.

—Mr. John Rochford, who had his right eye severely injured by a flying nail, is slowly recovering, but will doubtless lose the sight of the eye.

—At the weekly meeting of Charity Lodge, No. 96, two candidates were initiated and four proposed. An official visit was received from Sir F. G. C. P., of Tremont Lodge, Boston, who gave an interesting talk to the members. There were also present two brothers from Manchester, N. H., who are staying in the village, the good of the order was well sustained by the members, Bro. Weldon giving "Rienzi's address to the Romans," Bro. Frost, "Memorial Day," and Bro. Jackson a song. Bro. Reuben Fornall of this village is acting as G. C. I., in the absence of the head of the Order, who has gone as one of the representatives to the Right Worthy Grand Lodge, now in session in Chicago.

If you wish to buy reliable hose see the advertisement of the Wire Wound Hose, warranted to stand any pressure, and will not flatten or kink. Conant Rubber Co., N. E. Agents, 72 Federal street, Boston.

Sweet Dreams

can be had if you rest upon one of Putnam & Co's handsewn iron or brass beds, fitted with their fine mattresses and springs. See advertisement.

NEWTON.

—Mr. Geo. A. Hall and family have gone to Lee, for the summer.

—Mr. John Leavitt and family have removed to Peabody street.

—Mr. Geo. Strong and family are at Wilimantic, Conn., for a short visit.

—Mr. E. W. Cobb has sold the Colburn house on Kenrick Park to Mr. Grant.

—Mr. Sydney Harwood sailed for Europe last Saturday to be gone three months.

—Mr. Otis Childs returned to Newton this week from his winter home in Florida.

—The Misses Jones of Centre street have removed to their new house on Bellevue street.

—Mrs. C. F. Lang has closed her house on the corner of Elm and Centre streets to Leavitt's Hill, N. H.

—Mr. Chas. Cobb, who had been visiting Mr. J. Irving Smith, has gone to Manchester-by-the-Sea for the summer.

—Mrs. E. E. Parker of Eldridge street has removed from Newton and is now at the Hotel Victoria, Boston.

—Channing church will begin the morning service at 10.30 hereafter, instead of 10.45, beginning next Sunday.

—Mr. Hoses Hyde has rented one of Mr. Hibbard's houses on Jefferson street, and will take possession next month.

—Mr. A. L. Gordon has bought out the store of Foss & Gault of 22 Temple Place, Boston, and will carry on the business.

—Mr. Milo Benedict gave a pianoforte concert at Concord, N. H., Monday evening, before a select and enthusiastic audience.

—Miss E. P. Whitney, who has been occupying the Robert W. Lord estate on Mt. Ida, has removed to Otis street, West Newton.

—Francis Murdoch & Co. are offering some very unusual bargains in ribbons, having purchased a large stock at a bargain.

—The spring tournament of the Waban Racquet club will take place on the club courts, corner of Gale and Boyd streets, Monday, June 17th.

—Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Hitechock arrived home early in the week from their visit to Hampton, Va. Dr. Hitechock has entirely recovered his health.

—Last year up to the 20th of May there had only been 8 cases of diphtheria in Newton, while this year at the same date there has been 70 cases.

—Rev. Wolcott Calkins has been appointed second preacher of the annual convention of Congregational ministers.

—At Channing church, the holy communion will be observed immediately after the service, next Sunday morning.

—Archbishop Williams visited the church of Our Lady, Monday evening, and confirmed nearly one hundred adults.

—It was a very prompt and graceful courtesy, the presentation of swords by the Newton Ladies' Home Circle, to the Sons of Veterans, last Monday evening.

—Bishop Paddock will make his annual visit to Grace church next Sunday night to administer the rites of Confirmation. His service begins at 7.30. The seats are free to all.

—The Amherst Glee club concert did not take place at Eliot hall, Saturday night, much to the disappointment of those who had bought tickets, but it was given at Laseil instead.

—Cards are out for the marriage of Miss May Lincoln Lovett to Mr. Charles P. Hall, which will occur at 5 Mt. Vernon street, Boston, on the evening of June 5. They will reside at Newton.

—Memorial day passed off very quietly in Newton. The shower at noon and the threatening clouds kept people at home, and the streets were as deserted as on Sunday during most of the day.

—Mr. J. Coolidge Coffin and family of Newton are spending the warm months in California, and will remain through the summer. Mr. Coffin is a member of several eastern firms during his stay in San Francisco.

—In conducting the music at Eliot church Thursday evening, Mr. Thayer used a baton that was used by Mendelssohn in the practice of the Boston Symphony of Eliot, at Birmingham, England. It passed through two hands before its reaching Mr. Thayer, but its authenticity is undoubted.

—Rev. Arthur May Knapp spoke before the Unitarian association in Boston, Tuesday evening, on his work in Japan, and a large number of his Newton friends were present. Rev. Mr. Knapp's work in Japan met with most encouraging success.

—The Ascension day services in Grace church, Thursday afternoon, were of a very interesting character, and were participated in by the Episcopal Sunday schools of the city. Services were given by Rev. Mr. Rand and Rev. Mr. Fales made brief addresses.

—Mayor Burr, Agent French, Dr. Frisbie and Messrs. Pettie and Fuller of the Board of Health had a field day Tuesday, and visited every village in Newton on health matters. They ordered a basement tenement at 7.20. Services will be held next Sunday in the new edifice.

—The marriage of Miss Lulu May Armstrong, a daughter of Mr. Charles Armstrong of the Riverside Press Association, and Mr. Theodore B. Walker of Newton, will take place at the Harvard street church in Brookline on Wednesday evening, June 5, at 8 o'clock. Following the ceremony a reception will be held at the residence of Mr. Armstrong at No. 74 Harvard avenue, Allston.

—The meeting of the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday was well attended, and it was addressed by Mrs. K. L. Stevenson. She spoke on the subject of "Salvation," telling from whence it came, and the consequences of the neglect of obtaining it. Her address was eloquent and impressive, and at the close, one arose for prayer. Next Sunday the meeting will be addressed by Rev. Andrew McKeown, the new pastor of the Methodist church.

—The special evening services of Eliot church for the next six Sundays are as follows: Sunday evening, June 2nd, choral service of Thanksgiving and Praise; Sunday evening, June 9th, sermon by Rev. Ruen Thomas, D. D. of Brookline; Sunday evening, June 16th, sermon by Rev. Alexander McKenzie, D. D. of Cambridge; Sunday evening, June 23rd, sermon by Rev. O. P. Gifford, D. D. of Boston; Sunday evening, July 6th, sermon by Rev. Arthur Little, D. D. of Dorchester.

—Mr. Harry S. Spaulding and his sister entertained their friends on Saturday evening by a successful musicale. About seventy or more guests sat in the parlors and hall to enjoy the music. Selections were given by the "Teet. Quintet Club," of which Mr. Harry Spaulding is a member, also by Miss Andrews on the piano. Miss Laura Coffin and Mr. Clarence Ashenden also sang several times each. Following the music refreshments were served.

—Mrs. James Paxton of Elmwood street gave a reception on Friday evening for her son, Mr. Wm. M. Paxton, who sails for Europe the 8th of June to continue his art studies in Paris. The house was filled to its utmost by a number of the young artist. Among other Boston guests was Mr. Cowles, principal of the Cowles' art school, of which Mr. Paxton is a member. During the evening an orchestra rendered good music and an elaborate supper was served in the dining room.

—Francis Murdoch & Co. have recently bought out several large lots of ribbons, summer dress goods, and parasols, at a great sacrifice, and they will give their Newton customers the benefit of a greater list of bargains than can be found in any dry goods store in New England. The firm have now three large stores in different cities, which enables them to take advantage of the market, by buying in large lots. They have inaugurated a special sale for the benefit of their Newton customers, the details of which are given in their advertisement today.

A Ten Page Number.

This week's GRAPHIC is a ten page number, in order to make room for the cuts of the new and old Eliot church, the description of the new church, the dedicatory exercises, the Memorial Day proceedings, and the usual generous amount of local news from all sections of the city. A large number of extra copies have already been ordered, and although an extra large edition has been printed, those who wish extra copies to send away should send their orders in as early as possible, to be sure of getting what papers they desire.

The attention of our readers is called to the advertisement in another column of the Eastern Banking Co., 7 per cent First Mortgages upon carefully selected farms in the most flourishing parts of the West, and 6 per cent Debenture Bonds secured by First Mortgages and also by the capital of the issuing company. Full particulars given at the office of the company, 43 Milk street, Boston.

MARRIED.

LEVASHI—FRAZER—At Newton, May 26, by Rev. J. Giffert, Abraham Levash and Lizzie Frazer, both of Newton.

WILLIAMS—HOLMES—At Newton Highlands, May 25, by Rev. Geo. G. Phelps, Thomas Williams and Mary S. Holmes, both of Cohasset.

DIED.

PATTI—At Nonantum, May 24, Martha J., wife of James Patti, aged 29 years.

SECURITY INVESTMENT COMPANY.

7 Per Cent. Guaranteed Mortgages. 6 % Specially Secured 10 Year Gold Debenture Bonds.

Supported by 105 per cent. of First Mortgages upon improved Real Estate deposited with the American Loan and Trust Co., Boston, Trustee.

This company is owned and controlled by conservative New England capitalists and combines Eastern business methods with Western rates of interest.

DIRECTORS.

Thomas M. Babson, (Assistant City Solicitor), Boston.
Henry N. Sheldon, (Lawyer), Newton Highlands.
William E. Murdoch, (Sampson, Murdoch & Co.), Boston.

Francis L. Weston, Boston.
Herbert N. Smith, Newton Centre.
James C. McKay, Pres. 1st National Bank, Yankton, Dakota.
Edwin T. White, (Lawyer), Yankton, Dakota.

Write or call for pamphlets.
35 Congress St., Boston

The Adams & Westlake OIL AND GAS Cooking Stoves.

Are recognized as the Safest and Best. Don't heat up your house when you can do all your cooking with one of our new No. 13 Stoves.

SEE THEM AT HEADQUARTERS.

13 Cornhill, Boston. 33 s

WIRE-BOUND HOSE

Buy the BEST HOSE on the market. SEVEN years' test.

We warrant our WIRE-BOUND HOSE to stand any WATER PRESSURE. Will not FLATTEN on reel nor KINK.

BEWARE of imitations put up in similar shape to deceive.

We are the only N. E. Agents of this grade.

CONANT RUBBER CO.,

72 Federal Street, cor. Franklin. 34 e o w 4

The Eastern Banking Co.

43 Milk Street, Boston.

7 per cent. FARM MORTGAGES, 7 per cent. 6 per cent. DEBENTURE BONDS, 6 per cent.

Stocks and Bonds bought and sold. Membership of Boston Stock Exchange.

FRANCIS A. OSBORN, President.
WM. F. HAMMERT, Vice President.
EDW. T. MERRILL, Treasurer.

By EDWARD F. BARNES, Auctioneer
27 State Street, Boston.

BY virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by William C. Hubbard to Samuel H. Eckenhead, dated 1.1885, and recorded with Middlesex South District deeds, libro 728, folio 125, will be sold at Public Auction

for breach of the conditions contained in said mortgage, on the premises hereinafter described, on Monday, the 24th day of June,

1889, at 5 o'clock in the Afternoon,

all and singular the premises described in said mortgage deed to wit:

A certain tract or parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated at Newton Lower Falls, containing about thirty-eight thousand square feet and bounded and described as follows, viz.: Commencing on Grove street at the northwesterly corner of the land of Vaughn Jones, thence running northerly on Grove street one hundred and twelve feet to land of the William C. Hatch place, so called, thence southeasterly by said Hatch place to land now or late of William Hurd; thence southerly or southwesterly by land of said Hurd to land of said Jones, thence by a part of the Star Farm laid out in building lots.

Terms at time and place of sale.

Assignee and present holder of said mortgage.

IDEAL SUMMER COOKING. Avoid the heat of a coal stove by using the FAMOUS OIL RANGE, with Four Powerful Burners. Will do all the Cooking, Washing and Ironing of the family. Uses regular Stove Fuel, is Non-Explosive and Odorless. One third more powerful than any other stove of equal size. With no crevices and no pipes. Smith & Anthony Stove Co., Boston Mass. 34

ROYAL Baking Powder
Absolutely Pure.

This Powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall St. N. Y.

WALWORTH Construction and Supply Co.

Steam Engineers and Contractors.

Steam and Hot Water Warming and Ventilating Apparatus.

Plans, Specifications, and Estimates furnished. Steam Traps, Valves and Heaters. Steam Pumps, Boilers and Engines. Steam Fitters' Tools and Supplies.

GARDEN HOSE.
134 CONGRESS STREET, BOSTON.
Telephone No. 707, Boston. 32 6m

FOR SALE.

Fine House Lot
Corner of Centre and Rice Streets.

One of the best in Newton Centre.

HENRY H. READ.

Eggs for Hatching.

Black Minorca from prize
hens, $2 for 13; also high bred
Wyandottes, $1 for 13.

JAMES CUTLER,
Know